The Rev. Mr. McDougal then spoke. He said that years ago, when he was a young man, he found himself up on the western prairies. When he first went there the Indians were engaged largely in the pursuit of buffalo hunting. They constructed pounds, immense V shaped enclosures strongly made of trees and brush. This done members of the tribe renowned for great craft and cunning, were despatched to the north country to drive in the buffalo, for it needed a gift in these qualities, as well as an intimate knowledge of the instincts of the animal, to succeed. Down came the herd. At the entrance to the corral others more astute took charge They went on horseback and induced the buffalo into the trap. When well in the Indians concealed before the entrance would simultaneously rise and close upon their prey. When he first saw this being done he heard a great drumming and singing going on in the interior of the camp. From past experience he knew it was the medicine men. But what, he asked, are they making so much medicine now for? They are preparing the pound to draw the buffalo. The pound is made. The trees are all felled except one. Bye and bye the medicine men came and hang up their medicine bags which were supposed to act magnetically on the buffalo. It was his pleasure to assist in the construction of of one of these pounds not long ago. Not a tree was left standing. The custom of ages was eradicated. The heretofore solitary tree emblematic of superstition was hewn down without any suggestion of his. He said not a word, nor would he if they had left it standing; for he respected their rude traditional faith. Yet how pleasing was it to see this emblem of superstition chopped down! Thus was accomplished a portion of the work for which he had labored. The tree is down. True; but the roots remained. Yes; and he would speak about these roots. These roots of superstition had grown stronger and gripped a tighter hold of the various tribes down though the centhere was the root of tribal animosity. These tribes had from time immemoral been antagonistic to one or others. Feuds had existed for hundreds of years. But thank heaven this root had been plucked out. It had been the missionaries experience to see the young braves come into camp with his belt of scalps; but gradually this horrible practice was done away with. One after another laid down their arms not to raise them in aggressive warfare. Paganism was another root. This paganism was a devil worship. The doctrines of this faith is that the Great Father of Heaven is full of mercy. But there was another spirit who had power to either curse or bless. He was tremendously dreadful. To this being the believers sacrificed. This root too, had been plucked from the ground, It is true that it was not wholly eradicated from the hearts of the Indians, but it no more strongly influenced them. But of all the baneful roots which had been pulled out the greatest was the degredation of women. They had been bought and sold like slaves—bartered and exchanged indiscriminately, but through the influence of Christanity woman was raised to her just level and was now respected. And the Indians themselves were glad to find themselves respect her. Had it not been so in nearly all the heathen lands before the introduction of Christanity? The abandonment of the aged was another evil and revolting practice that had been stopped. Instead of leaving the aged and decrepit father and mother on the bank of a stream to watch their loved ones recede from the opposite bank, and left alone to be stared by starvation and disease till life was ended, the younger of the tribes now cared for their parents and administered to their comfort. Into the darkness of barbarianism a gleam of light was now shining and the red man was awaking to grasp his responsibilities. They were abandoning their former migratory life and were settling down into civilization. It needed but patience and a little time to see what the red man would do. In conclusion, he drew two pictures, vividly and beautifully contrasting. Some years ago he and a single companion were travelling along when they came upon a camp. The old chief, ever a friend of the whites, welcomed them. They were away from civilization 500 miles from the south, and it was 1,000 miles to the nearest post office in the east—yet they left safe in this old man's camp. As they sat there a woman entered and asked for the missionary. He went with her and found that her boy was very ill. There he found two old women mumbling over their incantations, trying to save the life by spells. He bade them, when through, be silent. He prayed for the boy, for the father, mother and the chief. He rose, but held out no hope, for something told him the boy would die. That night as he lay on his blanket with his gun beside him he heard a doleful cry. He first thought that the Indians were bent on murder, but hearing the cry again—a dismal, despairing wail, without hope—he came to the conclusion that boy had died. It was the mother's cry. And then on the chill night air there rose a heart touching wail from all the mothers in the camp. Not long after he was called to the death bed of one old chief who had been converted to Christianity. His face was calm and happy as he recalled the time when he was made a Christian. He dwelt on the sweetness of the Christain life. He pointed to his family—one a local preacher—who all stood around his bedside. He loved to hear the hymns sung. He asked them to sing his favorite hymn and they did so. (Here the speaker and the three Indians sang the hymn in the Cree dialect, sweetly and fervently.) And, continued the speaker, while we sang the spirit of the old chief passed away.

Mr. STEINHAUR, a young man about 23, who is now seeking to graduate at Victoria University, was called on to say a few words He prefaced his remarks by singing in a deep, melodious bass voice, the hymn, "Tell it Again." He said that though he knew he was to be asked to say a few words he scarcely knew what to say, and inasmuch as his brethren were to speak he thought it much like trespassing on the patience of the people. But he might say this much, the people of this country were indeed highly privileged. Since he had been among us—7 years—he had learned many things. He ventured to say that if the Indians had been so highly privileged they would have derived even greater benefits than the white man. He considered the great drawback to the Indian advancement was that they were so easily led astray. There were many temptations to which they were a prey, but chiefly to the drinking of intoxicating liquor. But his people were learning to say "no" when tempted to the odious practices of the white men, which he was sorry to see in this country. He deprecated the habit of cursing, and stated that his people were never known to take the name of God the Creator in vain. They had a prfound reverence for it. He expressed a wish to speak to the audience in his native language, but stated he could not well do so, as during his stay here he had lost many idioms. But he was glad that he could use their language even imperfectly. As long as he was here he was going to do his best to learn the good qualities of the white people to take them back to his own land. While at Cobourg University he had learned many lessons, but he had learned many more in the homes of the people of that place, all of which he treasured. Concluding, he said that he had the inward consciousness that he was a child of God, and as such he would labour to do the service of the Master. He thought that it was the part of every man to leave the world in some degree better for having lived in it.

Chief PAKAN then spoke in the Cree dialect. He was not the least embarassed. He spoke in a dignified manner, often paused, and did not gesticulate much. Mr. McDougall translated what he said and read it to the audience. He contrasted his former life with the present one he was living. He wondered at the civilization and the numbers of people in the country. He had asked himself if these things had long been—if this people were always so privileged. John, he thought had told him no. Then what was it that woke the people into life. Was it not Christianity? And was not that same power awakening them that had slumbered in barbarism so long? And could not great results be expected?

Chief SAMPSON is the darkest of the three, and, like his brother Chief, Pakan, wears long, straight black hair. He spoke faster than the last speaker, and as he went on his contemplative visage lit up with animation. He often raised his voice as if in heated description and then lowered it to almost a whisper, as if to draw sad conclusions. He said, through the interpreter, that he was delighted to be here with the white people to worship the Great Spirit. Last spring they had a sorrowful time in their own land. A great many wanted peace, but some of his own brethren broke the peace. He urged them not to join with others in breaking the fellowship with the white men, and he was heartily glad when, in so short a time peace was re-established and the rebellion overcome. He had learned to respect the white men at home, but how much more did he respect them now when he had seen their numbers, prosperity, wonderful inventions, their establishments of law and order, their churches and schools and their great civilization. Only one thing made him apprehensive. He was afraid that with the extension of the homes of civilization the habit of liquor drinking must go with it to his people. But he had hope. He had never yet seen a minister or a school teacher offer the Indians drink.

The choir sang "Onward Christian Soldiers" and afterwards the Rev. Mr. Davis pronounced the benediction.

At the close of the service the Chiefs and Mr. Steinhaur were surrounded by crowds eager to shake hands with them.

THE BRATIANO AFFAIR.

BUCHAREST, Sept. 18.—Deputy Robesco owes the saving of his life to a steel plate which he wore under his clothing. The assassin is named Aleksandresco. He declares he was instigated to commit the crime by members of the opposition. Grave revelations are expected. M. Bratiano has received countless messages congratulating him upon his escape.

DANISH DESPOTISM.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 18.—The Government yesterday prohibited the circulation in Denmark of the Danish Pioneer, published in Omaha, Neb. This was done under the provisional law of August 13th which the ministry proclaimed without the sanction of the legislature and contrary to the will of the people. No special reason is given for the prohibition.

A REVOLUTION PROBABLE.

SOFIA, Sept. 18.—Colonels Mutkuroff and Nicolaieff, the latter of whom is Minister of War, both declare, unless Alexander's kidnappers be punished, a revolution may break out at any moment. The trial of the revolutionists by court-martial is proceeding in spite of Russia's prohibition. It is considered a direct act of rebellion against Russia.

MR. PARNELL'S LAND BILL.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Lord Randolph Churchill stated to-day in the House of Commons that if the consideration of the estimates was concluded to-morrow the Government proposed as the course of parliamentary business on Monday, first, a report on supply, then the Appropriation bill, before taking up the second reading of Mr. Parnell's Land bill.

RIOTING IN BELFAST.

BELFAST, Sept. 19.—There was desparate roiting on Davis street to-day. A couple of policemen arrested two drunken men for fighting. A mob immediately gathered around the police and threatened them with violence, and it was with the greatest difficulty that the prisoners were secured. As soon as the barrack doors were closed behind the prisoners, a fearful attack was made upon the building by the mob outside. Shutters were torn down and windows were smashed with brick bats and paving stones. There were only four constables within the barracks. They fired eleven rounds, killing one man and wounding several others. A woman was wounded and has since died in the hospital. The mob was scattered by reinforcements of police. Later the mob gathered in small groups, when a number of priests tried to persuade the people to return home. The disturbed district is patrolled with police and military.

RUSSIA'S THREATENS.

SOFIA, Sept. 19.—The Russian agent here has officially threatened to suspend relations with Bulgaria if the Government yield to the Sobranje's demand for the punishment of the authors of the revolutionary conspiracy.

ADDRESS TO ALEXANDER.

SOFIA, Sept. 19.—After the adjournment of the Sobranje to day a number of deputies met and formulated an address to Prince Alexander describing him as one of the principal heroes of the revolution of the 18th Sept., 1885, and expressing the hope that he would speedily return to Bulgaria. In the evening a banquet was given in celebration of the anniversary of the Roumelian revolution. A procession, headed by priests accompanied by bands, paraded through the town, and subsequently a grand review of troops was held. The day was observed as a national holiday. At public and private gatherings everywhere toasts were drank to Prince Alexander.

RIOTING AT LIVERPOOL.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 19.—Two serious riots occurred here to-day. One resulted from an encounter between Orangemen and Nationalists; the other had its origin in inflammatory speeches made at a Socialists' meeting in Toxteth Park. The police experienced great difficulty in suppressing the disturbance. Many of the rioters were arrested.

FATHER FAHEY'S DEFENCE.

GALWAY, Sept. 19.—Father Fahey, the Catholic priest who is undergoing six months' imprisonment for alleged threats against a landlord for having evicted one of the priest's parishioners at Woodford, said yesterday:—"I never mentioned dynamite to Mr. Lewis. I never threatened him. I never urged the people to groan against him. I did not give bail, because compliance would have been a tacit admission that my defence was false, and if I made a false defence I would prove myself unworthy of the priesthood."

A PERMANENT COLONIAL.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The Prince of Wales has sent a letter to the Lord Mayor of London, suggesting as a memorial of the Queen's jubilee the establishment of a permanent Colonial and Indian institute on the basis of the present exhibition for the promotion of emigration and the expansion of colonial trade.

BELLICOSE BOULANGER.

PARIS Sept. 19.—General Boulanger's bellicose utterances are much commented upon in Paris, especially the sentence, "At length we can abandon the miserable defensive policy and henceforth boldly assume the offensive."

THINKS HER HANDS ARE FULL.

PARIS, Sept. 19.—The Republique Francaise urges the French Government to take advantage of the fact that England has her hands full, to enforce a French protectorate over Madagascar. "Otherwise," observes the paper, "England, when she becomes disengaged, will become will become mistress of the situation.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The House of Commons sat till morning over the Irish estimates, amid obstructive speeches by the Parnellites, appeals to order, groans and laughter. Mr. Parnell, during these scenes, as during the earlier part of the week, was conspicuous by his absence. Nothing sufficed to shake the determination of the Government to finish supply before taking up Mr. Parnell's bill. Lord Randolph's announcement was decisive. The bill would come on Monday if supply were out of the way; otherwise it must take its chance. Moreover a tacit agreement seems to have been reached that Mr. Parnell shall have two nights instead of one for the discussion of the bill. Mr. Gladstone's presence is now certain. He has notified his Liberal colleagues that he will arrive on Sunday morning. Nobody doubts that he intends to advocate, not, perhaps, Mr. Parnell's bill as it stands, but some measure for the relief of the tenant.

TRADING ON CRIME.

We find in the Chatham Planet the following editorial paragraph:—

"The Essex Centre Liberal finds fault with the Peterborough Review when it says that Mr. Blake is a leader of a branch of the anarchist party, a subdivision of which were sentenced to death recently in Chicago. We have no sympathy with the Review if it used the language alleged by the Liberal, and agree with it, that that is an extreme where the law might rightly step in, But at the same time it just strikes us as queer that the Liberal has never condemned those who have branded Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues as 'hangmen,' 'murderers' and 'traitors,' because they allowed the sentence of the Court of Regina to go into effect."

We overlooked the remarks of the Essex Centre Liberal, and therefore cannot tell exactly what it ascribes to us, but of course the Planet is right in doubting that we said that "Mr. Blake is a leader of a branch of the anarchist party." We never used such language. What we did say and what we still say is that Riel was equally guilty with the Chicago anarchists, and that the Rielites (with Mr. Blake among them) have no reason to say that Riel's was any more a political crime than that of the anarchists.

Mr. Blake's advocacy of Riel might be used equally well on behalf or the anarchists. If Riel's crimes show, as the Reform leader urges, that he must have been oppressed and that he would not have resorted to force but for the maladministration of the Government, why do not the anarchists' crimes prove the same thing? If Riel's murders to obtain the share he claimed in the land of the Northwest were political crimes, why are not the anarchist's murders, in pursuance of their theory that all capitalists were robbing them, political crimes also. If Riel, though pronounced sane by the jury after hearing the evidence, and by medical experts after examination, may be said to be of unsound mind, can it be supposed that these anarchist had well balanced intellects or normal brain power?

We really cannot see why Mr. Blake, being willing as he is to make political capital out Riel's crimes, should not be equally willing, if it happened to suit his purpose, to make political capital out of the Anarchists' crimes. True the slaughter caused by the Anarchists was terrible, but Riel's victims were still more numerous. True the victims of the Anarchists were innocent, but the missionaries murdered and the women [illegible] by Riel were [illegible] the means employed by the Anarchists were fiendish, but could their bombs be more devilish than the Indian warfare used by Riel, though he so well knew its atrocities?

We really cannot see how Riel was superior to the Chicago Anarchists, or why Mr. Blake should be more at liberty to use one for political purposes than the other, if he found it to his advantage.

However, we did not say, and do not say, that Mr. Blake is a leader of Chicago Anarchists, or of any branch of the Anarchist party. He is leader of the Riel party, of the friends and advocates of a murderous rebel, and surely that is enough to satisfy his ambition in the criminal line. Besides the Anarchists have no votes in Canadian politics.

A TRICK EXPOSED.

The Globe is publishing and supporting the unfair attacks made upon Conservative temperance men by Mr. Robert McLean. The plan of this gentleman, who is evidently a bigotted "Grit," using his real or pretended temperance views as a means for manufacturing party capital, is to represent the votes on a tricky resolution, moved especially for this dishonest purpose, as expressions of opinion on the merits of the question. This motion was moved by the Reform leader intentionally in such a shape as to impede public business, to take the control of it out of the hands of the Administration and to imply want of confidence in them. Its being voted down, therefore, only conveyed a rebuke to this manœuvre, and declared that the wrong time, and the wrong means, had been chosen. Yet for declining to permit the progress of business to be thus impeded, the Hon. Mr. Foster and Mr. Everett, of St. John, are declared by Mr. McLean to be opposed to temperance legislation. No unprejudiced man will believe him. Other resolutions are treated by Mr. McLean and the Globe in the same unfair manner. Plainly their object is to excite unfounded prejudice against Conservatives rather than to advance the cause of temperance.

The Brockville Recorder will not be able to persuade us to join it in its advocacy of North western rebels Quebec Nationalists and Nova Scotia secessionists by calling us "scoundrels" for condemning them. It may be a strong argument that is thus used by the Recorder but it is not convincing. Probably however it was the best at the Recorder's command.

ENNISMORE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Sudden Death.—On Saturday night shortly after Joseph Lowes, Jr., of Emily, returned home from a visit to the Township of Brock his wife was taken suddenly ill. He went immediately for his father, their houses not being one hundred and fifty feet apart, and when they returned she was breathing her last. Heart disease is assigned as the cause of death. On the Monday her remains were conveyed on the Midland Railway to the Township of Brock, her native home.

Sharp Cold.—Our first ice of the season was on Wednesday morning, September 15th, with the thermometer at the freezing point. The frost has done considerable injury to garden and other vegetables.

FORCED APART.

BY W. CLARK RUSSELL.

Author of the "Wreck of the Grosvenor," "A Sailor's Sweetheart," Etc.

The girl refused to speak. Then Mr. Strangfield repeated his question, and her lips turned pale, as under the pressure and torment of a thousand words which they would not part to deliver, and one most tearful, wildered, pleading look she cast around. Her father watched her steadily, and with an ever-deepening shadow on his face. Her want of speech was want of honesty, he thought, and his mouth took a sullen curve.

"Jane, speak to her. She may answer thee."

"I have questioned her, Michael. Jenny, Jenny, answer thy father, dear heart. Tell him thy trouble!" and she snatched at her breast with both hands, crying: "Oh, Michael, what has come to our child?"

"Jenny, will you answer me or not?"

"Father, you shall be answered, but not by me."

"Who is he that should have come and saved you from another day of fear?"

"Oh, father," cried the poor girl, clasping her hands, "have pity on me—do not question me now."

"Not question you!" returned Strangfield, in an inexorable tone. "Not question you! What has happened to you, that you are not to be questioned by your father?"

She shook her head and sighed, with a low moan in her sigh. Ah, that she had the courage to speak the truth now, and intrepidly make herself known! But it was her husband that should speak for her, and he would be here to-morrow surely! O, she might be sure.

"Child," he cried, in a grating voice, "I have asked you for the truth. Have it I will, if it cost thee and me our lives!"

To say which, and in his bitter energy, he jerked his body forward, whereat the girl shrieked and became hysterical. "Oh, mother! Oh, mother! what would he do to me! Oh, mother! Oh, mother! save me from him!" and with wild alternate sobbing and laughter she backed away from the table, until she felt her mother's arms about her, when she fainted, as a person dies, with horrid suddenness.

CHAPTER VII.

AN ANXIOUS PARENT.

Now at that self-same hour, at Greystone school, Dr. Shaw sat alone in his study. The boys were long since gone to bed; the ushers were congregated in a living room set apart for them.

Closing his book, he drew out his watch—a fat dial that popped like a cork from his fob—and sat erect to inspect it. Half-past nine exactly; observing which he pulled the bell.

A maid servant opened the door.

"Has Mr. Cuthbert come in?"

"No, sir."

Now, the proper hour for Mr. Cuthbert to return from his evening spell of an hour and a half was nine o'clock. Punctual to the moment latterly he never was; but before this night never had he delayed his return by half an hour.

This was a liberty. This was a bad example. The doctor's soul rose in resentment.

How could he reprimand unpunctuality in another, if his son, the school's exemplar, as his father had striven to make him in all things, flagrantly omitted the first of virtues to the disciplinarian?

Anger, being excited, must find vent somehow; and Dr. Shaw fell to pacing the room actively, meditating thoughts harsher than reproof, to be delivered when Cuthbert should appear.

For a quarter of an hour this idle activity endured, with now and then a pause between, that his ear might strain at the blowing wind.

Then he pulled the bell rope again sharply.

"No, sir, Mr. Cuthbert ain't come in yet."

"How do you know?"

"His slippers ain't in the rack, sir."

Now passed another short time.

The doctor looked at his watch, opened the study door, and listened.

Anger was melting into alarm. A tremulous busyness of memory kept him breathing quickly. And, above all things, his heart yearned for his son.

As he stood, with head inclined, to bring his ear to full reception of all sound without the house, Mr. Saunderson came from the usher's room, humming a snatch of song.

The doctor turned to look at him.

"Oh, Mr. Saunderson," he exclaimed, "will you be pleased to tell me if you have seen my son since he left the house this evening?"

"No, sir, not since he left the house."

"That is very strange, Mr. Saunderson."

"Is not he returned yet, sir?"

"He is not. It's past ten o'clock, and his usual, I should say his prescribed, hour is nine, as is known to you, Mr. Saunderson." Mr. Saunderson of course looked at his watch. "I am mortified by this unaccountable behavior," continued the doctor. "There is nothing that should detain him. Does it not strike you as very singular, Mr. Saunderson?"

"Why, sir, it is somewhat odd, perhaps," rejoined Mr. Saunderson, a little too diplomatic to pledge himself to an emphatic opinion before he had acquired a larger knowledge of the doctor's views of the subject.

"I repeat," exclaimed Dr. Shaw, "that there is nothing that should detain him. He knows the rules, and this defiance of discipline, this—defiance, I say, Mr. Saunderson, is—is——"

Well might he stammer and stop in such a strain of lip reasoning. He looked eagerly at the door, and drew out his watch for the twentieth time.

"Sir, this procrastination cannot be mere unpunctuality—there must be a substantial, a reasonable cause for his delay," observed Mr. Saunderson, rattling his rs.

"I think so, sir—I think so."

"If agreeable to you, I should be happy to walk to the town and make inquiries."

"No, I am obliged to you; not at this hour. I'll not suffer myself to feel anxious. My son has shown himself restless lately. There have been signs of impatience in his behavior, as though our discipline fretted him. This conduct to-night must mean a resolution to—to free himself from the traces—he must think it manly to defy us, sir. But," cried the fiery old man, "my house shall be locked up at the usual hour; the last person in the world to merit my forbearance in a matter of this sort is my son."

"Surely, sir," cried Mr. Saunderson, with a rich roll of the "r" in sir, "you do not consider that he has left you?"

"Left me! What has put such a thought into your mind?" said the doctor, in a sharp, febrile whisper, and his eyes shone under his white eyebrows.

"Why, sir," stammered Mr. Saunderson, who wanted time to recollect himself and apprehend his own meaning, "it seems to me a strange thing, sir, that you should bolt your door upon your son, Dr. Shaw, unless you believe that he does not mean to come home, sir."

"I do not understand you, Mr. Saunderson. Pray step this way and oblige me with your meaning," exclaimed the doctor, with excitement half suppressed in his manner; and, closing the study door, he said in a sharp voice: "Mr. Saunderson, if you can throw any light upon my son's absence I desire—I have to beg you will do so."

"I really can throw no light upon it, sir—none whatever," replied Mr. Saunderson.

"You may be pretty sure that he will return home presently, sir. That he should be uneasy under the discipline of this school is a good reason to account for his present loitering. And there is no doubt, Dr. Shaw, that he is uneasy, sir," said Mr. Saunderson, with a nod at the doctor, who, at the first words, had looked up and stood listening, with his head on one side.

"You are right, Mr. Saunderson; he is uneasy," replied the doctor.

"I believe, sir, your son covets a larger sphere of action, Dr. Shaw."

"He has admitted this to you, Mr. Saunderson?"

"Well, sir, he has."

"And when, pray?"

"Well, sir, if the truth must be told, this afternoon."

"But if I understand you rightly," said the old man, with a pale smile which proclaimed many other things than the ease of mind it was intended to depict, "nothing escaped him to warrant you to suppose that he does not mean to return—to-night?"

"No, sir; can recall nothing to that effect—nothing, Dr. Shaw."

"Thank you, Mr. Saunderson. I need keep you no longer. I am obliged to you for your company. Good-night to you, sir." Mr. Saunderson bowed and retired. The doctor looked at his watch. Twenty minutes to eleven. He rang the bell angrily.

"Is the house locked up?"

"Not yet, sir. We're a-waitin' for Mr. Cuthbert."

"Lock up and get to bed, all of you!" cried the doctor, fiercely. And the bristling of his eyebrows, and the fire in his eyes, dispatched the girl from the room in a bound.

He seated himself at the table, with his elbows upon it, and his face in his hands. He heard them bolt and chain the house door, and the slippered tread of the masters as they went whispering upstairs. Now through the silence moaned the wind, with rattle of dry leaves eddying, and the threshing of the chestnut boughs.

Presently rose the old man and drew the curtains from the window, whereby the shine of the lamp would be visible to the furtherest bend of the glimmering road; returned to his chair, and with his watch on the table under his eye began [illegible]

This was already son that had gone forth and not yet returned.

A MONTREALER IN TROUBLE.

Reopening of a Notorious Case—An Outraged Commissioner.

New York, Sept. 18.—Ferrelles, accused of forgeries on W. O. N. Parker, clothier, of Montreal, in 1884, and who recently came on here, is being examined at the instance of the Montreal banks interested. Mr. Mcgowan, representing them. After his examination, Ferrelle was arrested on Parker's affidavit before Commissioner Griffith. Ferrelle admitted this was an assumed name and that he had several aliases. He had gone to Europe from Montreal, in 1884, married there, and returning lived in Chicago. Parker gave his testimony yesterday before Commissioner Griffith and the examination was suspended to allow W. P. Mullen, Clerk of the Magistrate's Court of Montreal, to testify. Mr. Mullen had the original papers on which a warrant for Ferrelle's arrest was issued. Chas. L. Blandy represented Parker. Blandy asked Mullen to produce the papers, and Mullen refused. Commissioner Griffith's eyes blazed. He waved both lawyers back, turned to the witness and said:—"Do you refuse to produce those papers?" Answer—"I do." "Then," exclaimed the Commissioner, rising to his feet and pounding the desk until it shook, "We will see whether the United States is larger than Canada. Produce these papers.' The lawyers tried to get in a word. It was of no avail. "This is an international affair," cried the Commissioner. Then Blandy bethought him to ask Mullen why he refused to produce the papers.

"I am acting under a telegram from the judge of Magistrate's Court," said he, "instructing me not to give up the papers."

"I don't care whether your orders came from Canada or Russia," fairly roared the Commissioner. "You are now subject to this Court."

The spectators trembled at the Commissioner's intensity, as he went on pounding his desk with pent up American feeling.

"If you don't produce these papers here now instantly, I will report to the Court that you should be committed for contempt, so help me God." The last words came out slowly, emphatically, each one clear and responding.

Mullen looked at the Commissioner, hesitated, and then slowly pulled the papers from his inside waistcoat pocket. He did not hand them over until assured that they would be returned to him so that he could carry them back to Canada.

CHINESE OUTRAGES.

American Mission Stations Attacked and Destroyed in China.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Minister Denby, at Pekin, has reported to the Secretary of State two cases of recent outrage perpetrated by the Chinese upon Americans. Rev. A. A. Fulton and wife and Miss Mary Fulton, M.D., all of the American Presbyterian mission in china, established a mission hospital and station at Kwai Ping, about 400 miles southwest from Canton. When they had expended a considerable sum in putting up the buildings placards appeared upon the wall declaring that the "foreign devils" must go in three days and their buildings be destroyed. The literati, as usual, were at the bottom of the disturbance. A crowd gathered near the hospital and Mr. Fulton set out to secure the protection of the military. He was stoned on the way and not permitted to return, and no soldiers were sent to protect the mission. On May 6th the mob plied straw and faggots against the building occupied by Mrs. and Miss Fulton and a little daughter of the former, upon which the inmates fled and house was looted and burned. The ladies sought refuge on boats, but the mob threatened to destroy any boat that should receive them, and after some delay they reached a point where Mr. Fulton had been compelled to remain. Two days later they were put on boats and conveyed to Canton. The value of the property destroyed is about $5,500, and Consul Seymour demands payment of the damages. The second case is still more recent. On Sunday, June 6th, in the absence of all gentlemen connected with the Methodist Episcopal Mission hospital at Chung King, and while only one lady was present, a mob collected, broke down the gates, threw stones at the lady, one of which cut open her finger at its entire length, while she was otherwise injured about the head and arms. A complaint was made, but the matter was treated lightly. "This is a serious case," writes Mr. Denley, "and may be a test one. If grew, as all our evils in China do, out of troubles in the United States."

Still later, July 19th, the mob attacked the mission property at Chung King and destroyed it. Mr. Denley has filed a protest.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 17.—The heirs of Samuel Peck and Rachael Slater, to the number of about 100, met in the City Hall to-day. HAMILTON HAPPENINGS.—Ther is now being manufactured here an article for instantly removing pain of any acute external nature, and it is certainly the most perfect cure for neuralgia, Headache, Toothache and the like that has ever been tried. Peace Reigns for the Present.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Honduras advices state that on his arrival at Costa Rica, Solo ordered Delgado and Meri and all his chief officers and enlisted men who were in Nicaragua, and numbered seventy-seven all told, to invade Honduras, which they did on August 9th. On the 19th of August our troops met and completely routed the invading force. Mori Velasquez and seven other chiefs and officers were killed and only Delgado and Herradova escaped. All the rest of the invaders remained on the battlefield, either dead or as prisoners. Delgado and Herradova fled to the mountains on foot. The former was captured, and is being court-martialed. The people of Honduras are unanimous in their adherance to the present Government, and not one man sustained or upheld the invaders. Peace is entirely restored.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Fatal Coal Gas.

Geo. Harper, of Roseheath, went to Toronto some time ago to attend the exhibition. He stayed at the Revere House. On retiring for the night he turned off the gas, but the stop cock went around a little too far. The gas escaped through the eperture and by morning he was found to be insensible, though not dead. He was taken to the hospital and for eight days the attendants worked with him endeavoring to restore him to consciousness. The efforts were unavailing. He died this morning. The deceased is well known here as the owner and feeder of Percheron horses. He was on his way to Chicago to purchase more stock.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S MEDAL.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—As I hear that the attention of the intelligent public is in some measure aroused upon this question of the Governor-General's medal, I will proceed to comment upon one or two points of Dr. Tassie's letter to you of the 10th inst., and which appeared in your issue of the 13th.

In this letter the doctor gives very freely his opinion and judgment upon the work of the boy Haultain, remarking that "from his continuous neglect of all other subjects, and knowing that he was shaky in them, he had no certainty of his passing at all until the college lists appeared." Now, sir, this boy for six months previous to the examinations ceased, for divers reasons, from attending the doctor's classes in Latin and also the other classes of the Institute with the exception of chemistry and mathematics. He received private tuition during those month, and the master under whom he worked, far from reporting him as being "shaky," was confident of his success. His judgment proved to be correct, for the Burnham silver medal, which was to be given to "the student standing highest in proficiency," was awarded to him by the chairman, I presume at the recommendation of the principal. I would remark here that Dr. Tassie could not possibly have known whether the boy could have "neglected these other subjects" or not for the six months he was not under his supervision. I proceed now to consider the boy Armstrong. Dr. Tassie states that "he passed a brilliant examination in all subjects." I give below the standing of the two boys in their honor work, and for the information of the uninitiated I would explain that separate examination papers on extra work are set for honors, and that in the one subject "mathematics" are comprised four, viz., arithmetic, algebra, euclid and trigonometry:

ARMSTRONG, in First-class Honors.—English, 3rd place; History and Geography, 8th place; German, 11th place; French, 4th in Second-class Honours; or, 15th out of the whole.

HAULTAIN, in First-class Honors.—Algebra, 2nd place; Arithmetic, 2nd place; Euclid, 2nd place; trigonometry, 2nd place.

This makes Armstrong's average standing 9th place, and Haultain's average standing, 2nd place. In addition to this Dr. Tassie states that Armstrong did especially well in "Honor Latin Composition" an examination paper which he did not even try. If this statement be correct, the public requires some explanation. Our School Board and the public will see by this who passes the more "brilliant examination"; and they must remember that we must be guided by the results of the examinations and not by the opinions or judgment of any man, for, as the proof of the pudding is in the eating, so the proof of a boy's work is in the results of his examinations.

The next point I come to is this: Dr. Tassie writes, "as for the claim for the two medals in his (Haultain's) behalf, I have no hesitation in declaring it most unreasonable." Here the doctor evades the one question before the public, that of justice—the key note, as it were, of the whole subject, and the one for which alone I am [illegible] substitute the word "unjustifiable" for "unreasonable" in the above sentence. If he will, and can prove his assertion, then I maintain that the boy Haultain is not entitled to the Burnham medal; if he can not, then the boy in justice can claim both medals.

Apologizing for taking up so much space in your valuable journal,

I am, dear sir,
Yours faithfully,
F. M. HAULTAIN.

THE IRISH VICEROY.

The Reception of the Marquis of Londonderry in Dublin.

DUBLIN, Sept. 19.—The marquis of Londonderry, the new Irish Lord Lieutenant, arrived at Kingston yesterday morning. His arrival was signalled by a royal salute.

The state entry of the Marquis of Londonderry into Dublin was made with the usual official demonstration, but was devoid of interest. The Marquis was accompanied by his wife. They were received in Westland row by a crowd, which cheered them. Both the Marquis and his lady rode from the station on horseback. Lady Londonderry, in tribute to the Irish, wore white poplin. When the couple departed from the railway station they were greeted with cheers, followed by groans. The Marquis recognized the greeting by lifting his hat and bowing with a smile to the crowd. The entire route from the railway station was lined with troops. Most of the buildings were decorated and the streets looked gay. The Hibernian bank building was conspicuous by its total lack of decoration. The Kildare street club house was filled with people. In Nassau street a banner with the inscription "The Queen and the Constitution" was displayed.

During the progress of the Viceregal procession cheers were nearly everywhere accompanied by groans, but the cheering predominated. The Viceregal party were welcomed at the castle by a large crowd of loyalists, who cheered heartily. There was also a hostile crowd there which did its best to offset the welcome by cheering lustily for Parnell and United Ireland." The hostiles attempted to follow this up as the Marquis and Marchioness of Londonderry entered the castle by singing "God Save Ireland," but the police rallied and put a stop to it.

OFFICERS ELECTED

the Council of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 18.—At Thursday's session of the C. M. B. A. council the chairman of the Finance committee presented a report, showing that the statements of the supreme recorder and supreme treasurer were correct, and recommending that the salary of the supreme recorder be $1,- and that of the treasurer $200. Adopted. Following are the officers elected for the ensuing year:—Supreme president, C. Dreschen, Buffalo; first vice-president, Simomas Coffey, London; second vice, G. [illegible]nnimore, Meadville, Pa.; supreme record J. C. Hickey, Alleghany, N. Y; supreme treasurer, James W. Walsh, Hornsville, N. ; supreme marshal, J. A. Hickey, Detroit; supreme guard, A. Ballantine, Detroit; supreme trustees, W. J. Bulger, Lockport, N. Y., and J. S. McGarry, Franklin, Pa.

The plan for the reserve fund provides that five per cent on all assessments be set apart for that purpose, to remain intact until the assessments reach 24, or the fund amounts to $250,000. Adopted. Cleveland, Ohio, was chosen as the next place of meeting. The treasurer's bond was fixed at $40,000, and the recorder's at $10,000.

FOUND DEAD

On the C. P. R. Track, Half a Mile Out of Norwood.

When the section men working on the Canadian Pacific Railway near Norwood got about half a mile from the village this morning they came across the body of a man lying across the track. They took it up, placed it on the hand car and took it back to the station.

On examination it was found that the man had been severely bruised about the left eye, that his left arm was twisted out of shape, and that he had sundry bruises and scratches over the body. He was quite cold when found, and must have been dead for some hours.

One of the section men, who looked over the surroundings where the body was found, supposes that the deceased was coming down on the train the night before and attempted to jump off. He supports this theory by saying that he saw the grading ploughed along as if the deceased had been either hanging on or had got caught. This "ploughing" was noticed the length of the distance between three telegraph poles.

The deceased was a well built man of apparently 30 years of age, and was dressed respectably in every way. The soles of boots were literally torn off. He wore a dark moustache and dark hair.

He is not a native of the vicinity, and no one knows who he is nor anything about him.

Dr. Bell, the coroner, left for Norwood this forenoon.

Vomiting Live Snakes.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Sept. 18.—Three years ago John Longwell, of Charleston, Tioga county, began experiencing strange sensations in his stomach as if some living thing was therein. A year ago, by means of a violent emetic, he vomited two living snakes, each over a foot in length. Two months later he felt a recurrence of the crawling sensation in his stomach, and was taken with fits, accompanied with horrible convulsions. Three weeks ago he experienced an exceptionally severe fit which nearly cost him his life. Yesterday afternoon during another fit Mr. Longwell vomited up a garter snake 18¼ inches long and half an inch in diameter. His wife states that when the snake protruded four inches from the sufferer's mouth it stuck fast, but was finally ejected, though not before Longwell in his agonizing convulsions had bitten it almost through in three places. Neighbours corroborate the account. It is supposed that in drinking from a pool three years ago Longwell sucked into his stomach the eggs from which the reptile grew.

A Fatal Stag Hunt.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—A great shock was experienced here by a large circle of friend and club acquaintances when the report was received that the young Earl of Dalkeith had fatally shot himself. The Earl, who is the eldest son of the Duke of Buccleuch, is only 25 years of age, and gave promise of a brilliant future. He was stag hunting in Achnacary forest, and while running down a steep hill to obtain a position to command the stag he slipped and fell. The rifle which he carried in his hand went off, and the bullet entered his chest and inflicted a wound which caused death within an hour.

THE IRISH QUESTION.

Mr. Parnell's Land Bill—The Government Oppose It.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Mr. Parnell moved the second reading of his land bill, and said that the recent elections conveyed a mandate to the House of Commons that it should show itself willing and able to provide for the wants of Ireland, equally as if it were an Irish Parliament. A state of urgency existed with reference to the relations between the landlords and tenants of Ireland. Mr. Parnell here explained the provisions of the bill. The first clause, he said, was the most important, because it dealt with the most urgent subject. It enacted that any statutory tenant whose rent was fixed prior to the last day of the year 1881, might apply for an abatement in accordance with the provision of the bill. It was intended to provide for what he hoped would be only a temporary emergency. It was intended to meet the depression in prices, but he could not tell now whether the depression was likely to continue. The depression commenced in 1885, and had continued unabated ever since, with signs of growing worse. He proposed further, that the tenant should deposit half of the amount of his rent, leaving the court to determine how much of the remaining half the tenant should pay, and how much the landlord should lose. In regard to the suspension of evictions the bill closely followed the lines of the arrears act, which act worked justly and satisfactorily for all parties. The cost of evictions frequently exceeded the amount of rent due. Therefore it was necessary to suspend evictions to save tenants additional costs. Mr. Parnell concluded by earnestly entreating the house to allow the second reading of the bill, which he said would benefit the landlords themselves.

MR. J. G. GIBSON, M. P. for Liverpool, declared that the Government could not accept the bill.

MR. GLADSTONE regretted that there seemed no signs of agreement. It was too late now to argue that it was impossible to distinguish between these who were unable and these who were disinclined to pay, because parliament had more than once recognized that it was possible to draw an act with such distinction. He would support the bill, although he himself would have framed it differently. The bill however could be altered in committee.

MR. JOHN MORLEY moved the adjournment.

THE ULSTER DELEGATES.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I feel confident that I express the sentiments of the most thoughtful portion of the community when I say that it is extremely unwise and imprudent to turn the visit of the Irish delegates to this town into an Orange demonstration. This procedure forces the delegates themselves into a false position before the public, and does incalculable injury to their cause.

In his address in the city of Hamilton a few days ago, Mr. Geo. Hill Smith said:—"I appear with my colleague on behalf of an association, formed on no party lines, but consisting of men of every sect and political creed." And again Mr. Smith distinctly says:—"Neither my colleague nor myself appears here on behalf of the Orange Order; but in the interests of the Loyalists of Ireland."

No one would suppose that such unmistakable language, coming from the delegates themselves, ought to check the ill advised intention of getting up any party dispiay. Even the tickets for admission to the hall, are labelled, "Orange addresses by Ulster Delegates." Now it is evident that these words are throughly misleading, and do a manifest injustice to the Irish delegates. Then we ought to remember that the party demonstration and the ominous looking tickets, are rather discourteous to our Roman Catholic fellow citizens. Many of them no no doubt would like to see these delegates, so fresh from the Green Isle, and to hear what they have to say on the burning question of Home Rule. But it is hardly fair that our Catholic friends should be compelled to cross the Boyne water and to sit with Orange lodges, in order to have the privilege of hearing the Irish delegates. These delegates advocate a modified form of Home Rule for Ireland, and they claim that one million of the most intelligent Roman Catholics in the island are in accord with their views; hence it is most unfair to these delegates to place them on a narrow sectarian basis before this community. In other towns and cities these delegates have been received without party pageantry, and they have been provided with large buildings, such as roller-rinks, where thousands could congregate to hear them, free of charge. But in this town the audience is to be crowded into a hall of limited dimensions, where every one who enters must pay, or stay out. Who wants to make a money speculation out of the visit of the delegates to this town? And why could not the delegates and the public be treated in Peterborough, as in other towns, on broad, non-sectarian principles?

Yours, &c.
Peterborough, Sept. 21st, 1886. H.

Two Vessels Wrecked.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 20.—A heavy easterly gale swept the coast last night, accompanied by thunder, lightning and rain. Two vessels were wrecked at Souris, P. E. I. One was the Souris schooner Mary Joseph, the other was the Gloucester fisherman. Col. J. H. French, Captain Harris. The crews had a very narrow escape with their lives, but finally got ashore at nine o'clock this morning. The French lies on her side, with the waves dashing her. Fifty vessels, mostly American, are anchored in Souris harbor for shelter. The brigantine Olivia A. Carrigan ashore at Shoal Bay, has been got off and brought to Halifax.

Our Millionaires

do not find all their investments golden, by any means. But an investment in Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is certain to prove a good one. It cures coughs, consumption, bronchitis, sick-headache, skin disease, dyspepsia, costiveness, scrofulous disease, chills and fever, and dumb ague. It reaches the blood, and through it the whole system. Agreeable to take, permenant in its results. By druggists.

RAIDS BY DAYLIGHT.

CORK, Sept. 20.—Twenty armed men went out from Kanturk town, in county Cork, near Mallow, in broad daylight to-day, and made open raids in search of arms in farm houses not more than half a mile from town. The raiders were successful in securing a quantity of firearms. Two arrests have been made.

RIOTING IN BELFAST.

BELFAST, Sept. 19.—All was quiet this morning. At noon, however, a large body of Queen's Island shipward workmen, all orangemen, marched ostentatiously through the streets on their way two and from dinner, as if to provoke a fight. At Carrickill they were attacked with volleys of stones, and a desperate fight ensued, which is still in progress. Many men on both sides were wounded. The police are outnumbered and powerless. Reinforcements are hurrying to the locality.

THE CHOLERA.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The cholera returns from Austria-Hungary since the last report are: Trieste, 5 new cases, 1 death; Fiume, 1 case, 1 death; Pesth, 4 cases, 3 deaths; Raab, 5 cases, 2 deaths. The returns from Italy are:—Ferrara, 11 new cases, 5 deaths; Ravenna, 9 cases, 4 deaths; elsewhere, 20 cases, 8 deaths. Mr. Wm. H. Parker the American Minister to Corea, reports under date August 2nd that cholera is still ranging throughout Corea. No reliable statistics are kept, but it is estimated that 500 die daily inside the walls of Seoul, and that so far 12,000 have died.

HURRICANE IN FRANCE.

PARIS, Sept. 20.—A hurricane passed over Toulouse district yesterday. At Nol four persons were killed and five seriously injured by lightning.

GENTLEMANY MOONLIGHTERS.

DUBLIN, Sept. 20.—Several moonlight raids were made last night upon houses in the vicinity of Lostowel, County Kerry. All of the raids were made in search of arms. The Moonlighters in each case are described as well dressed, gentlemanly-looking, polite men, the majority of whom carried watches and were equipped with the newest kind of firearms.

GLADSTONE'S RETURN.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Mr. Gladstone attended Lord Granville's second reception at the Foreign Office last evening. A crowd had assembled outside to see him and give him an ovation when he came. He was received with a similar demonstration by the members of the House when he appeared on the floor. Mr. Gladstone looks as if enjoying robust health.

BAD NEWS FROM BURMAH.

RANGOON, Sept. 20.—The western frontier column of the British Army of occupation in Burmah has been cut off at Laingdah from communication with the main army by Dacoits under the leadership of Boshwey and other noted insurgents. Three hundred troops have been despatched to relieve the beleagured corps.

REINFORCEMENTS SENT FOR.

BELFAST, Sept. 21.—Reinforcements have been telegraphed for by the authorities. A hastily summoned meeting of magistrates was presided over by the Mayor last night. Vigorous action will be taken to ensure the peace of the city.

THE RECENT PLOT.

SOFIA, Sept. 20.—Colonel Nikolaief, the War Minister, says the examination of those concerned in the recent plot will be secretly conducted. If civilians are found implicated they will be tried and punished by exile or imprisonment, no matter what rank they hold. In no case will death be the punishment.

POLICE AND RIOTERS.

BELFAST, Sept. 20.—Desultory combats between mobs and the police occured in various parts of Belfast this evening, but so far as known no one was fatally injured. There was much stone-throwing, and the police used their batons freely. One detachment of police being attacked by overwhelming numbers was obliged to flee. They were pursued by a howling mob, and assailed with stones and other missiles. Finally a strong body of soldiers succeeded in rescuing the policemen. The barracks on Davis street were again stoned to-night, and a number of houses were wrecked by the rioters. The total number of arrests made to-day is twelve.

Peace Reigns for the Present.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Honduras advices state that on his arrival at Costa Rica, Solo ordered Delgado and Meri and all his chief officers and enlisted men who were in Nicaragua, and numbered seventy-seven all told, to invade Honduras, which they did on August 9th. On the 19th of August our troops met and completely routed the invading force. Mori Velasquez and seven other chiefs and officers were killed and only Delgado and Herradova escaped. All the rest of the invaders remained on the battlefield, either dead or as prisoners. Delgado and Herradova fled to the mountains on foot. The former was captured, and is being court-martialed. The people of Honduras are unanimous in their adherance to the present Government, and not one man sustained or upheld the invaders. Peace is entirely restored.

Boycotters to be Sued.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Chas. C. Missbaumey cigar manufacturer, was boycotted on April 23rd by order of the Cigar Makers' International Union, Nos. 14 and 15, of this city. Mr. Missbaumer to-day asked the Unites States District Attorney to begin a suit against the offenders.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

TRADE WITH AUSTRALIA.

THE opening of our great transcontinental railway will greatly facilitate the extension of our commerce, and no more promising and accessible field is opened than that of the Australian Colonies. With a view to aiding in the development of such a trade the Dominion authorities have taken the wise step of appointing Mr. Alexander Woods as Agent-General from Canada to Australasia. In a "Trade Letter" addressed by Mr. Woods to the merchants and manufacturers of Canada, he thus outlines the system it is proposed to adopt:—

"The intention is to open a Canadian office and sample warehouse in one or more of the principal cities in the Australian colonies—in the former to keep all such information about Canada as it may be possible to supply through maps, directories, commercial journals, etc.; in the latter to keep samples of such Canadian manufactures as may be adapted to that country, price lists of same in Canada, with such information as to freight and insurance as may be necessary to give the purchaser delivered prices. Many samples of the same article, but by different makers, and prices of each, may be kept on hand, the purchaser making his selection. Duplicate samples of small portable wares should be sent, as local brokers will take the goods in hand with a view to making sales, in the same manner as our commercial travellers; having obtained orders they could send same direct to manufacturer, giving the usual shipping directions and any necessary references. Samples will be the property of the consignees, subject only to the charges of freight and insurance which may have been paid by the Government. Consignment for sale cannot be received by me, but I will be happy to give such advice as may be desired as to responsible and satisfactory firms to whom consignments may be made. In fine, the object of the Canadian Agency being, as stated, to assist in the promotion of commercial intercourse between the two countries, manufacturers and traders may use it in any way which will conduce to that end."

That the Australian trade is of no mean importance a few figures will show. The imports of the Australian Colonies amount to over $250,000,000 a year. Of these Great Britain supplies $134,000,000, the United States $10,500,000, and Canada only $434,000. It cannot be said that we are at present doing a fair share of this trade. We ought with our advantageous position be able to do a large proportion of the trade thus done by Great Britain. We ought to be able to do a still larger proportion of that done by the United States, which send to Australia chiefly such goods as we can as well supply.

In the return of exports from the United States to Australia we find such item as these:—Agricultural impliments $244,310; ashes, pot and pe 73; apples, dried and green $117,274; boots and shoes, rubber $48,422 carriages carts etc., $388,331; cordage and twine $26,138; clover seed $31,198; cotton manufactured goods $66,677; fish $82,950; fruit, canned $102,504; locomotives $140,000; boilers and engines $14,880; other machinery $576,475; musical instruments $153,688; oils $1,046,671; railway cars $86,514; sewing machines $129,524; stoves $45,019; vegetables $14,300; vessels $14,600; manufactures of wood $1,764,786.

This list might be enlarged, but it is sufficient to show that many articles required by Australia are just those that Canada might well supply, indeed there are several in the list that Peterborough produces and could send across the seas. Surely Canada can do better than to send Australia $8,350 of musical instruments against $153,588 from the United States, or $31 of sewing machines against $129,524 from the States, or $1,300 of doors and sashes against $156,516 from the States.

We will only give a few examples of the exports to Australia from Great Britain and Ireland:—Woollen and worsted fabrics $7,600,000. apparel and ready made clothing $9,500,000; cotton manufactured goods $9,260,000; boots and shoes $3,665,000. Could not Canada supply some of these goods? In some lines our make would be more suitable than that of the old country.

This is a matter that deserves attention from our enterprising men. Already Peterborough manufactures have gone across the Rocky mountains, and perhaps ere long with the further facilities, that will be given, next year they may cross the Pacific Ocean.

THE HON. THOS. WHITE.

In another column will be found the Hon. Thos. White's own public explanation of the circumstances which lead to the slanderous charges against him of insulting religious feelings and of triumphing over the fate of the dead victim of the justice due to his crimes. It will be seen that he was really exposing the fiendish work of the Rielite-Reformers in Quebec in distributing a portrait of Riel representing him as a martyr, and the Canadian authorities as hangmen. Mr. White shows on indisputable authority that Riel was as unworthy of the sympathy of those whose religion he blasphamed till his death was at hand, as of the sympathy of loyal Canadians of all creeds and races. It is not in Peterborough, where even his political opponents are proud of the abilities and success of their old fellow-townsman that such slanderous misrepresentations of Mr. White will produce any effect except a feeling of disgust at such an unfair attempt to injure him.

IN reference to Sir John Macdonald's visits to Peterborough the Globe omits one visit. Sir John spoke at Peterborough in 1882 and was soon after given a large majority in the general election. We hope that Sir John will deliver an address here in 1886 and that in the general election following he will receive as large a majority.

REVIEWS.

GLADSTONE-PARNELL.—At the present juncture "Gladstone-Parnell, and the Great Irish Struggle" by Mr. T. P. O'Connor, M. P., and Mr. R. M. M. Wade, of the Executive Committee of the Land League in the United States, will be read with much interest by all who wish to make themselves acquainted with both sides of the subject. There is nothing to show the respective handiwork of the two authors though probably Mr. O'Connor's is the larger share with Mr. Wade only supplying the local information for this continent. Whoever is responsible the work is very readable and interesting though of course it is from the extreme Parnellite standpoint. Its frankness in many instances is noteworthy. Especially welcome will be the byographical and critical sketches of Irish leaders and British statesmen, the portraits seeming to be life like. Mr. Isaac Butts seems to be treated with but scant justice, Mr. Chamberlain is depicted with scathing severity, and Mr. Gladstone evidently has not won much cordial liking, greatly as his alliance may be valued, but his oscillation between imprisonment and alliance, between coercion and concession, vividly portrayed, was hardly calculated to be captivating. The sketch of Mr. Parnell shows that he has inherited a hatred of England from his grandfather, Commodore Steward, who, by-the-bye, seems not to have been a Home Ruler under all circumstances, as, at the age of 83, he asked to serve against the Confederates then commencing their unsuccessful struggle for independence. The early chapters give an account of the introduction by Mr. Parnell of the policy of parliamentary obstruction. The double motive is described as being to please and arouse the Irish people by seeming "to kick up a row and to annoy the enemy," and to get "a grip of iron upon the heart's core of the Empire," namely, the Imperial Parliament. The way in which the rules of the House were used for this purpose is graphically described. This, by the way, is rather contradictory of the theory of harsh tyranny, for no other legislature in the world, unless it be the Canadian Parliament or the legislatures of other self-governing British colonies, would allow a small majority thus systematically to block the progress of all business. Can we conceive Germany permitting the representatives from Alsace-Lorraine or Poland, France permitting the representatives from Celtic Brittany or Italian Nice, Italy permitting the representatives of Naples thus to bring the transaction of public affairs to a standstill? Russia and Poland cannot be taken as an example, for a Pole [illegible] penalty of death. Other legislatures check obstructive discussion without the respect for freedom of speech by a minority shown by a British Parliament. The third chapter deals with the question of land-ownership, and describes how the land came into possession of the ancestors of the present holders. It is urged that this is at the bottom of the Irish question, the situation being exceptional in two respects, that possession was obtained by foreigners through conquest, and that clan-ownership was usurped by the chiefs. We may venture to remark that England was similarly conquered, by Saxons and Danes from the Celtic Britons, by Normans and their allies from the Saxons and Danes. In the names mentioned of the early conquering land-owners in Ireland almost all are Norman or Celtic, not Saxon. So, too, in Scotland and Wales, the chiefs invaded the proprietory rights of the clan or sept quite as much as in Ireland. It is evident, therefore, that conquering or usurping landownership is not the explanation that will solve the whole problem. In the very next chapter a strong light is thrown upon the whole difficulty. It is shown how a series of laws were passed, "the effect and the deliberate object of which were to kill Irish manufactures." To take one instance of the many described, that of woollen manufactures, it is shown how they were deliberately crushed out by enactments prompted by the jealousy of English trade rivals. So, too, it was with other branches of trade in which the Irish were excelling. Not only in this chapter, but repeatedly throughout the work it is stated how much suffering was and is caused through the absence of these factories; "they would have given employment to the persons immediately engaged and would have made life easier to those outside, to those especially who were engaged in cultivating the soil"; "they would have relieved the pressure on the land"; "deprived of every other form of making a livelihood the possession of land meant the chance of life, the want of land the certainty of death"; and so on. Yet our author does not seem convinced, plain as it appears, that this is the one great difficulty which no mere change of landownership can cure. This is the one greatest wrong done to Ireland, and a remedy for it is the most urgent need of all. Space will not permit us to specify all the other subjects mentioned. The Irish Parliament and the Union, the famines, the agrarian and political troubles in Ireland, the parliamentary struggles at Westminster and in the constituencies, and a variety of other cognate themes are described and discussed in a vigorous style. The book should be read by all who want fully to inform themselves on the subject and learn the views of Mr. Parnell and his supporters. The story is brought almost down to date, to the formation of the present Conservative Ministry. In the concluding paragraph Mr. O'Connor speaks hopefully of the rumoured Conservative plan to concede Home Rule to England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, suspending judgment till the details are made public. Mr. Parnell contributes a preface to the work and the Rev. Dr. Burns introduces to the reader this Canadian edition, which is very creditable to its publisher, Messrs. J. S. Robertson & Bros., Toronto. We must add that there are fine steel engravings of Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Parnell, and a profusion of excellent portraits of almost every man of eminence connected with the Irish question in recent times.

FORCED APART.

CHAPTER VIII.

THE "CLEOPATRA."

So, with a British will that made the row-locks creak like an iron door swinging on harsh hinges, the oarsmen in the Cleopatra's boat flung their backs at the facing spray, and drove the wedge of their boat's bow into the blast of the wind and the ebon hills in their path.

Right under the moon, and in the broken shimmer of it on the water, lay the man-of-war brig bowing to the land like some restless colt flinging furious heels at the wind.

Urged by six heavy blades, the boat ate her way stubbornly; dashing the surging spray in sheets and souses until she was awash, and the backs of the men lustrous for the drenching.

Meanwhile Cuthbert had recovered the use of his brain, thanks to copious splashing, soon after the boat shoved off.

Beholding the stars and flying clouds, and feeling the jump and wobble of the sea in the strain and ache of his own timbers, he immediately comprehended the dreadful character of the misfortune that had befallen him, and raising his voice attempted to address himself to the young gentleman in the cloak who was steering the boat, but was instantly silenced by a kick and a promise of a flogging if he opened his lips.

"You cannot be aware—" began Cuthbert.

"Hold your jaw, you lubber!"—here came the kick.

"Sir, you're——"

"By the Lord, you shall be flogged until your back is as green as your brains, you villain, if you move your tongue again!"

So there was no help for Cuthbert but to resign himself to broken-hearted contemplation of this bitter divorce from the woman of his love; and with his hands bound he reclined, knawing his lips with misery, and watching with distracted eyes the land they were leaving, while the foam flew in his face and the gale in his ear howled down every movement of hope.

In this condition of mind was he when the boat went rolling alongside the brig.

It was something to see the big and bristling hull stoop to the upward leap of the boat. It was as though a mother leaned down to embrace her little one.

Briskly the crew handed up the prisoners; then sounded the keen pipe of the boatswain; and while the boat soared to the davits the pawls of the capstan jerked out a music on the gale like the hammering on an anvil while the furnace roars. With quick leans and runs, and the disciplined rush, and the steady pulls of the men-of-war's men, the anchor was cat-headed, the yards dropped their dim spaces of canvas, round swept the shore lights, and down lay the cruiser to the wind. And then you heard the sing-song of plowed froth humming at the bows, and shrieking of big sails in the high gloom.

The four impressed men were left standing near the foot of the mainmast, under the eye of the marine. The business of getting under way was achieved with the swiftness that war time teaches, and all the wind whistling of a pipe, the brig being snug in less time than a woman takes to brush her hair. While the shore lights were veering into a faint line upon the quarter, and the great foreland lamp was thrusting its red flame among the cloudy stars well to the right, a brawny fellow came to the prisoners with a battle lantern swinging in his grasp, and made them a visible group.

Then approached two men from the opposite quarter of the deck, and the lantern flashed in the bullion and buttons of uniforms. Behind them stood others, and forward was a crowd of seamen staring at the four men; and this was the picture of the deck, adding to it the details of a savage row of carronades, black as ink in the watery moonshine.

"Are these your men, Mr. Towplank?" said one of the uniform wearers, the tone of whose voice was as good a warrant of his office as epaulets.

"Yes, Sir Peter, four of them, sir," replied the young gentleman who had done Cuthbert the honor to impress him.

"Well, you look likely men, my lads; and I suppose you don't require me to tell you that you are wanted to serve the king, and fight his majesty's enemies? There is glory and prize money to be got if you do your duty; and, as British seamen, you'll never want me to tell you what your duty is, I hope."

With which flourish Captain Sir Peter Grahame, Bart., in command of H. M. S. Cleopatra, was about to slew himself round on his heel to go aft, when one of the men spoke up.

"If you plaze, sir, me name is Matthew Murphy, and I'm an Irishman. Your honor therefore persaves that's not me duty to fight for the king, God bless him!"

"Ah, I see—an American, born in Kilkenny."

"Indade, then, your honor, I was born in Galway," responded Murphy, at which murderous admission there went a smothering of laughter among the men forward.

Hereupon Cuthbert spoke.

"I have to represent to you that I am not a sailor, sir. My father is Dr. Shaw, of the Greystone school. Your officer has committed an error in impressing me."

This had in it the matter of a rebuke, and was a trifle downright for the quarter-deck bearing; but then it was delivered in a soft and cultured voice, and he who spoke it, with figure lighted up by the flare of the battle lantern, and handsome face showing, looked like a gentleman.

Sir Peter gazed at him inquisitively.

"Mr. Towplank," said he, "where did you meet this gentleman?"

At the word gentleman applied to the man he had kicked, and which same word was a definition he was the last midshipman in the service capable of making with true application, not because his father was a retired undertaker, but because his father's son was a cad, Mr. Towplank's eyes began to roll and the wind to feel chill upon his small clothes.

"Meet him, Sir Peter! Why, sir, coming down a hill. He gave us a deal of trouble, sir. He knocked the bo'sun down. I never took him to be better than the mate of a coaster, sir."

"I can vouch, Sir Peter, that there is a Dr. Shaw living at Greystone, and that he keeps a school there," exclaimed the first lieutenant, who stood near the captain. "I know this to be so, because my friend Lord Cosgrave told me that he has a son with Dr. Shaw."

AYER'S PILLS

CURE HEADACHE.

Headaches are usually induced by costiveness, indigestion, foul stomach, or other derangements of the digestive system, and may be easily cured by the use of Ayer's Pills. Mrs. Mary A. Scott, Portland, Me., writes: "I had suffered dreadfully from Sick Headache, and thought myself incurable. Disorder of the stomach caused it. Ayer's Pills cured me entirely."

CURE BILIOUSNESS.

John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebr., writes: "I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice. I was so dangerously ill, that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor. I feel certain that I owe my recovery to your invaluable Pills."

CURE INDIGESTION.

Ayer's Pills act directly on the digestive and assimilative organs, influencing healthful action, imparting strength, and eradicating disease. G. W. Mooney, Walla Walla, W. T., writes: "I have suffered from Dyspepsia and Liver troubles for years past. I found no permanent relief, until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, which have effected a complete cure."

CURE RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism is among the most painful of the disorders arising from vitiated blood and derangement of the digestive and biliary organs. Ayer's Pills relieve and cure Rheumatism when other remedies fail. S. M. Spencer, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I was confined to my bed, with Rheumatism, three months, but, after using a few boxes of Ayer's Pills, became a well man."

CURE GOUT.

S. Lansing, Yonkers, N. Y., writes. "Recommended to me as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me not only from that trouble, but also from Gout. If every victim of the disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. Those words would be, 'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

CURE PILES.

Piles are induced by habitual constipation, debility, indigestion, or a morbid condition of the liver. A cure is best effected by the use of Ayer's Pills. John Lazarus, St. John, N. B., writes: "I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only cured me of that disagreeable disorder, but gave me new life and health."

A COMBAT A OUTRANCE.

M. Pasteur Challenged to Fight a Strange Duel.

The Paris municipal council, says the London, Eng., Graphic of July 31st, are a strange body of men. They have forbidden Sisters of Mercy to nurse the sick in the municipal hospitals for fear they might give religious instruction to the patients. Not long ago they licensed a Parisian theatre only on the express condition that the manager should always open on Good Friday—a thing previously unheard of in Paris. They have carried their irreligious enthusiasm so far that they are condemning M. Pasteur and all his works, merely because the professor is a Conservative and a good churchman. One of the members of this amiable body even went so far, at a meeting held on Sunday last, as to challenge M. Pasteur to a duel. M. Paul Bouiller, who is the member in question, and M. Pasteur, were each to be bitten by a dog which was unquestionably mad, M. Bouiller was to be cauterized, and M. Pasteur inoculated. Then they were to wait until one or other went mad, when the value of the system would be established or denied. The Graphic goes on to say that a proposal of this kind opens up all kinds of possibilities. The anti-vaccinationist question could easily be settled by a similar contest: the two combinations, one "Jennerised" (as the anti-vaccinationists call it) and the other not, would be inoculated with the small-pox poison, and the one that first succumbed would lose the victory for the cause he championed. Probably, however, M. Bouiller was not serious in issuing his cartel of battle. Perhaps he expected that a deputy, like Savonarola's monk, would take his place. If not, he must be a bold man, for present statistics show the Pasteur treatment to be just twenty-three times as successful as any hitherto tried.

Fluid Lightning does not take a day or an hour to remove Neuralgia, Headache, Toothache, Lumbago or Rheumatism, but will do it instantly, and without carrying your head in a poultice for a day or using greasy liniments. Try a 25c. bottle from J. McKee. Druggist.

The United States court at Sitka, on Sept. 9th, convicted the masters and mates of the British sealing vessels seized in Alaska.

Try Ayer's Pills, and be cured. Misery is a mild word to describe the mischief to body and mind caused by habitual constipation. The regular use of Ayer's Pills, in mild doses, will restore the torpid viscera to healthy action.

The gate receips at the Toronto Industrial Exhibition just closed amounted to $40,912 an increase of $6,788 over last years receipts.

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS.—Ther is now being manufactured here an article for instantly removing pain of any acute external nature, and it is certainly the most perfect cure for neuralgia, Headache, Toothache and the like that has ever been tried. It is called Fluid Lightning, from the rapid manner in which it acts, and is manufactured by McGregor & Parke. Sold in Peterborough by J. McKee, Druggist.

Succi, the Italian faster, has accomplished his task of subsisting for thirty days without food, and only taking mineral water and extract from an African root.

Fluid Lightning is simply a nervous Rheumatic Remedy. I was for two months a cripple, unable to get out of the house from Sciatica. One bottle gave me instant relief, and placed me on my feet again. I have driven fourteen miles to-day (something I could not possibly have done were it not for Fluid Lightning) for the express purpose of procuring another bottle. So says Wm. Dixon, Gananoque. Only 25 cents per bottle at J. McKee's.

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many inferior goods, corded with jute, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by drawing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

Encouraged by the warm approval hitherto attending our efforts to make our Dress Department one of the most prominent features in our business, we again venture to present our Lady friends with our views for the ensuing Fall and Winter, Dress Goods being the most anxious item in the economy of every properly constituted Dry Goods Establishment. We have this Season devoted more than our ordinary attention to that Department.

During the Season the demand for Self Colored Goods will be very great, among the most popular will be Jersey Cloths, Habit Cloths, Ottoman Cloths, Nigger Head Cloths, Tweed Effects, Plaids and Combinations in Checks and Stripes.

TARRED and Plain Building Paper, only 2c. lb. GEORGE STETHEM.

The Laborers Read It.

An advertisement was inserted in the Daily Evening REVIEW by Mr. R. B. Rogers, of the Department of Railways and Canals, calling for men to work on Government works. Though ordered to be inserted several times one insertion only was found to have the desired effect, and a sufficient number of applications being received the announcement was withdrawn. In the long run it pays best to advertise in a paper that reaches the people.

The Battalion.

The City Battalion went through battalion drill for the first time on Monday evening. The movements, and various exercises, were well performed. The men showed themselves very steady, went through the movements with great accuracy, and the whole drill reflected great credit upon the efficiency of the officers in charge. An instruction class, for the examination of non-commissioned officers, has been opened, to meet in the drill shed every Wednesday evening.

Wedding.

The following reference to the marriage of Miss Margaret A. Nicholls, granddaughter of Mr. W. C. Nicholls, of Peterborough, a notice of which will be found in the usual place in another column, is taken from the Beatrice, Nebraska, Express of Sept. 14th:—"Mr. Waddington is one of the most substantial young men of that part of the county. He is a hardware merchant of Filley and postmaster of that town. The young lady is the accomplished daughter of Mr. J. B. Nicholls and niece of the Hon. W. D. Nicholls, of this city,. Quite a number of friends, both from Filley and Beatrice attended the the wedding and a number of valuable presents were received. Mr. and Mrs. Waddington start this evening for Chicago and the east. After a few weeks they will take up their residence in Filley. Many friends wish them prosperity.

CONFERRING THE CHASUBLE.

Mr. Patrick Rudkins Ordained a Priest of the Roman Catholic Church.

The spacious auditorium of St. Peter's cathedral was well filled with people this morning at eight o'clock to witness the ordination ceremonies accompanying the admission of Mr. Patrick Rudkins to the priesthood of the Roman Catholic Church.

At shortly after that hour there entered the chancel His Grace, Archbishop Lynch, Toronto; Vicar-Ghneral Laurent, Lindsay, Mr. P. Rudkins, Father Hand, Toronto; Father Casey, Campbellford; Father Brown, Port Hope; Father Connoly, Emily; Father Keilty, Ennismore; Father McGuire, Lindsay; Father McClusky, Victoria Road; Father McEvay, Fenelon Falls; Father Dan. O'Connell, Douro; Father Conway, parish priest, Peterborough, and Father O'Brien, Peterborough. The candidate was arrayed in the amice and alb, indicative of orders already received.

Low Mass was celebrated, His Grace being the celebrant; V. G. Laurent, the Archdeacon; Father Casey, the Deacon; Father Hand, the Assistant Priest, and Father O'Brien, Master of Ceremonies. After the reading of the Epistle, His Grace the Archdeacon conferred the order of priesthood according to the church ritual and then arrayed the new born priest in the chasuble. The mass then proceeded, the Rev. Father Rudkins repeating it after His Grace.

After the mass the Rev. Father Rudkins imparted the blessing to the Vicar-General, then to his brother, sister and aunt, then to the priests and then to the people. The latter ceremony took over an hour, there being such a number of people in the Cathedral.

The Rev. Father Rudkins began to study for the priesthood in 1881. He took up a mathematical and classical course under the supervision of Mr. D. T. Lynch of this town, and during that time he also taught in the Separate School. The next year he went to St. Michael's College, Toronto, and there studied for two years. The next step was to the Grand Seminary, Montreal, where he remained for three years. He came to the palace, in Peterborough, at last Easter and has remained here since that time.

The first order (the Tonsure) was confered on him about two years ago, when at the Grand Seminary, by his Grace, Archbishop Fabre. The next Christmas he received minor orders also at the hands of Archbishop Fabre, and last Christmas, from the same dignitary, he received the order of Subdeaconship. In the St. Basil's Church connected with St. Michael's College, Toronto, the Deaconship Order was conferred by his Grace Archbishop Lynch last Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Rudkins is a young man well known in Peterborough, having lived here all his life. His character is irreproachable, and his conduct has ever been exemplary. His popularity was attested this morning more loudly than words can express, when hundreds of his friends showed their interest in him by attending a ceremony which, doubtless, will be remembered by him as the most eventful hour of his life.

The Exhibition.

Have you been to the Exhibition? No! What exhibition? Why the one that is going on at the Bon Marche. They are selling goods astonishingly cheap. You should go and see for your self and spend a little money in dry goods, groceries etc., before everything is sold out. Can't buy as much in any other place in town for the same money.

Purse Found.

On Monday evening Mr. R. N. Roddy found a ladies' hand satchel containing a reticule and other articles. In the purse there was a sum of of money. On examination it was found that the name of Mrs. Barron, Lindsay, was incribed. Mr. Roddy promptly forwarded the property to its owner. Mr. Roddy deserves credit for his prompt action in having the property forwarded.

The Golden Eye.

Mr. Calcutt informs us that he has had to lay up the Golden Eye on account of the lowness of the water and the amount of sawdust in the river. This is most unfortunate for both Mr. Calcutt and the town, particularly if it continues, as it will prevent the running of the Golden Eye during the week of the Central Fair. There must be plenty of water "up stream" if it were only let off judiciously and at the proper time.

THE ALASKAN SEIZURE.

Heavy Sentences—Fines and Imprisonment for Thirty Days.

WASHINGTON, September 20.—Advices from Alaska state that the captain and mate of the British schooner Thornton, which was seized for catching seal in Behring Strait, were tried by a jury, found guilty, and sentenced to imprisonment for 30 days and fined, the captain $500 and the mate $300. The cases of the two other British schooners were to come up in a day or two. The captain of one of them disappeared, and it is supposed he committed suicide. The revenue cutter Corwin, when conveying her prizes to port, sighted five other vessels, all doubtless engaged in unlawful sealing. They escaped.

THE MAIL'S POSITION.

The Toronto Mail editorially accepts the statement of Sir John Macdonald that it is not his organ, and defines its position in regard to the Government as that of an Independent Conservative journal. It says:—

"Since it passed into the hands of its present owners, the Mail has been an Independent Conservative journal, not a mere organ, an instrument manipulated by a certain set of politicians. It has not been, and we need scarcely add that at this stage in its career, when it is enjoying an unprecedented measure of public favor, it does not intend to assume so unhappy, not to say, so unworthy a role. The statement made by a contemporary on Saturday, that the directors of the Mail, by formal resolutions some years ago, placed its columns at the disposal of Sir John Macdonald, is a pure fabrication. The Mail is and for nine years has been, wholly and absolutely independent of all Governments and politicians, whatsoever, and owing nothing, directly or indirectly, to them or to their influence. It has not suffered them to dictate its course upon any question of high or low degree, but has everywhere and always asserted its right to think and speak for itself. This position the Mail will continue to occupy, our conception of the true functions of a great public journal inclining us more and more to the belief that the public interests are better served by free and healthful criticism than by undiscriminating devotion to one side or the other."

After discussing at length its treatment of the Riel question and matter connected with it, as to which it declares it has spoken independently, the Mail continues:—

"Upon other issues, such as the maintenance of British connection, the encouragement of native industry, the construction of railways, etc., the Mail will continue to be an earnest advocate of the policy of the Conservative party, which was done so much for the material progress of this young community, but the public will be good enough to understond that in all things, great and small, the Mail will not be an organ, but a throughly independent journal, bound at any bost to give expression to its honest convictions, whilst treating, we hope, with becoming respect, the opinions of all those on either side who feel called upon to differ with us."

Politics in a Church.

MONTREAL, Sept. 21.—Bishop Gravel, of Nicolet, on Sunday after mass removed the eucharist in state from the high altar and carried it into the vestry, convened a political meeting in the cathedral and denounced the Conservative candidate. His Lordship spoke strongly in favor of Mr. Dorais, the Nationalist candidate, who was previously denounced by Bishop Morreau, of St. Hyacinthe, as a Freemason.

REVOLUTION IN MADRID.

Soldiers Mutiny and Inaugurate a Revolt—The People Terror Stricken.

MADRID, September 20.—A revolution was attempted last evening by a number of Spanish troops quartered in this city. The uprising was ill-planned and ill-managed, and practically amounted to little more than a mutiny. The trouble was inagurated by a regiment of infantry quartered in the Gil Blas barracks. The soldiers revolted, broke down a partition wall that separated them from the quarters occupied by the cavalry, and intermingled with the men of two cavalry regiments, a number of whom joined in the revolution. The officers of all three regiments did all in their power to dissuade the men from revolting, but 300 soldiers, after beating a number of officers and wounding three, deserted the barracks and marched in two bodies through the town One body went into the Prado, the principal park. A thousand troops were quartered in the Prado at the time, and the revolutionists expected to be joined by them. The other body went hurrahing through the centre of Madrid, calling on the people to join in the revolution, crying Long Live the Republic, and making all kinds of threats against the monarchy. At this time the theatres and other places of amusement were crowded. The populace were taken by surprise. In most of the public places the people flocked out in a panic. In all the entertainments were abruptly terminated. The streets were soon filled with people nearly all of whom were terror stricken, because of the exaggerated ideas of what was transpiring.

THE LATEST SENSATION.

Prince Albert Victor and His Alleged Future American Bride.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 20.—The Pittsburg Leader has investigated a report published on the strength of a New York special last Friday, to the effect that the Prince of Wales and Consort had decided that their son Prince Albert Victor should marry an American wife. The reasons given for the decision were the opposition of the English populace to any more German alliances, the paucity of reigning Protestant families in Europe, and the bitter opposition to Catholics becoming connected with the English Government. In addition to this was also stated that the marital union of England and America was some time [illegible] by Lord Beaconsfield. There was a mystery, however, in connection with the identity of the American lady said to have been selected at the Prince's bride, but a Pittsburg gentleman, just returned from New York, is authority for the information that the lady in the case is Miss Jennie Chamberlain, of Cleveland, whose beauty has created a sensation on both Continents. He says while in New York the report was privately circulated in the highest social circles that she and Albert Victor became engaged while she was in Europe last winter. The Leader repester sent to Cleveland to investigate, telegraphs the same rumor prevails among society people in that city, that Miss Chamberlain is now in Scotland, and that in an interview with her father, that gentleman disclaimed any knowledge of the betrothal.

THE IRISH QUESTION.

Mr. Parnell's Bill Rejected by a Vote of 297 to 202.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Mr. John Morley resumed the debate of the second reading of the Parnell land bill. He thought that Mr Parnell, in his speech last night, had proved his case in regard to the fall in prices of the Irish farm products. Mr. Morley contended that the bill provided better machinery and better methods of answering the government's own question as to the necessity of relieving the Irish tenantry in some form, than would the appointment of any royal commission. He also believed that the landlords of Ireland, and not for the first time in their history, were making a grevious mistake in allowing the bill to be rejected. (Irish cheers.)

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach said the number of evictions in 1885 did not exceed three in two thousand tenants. There was scope for inquiry into the whole matter. Upon the announcement of the result of the royal commission inquiry, the government would submit proposals to the house during the next session. The position of affairs in Ireland was such that the government might be obliged to ask parliament to deal with the question, earlier that usual, (cheers); but the government would not buy peace by doing injustice—by blackmail. In conclusion, he said the discussion of Mr. Parnell's proposals was an act of gross injustice to Irish landlords.

Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt said he thought the House and country would notice the alarming tone of defiance and menace with which the Chief Secretary for Ireland embarked on his mission of peace. Lord Hartington, continued the speaker, was alone to-night, like the last rose of summer. (Laughter.) Where were his companions? Where was Chamberlain? The House had heard one Birmingham member (Mr. Matthews). Where were the others? Ex-members? (Laughter and cheers.) Upon this great and critical question what was the voice of Birmingham? Why had she spoken with only one voice, and that through a Tory minister? (Cheers and counter cheers.) The Liberal Union did not seem to be much of a Liberal Union after all. The Liberal party would follow its old policy and do what it could to avert the great dangers which the policy of the Government threatened.

After further debate, in which Lord Hartington vigorously opposed the measure, a vote was taken when the bill was rejected by 297 to 202.

Our Millionaires

do not find all their investments golden, by any means. But an investment in Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is certain to prove a good one. It cures coughs, consumption, bronchitis, sick-headache, skin disease, dyspepsia, costiveness, scrofulous disease, chills and fever, and dumb ague. It reaches the blood, and through it the whole system. Agreeable to take, permenant in its results. By druggists.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

DISPERSED BY ROYALISTS.

MADRID, Sept. 21.—Great excitement was caused here by the news that the rebels had seized Morata, a town near Madrid. Firing was heard in the direction of the town, and a force of soldiers was sent thither. A crowd of followers of Zorilla had assembled there. They were scattered by royalist troops, many being taken prisoners.

THE FRENCH DEFICIT.

PARIS, Sept. 21.—At the session of the budget committee yesterday, M. Sardi Carnot, Minister of Finance, said the deficit was estimated at 74,000,000 francs. He said an impost on alcohol would be the only new form of taxation possible in 1887. He decided to examine into the question of the income tax.

FIGHTING ON THE AFGHAN BORDER.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Advices from Merv state that warfare is being waged between the Afghans and the inhabitants of Badakshan. The fighting has been going on for a fortnight. The attempt on the part of the Afghans to anex Badakshan led to the struggle. The British troops in Chitral remain neutral.

BULGARIA'S REPLY.

SOFIA, Sept. 21.—The Bulgarian Government, replying to Russia's note, says that the trial of the revolutionary conspirators has been delayed until the arrival of General Kaulbars. The Government cannot stop the course of justice. It has no fear that the trial will jeopardise the peace of the country, which notes such as Russia presented might do. If the Russian agent desires to know the progress of the trial he can obtain the desired information in the same way as the agents of other Powers.

FURTHER RIOTING IN BELFAST.

BELFAST, Sept. 21.—Desultory rioting, accompanied by firing, continued throughout the city during the night. Two policemen were severely wounded, and a number of citizens injured. How many of the latter are hurt is not officially known, because the friends of them carried them away. Twenty arrests were made during the night. The Catholics evince a more bitter spirit against the police and soldiers. The appearance of a single constable in one of the troubled districts last night was greeted with a volley of stones. The aspect of affairs this morning is threatening, and more fighting is expected.

GERMANY AND RUSSIA.

BERLIN, Sept. 21.—The North German Gazette denies that Germany, in return for certain concessions, has concluded an arrangement with Russia in regard to Bulgaria.

MOBILIZING TROOPS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 21.—The Turkish Government proposes to mobilize 40,000 men in the district between Salonica and Uskup.

CONDEMNED TO DEATH.

MADRID, Sept. 21.—All the officers implicated in yesterday's attempt at revolution have been condemned to death. A band of rebels at Ocana, in the province of Toledo, killed their commanding officer and then returned to their allegiance, and prayed for mercy. The common soldiers who took part in the uprising generally repent their folly and blame their officers for leading them astray. The soldiers are everywhere yielding to the authorities.

STILL HOLDING OUT.

MADRID, Sept. 21.—In the Province of Toledo, two bands of rebels still hold out. They are trying to reach the Guadarrana mountains. A force of loyal troops has been sent in pursuit of them. The city is quiet to-day.

THE BULGARIAN CONSPIRATORS.

SOFIA, Sept. 21.—The committee appointed to examine into and report upon the circumstances of the recent coup d'etat, have concluded their investigation. They pronounce MM. Karaveloff, Nikiforoff and Yankoff, jointly criminally responsible for the affair, and recommend that all three be suspended from parliamentary immunity. The Sobrange, at its next meeting, will decide what further steps, if any, shall be taken against the three declared conspirators.

THE ITALIAN ENTRY INTO ROME.

ROME, September 21.—The sixteenth anniversary of the entry of the Italian troops into Rome in 1870 was celebrated yesterday with unusual pomp and ceremony owing to the recent attitude of the Pope. A procession, composed of municipal authorities and delegates from the army and from the political and workingmen's associations, accompanied by an immense crowd, with bands and banners, marched, amid great enthusiasm, to the breach of Porta Pia, where the troops entered the city and deposited wreaths around the spot in honor of the soldiers who fell in the breach.

INSURGENTS SUBMITTING.

MADRID, Sept. 21.—Only about forty rebel cavalry men are now at large. They will probably soon be captured. The arrest of republicans continues. The Queen returns to Madrid to-morrow. The rebellion failed through the refusal of the Alcula and Vicalvaro garrisons to join the revolt. Sixty insurgents have submitted at Vallecas. The fugitives distroyed the railway between Alcala and Torragone.

SEVERAL FIGHTS.

BELFAST, Sept. 21.—Rioting was renewed at dinner time at the junction of Northumberland-street and the False-road by the Catholic mill hands stoning the police on duty to keep the Orangemen of Quinn's Island shipyard from coming in contact with mill hands. The stoning was so heavy and skillful that the police had to retreat as far as Shankhill. Here they were reinforced and they drove the mob back, capturing a number on the way. While this battle was going on another mob in another locality attacked with stones the Black Watch regiment of Welshmen, although the latter were fully armed and in fighting array. The troops, with fixed fixed bayonets, charged in double quick time on the mob and drove them from the scene, wounding a great number of the rioters and arresting two. Still another mob got into the fight in the tram car stable, and surging out into the street threw a passing car from the track and overturned it. The car was at the time filled with passengers. The mob that overturned this car evidently had not intended to do it. They were fighting purely religiously, but the locality was infested by rowdies drawn thither by the riot, and when the rowdies saw the car upside down and filled with people they fusiladed it with stones. The terror-stricken passengers crowded close under the seats and shielded themselves as best they could with the floor mats and seat cushions. Several were hurt. Their situation was dreadful until the military rescued them and escorted them to a place of safety.

The Daily Review.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1886.

COUNTING ITS CHICKENS AND CROWS.

In its usual abusive style the London Advertiser objects to our remarks on its exposure of the party policy of endeavouring to defeat Sir John Macdonald's Administration by retaining Reform seats and winning Conservative constituencies, which we pointed out means, according to actual events, winning Chambly on the "race and creed" cry raised in Quebec, and retaining Haldimand by denying that this Rielite-Reform cry should be considered in Ontario.

The Advertiser now tells us another open secret of its party as follows:—

"We expect to defeat the Government of Sir John by having in the next Parliament a majority opposed to it. But it must be distinctly understood that this is private and confidential."

We have little fear of the Advertiser and its friends obtaining a majority in Parliament, but how are they endeavoring to obtain it? The congratulatory messages between the different wings of the Riel-Reform-Secession combination make evident the tactics to be adopted. The advocates of rebellion and murder and the advocates of secession congratulate the Reformers on their success; the Reformers of Toronto congratulate the Rielites on their victory. In Nova Scotia the allies hope to win by urging the disruption of the Dominion, in Quebec by a clamour for vengeance on the Canadian authorities for daring to administer impartial justice, in Ontario by keeping these cries in the background and slandering the statesmen who have done so much for their country. It is an ingenious plan, but dishonest and detrimental to the country, and it is not likely to succeed in entrapping honest and loyal Reforms.

MR. MOWAT'S LITTLE TRICK.

Mr. Mowat and his friends are making vain efforts to wriggle out of the unpleasant position in which he has placed them by his trickery in the matter of the Factory Act. The Globe alleges for Mr. Mowat that it is because he is in doubt as to his jurisdiction that he made his appeal to the Dominion Administration to contest the validity of legislation on the subject. The answer to this false pretence is obvious. If Mr. Mowat thought he had no jurisdiction, why did he procure the passing of the measure, and above all, why did he as Attorney-General assent to the Bill? Neither would he give his assent to it? If on the other hand he thought he had jurisdiction, why did he endeavor to entrap the Dominion Administration into a contest? It is obvious that Mr. Mowat procured this legislation, and assented to it, that he might put forth the false pretence of befriending the factory operatives, though he had no intention of putting the law in force. When to his disgust he found the bill was not vetoed, he actually invited, though in vain, the Dominion authorities to interpose, wishing to raise another dishonest cry against Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues of interfering with Provincial legislation. Mr. Mowat's little trick, however, did not work.

CARELESS CRITICS.

The Welland Telegraph tells a good story of a prejudiced Reformer who was persuaded to go to a political meeting in Haldimand to hear the Hon. Mr. Thompson. When he arrived there Mr. W. T. R. Preston was speaking, but, thinking that he was a Conservative, the Reformer pronounced his speech "nothing but lies from beginning to end." An amusing incident, of a somewhat similar character, occurred at a Conservative demonstration in Belleville previous to the great election of 1878—in 1876, if we remember rightly. Mr. Thomas White, the present Minister of the Interior, was speaking on the subject of the steel rail purchase, and as he proceeded an old gentlemen in the crowd broke out several times, sotto voce, with "Tut, tut! What nonsense; what lies. If I only had a chance to contradict him!" It happened that Mr. White had occasion to read an extract from the report of the Minister of Public Works of the day (the Hon. A. Mackenzie), and when he was reading it the old gentleman's indignation again overcame him and he said "Tut, tut! What lies; what nonsense," to the great amusement of those standing near him, and he was, apparently, completely unaware of the fact that he was charging the leader of his party with writing nonsense and untruth.

Two good Grit authorities differ greatly regarding the Conservative demonstration at London. The London Advertiser says, referring to the attendance, that "some of their (the Conservative's) opponents said there were not 1,000, but anybody capable of estimating a crowd would allow them from 1,200 to 1,500—perhaps nearer the latter." The Globe says that the audience was "estimated variously at from two to four thousand, the latter probably being nearest the mark." The Advertiser also says that "there was no enthusiasm," while the Globe says that Mr. Chapleau "was received by the audience with especial favour," and that "Sir John received an ovation." It would appear that the Advertiser is not capable of estimating a crowd and is also incapable at times of telling the truth.

A New Line of Steamers.

New York, Sept. 17.—A line of British steamships under American auspices has just been formed to trade between New York and China. The Parthia, formerly of the Cunard Line, is the pioneer, and sails to-morrow with a full cargo and several passengers via the Suez Canal. She is supplied with new engines, reducing coal consumption twenty percent.

THE RIEL PORTRAIT.

The Hon. T. White Explains His Exposure of Rielite-Reform Tactics.

We give the following extracts from a public speech, made by the Hon. Thomas White at Merrickville, refuting the slanderous charge made against him of insulting the French Canadians, when in reality he was exposing the vile attacks upon the Canadian authorities made by the Rielite-Reformers, and their desperate attempts to foment discord:—

"It has been charged against me that at this meeting at Cayuga I was guilty of a brutal insult to my Roman Catholic fellow subjects. The precise charge—and it is of the utmost importance in matters of this kind to deal with the precise charge—as made in the Toronto Globe, and as since repeated in nearly all the newspapers opposed to the Government, was in these words:—

'At a meeting at Cayuga last week Hon. Thos. White accentuated an incendiary speech by producing a portrait of Riel with a rope around his neck. As he unveiled the portrait he sneeringly remarked, 'This is one of the new saints of the Roman Catholic Church.'

"Now, it is impossible to imagine a more malicious falsehood than is contained in that statement; it is impossible to imagine a more deliberate perversion of what I thought and said on that occasion. I was dealing with this new issue which our fellow-subjects in the Province of Quebec have had presented to them, which our opponents have placed before the people of that Province, and I was pointing out what had occurred at the nomination for the County of Chambly. I stated that Mr. Chapleau, the Secretary of State, while addressing the electors on that occasion, had presented to him on large boards, by preconcerted arrangement, portraits of Louis Riel with a rope around his neck and a bunch of immortelles on his breast, while at the same moment a rope was attempted to be thrown round his (Mr. Chapleau's) own neck. I exhibited a copy of the precise portrait held up before Mr. Chapleau on that occasion, and I said—

'These Liberals in the province of Quebec, who are so anxious to excite the passions of the people there, to arouse their natural and religious prejudices, are actually causing this portrait to be hung on the walls of the houses of the people, alongside of the portraits of the holy men of their church, whose lives are to them centives to good living.'

"That was the statement which I made, and if anyone can find in that statement a suspicion of insult to the Roman Catholic Church, or a suggestion that Louis Riel was one of the saints of that church, all I can say is that his powers of vision are much greater than my own, and his powers of perversion much greater than it is reasonable or proper for anyone to possess. (Hear, hear.) That, gentlemen, was the precise position I took on that occasion. As I have said, I delivered four speeches in the county of Haldimand, and in every one of those speeches, instead of insulting my French-Canadian fellow-subjects, I spoke of them in the highest terms I could find. I pointed out that they had been our allies for years past, because they believed in the policy which the Conservative party had adopted as being for the best interests of the county at large, that they were Conservatives by instinct, by tradition and education, and I expressed the opinion, the accuracy of which the next few weeks will determine, that those who believed they were going back on their record as a result of the efforts of our opponents to arouse their national and religious sentiments by means of this new issue, would find themselves grievously mistaken.

* * * * While in the county I dealt with this question as with others on its merits, but in a manner which, I am confident, could not be considered offensive to any one. I hold the strongest opinions in relation to the folly—to use no stronger expression—of any attempt to excite national or religious animosities in connection with our political controversies. In this country, where we have different races and different religions, where we have all a common interest in building up our country, in working shoulder to shoulder—no matter what may be the difference in our political opinions—for the future prosperity of this great Dominion, he is unworthy of his country who attempts to excite religious or national prejudice amongst the people. But, ladies and gentlemen, if it was wrong for me to have exhibited, under the circumstances I have described, this portrait of Louis Riel, what shall we say of the men in Quebec, the leaders of the Liberal party in that Province, who caused that portrait to be published in a manner to make it most effective in arousing the prejudices of the people, and who, in Chambly, had it presented to Mr. Chapleau in order to turn the crowd against him; who, having published it in this way, are inducing the people to hang it up in their houses so as to remind them of the death of Louis Riel, and of their duty, as pressed upon them by the Liberal party, to avenge his death by driving from office the Government which allowed the law, in his case, to take its course? What shall we say of the black blasphemy of Mr. Mercier, who, on the Champ de Mars, compared Riel to the Saviour of mankind, and the execution at Regina to the sacrifice on Calvary? That was what the Liberals in the Province of Quebec indulged in, and yet, because a portrait which they themselves published, has been shown to the people of Ontario as an evidence of the extent to which they are going, I am to be charged with having brutally insulted my Roman Catholic fellow subjects. (Cheers.) I regret that this question has become in any way a religious question. It is not a religious question. Louis Riel achieved the success which he did achieve in the recent rebellion, not because of his being a Roman Catholic, but because he set the people in opposition to the Roman Catholic Church. Let me give you one letter in proof of this. Here it is:—

"'Prince Albert, June 13, 1886.

"'We, the priests of the districts most particularly affected by the rebellion, to wit: St. Laurant, St. Antoine, Grandin, Duck Lake and Batoche, for, it was there, in the midst of our people, that Louis 'David' Riel had established his headquarters, desire to draw the attention of our fellow countrymen in Canada to these facts:

"'Louis 'David' Riel does not merit the sympathies of the Roman Catholic Church or the members of that church, having usurped our mission as priests and robbed our people of the benefits and consolations it was our duty to render them. He has done all this in his purely personal interest.

(Signed), "'Pere Andre,
" Touse,
" Moulin,
" Fourmand,
" Vegteville,
" Lecoq,
" Fourmand,
(Cure of Batoche.)'

This letter, signed by the missionary priests of the Roman Catholic Church in that portion of the Northwest Territories where the outbreak occurred, shows indisputably that there was no feeling there on the part of Roman Catholics in favonr of Louis Riel, the leader of the rebellion."

* * * * *

"Will any one pretend to say, under these circumstances, that this is a religious question? It ought not to be a national question, but the Liberals in the Province of Quebec have made it so, and the Liberals of Ontario, having failed in all their endeavors—years ago by abuse of the Roman Catholics, and more recently by their other schemes, to attain power—they now think they have a chance of securing power by countenancing, on the part of their Quebec allies, the raising of national prejudices in that province, and so attaining that goal which they have been unable to reach. Am I wrong in saying that they have tried to present this question to the people of the province of Quebec as a national question? Let me read you an extract from a speech made in Chambly, by Mr. Laurier, the leader of the Liberals in that province. He said on that occasion:—

"'I will confine myself,' said Mr. Laurier, 'principally to the Riel question, as that is almost the sole issue * * * I have said that had I been on the banks of the Saskatchewan, I should have taken up my gun and used it; I said it and now I repeat it. We are here on the classic ground of Canadian liberty. In the graveyards of this country are found the bones of those who were not afraid to face English bullets, and it for you, gentlemen to follow their patriotic example, and to avenge in a constitutional way the unfortunate Metis leader."

"That was the issue presented in Chambly by the leader of the Liberal party in the Province of Quebec, and yet we are told we are exciting national prejudices when we say that if the matter is placed before the people as a Dominion issue in any one province, it must be an issue in all the provinces. There is no great question affecting any one of the provinces in an election for the Dominion Parliament which does not affect all the other provinces as well. It is for that reason, and that reason alone, that this subject comes up for discussion in Ontario at all. Speaking on my responsibility as a member of the Government, I have no hesitation in saying that I will gladly let the issue rest on the policy of the Conservative Government, a policy looking to the development of the material interests of the country. If we are unworthy of your support on that ground, we are unworthy of it altogether. I am prepared to say that unless the people of Canada believe that the policy which the Governments have adopted in connection with the development of the country during the last eight years is a policy which, in its continuance, will promote future prosperity of the country, they will be right to change their legislators and place power in the hands of another party. But we must present every issue to the people. If the Liberal leaders in the other provinces choose to bring before the people as the sole issue, the conduct of the Government in the Riel matter, they must not be surprised or complain if we say, when you are dealing with the record of the Government as a whole, you must lay down as one of the planks of their policy that the laws of Canada are made for all classes and for all creeds, and that offenders against the law must suffer the penalty, whether they be French or English, Liberal or Conservative, Orange or Green, Catholic or Protestant (Cheers).

The above was crowded out of yesterday's issue.

Mr. Meredith is attacked by the Globe for speaking on the Riel question in Essex. He could not have chosen a more appropriate subject for that county, since it is in Essex that Mr. Mowat's chosen standard bearer for the next election is one Pacaud, notorious for assailing the Canadian authorities as guilty of murder for bringing Riel to justice, and who describes our brave volunteers as thieves, insulters of women, and murderers of wounded men. This Pacaud, Mr. Mowat's friend, supporter and paid adherent, is at liberty to hold up Riel as a murdered innocent in order to effect the French vote in Essex, but, according to the Globe, it is wrong of Mr. Meredith to defend loyal men thus attacked.

Adhering to its policy of slander, the Globe continues its attacks upon the Hon. Thos. White in relation to the Riel portrait. To bring its wriggling to an end, dare it answer this plain question:—Is it aware that the friends of Riel displayed such portraits at public meetings in Quebec, while uttering appeals to the people to avenge the death of Riel by dismissing the Macdonald Administration from office? The Globe will not reply to this simple question, for it dares not.

Two Children Burned.

Harwich, Ont., Sept. 18.—Mrs. Ann McAllister, of Harwich, went to the house of a neighbor to draw a pail of water, leaving her two children playing in the house. In her absence the house caught fire, it is supposed, from the children playing with matches, and before she could get back the house was in flames, and all attempts to save it or rescue the children proved futile.

It is composed of about 13 acres of excellent land, on which there is a good Brick Dwelling House, outbuildings and water privileges. It has a road on two sides, and the river on its front. It may be sold en bloc, or in three parcels—extending from the road to the river.

THE PLATE GLASS CITY.

A PROGRESSIVE PLACE WITH MANY NATURAL ADVANTAGES.

Large Manufactories, Splendid Educational Institutions, Magnificent Churches, Excellent Business Places, Public Buildings, etc.

The progress of the town of Peterborough since sixty-six years ago Adam Scott built his mills on the Otonabee river, and the few farmers in the surrounding country brought their grain to Scott's Plains to be ground, has been rapid. The then wilderness is now a large and flourishing town—in fact,

AN ATTRCTIVE CITY.

The population has increased rapidly in late years, and, with the village of Ashburnham, which is commercially, socially and in every way except municipally, a portion of the same place, the population is over the number necessary to form a city. The population of the town, according to the assessors' returns for 1886, is 8,428, an increase of 327 over last year, and the village population across the river is 1,406, giving a total population of 9,834, within 166 of 10,000. If the population bordering on the town, a number of whom are engaged in business in the corporation, was included, and if a census were taken on the de jure system, the number of people living in the place would be shown to be considerably over 10,000. The total assessed value of property (including Ashburnham, and the two places will be included in this article) is $3,941,650.

Peterborough is surrounded by a splendid

as the well-tilled land, good farm houses and general appearance of prosperity and comfort in the country, as well as the amount of marketing done in the town, amply testify. The facilities it possesses for are unsurpassed. The swift current of the powerful Otonabee gives practically unlimited water power, and the large factories of various kinds—woollen mills, saw mills, grist mills, planing, pump and fanning mill factories—that now line its banks demonstrates the advantage this water privilege is to manufacturers. The smaller stream of water, known as the creek, is also utilized by manufacturers, and foundries, tanneries and other industries span its breadth or rise upon its banks. Although the list of industries is a long one and includes important factories, there is space and power for very many more, and the list is continually being augmented. Peterborough has excellent facilities for communication with the rest of the world. In the matter of it is especially favored, as railway lines branch out from it in six different directions. It is situated on the main line of the Ontario Division of the Canadian Pacific Railway, running east to Ottawa and Montreal and west to Toronto and other more distant points, and also connecting with the line to Winnipeg and British Columbia. The main line of the Midland Division of the Grand Trunk Railway runs through the town, giving direct communication with the north, and west with Toronto, and running south to the main Grand Trunk line at Port Hope, as well as connecting with the branch running across through Cavan from Millbrook to Omemee. The Grand Junction Railway (a Grand Trunk bronch) goes from Peterborough through several flourishing villages to Belleville. The Lakefield branch of the same great system runs north to Lakefield, where it connects with the

RAILWAY CONNECTION

that ply on the northern lakes. In addition to these facilities for travel, Calcutt's steamers ply between Peterborough and points on Rice Lake and connect with the Cobourg and Peterborough Railway at Harwood, giving another outlet to the great lakes. It will be seen by the brief glance given these railway and steamboat connections that Peterborough is especially favored and veay advantageously situated in this regard. It is also on the line of

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL,

now in course of construction. The sections now under contract, which will be completed this season or next, will open a long stretch of water communication, which will be of present benefit to this town, while it will hasten the construction of the whole system. The shipping facilities enumerated, and the large mills in the town, make Peterborough one of the best in the Province, and large quantities of the fruits of the yeoman's laborare annually sold and purchased here. The large population also makes it a good market for garden and dairy produce of all kinds. Peterborough has a wide reputation for its

FINE PLACES OF BUSINESS,

and, indeed, the main business street would be hard to surpass outside of the chief cities of the Dominion, while the intersecting streets contain business places no less large and attractive. Here farmers find not only customers for their produce but also enterprising merchants to supply their wants. The enterprise of the town is shown by the systems. The waterworks now protect from fire the business part of the town and many of the chief factories, while it is being rapidly extended in every direction. The main streets are lighted at night by the brilliant electric light, and many of the stores and some of the factories are lighted by the same means, while the other streets are lighted by gas. The both internal and external, are excellent Two telegraph lines enter the town, affording communication with all parts of the world, while the telephone system not only brings different parts of the town practically within a few feet of each other, but also places Peterborough within speaking distance of the neighboring villages and towns and the more distant large business centres. The town has several very fine public buildings, and are fine specimens of architectural beauty. There are one Roman Catholic Church (St. Peter's Cathedral), two belonging to the Church of England, two Presbyterian Churches, three Methodist Churches, and the Baptist Church. The Young Men's Christian Association have nicely furnished rooms over the post office, and there are also branches of the Gospel Army and the Salvation Army. The

are of a high character. They include a Collegiate Institute with an excellent staff, a Central and three Ward public schools, with another Ward school about to be erected, and also the Convent de Notre Dame and two Separate schools. The are attractive places, especially the beautiful Court House Park, which has been laid out with walks, flower beds, etc., and is further ornamented by a fountain in the centre of the park. Visitors to the town, and those who come to attend the Central Exhibition, should also visit the

a beautiful resting place for the dead such as few towns possess. The town has also two other plots set apart as "God's acre," the Roman Catholic Cemetery and the Methodist Cemetery

All the companies of the 57th Battalion were a short time ago transferred to the town, and the six companies have their headquarters here. Those who attend the exhibition will have the apportunity of hearing the splendid music of the Fire Brigade brass band.

Many private residences have pleasant situations and are exceedingly desirable homes, with fine buildings and beautiful lawns and grounds. There are good boating facilities in the town, while many beautiful summer resorts, including those on the river south of the town and the famous Idyl Wild in Rice Lake, as well as Chemong Park, Stoney Lake and Burleigh to the north, are within short distances and are easily accessible. Peterborough is RAPIDLY GROWING.

In 1884 $205,000 was expended in building operations, in 1885 the sum thus expended was $212,344, and during the present season the total amount will probably exceed even that of last year. New buildings—business places and residences—have been built and are being erected all over the town. The natural advantages of the town's situation, the enterprise of its citizens and the push and energy shown in so many ways, all combine to make [illegible] and to give confidence in its future growth and prosperity.

FORCED APART.

BY W. CLARK RUSSELL.

Author of the "Wreck of the Grosvenor," "A Sailor's Sweetheart," Etc.

"Yes, sir; young Middleton is a pupil of my father," said Cuthbert.

"Quite right; Middleton is the name," returned the lieutenant.

A large name helps out a case grandly in a Briton's ear. Mr. Towplank drew his squat figure out of the glare of the lantern.

"Your impressment is a mistake, Mr. Shaw, and I much regret it," said Sir Peter Grahame in a kind voice. He then held a whispered conversation with the lieutenant and walked aft.

There is poor satisfaction in the apology or regret that does not right a man to his own wishes. With clasped hands and down-bent eyes stood Cuthbert, a bitter mourner, for every burst of foam struck out of the hurrying waves by the vessel's bow was a mark of increasing distance from all he loved in this world; and he was like to go mad when his mind went to Jenny waiting for him to come and speak to father—waiting and marveling, and then sickening for the strangeness of his absence and the cruelty of his silence.

His three companions in misfortune were led forward to be converted into trim men-of-war's men.

"We shall have to treat you as a passenger," said the lieutenant, addressing Cuthbert, "until we can land you. We will swing you a hammock in a spare cabin, and you will mess at our table."

"Can you hold out any hope that I shall be landed shortly?"

"Why, you see, we are bound to the chops of the channel. Gantheaume is at Brest and there Cornwallis means to keep him. There is talk of the Guerriere being about, and it is Sir Peter's dream to fall in with her, when there'll be tough work for all hands, for she's pierced for thirty-six guns and carries three hundred men. Should a slant of wind serve, Sir Peter might put you ashore off the Start, or he'll turn you adrift, no doubt, if we fall in with a homeward bounder. But you had better make up your mind for a cruise. It will be a new experience for you, Mr. Shaw, and something to tell the boys about—not to speak of the chance of your seeing a blazing sea fight."

"You speak very kindly, and I can see that I am to be well treated. But my absence may break my wife's heart." He covered his face with his hands.

"Phew! A wife! Lord help you! Is there not always a petticoat to every man's trouble, either causing it, or making it worse? But come below, Mr. Shaw, and try the flavor of our rum. Nothing like honest Jamaica to steady a man's eye for trouble.

CHAPTER IX.

A SAIL RIGHT AHEAD.

Much, undeniably, there was in Cuthbert's [illegible] Could Lieutenant Transom have promised to put him ashore next day, the young fellow would have plucked up heart and swung his glass like a man, but there was a bitter prospect of his detention lasting, with risks of death between, and never a chance (it might be) to send his story to Jenny. Scarce could he hold up his head pleasantly as Transom tried to rally him. Indeed, he was no philosopher; or rather, he was a very bad one.

Such a night as Cuthbert passed a man had need to commit murder to merit. All through the hours the thunder of water sweeping past was in his ears. The bull's eye over his head had changed from ebony to silver before his pained and heavy eyes closed, and then for a while the poor fellow forgot his sorrows in sleep.

The bell on deck was striking when he awoke. While he was dressing a marine presented himself.

"The first lieutenant's compliments, sir, and when you are dressed you will breakfast with him," said the man, as erect as a sentry in his box on the deck that kept Cuthbert staggering.

This invitation was, of course, promptly accepted, and in a few minutes Cuthbert followed the marine into a large cabin with a ceiling garnished with small arms, stout lockers around their seats, charts on the walls, and a table laid for breakfast. Here he found the first and second lieutenants. Both men were fine specimens of naval officers of those days—the days of Cochrane and Strachan—Transom in middle age, and the other young, but both with hard, stern lines of resolution carved in their embrowned faces, both with the hearty, open look of brave spirits, dressed in uniforms that smelt of gunpowder, and one of them with a cutlass scar behind his ear, and the other of them with two stumps for fingers on his right hand.

They saluted Cuthbert with blunt politeness, and, breakfast being served, invited him "to fall to at once, for we are rising the royals of a big ship right ahead," says Transom; "and whenever there's anything visible on the horizon we always accept it as a hint to bear a hand in stowing ballast."

"How the deuce came young Towplank to take you for a seaman?" exclaimed the second lieutenant, scrutinizing Cuthbert admiringly. "If there was moon enbugh to see your hands by they should have satisfied him that you were not his man, supposing him sober."

"He was sober enough. I explained to your captain that this midshipman gave me no chance of representing myself," replied Cuthbert. "I can only trust that Sir Peter Grahame will put me ashore soon—anywhere."

Transom looked grave, but said: "Well, well, there's no telling what will turn up. When your people find you missing, be sure they'll start on such a hunt after you as will bring them to the true cause of your disappearance. It will be known throughout Greystone that our press gang took three men last night, and do you suppose your wife and father will not hit upon the Cleopatra as the reason of your sudden vanishing?" A question that brightened up the poor fellow wonderfully.

Down to the flying wind was the Cleopatra, stooping with a leaning bow, ripping up the breast of the water as a dog slants his head to make a better lever of his jaw. The mighty press of sail filled the blue sky overhead with thunder, and the base of the sweeping tower of canvas was an acre of foam.

Sir Peter Grahame paced the deck aft with a telescope, which from time to time he leveled at some object ahead; he bowed to Cuthbert, but seemed too preoccupied to speak. A crowd of men were on the forecastle, pointing forward and conversing in low voices, some of them looking aloft, or as the water rippling past, with grins of satisfaction.

The first lieutenant came to Cuthbert, after exchanging a few words with the captain.

"There is a sail yonder," he said, "which we have reason to believe is the Guerriere. If she shows French colors we shall fight her. We are rising her fast, for nothing can stand against the Cleopatra on a bowline, and Sir Peter has instructed me to request that you will go below and remain there on the order being given to clear for action."

"Mr. Transom, I hope Sir Peter will not insist on my going below. I may be of use on deck, and am willing to fight with the men."

"Well spoken, Mr. Shaw, and a generous offer," replied Transom, glancing with a smile at Cuthbert's hands. "But, my dear fellow, you must think of your wife. However, we'll leave the matter for the present. The ship may prove a non-combatant—perhaps an East Indiaman. One can't detect nationalities twenty miles off."

With which he returned to the captain, and they walked the deck together.

An hour went by. Suddenly the men forward heard the first lieutenant, who worked his telescope in the main rigging, sing out:

"She has clewed up her royals and topgallant sails, sir, and her mizzen topsail-yard is down on the cap. Now she hoists her colors! They are—oh, confound this jogging!—they are—they are——"

"French!" shouted Sir Peter, and down sprang the first lieutenant, and in a trice there was shrill whistling and quick movement among the men, and a coming and a going, and then a steady stand.

Y. M. C. A. Anniversary.

The Young Men's Christian Associations ought to be encouraged by a large attendance of their friends at the anniversary to be held in St. Andrew's Church on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. A good programme has been prepared.

Personal.

Mr. Geo. A. Cox has been appointed on the Board of Missions for the ensuing quadrennium by the Methodist Conference.

Sir Richard Cartwright was in town today on private business, and was the guest, while here, of Mr. J. R. Stratton. He went north to Lakefield this afternoon.

On Monday night the regular quarterly meeting night of the Lansdowne Lodge, S. O. E., the sum of $115, received in dues from the members, was passed into the treasurer's hands. This circumstance shows how the lodge is prospering and how its membership has increased. After the first degree meeting was over seven candidates presented themselves to be initiated into the mysteries of the second degree. It was one o'clock when the lodge adjourned.

The Fatal Accident.

Dr. Bell, who went to Norwood on Tuesday, as coronor, to examine the body of the man who had been found dead on the railway track, and to inquire into the circumstances of the affair, returned the same evening. He did not find it necessary to hold an inquest as no mark of what would appear to be violence were to be seen. After telegraphing a good deal it was found that the name of the deceased was George Clancey, a brakeman on the road, who lived in Havelock some weeks ago. He suffered from an accident recently and was sent to the hospital in Toronto. He was discharged from the hospital about ten days ago, and it is surmised that he was on his way back to work. He is a widower. His friends live at Cobourg.

Peterborough Presbytery.

The Presbytery of Peterborough met in St. Andrew's Church on Tuesday. There were 18 ministers and 11 elder present. Mr. Sutherland, of Warkworth, was chosen Moderator for the next six months. Messrs. Mowatt, McDonald and Haig, three of the students who were laboring in the mission fields during the summer gave discources in open presbytery. These were sustained. Steps were taken through Mr. Leslie, of the Whitby Presbytery, to re-unite Oak Hill with Garden Hill and Knoxville. A deputation was appointed to visit the whole field, and to confer with all the parties to be affected by the proposed union. The reports received from all the mission fields were very encouraging, some of them showing very marked increase in the membership of the church. Upon the representation of a large deputation from Warsaw and Dummer it was agreed to ask Mr. Howard to reconsider his declination of the call to that field. Apsley and Clydesdale were created into congregations Mr. Carmichael to be Moderator of Session. Messrs. Torrance and Collins were appointed to visit Bethany in the interest of that station. The next meeting will be hele in Port Hope on the 2nd Tuesday of January, at 10 o'clock a. m.

AN EXHIBITION.

The Drill Shed Filled to See It—A Successful Novelty.

The people of the George Street Methodist Church are certainly very apt in the kind of entertainments they offer to their own church people and the public. The "At Homes" given last season were singularly charming affairs, enjoying merited popularity, and the entertainment given in the drill shed on Tuesday evening, the first of the season, was none the less novel and successful.

During the day the young people of the church, who had the "exhibition" department in charge, were busy in arranging a long, wide table, extending up the centre of the drill shed, with works of art, fancy goods, articles of vertu, curiosities, and a thousand and one things which, to particularize would fill a book. From the centre of the table, from end to end, rose a board six feet in height covered over with all sorts and conditions of art and fancy work. When all was ready and the gas was lighted the display looked very attractive. Throughout the evening, till near ten o'clock, a throng of people passed up and down inspecting the novel and motley exhibit.

But besides the exhibitions there were other departments. Paralell with the table of exhibits ran another table on the west side. The throng did not pass up and down by this one. The people took seats to be helped to refreshments by the members of the Ladies Aid Society. Facing the main entrance were three stands, containing flowers, fruits and confectionary. The first stand was in charge of Miss Smart and Mis Rutherford, the second was taken care o Miss Brezze and Miss Griffith, and the third Miss Sanderson and Miss Gamble dispensed the most luscious of fruit. To the right of the main entrance fancy quilting was exhibited which seemed to interest the people a good deal. The Fire Brigade Band were in attendance during the evening.

CHEESE.

This Season's Last Session of the Peterborough Cheese Board.

The closing meeting of the members of the Peterborough Cheese Board was held in the market building on Tuesday afternoon. Messrs. Taylor, Drummond and Galvin conducted the sale. The buyers present were: Messrs. Wrighton, Cluxton and Green, Peterborough; Flavelle, Lindsay; Cook, Belleville; and Dingwall and McBean, Montreal. The first half of September cheese was first boarded, but it was, after consideration, decided to sell future delivery cheese as well. The September and October cheese was boarded in bulk. The board as was follows:—

The buyers were asked to bid. Offers went on quickly till Green made a bid for the Board.

Mr. COOK got up and said that he didn't want to bid against a man of straw.

Mr. GREEN, at whom the remark seemed to be levelled, fired up with indignation and addressed a hot speech to Mr. Cook. He claimed that he was not to blame for the unfortunate affair last season.

Mr. CLUXTON did not think that one buyer should insult another in such a way.

Mr. COOK drew attention to the fact that he had mentioned no names. He meant nothing personal.

Mr. Flavelle bid 10¾ for the board.

Mr. Green went another eighth higher for selection of 1000 boxes.

Mr. FLAVELLE said that as perhaps some might prefer to deliver to him he would make the same offer.

Mr. CLUXTON pointed out the unfairness of this offer and stated that he would, if Mr. Flavelle's offer was accepted, make a similar one.

Mr. Green put an end to the discussion by bidding of a 1000 cents for selectors.

The board decided to leave the matter with the buyers, Cook and Flavelle against Dingwall, McBean, Cluxton and Green, Wrighton remained neutral. The following motion moved seemed to point that the promoters wanted, by a ruse, to shut out the Montreal men;—Mr. Cook moved seconded by Mr. Flavelle—That buyers be obliged to deposit 10 per cent of purchase money as a guarantee that cheese bought at this board be taken, the said deposit to be deposited to the credit of buyer and seller.

Mr. CLUXTON, after conferring with the Montreal men, rose and stated that he would put up the deposit money for Messrs Dingwall and McBean (the latter represented by Mr. Green) provided that they pay him per cent commission for doing so.

The offers was accepted.

The factories were called off, but the salesmen refused to accept Mr. Green's offer.

Mr. Cluxton said that he would make the same offer as Mr. Green, and at 11 cents he got about 1,200 boxes. Mr. Dingwall bought about 1,000 boxes at the same price, and Mr. McBain took the rest at 10¾.

This closed the last and stormiest meeting of the season.

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK.

TUESDAY, Sept. 21.—Patrick Sullivan appeared in court on remand, charged with having been drunk on Tuesday last.

He pleaded guilty, was sorry for it, and said he wouldn't do it again.

The MAGISTRATE lectured him and then dismissed him.

John Daly, who was found at the C. P. R. station by Capt. Cooper at 11 o,clock last night insensibly drunk, acknowledged that he was in such a state and that he had a valise with two empty flasks in it.

The MAGISTRATE gravely pointed out that it was not so much the getting drunk, as the libel on the fair name of the town, that was the serious offence.

The prisoner made profuse apologies. He would not hurt Peterborough for the booty of Pizarro. He had tried all over town and couldn't get a drop of liquor. If allowed to go he would depart straight for Perth.

The MAGISTRATE gave his assent to this last proposal.

Fluid Lightning does not take a day or an hour to remove Neuralgia, Headache, Toothache, Lumbago or Rhuematism, but will do it instantly, and without carrying your head in a poultice for a day or using greasy liniments. Try a 25c. bottle from J. McKee. Druggist.

The attempt on the part of French commercial and labour organizations to secure a repeal of the decree against American pork has been abortive.

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS.—Ther is now being manufactured here an article for instantly removing pain of any acute external nature, and it is certainly the most perfect cure for neuralgia, Headache, Toothache and the like that has ever been tried. It is called Fluid Lightning, from the rapid manner in which it acts, and is manufactured by McGregor & Parke. Sold in Peterborough by J. McKee, Druggist.

A match has been arranged between the Galatea and Mayflower, and will be sailed over the 30-mile course at Marblehead, probably during the present week.

Fluid Lightning is simply a nervous Rheumatic Remedy. I was for two months a cripple, unable to get out of the house from Sciatica. One bottle gave me instant relief, and placed me on my feet again. I have driven fourteen miles to-day (something I could not possibly have done were it not for Fluid Lightning) for the express purpose of procuring another bottle. So says Wm. Dixon, Gananoque. Only 25 cents per bottle at J. McKee's.

INDEPENDENT ODDFELLOWSHIP.

Immense Growth of the Order in the Past Twenty Years.

BOSTON, Sept. 22.—Grand Sire Carey, of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, in his address to the Sovereign Grand lodge in session here gave the following interesting fact in connection with the order: In 1864 we had less than 10,000 members in New England and the Lower Provinces of Canada. In the same territory we now find 65,000 Odd Fellows, a seven-fold increase. Massachusetts, the eastern citadel and bulwark of the order, has led the movement. With less than 5,000 members in 1864, it now numbers in all about 32,000. In the same territory in 1864 the total relief paid was less than $32,000, against about $247,000 during the past year. In 1864 the total revenue was $62,000, which, in 1886, has grown to about $613,000. Such are the fruits of the tree planted here by Wildey, a seed dropped by the wayside and preserved and fostered for other generations by the labors and sacrifices of our New England brethren. The order in general has shared this prosperity. In 1864 we numbered in the whole world, so far as reported, but 137,623 members, 39 grand lodges, 29 grand encampments, 2,118 lodges, 466 encampments, and our total revenue was but $1,161,328,65. To-day we have 517,310 members, 54 grand lodges, 44 grand encampments, 7 956 lodges, 1,947 encampments. and a total revenue in 1885 of $5,309,688.77. We had then but one foreign jurisdiction. Twenty-two years ago the order existed in only one foreign country—the Sandwich Island—while to-day we find the Odd Fellowship of 1819 flourishing in the grand jurisdictions of Australasia and Germany, in the Sandwich Islands, Switzerland, the Netherlands, Denmark, Sweden, Chili, Peru, Mexico and Cuba, and people of other countries evince an ardent desire for the establishment of lodges of our order among them."

The order, according to the grand secretary's report, progressed greatly during the last year, having "made a gain of three subordinates and a net gain in membership of 1,103, and paid out for benefits and other charitable purposes $104,498,60, while the receipts have been $272,877.71. The encampment branch has also done well, having made a gain of three encampments and 339 members, have paid out over $10,000 in benefits, and their recepts have been $38,178.60. The prospects for both lodges and encampments for the present year are very flattering."

Suicide For Spite.

PARIS, Sept. 21.—The week has been fertile in crime, suicides and scandal. The other morning a strong smell of burning was noticed by the lodgers in a house in the Rue Leibnitz. Breaking open the door of the room from which the smell proceeded, they found their landlord, a sexagenarian named Moisel, stretched out dead with a pan of lighted charcoal beside him. On a table was a letter explaining his suicide. "For a long time past," it said, "my tenants have not paid their rent. I screwed a little money out of them by removing their doors and windows, but since this abnormally hot weather began even this proved useless. I am ruined and have resolved to asphyxiate myself. My death will be on my tenants' heads."

Wreck And Loss of Life.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Sept. 22.—During a violent southerly gale, last night, the British schooner Little Gem was struck by a squall off the headland, near the precipitons cliff of Blackhead, in Rouavis'a Bay. She keeled over and immediately sank. Two lady passengers were drowned. The crew were saved by clinging to the bottom of a small boat and were picked up by a passing vessel.

IS IT ULTRA VIRES?

An Effort to Have Liquor Conviction Appeals Tried by Juries.

In the court of general sessions Judge Morgan heard an appeal by N. Murphy, on behalf of the Weston hotel keeper named Walker, from a conviction for selling liquor during prohibited hours. The 1884 amendment to the Crooks' act provides that such an appeal shall be made only to the judge in chambers but in this case Mr. Murphy's contention was that the right to have the appeal trial before a jury should not have been taken away and that in so doing the Ontario legislature exceeds its powers because it interies with criminal matters and that in fact the clause is ultra vires. His honor reserved judgment. This is intended as a test case and if the judge's decision is unfavorable to the applicant it will likely be carried to the supreme court. —Toronto News.

WIGGIN'S LATEST.

The Ottawa Seer Predicts a Most Terrible Eathquake for Next Week.

OTTAWA, Sept. 20.—Prof. Wiggins is to the front again with the prediction of a terrible earthquake on Wednesday, the 29th inst., compared with which the recent disturbance at Charleston is mere child's play. The coming disturbance will cross the Atlantic and visit Southern Europe. On this continent it will extend from ocean to ocean, but no particulars are given of the localities to be specially shaken. This may be fortunate for the Professor's reputation bye and bye. The whole trouble, Prof. Wiggins says, will be due to a shifting of the earth's centre of gravity, brought about by a conjucture of Jupiter, Saturn, Mars and the earth's two satellites, one being the visible moon and the other the invisible moon, which Prof. Wiggins says he has discovered. He dissents altogether from Principal Dawson's Atlantic bed theory in explanation of the seismic phenomenon on this continent. He says several new volcanoes will burst out in Central America.

OTTAWA, Sept. 22.—Prof. Wiggins, in reply to a telegram from Atlanta, Georgia, asking for further particulars respecting his predictions of an earthquake in the South, says:—"The earthquake wave that visited Charleston and Atlanta, Georgia, district on August 13th has moved eastward, and from it there can be to you no future damage. The shocks there yesterday were caused by the sun moving across the celestial equator. There is positively no danger from earthquake in the latitude of Atlanta and, east of the Rocky Mountains, north of Wednesday next, and then the force will pass west with the sun's course parallel. The greatest danger is to Central America, South America and California. The same forces that create the earthquake will cause a great storm, with high tides, both in the north and south Atlantic Ocean on Wednesday next, which, however, will not be felt within forty degrees of the equator. This storm was foretold in the New York Tribune on May 10th, 1884."

UNITY OF THE EMPIRE.

Lord Salisbury on Obstruction—A Master of Misquotation.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The Country Conservative Club opened at St. Albans to-day with a large and distinguished attendance. Lord Salisbury was loudly cheered. In the course of a speech he said it was necessary for the Conservatives to organize and labour untiringly to maintain the advantage they had already won. The division yesterday showed a remarkable record. Every Conservative had either voted or paired, and there was not a single absentee.

"Let me tell you," continued Lord Salisbury, "the conditions of discouragement are very serious. Prisoners condemned to labor know nothing like misery and discomfort of a member of the House of Commons undergoes through a night of 'Irish obstruction.' Irish obstructionists have greatly changed in character. Formerly they meant to secure, and perhaps they were not to be blamed for their efforts to obtain a long discussion, a complete threshing and sifting of the subject. They carry their opposition to the utmost possible length to-day, and this opposition in skilful hands is something totally different from their former methods. It is an instrument of torture to compel a majority Government, by mere physical suffering, to concede this or that, whatever the obstructionists set their hearts on, and the majority must sit and listen, not to argument or exhortation, but to elaborate efforts to waste time, which are made merely for the purpose of keeping the majority up night after night in the hope that from sheer fatigue they will concede something which they know public duty compels them to refuse. (Cries of shame.) If a representative Government is to continue, he said, this instrument of torture cannot be permitted to survive. (Cheers.) It will paralyze all legislation and bring discredit upon the oldest instrument of freedom in the world.

"I desire," he continued, "to repudiate the words which Mr. Gladstone kindly put into my mouth on Monday. Mr. Gladstone is a master of misquotations—(cheers and laughter)—but I do not believe that he was ever so brilliant or successful before. Mr. Gladstone charged me with stating that there were cases where the judicial rents could not be paid. Mr. Gladstone based his argument and justified his course thereon, but the charge is absolutely unfounded. I said nothing of the kind. (Cheers.) I never said that the Exchequer should pay the difference between judicial and just rents. Courtesy alone prevents me from contradicting those statements in sufficiently strong language. The proposal to multiply small freeholds in Ireland originated with Mr. John Bright, who parted from Mr. Gladstone this year; but the proposal was never a party question. I myself and many other Conservatives have supported it for 20 years. It is the true policy of statesmen. In a sound system of present proprietary ties lies the future social salvation of Ireland. (Cheers.) The change may be slow and gradual, but our policy is to establish it."

In conclusion Lord Salisbury said—"Remember, gentlemen, we are engaged in a great struggle to preserve the unity of the Empire, which is our paramount object. Do not relax your efforts to hand the Empire down to posterity unimpaired." (Prolonged cheers.)

THE SPANISH OUTBREAK.

THE SULTAN'S GREAT SCHEME.

PARIS, Sept. 22.—A syndicate of Paris and Berlin bankers has subscribed 600,000,000 francs to carry out the scheme sanctioned by the Sultan for a network of railways to connect the Black Sea with the Persian Gulf.

A TERRIBLE MURDER.

PARIS, Sept. 22.—Hardly anything in the criminal records of France equals the story of a terrible murder committed yesterday at Amiens, where an unfortunate girl, who had been deprived of her reason, was murdered by her family to save them further trouble with her and to enable them to avoid the cost of her maintenance. The mother and brother of the victim held her naked on a bed, while another brother beat her to death in the presence of a number of friends of the family, who coolly looked on while the foul crime was being perpetrated. The authorities arrested the mother and two sons, and they are held for murder, while the "friends" have been arrested as accessories.

THE NEW HEBRIDES TROUBLE.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The Australian mail brings further news of the conflict between the German gunboat Albatross and the natives of the New Hebrides. It appears that the Albatross opened fire on the natives in revenge for the murder of Klein and Cullen. Twenty natives were killed and many wounded. The crew of the Albatross then landed, whereupon the natives decamped to Pentecost Island, where Upoles, a mate, was murdered. The Germans pursued them and opened fire with Gatling guns, which did terrible execution. Several villages were burned by the Germans.

CHOLERA RETURNS.

THE COMMON ENEMY.

VIENNA, Sept. 22.—The Pesther-Lloyd declares that Germany covered herself with disgrace by stooping to please Russia at the expense of shielding the Bulgarian plotters. The paper charges Germany with failing to live up to her duty as a member of the Triple Alliance, and calls upon her to act with Austria against "the common enemy."

REPRESSIVE MEASURES.

The announcement was accepted as portending further repressive measures against the Parnellites.

Ferguson, under Foreign Secretary, announced in the House of Commons this afternoon that personal communications were passed in London between representatives of Her Majesty's Government and the United States Minister in the direction of a removal of the friction between the fishing interests of the United States and Canada arising out of the defects of the present treaties.

AUSTRO-GERMAN ALLIANCE.

VIENNA, Sept. 22.—The Neue Freie Presse says the Austro-German alliance has been much overrated, and that it is unable to prevent Russia from injuring Austrian interests.

GERMAN DEPUTY FINED.

BERLIN, Sept. 22.—Herr Kraeker, member of the Reichstag, has been fined 1,500 marks for an infraction of the anti-socialist law.

THE COMMISSION.

DUBLIN, Sept. 22.—The Freeman's Journal declares that the new Royal land commission is packed with foes of the Irish farmers. The Irish Times says it believes it would have been better to have excluded from the commission every one connected with the fixing of rents, as their opinions would perhaps be biased by their personal interests in the questions at issue.

LEAMY WILL RESIGN.

DUBLIN, Sept. 22.—Mr. Edward Leamy, Parnellite member of Parliament for northeast Cork, announces he will resign and devote himself to the practice of law.

THE VOTE ON THE LAND BILL.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Thirty-one Unionists voted with the Tories last night against Mr. Parnell's land bill and 96 were paired.

BELFAST TAKING A REST.

BELFAST, Sept. 22.—The city is quiet today. It is believed the worst is now over.

A TRIBUTE TO AMERICA.

BERLIN, Sept. 22.—In the Philosophica and Surgical Convention yesterday, Prof. Verchow paid a great tribute to America, which was received with much applause. He said the presence of a large American delegation in the convention was a source of unbounded joy to their German colleagues. Natural philosophers and doctors of Germany and America have for a long period worked shoulder to shoulder, and he hoped the good feeling would continue. He fully expected that a large German delegation would attend the proposed Medical Congress in Washington if the committee of the American Medical Association succeeded in smoothing over the differences existing in that body.

THE EASTERN SITUATION.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times, in a despatch claiming that his views are obtained from official circles, says: "The plain situation in the East has grown much more simple and less alarming, and above all things, Germany must not be accused of being an obsequous and unconditional supporter of Russia, which her unexplained action at first led the people to believe she had become."

More Earthquake Shocks.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 22.—Two distinct shocks of earthquake were felt here at 6.20 yesterday morning.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1886.

CARRYING ARMS.

VERY appropriately as Minister of Justice, the Hon. Mr. Thompson in a recent public speech dwelt upon the salutory principal of there being one law for all. The London Advertiser thereupon favours him with the following quibbling criticism:—

"What has happened to Mr. Thompson that he should have said that the Government have the same law for all—the same rights in the Northwest as in other parts of the Dominion? We believe that the Government have provided in the Northwest that a man may not carry or keep arms without the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor. In what other portion of the Dominion has the Lieutenant-Governor the right to treat the population generally as rebels?"

In Peterborough, and we suppose it is the same in London, we cannot carry a revolver without leave, the judge of whether consent shall be given or not being, not a Lieutenant-Governor, but a magistrate.

In the session of 1878 an Act for which Mr. Blake was especially responsible was passed empowering the Governor General in Council to proclaim any district, when it should become unlawful to carry not only firearms but also any cutting weapon.

Thus if other Lieutenant-Governors have not the right, the Governor-General in Council or even a Police Magistrate has the right to "treat the population as rebels," if disarming them is to be considered.

The Advertiser is very paltry in its criticism of Mr. Thompson's assertion of the great principal of every man's equality before the law.

THE old fable of the wolves picking a quarrel with the lamb for muddying the water, though the innocent animal was lower down the stream, was never more completely illustrated than in the course pursued by the Globe and other Rielite journals. The advocates of Riel in Quebec made, and are still making, violent appeals to the French Canadians to avenge the death of their brother upon the Conservatives and Orangistes of Ontario, a cry which the Reform leaders have encouraged and abetted for partizan purposes. And now because a protest is raised in Ontario against this attempt to place a murderous rebel above the law, the Rielite-Reform journals accuse those who denounce this agitation of exciting sectional prejudices.

THE Globe announces to intending settlers [illegible] Territories it advises the people of Canada to rob them of their farms. And presently the Globe will tell us that the settlement of our prairies has not progressed as rapidly as it should have done.

FENELON FALLS.

R. C. PICNIC.—The Catholic picnic at Kinmount last Tuesday was well attended, and the proceeds amounted to about $200. The weather being exceedingly fine, all present had a delightful time, and the various sports were entered into with much spirit. Appropriate and interesting addresses were delivered by Mr. John Fell, M. P. P. for North Victoria, Mr. John A. Barron, of Lindsay, and Mr. J. B. Campbell of Port Perry.

THE AGRICULTURAL HALL.—The contract for the erection of the agricultural hall, 34 x60 feet, in the Fenelon Fall driving park has been let to Messrs. Cullon & McMullin, who have undertaken to finish it in ten days; and as the building will not be plastered this season, if at all, no harm can be done by rushing the work at lightning speed. We have not seen the driving track since it was finished; but those who have say it is an excellent one.

THE LOCK GATES.—The six car loads of timbers for thn lock gates, mentioned in last week's Gazette, have since arrived and are at McArthur & Thompson's mill, where they are to be planed by machinery, which is much cheaper than plaining by hand. All the timber required is now here except about half a dozen sticks of oak, which are coming from somewhere near Woodville, where they are now being prepared by some men who were sent there for that purpose a few days ago. Mr. Wynne, the contractor, tells us that he has been greatly delayed by the non-arrival of the bolts and castings, which are being made at Montreal (not at Peterborough, as was stated in error) and which should have been here over a week ago. Mr. Rubidge, the Government engineer at Peterborough, paid a flying visit to the Falls last Thursday, for the purpose of seeing how the work was progressing, and, we believe, was well satisfied with what has been done. Judging from the appearance of the materials on the ground, and the care and accuracy with which they have been dressed and finished, the gates in the locks here will be, like the locks themselves, second to none in the Dominion. We wish we were able to say that the swing bridge at the canal and where the railway crosses were about to be commenced; but so far we have no reliable information with regard to either, though the first mentioned will probably be built this fall.—Gazette.

HASTINGS.

THE DAM.—A large gang on men under charge of Mr. T. Kennedy, of Bobcaygeon, are engaged clearing out the foot of the dam. The whole structure is in a very bad state and will require extensive repairs. Mr. Kennedy evidently understands his business, and a good job may be expected.

A PECULIAR MEDAL.—During the review and inspection of the volunteers in camp at Kingston, one day last week, the inspecting officer observed a peculiar medal conspicuously displayed on the tunic of a raw recruit "What decoration is that you are wearing?" asked the officer. The recruit blushed deeply and responded, "That is a medal which our cow won at the cattle show in Madoc."—Star.

COBOURG.

DROWNED.—On Saturday afternoon the youngest son of Mr. E. H. Fogerty, editor of the Sentinel-Star, while playing in the rear of his father's residence, fell into the cistern and was drowned. This is the sixth death by drowning here during the last three months.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

WHAT WOULD THEY DO?

Granting all the Globe says about the price of sugar to be true—which it is not—will the Globe's allies pledge themselves to remove the duty on sugar? They did not do so when in office before, though we had no refineries in operation then, and they have not yet pledged themselves to do so if returned to power. Until they do so the sugar question cannot become a party issue.—Toronto World (Indep.)

BLAKE'S TWO CRIES.

In 1870-1 the late Hon. J. S. Macdonald went to the people of Ontario with a clean record, a surplus, and a powerful, because novel, patronage, but the Riel cry, which was then a cry for Riel's punishment, broke his back. The cry against Riel's punishment promises to do as much for Mr. Ross in Quebec. Warwick living throned and dethroned kings, but Riel dead is a bigger nuisance to governments than he was when alive.—Toronto World.

RIEL'S PARALLEL.

Surely the United States government will not hang that eminent patriot, Mr. Geronimo. If it does it may look out. Mr. Geronimo, be it known, has Indian blood in his veins. If he hangs the people of Indiana will consider him a hero and a martyr, and go back on the government. And the Grits of the other states will pat the Indiana Indians on the back and endorce them.—Hamilton Spectator.

MUST SUBMIT MEEKLY.

The English speaking people of this Province or of this country are not responsible for the cry of "Race and Revenge." The shallow logic which seeks to persuade us that because that cry has been raised by French Canadian Liberals, the English must ramain silent and take the consequences uncomplainingly is unworthy of a free people. The French Canadian Liberal and "Nationalist" papers are flooding the Province with violent abuse of all who differ from them as to the justice of Riel's fate, and of everything which does not fall in with their Riel views, and yet, forsooth, the duty of the English speaking people is, according to young politicians like Mr. Weir, to submit meekly for fear of firing national prejudices. The national prejudices have been fired already, and not by English speaking people. They are simply accepting the consequences.—Montreal Star (Indep.)

ITS WORST EFFECT.

The worst effect of the Haldimand election will be its encouragement to the Quebec Rielites to continue their unpatriotic crusade. The failure of the Government to increase its majority in the House ought to be otherwise regarded as a good thing for the country.—Toronto World (Indep.)

UTTERLY DISREPUTABLE.

For the sake of our party we wish the Globe could be muzzled. And it might as well be for all the good it does now. How are the mighty fallen indeed! Once its dictum caused the mightiest in the land to tremble. Now none so lost to self respect as to do it reverence. Did we say none? We take that back. There are still a few obscure country weeklies that swear by the Globe. Poor things, that's the only paper [illegible] The fact is the Globe's course has become so disreputable that it is prima facie evidence of the purity of an act to merely have the Globe condemn it. No intelligent man believes anything it says until it is otherwise verified. If the Tory Government were to rob a bank the Globe's exposure of it would attract no attention unless backed by others. Whoever read it would smile and say, "the poor old thing is barking again! I guess it will continue to bark till it dies, and its last breath will be the yelp of the word 'corrupt.'"—Woodstock Standard (Reform.)

SECESSION AND REFORM.

That Mr. Fielding flatters himself that Mr Blake is on his side of the question, is in favor of Repeal, is seen in the fact that he joins in congratulations on what is regarded down by the sea as an important victory for the friends of secession. He looks to Mr. Blake for comfort in his efforts to break up confederation. The issue of the contest in Haldimand is hailed in secession circles in Nova Scotia as a victory for them. Why? It would be interesting to hear from the Grit leader on this point. How far is he in accord with the principles of disunion, of which Mr. Fielbing is the self-constituted champion? Because the sentiment of Ontario is emphatically against secession. In this province we stand by the Union.—London Free Press.

Smaller quantities have since been found in the same section, and also small quantities of platinum.

Gladstone's Denial.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Gladstone published a letter again denying the persistently repeated report that he is about to join the Catholic church. He says: "The statement that I intended to become a Roman Catholic is a revival of a miserable falsehood repeated from time to time without a shadow of evidence for its basis, and is unworthy of notice until it assumes a character very different from a merely calumnious invention."

The trial of J. V. Walter, accused of attempting to bribe a Montreal Customs officer in connection with the seizure of Ayer & Co.'s books, was commenced on Friday. Mr. Macmaster, counsel for Ayer & Co., emphatically denied that his clients had any connection with the prisoner.

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS.—Ther is now being manufactured here an article for instantly removing pain of any acute external nature, and it is certainly the most perfect cure for neuralgia, Headache, Toothache and the like that has ever been tried. It is called Fluid Lightning, from the rapid manner in which it acts, and is manufactured by McGregor & Parke. Sold in Peterborough by J. McKee, Druggist.

The building occupied by the Silver Plating Company of Thorold was struck by lightning during the storm of Sunday morning. Lightning entered one side of the building, tearing off some clapboards. It then passed along the rafters and passed out on the other side The building took fire, but the heavy rainfall extinguished it

THE Illinois State Veterinarian has decided that the disease which has caused the death of 10 or 12 cows near Decatur within the past week is Texas fever. It was brought to Decatur by a herd of Cherokee cattle. They have been isolated for several days, and no further spread of the fever is expected.

Fluid Lightning is simply a nervous Rheumatic Remedy. I was for two months a cripple, unable to get out of the house from Sciatica. One bottle gave me instant relief, and placed me on my feet again. IMPORTANT AUCTION SALE OF RIVERDALE PARK

BETTER KNOWN AS

Crawford's Grove, Monaghan

I have received instructions from ALFRED CRAWFORD, ESQ. to sell by Public Auction

On Wednesday, Sept. 29th,

that very eligible property known as "Riverdale Park," situated on the banks of the Otonabee River, formerly well known as Crawford's Grove and situated in the Township of North Monaghan, and containing 73 acres. This property will be offered en bloc, and if not thus sold, will be offered in parcels or park lots as laid out in a plan by Mr. Ranney, which can be seen at any time.

This property is only two miles from the business centre of the Town of Peterborough. It can be laid out either for a summer park, picnic grounds or summer residence resort, its situation being admirably adapted for these purposes. An excellent opportunity is here opened for building summer cottages. Business men in town could domicile their families at the park, attend to their business by the day, and spend the evening with their families—thus enjoying the delights of the country life without neglecting business. No more beautiful park lots could be obtained than those contained in this property. The soil is composed of a sharp rich loam top with clay bottom, possessing excellent virtues for garden purposes. Its proximity to the Otonabee River affords ample opportunity for pleasure or boating, camping, fishing and other recreations.

which adjoins the above property to the north, will also be offered at the same time. It is composed of about 13 acres of excellent land, on which there is a good Brick Dwelling House, outbuildings and water privileges. It has a road on two sides, and the river on its front. It may be sold en bloc, or in three parcels—extending from the road to the river.

TERMS.—Ten per cent. of the purchase money to be paid down at the time of sale, and sufficient to make one-third in ten days thereafter, when title deeds will be prepared, and a further sum, together with the above, sufficient to make one-half and interest, to be paid in one year from date of sale; the balance in three equal annual instalments, with interest at six per cent. per annum.

☞ Further particulars and conditions will be made known at time of sale, or may be had on application to Mr. A. P. Poussette or Mr. A. Crawford, Proprietor.

Sale to take place on the premises and to commence at two o'clock p. m. sharp.

A sketch of the property may be seen in the windows of Messrs. John McClelland, A. L. Davis, and Rush Bros.

It now looks as if it would be necessary to slaughter the 3000 cattle at the distilleries. An Australian Centennial.

New South Wales proposes to celebrate in January twelve month the centenary of the colony by a festival of an altogether remarkable character. A carnival season is to be proclaimed for a fortnight. Special and appropriate services and fetes, and functions of all kinds are to be held, and above all an effort is to be made to give the proceedings somewhat of an Imperial tone. The Government proposes to invite the Prince of Wales and other members of the Royal family to be present, as well as the members of the Governments and Parliaments of Autralasia, India and Canada. The scheme is so ambitious in its character that to carry out in its entirety may hardly prove possible. Canada will, however, doubtless watch with sympathetic interest all that is done to commemorate one of the most noteworthy events in Australasian history.—Canadian Gazette.

CHAPTER X.

THE ACTION.

At ten of the forenoon the Frenchman lay plain on the sea, with colors flying, musketeers in her tops, and her bulwarks black with the heads of her men. A big frigate she was, of the graceful shape which the British were all too slow to copy in their dockyards; and the Gallic cocks in her hencoops might well have swelled their throats with derisive screams when they beheld the English sparrow sailing down to grapple with the hawk.

The first shot fired came from the frigate, when she was still out of reach of the Cleopatra's guns. Cuthbert saw the glance of yellow flame and the smother of white smoke; the ball whirled up a little pillar of frot out of the sea close alongside, and then came the report, dulling its sting against the wind's teeth.

"My lads," exclaimed Sir Peter Grahame, standing at the quarter-deck capstan with his hat in his hand, "yonder ship is the Guerriere. None of the enemy's ships has done more damage to our peaceful merchantmen than she. She is a big nut to crack, but our heels are shod with British iron, and we'll grind the kernel out of her yet. Hold on all till you get your orders, then make one man of yourselves. Now God be with us!"

A cheer like a broadside was given; the helm put over, the loftier sails furled and the Cleopatra drove on toward her enemy.

The Cleopatra's flying jibboom pointed due amidships of the Guerriere; then by length of a spoke was the wheel put over, round swept the Guerriere's helm, that she might rake the Cleopatra as she passed under her stern. But lo! the brig, twisting on her keel like a yacht, put her nose at the revolving Frenchman and blaze! blaze! went her two bow chasers, and down came the flag of the republic, along with the gaff and a sputter of canvas shreds. A minute later the vessels lay broadside on to one another, as close as two houses on opposite sides of a street; and simultaneously from both of them leapt out a line of flame, with a roar as of a mountain rent in twain by an earthquake and the smashing and splintering of woodwork, while all between was smoke.

Now had the action begun in earnest, and a sight for Cuthbert to remember was the deck of the English brig. Calm as a statue and as steady Sir Peter Grahame stood some fathoms forward of the wheel with powerful voice and slight gesture of the arm giving his orders. You would have said that he had eyes all over his body—eyes for the helmsman at the back of him and the yards and sails above him; for the grimy seamen sweating at the guns and for every toss of the arm of the gold-laced French commander shrieking, after the manner of his nation, from the raised after-deck of his ship.

Now the English captain began to see that he should be overmatched if he did not lay the Frenchman on board; for his eighteen-pounders could make no fight with the enemy's heavy artillery, and there was small chance of prize money and the glory of a gazetting unless the boarding pike and cutlass came into play. But as he gave the order to man the weather braces to sheer the brig alongside, his foretop mast was carried away, and all his head sail with it. As a running man, shot in the leg, falls a cripple and slues around in a helpless state, so the Cleopatra, deprived of her forward canvas, rounded up into the wind's eye, whereupon the Frenchman sailed clean round her, drenching her with both broadsides in rotation. The second discharge was a murderous volley; for a ball smashed the wheel and killed the men at it, and a bullet hit Sir Peter Grahame under the arm, and he fell, mortally wounded.

At the beginning of the fight Cuthbert had stood at the foot of the mainmast, unnoticed by officers and crew—in the furious excitement and spendid horrors of the scene forgetting self—eager to help, but in his ignorance not knowing what to be at, when a cannon ball struck a seaman in the back, and threw him forward with a heavy smash, where he lay dead as dust, with his face a mask of blood.

This was the first man killed; but scarcely was he down when a gunner leaped from the breech he was patting and tumbled backward, moaning shockingly.

"Help me carry him below!" sang out a voice; and, with a sick heart and damp forehead, Cuthbert buckled to the worst bit of work a sea fight gives.

He had returned on deck for the twentieth time, and was at his former post, ready to do what should be wanted, when the foretopmast fell, with its heap of sail and rigging, and the brig shot round; and in a few minutes the Guerriere poured in the first of her two deadly broadsides. He heard the grape screech past him, and beheld the carnage of it; and then he saw Transom, with his hand to his ear, rush forward and call upon the men to clear away the wreck, and "bear a hand, or the brig would be taken."

And all the while the Frenchman was sneaking round to bring her port broadside to bear, and her small-arms men and topmen were discharging volleys of musketry at the small band of Englishmen on the brig's forecastle. Then, before the staysail could be hoisted, the Guerriere poured her second tremendous storm of flame and thunder and iron into the devoted brig.

Cuthbert saw the captain fall, and sprang aft. He placed his arm under the dying man's head to raise him.

"Too late—I am bleeding inwardly!" he gasped. "Tell Lieutenant Transom to strike—drag my body abaft the skylight—they are too many for us—my poor men!"

Then came Transom rushing aft with despair in his face, for he had seen that the wheel was gone and their case was hopeless. Beholding the dead body of Sir Peter, he started back, gazed despairingly around him, and buried his face in his hands.

"The captain's last words to me were that I should tell you to strike," exclaimed Cuthbert.

"Yes, yes," groaned Transom, "it must be done. God help us! Half our men are killed—the wheel is gone—I must stop this carnage."

And he went aft with a tottering step, and, grasping the signal halliards, hauled down the colors.

The Guerriere, to leeward, was working up to rake the brig again, but when her men saw the English flag hauled down they sent up such a shriek as nothing less than the capture of a line of battle ship could have justified. What! all this clamorous exultation over the defeat of a little ten-gun cruiser of one hundred and twenty men by a great thirty-six gun frigate of three hundred men! But a shout rarely provoked may well be a loud one.

And what was Monsieur's plight? It is known that the Guerriere had eighty men killed and one hundred and eight wounded in this action. The sun shone through her sails like a lamp through a sieve; her mizzen-mast, foretopgallantmast and jibboom were gone; her figurehead smashed, and part of her bulwarks in splinters. She looked to the full as much a wreck as the Cleopatra. And if there is anything certain in naval history, it is that, could Sir Peter Grahame have put his brig on board the Frenchman, disorganized by havoc, he would have carried her. So let us fling the union jack over the valiant dead, and with reverent gratitude thank God that they were our countrymen.

AYER'S PILLS

CURE HEADACHE.

Headaches are usually induced by costiveness, indigestion, foul stomach, or other derangements of the digestive system, and may be easily cured by the use of Ayer's Pills. Mrs. Mary A. Scott, Portland, Me., writes: "I had suffered dreadfully from Sick Headache, and thought myself incurable. Disorder of the stomach caused it. Ayer's Pills cured me entirely."

CURE BILIOUSNESS.

John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebr., writes: "I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice. I was so dangerously ill, that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor. I feel certain that I owe my recovery to your invaluable Pills."

CURE INDIGESTION.

Ayer's Pills act directly on the digestive and assimilative organs, influencing healthful action, imparting strength, and eradicating disease. G. W. Mooney, Walla Walla, W. Ayer's Pills relieve and cure Rheumatism when other remedies fail. S. M. Spencer, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I was confined to my bed, with Rheumatism, three months, but, after using a few boxes of Ayer's Pills, became a well man."

S. Lansing, Yonkers, N. Y., writes: "Recommended to me as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me not only from that trouble, but also from Gout. Sir Richard Cartwright's visit to Peterborough on private business was made the occasion of considerable political caucusing. The leaders of the Reform party in town the were in close consultation with him, and as Sir Richard's great want at the present time is "A seat! a seat! My fortune (or part of it) for a seat!" it is surmised that the wanderer would like to rest for a time in this county. The prospects for that, however, are not encouraging.

Conference of the Y. M. C. A.

The second session of the Conference will be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms this evening at 7.30. A song service will occupy the first half hour, and then the discussion of the following topics will be taken up. "The duties and responsibilities of Committees" and "How can we promote personal purity among young men." The public are invited to attend any of the sessions. The Conference will be continued to-morrow morning at 9.30 and afternoon at 2.30.

Seeds.

Mr. William Cluxton desires through the REVIEW to address a few words to the growers of clover seed in this part of the Province. He says that farmers make a fatal mistake in not threshing their clover seed early in the season and gives the following reason for saying so:—The sowing comm nces in some parts of England in January and through February. If the buyer does not get the seed to the old country market in time for this sowing the seed must remain over till the next season to be sold at a greatly reduced price. The grower of clover seed must get his seed to the market on time or accept a lower price for it. Mr. Cluxton ships from both Canada and the United States and last year sent home $40,000 worth. He says that he received a great deal of good alsyke seed from the Lindsay section.

Gun Club.

The first annual meeting of the Peterborough Gun Club was held in E. J. Hartleys music rooms on Wednesday evening. In the absence of the President Mr. H. Calcutt was voted to the chair. With his usual happy way Mr. Calcutt introduced the business of the evening and called on the members to elect their officers for the ensuing year. The officers were duly balloted for and elected as follows:—

PRESIDENT.—Judge Weller.

1st VICE PRESIDENT.—(re-elected, Mr. R. Tivey.

2nd VICE-PRESIDENT.—Mr. H. Calcutt.

SEC. TREAS.—(re-elected) H. W. Kent.

COMMITTE OF MANAGEMENT:—H. Neil, C. H. Geale, J. Collins, D. Cameron. E. J. Hartley. The report of the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. H. W. Kent, was read and adopted without amendment. The report showed a satisfactory cash balance in hand. Vote of thanks were tendered to the Secretary-Treasurer for having so efficiently performed the duties devolving upon him during the year and to the local newspapers for publishing reports of the matches. A number of new members were elected. It was decided to hold a match between Ashburnham and Peterborough on Monday next.

HAMILTON'S ENTERPRISE.

Building up the Main Building Another Storey.

Thirty eight years ago a little shop was built on the corner of George and King streets. The business carried on in this place was a general character—such as blacksmithing, making primitive implements of a simple kind, and other general job work. By degrees the proprietor got into the way of turning out a very fair kind of a plough, and, as trade increased by degrees, additions were made to the pioneer shop. By gradual and steady growth, induced by the growing needs of a growing community, this little shop has expanded to one of the most important industrial establishments in the Midland District. Instead of turning out rude impliments, both as to design and workmanship, as in former times, this big factory now makes dozens of labor saving machines for the farming community, alike marvels of ingenious contrivance and beauty of mechanical work.

During the last year Mr. Peter Hamilton, the proprietor, has done a greater trade than at any time since he assumed the management of the works; and in anticipation of an increased trade next year—or, indeed, to give more room for complying with present demands—he has decided to extend his factory by adding another story to the main building, 150x125. Operations are now progressing and the job will be completed in a few weeks.

THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR.

To Formally Open the Central Exhibition on Oct. 6th.

The Hon. John Beverly Robinson, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario, has accepted an invitation to formally ope the Peterborough Central Exhibition, Wednesday, October 6th.

The Lieutenant-Governor is expected arrive in Peterborough on Oct. 5th, and will remain until the next day. The formal opening of the exhibition will take place at 2 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

There is no doubt that the people of Peterborough and district will give a hearty welcome to Her Majesty the Queen's representative in this Province. There is also a personal reason why the Hon. Mr. Robinson's visit to Peterborough should be an interesting event, as he is a nephew of the Hon. Peter Robinson, whose memory is perpetuated and whose services to this town and county are commemorated in the names of both the county and town.

The business men of the town, and others as far as possible, should make a liberal display of bunting and other corations, to give the town a gala appearance on the day of the formal opening.

The Three Moneyed Men.

In its Methodist Conference sketches the Toronto World says:—"The three moneyed men of the Conference were W. E. Sanford of Hamilton, John McDonald of Toronto and G. A. Cox of Peterborough. They are reputed millionaires. A Church that can boast of three such local preachers has something to be proud of."

Y. M. C. A. Anniversary.

St. Andrew's Church should be filled on Friday evening, on the occasion of the public Anniversary of the Young Men's Christian Association. Addresses are to be given by Mr. T. J. Wilkie, late General Secretary of the Brooklyn, N. Y., Association, and others. A male choir will render several choruses. The chair will be taken at 8 o'clock.

The Exhibition.

Have you been to the Exhibition? No! What exhibition? Why the one that is going on at the Bon Marche. They are selling goods astonishingly cheap. You should go and see for your self and spend a little money in dry goods, groceries etc., before everything is sold out. Can't buy as much in any other place in town for the same money.

A Social.

A social was given in the school at St. John's Church on Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. The attendance was fairly large. During the evening an entertainment was given, in which Mr. Hutchins, Mrs. Seward, Miss Errett, Miss Cluxton, Miss Wrighton and Miss Grey took part. Refreshments were served. The proceeds, which amount to about $25, will be applied to the organ fund.

Our Carpet and House furnishings department is replete with a full new stock of choice goods imported direct from Great Britain. For choice stock throughout come to the "Golden Lion." R. FAIR.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S MEDAL.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—A letter from Gen. Haultain published in the REVIEW of the 14th inst. contains some strictures on a letter of mine which appeared in your paper of the 13th inst. I would beg in the first place to state that I do not take back one single word which that letter contained, and with regard to the standing of the lads I trust I may be allowed to place their positions in college fashion, so that it may be seen at glance, and that the common sense of the community may enable them to come to a decision:—

REPORT OF THE TORONTO UNIVERSITY.

	Latin.	Mathem'tics.	English.	French.	German.	History and Greek.	Chemistry.
1st Class Honors.	Armstrong. Haultain.	2 Haultain.	2 Armstrong.	3 Armstrong.	8 Armstrong.	8 Armstrong.	Place not given.
2nd Class Honors.				Haultain.	Haultain.	Haultain.	Place not given.
Pass.	Armstrong.	Armstrong.	Haultain.

The scholarship of the lad Armstrong was higher by ten marks than that of any competitor in Latin composition, which is at least half the work for honors. The Governor-General's medal at my recommendation has been given always for general proficiency, and according to this view Haultain was excluded as he was a specialist. He, however, fairly enough has been accorded the Silver Medal, if the spirit of insubordination evinced both in speech and act by him all through should be condoned. The "Divers reasons" mentioned by General Haultain are these. Some college friends of his some time ago, expressed their fears that Haultain would be plucked in Latin, and, as the line of conduct marked out for him and acted on by himself was so insulting to me as to put an end to all communication between us, there was no resource but a tutor under whose care he was for some time only. This gentleman just previous to our breaking up made the remark. "He has not done much with me."

With respect to giving two medals to one boy, I would never under any possible circumstances recommend it. Such a course would be "unjustifiable" and most unwise, and as discretionary powers are vested in boards of management and head masters, it would be the duty of any board to prevent it. The highest prize in the gift of U. C. College—"The Prince of Wales"—is awarded for general proficiency, and, in closing, I may be permitted to repeat, that my fairness and love of justice have never before been questioned, and to venture the remark that I have never, during my entire career, sent a lad prepared by myself up to any examination and had him plucked.

Believe me,
Yours very truly,
WM. TASSIE.

The Provincial Exhibition.

GUELPH, Sept. 22.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon Hon. A. M. Ross, Comm'ssioner of Agriculture, formerly opened the Provincial Exhibition. President Parker presented Mr. Ross with an address and the latter gentleman made a lengthy reply. The day being fine an immense crowd was present. The Exhibition is now fairly under way. All the goods are in position and the show is pronounced by far the best ever held here. A tremendous number of excursionists are continually arriving.

The Francis Smith Again Seized.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Sept. 22.—The steamer Francis Smith, of Owen Sound, has again been seized by the American Authorities at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., on account of some informality as to the security of $15,000 on a former seizure at St. Ignace, Mich., for improper reporting at that port.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

Londonderry Police—Father Fahy's Imprisonment—Members Silenced.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Mr. Lewis (Conservative) moved an official enquiry into the conduct of the magistracy and police of Londonderry on the sixth of July, when, he said, the police wantonly attacked respectable citizens on the occasion of the declaration of the poll, causing a saturnalia of violence. After some discussion the motion was negatived by 237 to 1.

Mr. Dillon (Parnellite) urged the release of Father Fahy, the imprisoned Woodford priest, who, said Mr. Dillon, had refused to give bail because he thought that would amount to an admission of misconduct on his part.

Mr. Holmes, Attorney-General of Ireland, justified the action taken in the case. He said he had no power to interfere after the Magistrate had given his decision.

Mr. Sexton said he opined that Father Fahy would prove the most inconvenient prisoner the Government ever had.

Mr. Tanner (Parnellite) followed. After being twice called to order because of his irrelevant remarks, he was ordered to cease speaking, whereupon he left the Chamber, shouting "This House is no place for an Irishman! I am digusted with it!"

Lord Randolph Churchill refused to answer Mr. Cremer as to the intentions of the Government regarding Bulgaria, as premature discussion might be injurious.

The appropriation bill was finally adopted, and the House adjourned until Saturday, when it will be prorogued.

COWARDLY TRICKSTER.

But there is one thing about which there can not be too clear an undstanding, and it is an issue which self-seeking polleticians of even the English tongue are endeavoring most anxiously to disguise. It is the fact that the Liberal party in this province have been the promoters of the cry of "Race and Revenge." The Liberals started amongst the French Canadians the race and revenge cry; they set the fire and fanned it into a glorious flame that was doing magnificent work for Mercier; but when, in the very nature of the things the English speaking people showed a tendency to revolt against this sort of political trickery, the Mercier gang rushed to the rescue and made a desperate attempt to fasten the origin of the race and revenge cry on the English. This is cowardly. They started this miserable business and must take the consequences.—Montreal Star (Ind.)

WHAT IS BOODLE?

It takes the average Grit leader to work the boodle act successfuly. Mr. Blake, the spotless opposition leader, charged Ontario $600 for one day's argument in the Supreme Court; Mr. David Mills charged $4,300 a day for appearing before the Privy Council in [illegible] Davies, M. P., who orated at the Opera House last night, charged and received $15,000 in all, or $4,750 an hour, for acting as one of the counsel for Canada at the Halifax fishery arbitration. Mr Edgar went to British Columbia, did nothing, visited the Yellowstone Park, and charged $800; and Mr. Thomas Nelson, of Scotland, the chief proprietor of the Toronto Globe, levies $14,000 a year as a tax upon the school children of Ontario in connection with his school ook contract with the Local Goverment.—Moncton Times.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

FRIDAY. SEPTEMBER 24. 1886.

EXHAUSTING THE SOIL.

MR. THOMAS CONANT, who sets up for an authority on agriculture, has just been discoursing on the subject of the exhaustion of our lands. After describing the manner in which the soil has been exhausted in New England and elsewhere, he gives an account of the system of cropping generally adopted in Canada, and admits that it is more or less exhaustive. He tells of the English use of guano and phosphates, but declares that Canadian farmers "won't and can't buy such expensive manures." The proper remedy, as prescribed by him, is that in addition to a certain rotation of crops and the ploughing in of clover, our farmers should keep more cattle, horses and sheep. This he dsclares to be the proper and sufficient preventative of exhaustion.

Is it a sufficient remedy? Mr. Conant says very truly that while we are shipping such enormous quantities of grain we must be surely, but slowly, taking the grain qualities out of the soil. This grain and other crops (including live stock) must necessarily take something out of the soil. A portion of their constituents consists of compounds of elements that can be obtained from the air and water, such as nitrogen, carbon, hydrogen and oxygen. These can undoubtedly be restored and even added in greater quantities to the soil by Mr. Conant's remedies, by ploughing under green crops and feeding more stock with the consequent increase of manure.

But this is not all. There are other substances such as phosphorus, lime, silica, etc., which enter into the composition of the grain and other crops, of the bones, flesh, hides, wool, etc., of the live stock. These cannot be obtained from the air or rain water, but only from the soil so they cannot be augmented by green crops or by stock feeding. It they are conveyed off the farm, the supply of them in the soil must necessarily be reduced, and if they are necessary for the production of crops or live stock the land must in time become exhausted unless the quantity of them is unlimited. The question of when the exhaustion will become injurious will obviously depend upon the amount of the store of such elements in the soil, as compared with the amount withdrawn. Deeper ploughing and more thorough cultivation would augment this store or render it more accessible, so as to greatly postpone the period of injurious exhaustion of these substances. But sooner or later the exhaustion must take place, If the Globe succeeds in its advocacy of the confiscation of the farms, the exhaustion may not come in time to effect individual interests, but only the community of robbers. There is, however, not much reason to fear this robbery, so our farmers must face this difficulty, if not for themselves, at least for their sons or grandsons.

Fortunately for our Canadian farmers the most important of these mineral constituents, the phosphates, are plentiful in our own country. Our phosphate mines may in the future be called upon to supply our own farmers, instead of those of other countries. Bones, too, should be economized, as they contain the same element.

Mr. Conant's remedy is thus only a partial one, though for a time it may be sufficient. According to his account the red Indians at the time of the first settlement of the Atlantic coast by white men were more scientific farmers than he is, for he says they put a couple of fish in each hill of corn, thus keeping up the supply of phosphates. Our farmers will probably look elsewhere for this substance, but like the Indian they must provide it when the natural supply is unduly diminished.

THE FISHERY QUESTION.

Reported Treaty With the United States Regarding Fisheries and Reciprocity.

A special despatch to the Montreal Star from Ottawa on September 23rd says:—It is understood that the treaty which is in course of preparation between the United States and Great Britain has been sent here for inspection by the Dominion Cabinet before signing by the high contracting parties, inasmuch as Canada is most directly interested. It is said that the subject was broached by Great Britain on the result of the Nova Scotian elections being known, and that Lord Lansdowne went to England especially on this business. The presence of Lord Lansdowne in London, and Minister Phelps, on behalf of the United States, enabled the negotiations mentioned in the cable despatches as officially admitted in the Imperial Parliament last night to be made. The proposed treaty not only settles the fishery and headland question, but deals, it is said, with reciprocity between Canada and the United States in certain classes of products. Suggestions by the Dominion Government as to modifications will be forwarded to the Colonial Secretary in London at an early date.

IRELAND'S PEACE AND FUTURE.

An Address from the Bishop of Ardagh to his Diocese.

DUBLIN, Sept. 23.—The Most Rev. Bartholomew Woodlock, Roman Catholic Bishop of Ardagh and Cloumacneis, has issued an address to the clergy and laity of his diocese. The Bishop laments the present spiritual and temporal wants of his people, and the sufferings and oppression of the poor. He also speaks with pain of the prevalence and growth of secret societies, so frequently condemned by the church, and expresses fears for the peace and future of Ireland. "God alone," the address declares, "can scatter these clouds and quell this tempest. Meanwhile we exhort our oppressed people to be still patient, while using every lawful means to protect themselves and their own, and we warn their oppressors of the account they must render to God." The Bishop then conjures all to observe the golden law of charity, but warns the people against the revolutionary principles of secret societies. "If," he adds, "the day of freedom seems to approach, the people's sins may cause its advent to be deferred. Every crime will be not only used as an argument by Ireland's enemies for refusing to accord her her rights, but will also render the people unworthy of God's help."

Copper Mines Found.

MONTREAL, Sept. 22.—Copper mines, which are said to be the most wonderful in the world, have been discovered near Sudbury Junction, Ont. The copper ridge, which is situated a few miles from Sudbury depot, is four miles in length, 1500 feet wide and 200 feet deep. The percentage of pure copper is very large, and no richer ore has as yet been found. Operations have been commenced to work the mines to its fullest capacity.

The Seized British Sealers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The Post's Washington says the fact will be brought out in the libel suits to be brought against the British sealing vessels that the seal skins captured show the seals had been killed by clubbing them on land. It is consequently considered quite possible by both State and Treasury Department officials that no remonstrance will be offered by the British Government to confiscation of the vessels.

Indians Leave Their Reserve.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 23.—The Battleford Herald contains particulars of some sixty Indians leaving Poundmaker's reserve and going it is said in the direction of Edmonton, because they were refused food as a punishment for misdemeanors. Indian officials had started in pursuit. The Indians had no arms and could not hunt, and it is supposed that hunger will drive them back. Edmonton advices say that the fugitives had not appeared in that locality.

THE IRISH QUESTION.

THE ANTI-REPEAL ORATORS DISCUSS THE NATIONALIST PLATFORM.

As Representatives of the Loyalists of Ireland They Oppose Home Rule as Advocated by Mr. Parnell and his Followers.

On Thursday evening the delegates, the Rev. R. R. Kane, M. A., LL. D., of Belfast and Mr. Geo. Hill Smith, barrister of Armagh, sent to this country by the Loyal Ulster Anti-Repeal Union, arrived in town by the Canadian Pacific Railway. They were met at the station by the Orange lodges of this town and Nassau and the True Blues, who escorted them to the Orientrl Hotel. Here the procession formed in a guard of honor while the carriage containing the visitors drove between up to the entrance to the hotel.

A meeting was held in Bradburn's Opera House. At eight o'clock the hall was well filled. The representatives of the Union and the following named gentlemen entered and took seats on the platform: The Rev. I. Tovell, the Rev. E. F. Torrance, the Rev. A. Bell, the Rev. J. B. Wilson, John Carnegie, M. P. P., Mayor Stevenson, Councillors Menzies and Hartley, Mr. Johnston, Grand Master of Eastern Ontario of the Orange Lodge and Mr. W. A. Stratton. Mr. J. B. McWilliams occupied the chair. In introducing the speakers he stated that he regretted that Mr. James Stevenson had not occupied the chair.

Dr. KANE commenced by stating that some people thought that a person could not be a genuine Irishman without being "agin the Government." He would always request to be permitted to describe himself as an Irishman, and it was his prayerful desire to see Ireland in prosperity and happiness. He belonged to a class of Irishmen who exhibited their patriotism not so much in words as in deeds. When asked what they did to prove their attachment to their country they could reply that they built mills, cultivated land and contributed to the happiness, prosperity and intelligence which characterized its people. They asserted this as evidence of practical patriotism. There were others who would support their claim to patriotism by saying that they were relatives of men who were hanged, or that some friend of theirs was sentenced to penal servitude. Which was the best and most useful kind of patriotism he left the people to judge. There were chapters of history which made the blood run more quickly in one's veins, but no chapter ever stirs the soul like that which relates of the courage, self denial and endurance of the patriot. It was a noble feeling and a noble passion; a rational feeling and a rational passion; it was satisfied when it had attained its object. Its object was to see its counry free, fairly prosperous, and to see it holding an honorable position among nations. The patriotism of his soul was fully satisfied. Some said that Ireland was enslaved; that Ireland should be independent and free. Perhaps it would excite surprise when he said that Ireland was as free as any country under the shining sun of heaven. In the civil life, in religion, in the professions, in the state, the Irish were as free as Canadians, English, Scotch, or any other people. Connection with the Empire was not a curtailment of liberties; but a guaranty for freedom, for capital investment, and what was essential, activity in commercial life. Let one tell him what disabilities the Irish labored under that the English or Scotch did not labor under and he would promise to do all in his power to remove these disabilities. It was said that Ireland was looking through her tears to the bright blue sky and that she hoped to be free some day. The Irish were as free as any people under heaven. (Applause.) Ireland occupied an honorable position among the nations. What would be her position if the Parnellites had their wish?—the severance of the last link which bound Ireland to the Empire? What would be her position then? Utterly insignificent; without army or navy; with a divided people; looked down upon by nations with contempt; a seventh rate power. United with Great Britain Ireland formed an integral part of the mightiest Empire the world had ever seen (prolonged applause). Not only could she claim partenership in the British Empire but she could claim that her sons have, in the arts of peace and war, helped to build up that mighty political fabric. (applause). He had reason to feel proud that he was a citizen of an Empire on which the sun never set. Some one remarked that the reason why the sun never set on the Empire was because it wouldn't be safe to trust Britishers in the dark. (laughter)—but they wouldn't believe that. Ireland is in a fairly prosperous condition. A great deal was heard about Ireland being impoverished, and that if it had a native legislature that legislature would devote itself to the developement of the resources of Ireland and the encouragement of its industries. Now, they had a suspicion as to the genuineness of a National League legislature—a Parnell legislature. Perhaps Dr. Burns would like to live under such a one, and if he did it was to be hoped that he would have the privilege in some far off land. It might be prophesied that he would soon wish himself back to the mild sceptre of Queen Victoria. (Applause.) They had a sample of what kind of Government Parnell would give them when he interferred with the Cork Steamship Company at the time that company dared the behests of the National League and carried landlords' cattle. The company were boycotted and nearly ruined. His party nearly ruined the Bank of Ireland in a similar onset, and they also sought to destroy the linen industry likewise—not because it was Irish linen, but because they said it was Orange linen. (Laughter.) He believed in building up the industries of his own country and supported this belief tangibly by clothing himself from head to foot in Irish wool—and very good wear it gave. He believed Ireland would be all right if professional cheats, who by specious pleading picked the pockets of servants in New York and Boston, would only let her alone. It had been asserted that British connection and British laws hampered Irish trade, but at no time in Ireland's history has she progressed so rapidly in every respect as during the last eighty years. He did not know what the Rev. Dr. Burns said when lecturing in this hall, but as a clergyman of a Protestant church he believed Dr. Bruns spoke what he felt to be right. He did not believe that Dr. Burns would be made the tool of a party who hugged to their souls the idea of dismemberment. But telling the people that the management of local affairs should be largely in local hands Dr. Burns had but voiced the sentiment of the Loyalists and 1,500,000 Roman Catholics. This was by no means the legislature the Parnellites wanted. Theirs would be an absolute Government. These men who tore down the British flag when the Queen's son entered Dublin and who were satisfied to allow an exhibition to be a miserable failure rather than let the Prince open it sought for this kind of Government. The Irish Protestant patriots were loyal men; they would oppose to the death men who sully her royal name and flout her royal dignity. Another potent reason why this movement was to be opposed was, that, on the word of commercial men of great experience, the statements of the Chambers of Commerce of Dublin and Belfast, separation from Britain would mean ruin, the financial ruin of Ireland. Another reason—and he did not want to be thought bigoted when stating it—was that a separate Government for Ireland would mean the setting up of a much to be dreaded religious ascendency. It would mean curtailment of Protestant religious privileges and the placing a party in power hateful to them and charged with hatred towards them. He proceeded to dissect the term "Home Rule." He said that it simply meant, as understood by the Nationalists as an overruling of those who opposed Parnell or resisted his will, for what could the minority do with a majority? [illegible] with this kind of Parliament before. When in operation before it proceeded to say that Protestants were but intruders, were not the original or rightful owners, that the Roman Catholics were the rightful owners and therefore should have the land, and it proceeded to vote the land from the Protestants to the Roman Catholics. It was simply now a question of life or death with them. It meant staying there or being given a passport to Canada, and he was sure in this event they would get a hearty welcome. (Applause.) But they had not the slightest intention of accepting the passports. (Loud applause.) He had heard that a Roman Catholic priest had shaken hands with Dr. Burns accross the Boyne water on this stage. Perhaps the Nationalists wanted to do the same, saying, "we will shake hands with you, but all we want is justice. And what did they consider justice? Surely a United Parliament representing a people of justice lovers would do justice to all. Why not rely upon them? He referred to several acts of Parliament passed by the United Parliament all lenient to Ireland. But it was not justice that was wanted. It was to make Mr. National Leaguer omnipotent at Dublin. This Parliament would be dangerous to those opposed to the Nationalists. Gladstone thought so and he would prove it. Gladstone arranged for the silent retirement of the judges when Parnell's would-be Parliament came into power. These were men whom, on account of having sentenced Parnell's friends to be hanged, he feared would suffer at the hands of the Parnellites. The landlords, too, Gladstone thought would not be safe in the hands of the Parnellites. He arranged a mode of escape for them. But why did he not go further? The property of the Protestant Churches was also in danger. Why did he not buy up that? There was a class of laborers, and professional men and yeomanary who opposed Parnell. Why did he not make provision for their embarkation also? So even Mr. Gladstone doubted the justice of the Parliament and still he wanted to place a part of the public in Ireland under a rule which he himself would not trust. A sample of the justice if the former Parliament was to be seen in their action in 1688 in sentencing Lord Mountjoy to be hanged drawn and quartered, if he did not appear before them in a stated time, when they knew that he could not break from his prison in Paris. He stated that in 1641 when the attention of England was drawn from the affairs of Ireland that 200,000 people in Ulster were driven from their homes, to tramp naked and hungry along the highways, there to be ruthlessly slain by those engaged in the slaughter. In 1798 the Presbyterians of Ireland saw in the atrocities of Vinegar Hill that the fight was not for the country's independence but for the establishment of Roman Catholicism. These same massacres were the instruments which brought about British Parliament. Though he did not think the Church of Rome would now countenance such bloodshed, still there was the record. The Roman Catholics could not have greater privileges under any Roman Catholic Government in Europe than these enjoyed in the British Empire—and under an independent Government Protestant's rights might have a good deal less privileges. Under it the Protestants would either have to eat umble pie or fight for their rights, and they had not the slightest intention of eating the pie. Touching the Belfast riots, he said that he was Grand Master of the Orangemen of that place, and had counselled his brethren to abstain from all unlawful acts and to aid in restoring order. While the Sligo police were called away from that place to Belfast it was found that Nationalists had tried, by defacing the Bishop's residence in the night, and blaming it on the Orangemen, to bring down the wrath of Roman Catholics upon Protestants. But the real offenders were caught and punished. And this party, guilty of such acts, would rule Ireland! He closed with an eloquently marking out for Ireland a bright career.

A Commission Merchant's Opinion.

A. H. Failing, produce commission merchant, of Oswego, N.Y., states in his circular of Sept. 17th: No sales of barley are reported here to-day. Yesterday there was a sale of 10,000 bush by sample at 75c., about the color of our No. 1 of last year. I look for low prices on account of the large receipts in Chicago. From the 16th of Aug. to the 11th of Sept., 1885, they received 426,971 bush. In the same time in 1886 they received 1,527,099 bush. From the 1st to 11th of Sept. 1886, they received 792,207 bush., In 1885 for the same time they received 297,207 bush., and they are flooding the eastern markets with barley. The estimated crop in California is 14,000,000 bush., as against 8,000,000 bush. last year.

Live Stock.

From the Montreal Gazette.

Contrary to what was hoped for, there has been no improvement in the British cattle trade. Values, however, have been well sustained, with the general tone steady, although dressed beef has declined during the week. Receipts from Canada and the United States have been light, but the markets have been well supplemented with other cattle. Our special cables to-day report a fair trade at steady prices, all the principal markets being practically unchanged. At Liverpool to-day prime Canadian steers were at 11½c, fair to choice grades at 11c, poor to medium at 10c and inferior and bulls at 7½c @c. A year ago at this date the market was severely depressed. The sheep market has remained unchanged. At Liverpool to-day best sheep were sold at 12c, second-class qualities at 11c @ 11½c, medium at 10c @ 11c, and inferior and rams at 8c @ 9½c. The foregoing quotations are calculated at 480 in the £. The meat markets were cabled lower.

THE QUARTERLY REVIEW.

DR. JOHN HALL'S HINTS TO TEACHERS ON THE LESSONS.

Sunday, Sept. 26—Lessons—Golden Text: "I Have Glorified Thee On the Earth, I Have Finished the Work Which Thou Gavest Me To Do."

From the nature of the lessons of this quarter, a review cannot take the shape given to it in ordinary narrative, but it may be made full of interest throughout if the reviewer can only fix a plan in his own mind and lead into it the minds of the scholars.

The first great point to be impressed is that, all through, we have to do with Jesus Christ. Whatever passes under notice in this exercise concerns him. He is first and last in it.

The second step which the mind may take in moving onward is to a classification of the ways in which he has come under our notice. All through he is working or speaking. The line of distinction, of course, is not sharp, for he explains as he works; but it is sufficient for our ends.

1. In Lessons I, III, IV, he is opening blind eyes and raising the dead, while in V he is by his acts proclaiming his peace and kingdom, and in VII he is washing the disciples' feet. This rough division recalls him as presented in five of the quarter's lessons. What do they each mean? How do they affect us? How did they affect the people then?

2. When we come to classify the lessons in which we hear his voice, we have seven in number. Their order is the following:

In Lessons II he is the "good Shepherd," explaining his own work.

In Lesson VI he is predicting the extent of his kingdom.

In Lesson VIII he is warning the tempted.

In Lessons IX, X, XI, he is comforting the sorrowing, and this by (IX) the thought of their home; (X) their fruitfulness in him; (XI) their divine comforter in his stead; and

In Lesson XII he is praying for them.

What we see him do, what we hear him say—these are the two divisions of the quarter's studies.

Turning to these topics in turn, the reviewer will endeavor to recall the points made and the lessons he illustrated in deeds or in words. (The questions of The Scholar's Hand-Book are numerous and varied, and such as will readily occur to a mind familiarized with these great themes.)

To classes less familiar with doctrines, and less easy to draw out by questions, another order might be pursued. "Now, children," [illegible] "what do you think of the [illegible] things we looked at." They will recall (1) the blind man healed; (2) the sisters mourning Lazarus; (3) Christ raising him; (4) Christ riding on an ass into Jerusalem; (5) Greeks wishing to see him; (6) Christ washing the disciples' feet; (7) Judas going out to betray him. Here again are seven points—incidents—round which questions, answers and reflections may be gathered.

It is a coincidence that we had (aside from the blind man) seven men under our eyes. The pupils can be asked whom they remember, and in what connections. They are Lazarus, Thomas, Judas the traitor, Philip, Andrew, Peter and John. The places, too, may be suggestive of questions, e. g., the pool of Siloam, Bethany, Bethsaida, the temple and Jerusalem. These bring up for notice the sisters, the Pharisees, the Gentiles, the chief priests, and the Jews who came to comfort the sisters. And, finally, we have studied one who is not a creature, but divine, namely the Comforter. Questions may usefully bring out the other names by which the Holy Ghost is described, the work he is promised to do for the disciples, and the way in which we should look for and receive his teaching.

The difficulty will be, not to find material for questions, but to bring under notice the leading lines of thought in this group of lessons, than which there can be none more interesting or important.

Primary Lesson Helps.

LESSON XIII.—SEPT. 26, 1886.

Fluid Lightning does not take a day or an hour to remove Neuralgia, Headache, Toothache, Lumbago or Rheumatism, but will do it instantly, and without carrying your head in a poultice for a day or using greasy liniments. Try a 25c. bottle from J. McKee. Druggist.

The council of the Toronto Board of Trade decided to recommend to the board the purchase of the American hotel property for $55,000.

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS.—Ther is now being manufactured here an article for instantly removing pain of any acute external nature, and it is certainly the most perfect cure for neuralgia, Headache, Toothache and the like that has ever been tried. It is called Fluid Lightning, from the rapid manner in which it acts, and is manufactured by McGregor & Parke. Sold in Peterborough by J. McKee, Druggist.

It is reported that since the completion of the Canadian Pacific railway, Manatoba flour is rapidly displacing flour from Oregon in the markets on the Pacific coast.

Fluid Lightning is simply a nervous Rheumatic Remedy. I was for two months a cripple, unable to get out of the house from Sciatica. One bottle gave me instant relief, and placed me on my feet again. I have driven fourteen miles to-day (something I could not possibly have done were it not for Fluid Lightning) for the express purpose of procuring another bottle. So says Wm. Dixon, Gananoque. Only 25 cents per bottle at J. McKee's.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

LOYAL INDIAN CHIEFS.

The Visiting Missionary and Indians Deliver Addresses.

A meeting was held on Thursday evening in the Charlotte Street Methodist Church, at which the Rev. J. McDougall, the North-West missionary, and the Indian chiefs were present and delivered addresses. The Rev. Mr. McDougall, Chief Pakan, of the Crees, and Chief Sampson and Chief Jonas, of the Stoneys, were on the platform, and the Rev. F. H. Wallace, B. D., and the Rev. B. B. Keefer were also present. The meeting was opened with devotional exercises.

The Rev. Mr. McDOUGALL, who has been twenty-seven years in the Northwest, in his introductory remarks, related some interesting incidents connected with his residence in the great west. Years ago, he said, when the Government decided to send the Mounted Police to the west, it became [illegible] explain why they were sent. Again last year, when the troops were sent out, he was sent for to assist them. He acted as a scout for Gen. Strange's column, and pushed his way with some Stoney indians from his mission through to Edmonton ahead of the column. On his way he met Chief Sampson, whose heart was heavy because some of his nationality had joined the rebels. Chief Sampson was loyal and assisted him greatly, and as he was passing a disaffected camp Sampson assisted him in quieting the Indians, and stood ready to help him if violence was attempted. When he reached Edmonton he issed a circular announcing that three columns of volunteers were advancing into the country and stating that before the grass was fully matured the rebellion would be crushed. He was confident that the insurrection would soon be ended because he knew that there were Christian Indians who would stand firm against the persuations of the insurgent chiefs and would prevent a great Indian raising in the far north-west. If there had been such a general rising much more blood and treasure would have been sacrificed and the trouble might not have been ended yet. The loyal Indians had grievances, as there were sure to be in an unsettled country, with inadequate means of communication and a lack of men of the right kind for officials. He had confidence in Pakan that he would resist the insurgents. Chief Pakan's reserve was at White Fish Lake, not a great distance from the scene of the terrible massacre at Frog Lake. Runners were sent from Poundmaker's camp to Pakan, but the Christian chief refused to have anything to do with the rebels, and his loyalty broke the backbone of the Indian rising. The speaker said he had been with Gen. Strange's column all through, and more patient and cheerful workers in fulfilling arduous duties he had not seen than the 65th Battalion from Montreal. He had met the other volunteers and was with them at Pitt, and he paid a tribute to the good qualities of all the corps. He dwelt on the importance of Christianzing the Indians and of the benefit to the settlers, the country and the Indians that the missionaries were. Mr. McDougall was frequently applauded, especially when he referred to the loyal Indians and the 65th Battalion and the other volunteers.

Chief SAMPSON then aderessed the audience in his own language, and Mr. McDougall interpreted what he said. He said he had come east to learn and not to instruct. He was greatly impressed with what he had seen. He dwelt on the benefits of Christianity and the services of the missionaries.

Mr. STIENHAUR, one of Chief Pakan's band, who is a student at Victoria Universitp, sang a solo.

Chief PAKAN then gave an address. He is a splendid specimen of Indian manhood, tall, straight and athletic looking. He spoke calmly and with dignified gesticulation. Mr. McDougall again acted as interpreter. Chief Pakan said that the success of Mr. Stienhaur, as a student, showed what his people could do. He wanted more of them to have the same advantages and wished to have his people educated. He appreciated the benefits of the Christian religion, and of education, which always accompanied that religion. He referred to the missionary who had been with his people, and who, when dying, sent for him and told him to remain true to his religion. When messengers last year came from the rebel chiefs the words of the missionary were in his ears and he refused to join them. If he had gone into rebellion he knew he would not have stopped half way, but he was glad that he had been taught better things. He had had grievances, and thought it a hardship that he could not sell the grain he raised without applying to an Indian agent, but although Indians who had heard him complain taunted him with this he remained true to his religion and loyal to his treaty. When he was coming east he was pleased to see two orphans from his people at Mr. McDougall's orphange at Morley. While at Ottawa he had spoken to the Government and he was glad that he had been promised a mill near his reserve. He had now to take his grain 150 miles to be ground and bring the grist 150 miles back to the reserve. A large quantity of it was used in these journeys, and he was pleased to have the promise of a mill. He was also glad that he was promised better educational advantages for his people. He referred to the impressions made by his visit, and closed by assuring them of his friendship.

During the evening the Chiefs, Mr. Stienhaur and Mr. McDougall sang a hymn in the Indian language. A collection was also taken up to assist in defraying the expenses of their journey.

The Rev. B. B. KEEFER announced that after the close of the meeting the Chiefs would hold a reception.

The meeting was concluded with the National Anthem and the benediction, and the Indians shook hands with a large number of those present, and also disposed of a number of photographs of themselves in a group.

IN SESSION.

The Young Men's Christian Association District Conference.

Thursday afternoon the District Conference of the Y. M. C. A. was opened in the Association hall, the delegates being T. W. Wilkie, Toronto, representing the International Committee; Wm. McCulloch, secretary, Toronto; W. Craig, Port Hope; Rev. Dr. McTavish, W. J. King, R. M. Anderson and S. Smyth, Lindsay.

Mr. McCulloch was appointed chairman and Mr. W. J. King secretary of the conference.

Mr. W. W. Johnston read a paper prepared by Mr. G. A Khuring, of Ottawa, which was liberally discussed by the meeting. Mr. King reported from the Lindsay Association, and received many valuable suggestions from the other associates.

The evening session was opened by devotional exercises, Rev. Dr. McTavish in the chair. A short service of song then followed. "Personal Work" was the subject of an excellent paper by Mr. McCulloch, exorting the young men to personal work, and showing the grand results of a single man's work. Mr. W. Emerson, of Toronto, read a paper, "Duties and Responsibilities of Committees," going over the ground fully, suggesting many ways of counteracting the efforts of the enemies of the cause. A discussion of this subject followed. The meeting then adjourned until Friday morning at 9.30.

The Temperature.

The following are the readings of the thermometer to-day at the hours mentioned:—8 o'clock, 61; 1 o'clock, 70; 3 o'clock, 72.

Formal Reception.

A formal reception was tendered on Thursday evening to Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Lech, on their return home from their wedding tour, at Eylau Villa, the residence of Mr. W. Lech. A large number of their friends met them and the evening passed quickly and delightfully away.

Hotel Extension.

Ground has been broken in the rear of the Commercial Hotel for the erection of a two storey brick building, 80x25 feet, to be used as a part of the hotel. The first flat will be used as a bowling alley, and the second will be divided into fifteen bedrooms. The building will cost about $1,600.

An Accident.

On Thursday Dr. O'Sullivan went to Keene and was returning in the evening by the Grand Junction railway. At Hilliard's he got off to take a short way home. After reaching Hilliard's the train backed down towards the Bethune street station and the doctor was coming along the railway track after it. While walking along the headlight of the engine suddenly shone into his face with such strength as to completely dazzle him, and in making a false step he fell over and down a slight grade. He received a very severe shock, so severe that he was unable to walk home without assistance. It was found on examination that two ribs, at least, on the left side were broken. To-day the doctor is much easier than he was last night.

FARMERS, WHAT THINK YOU OF IT?

Association with criminals is likely to induce criminality, and this seems to be the case with the Globe. This Rielite organ now comes out plainly as the advocate of the robbery of all Canadian land owners, of the confiscation of all property in land. We will let the Globe speak for itself. It says:—

"Did a nation become convinced that the land should be nationalized, its Legislature might decree that private property in the soil should absolutely cease at the end of a stated period, say fifty years, proprietors out living that time to remain in possession till their death. This could do no injustice whatever. The value of land to any holder would continue unchanged for many years; then, gradually, the private interest would fall away, and the state enterest increase."

It will be observed that the Globe speaks hypothetically of a nation resolving on such a course of robbery of individual landowners. But it does its best to persuade our nation so to resolve; it strongly advocates its dishonest scheme and urges to the best of its ability the adoption of this wholesale depredation. If the nation should determine to take possession of the land, retrograding to the the level of the Cossack the Hindoo or the Sioux, civilized nations having all abandoned this policy, the only honest course would be to purchase the rights of existing landowners. There would be no honesty in confiscating their freehold, even if in exchange a fifty years' lease were given. Not even compensation for the difference in value between the freehold and the lease would remove the injustice, if it were made compulsory, and the Globe plainly avows that it would pay mighty little compensation.

What do our landowners think of this proposition of the Globe to rob them of their property? Our agriculturalists, the greatest industry of our country, are with few exceptions freeholders, and the Globe would rob every farmer in Canada of his farm. It is true that for his life the Globe would kindly leave him in possession, but he could not bring up his son to succeed him, and in his old age he could not sell his land, for his right in it would be valueless. Even the occupancy would be of little value to himself when old age had enfeebled him, for his son would have gone off to some business not threatened with confiscation, and no farming could be conducted profitably when the death of an old man would mean the confiscating of the farm.

How many settlers have come to this country because they knew they could become landowners. How many a man has hewn a farm out of the forest, or has left home and friends in the older Provinces to start on a farm in the Northwest in the hope that by his labor and self-denial he would be ensuring a provision for his children, whom the Globe would rob as soon as the breath had left his body. What an inducement to become a farmer, to buy land or to reduce it with arduous toil from a wilderness into a state of cultivation. Such a robbery, so wholesale and unjustifiable was surely never argued before in a civilized community by a pretender to the slightest honesty.

And the dishonesty of the Globe is almost equalled by its stupidity. Pray of what value would these farms be when confiscated in fifty years? If a man knew that his horse was to be stolen from him in fifty days, would it be worth much then? Would it not be worked to its utmost, and fed little above the starvation point, unless from aversion to make it suffer, a consideration which would not come into play in the case of the farm? So in regard to the confiscated land, would it not be left to the robbers worked out and starved? It would be so likely that the farmer with robbery staring him in the face would plant an orchard, drain a field or do anything with a new to future crops. The absurdity is obvious.

Canadians are not a nation of robbers, as the Globe seems to think, so there is not the slightest fear of its iniquitous advice being followed. But its mere proposition is mischievous in the extreme. We are trying to induce settlement to our extensive but sparsely peopled territories, and the greatest inducement we can hold out to a settler is the prospect of owning a fertile farm, of acquiring the freehold of a portion of our rich land. Yet on the authority of a leading Canadian journal he is told that there is a proposition to rob him or his son of the land to obtain which he crossed the ocean. How is he to know that the Globe is in its dotage, and that its criminal drivellings have no weight with honest Canadians.

THE FACTORY ACT.

THE following paragraph from the Brockville Recorder is a sample of the way in which Reform papers are trying to mislead the people in reference to the Factory Act:—

"The Minister of Justice and the Tory papers are quiet disingenuous in connection with the Ontario Factory bill. They know quite well that Hon. Mr. Mowat is powerless under the statute to do what they suggest he would do—test its constitutionality before the court. Their masters at Ottawa are acting like the dog in the manger. They won't pass a Dominion act and they won't allow the Provincial to go into effect."

The Minister of Justice and the Tory papers (so far as we are aware) have not suggested that Mr. Mowat should test the constitutionality of the Ontario Factory Act, and the Dominion Government has not prevented the Act from going into effect. The Mowat Government, and the Mowat Government alone, prevents the Act passed by the Legislature at their instance from going into effect. It is true that Mr. Mowat asked the Dominion Government to dispute the constitutionality of the Act, but that Government did not accept the invitation, and the Provincial authorities are at liberty to bring the act into effect at once, as they could have done before this, and should have done if they, when they caused it to be passed by the Legislature, believed it to be necessary.

The position of the Mowat Government is a most peculiar one. They have stormed against Sir John Macdonald for interfering with Provincial legislation, and they now wish him to interfere with their legislation and denounce him because he does not. They caused a bill to be passed by the Legislature on the ground that its provisions were required for the benefit of the community, and they prevent the act from becoming law. Mr. Mowat has been pronounced by his partisans a great authority on constitutional law, yet they now claim that he does not know whether this act is ultra vires or not.

The Ontario Government's course in this matter has been tricky, their present position is unmanly, and the untruths of their organs will not help them.

LARGE FIRE IN TORONTO.

Wholesale Grocery and Liquor Warehouse and Other Buildings Destroyed.

TORONTO, Sept. 24.—About three o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the wholesale grocery and liquor warehouse of Davidson & Hay, formerly Fitch & Davidson, 36 Yonge street. A general alarm was quickly sounded, but when the brigade arrived on the scene it was evident that the warehouse and its contents ware doomed to destruction. They, however, worked with a will, and after three hours succeeded in getting it under control and prevented the fire spreading to adjoining buildings. The stock, valued at about $120,000, is a total loss. It was insured for about $70,000 in the Western, Ætna, Hartford, British, Scotish, Imperial, Lancashire and other companies. The building, which is owned by J. C Fitch, is almost totally destroyed. Mr. Fitch is at present in Europe, and the value or insurance on the building cannot be ascertained. The origin of the fire is wrapped in mystery. Much sympathy is expressed for the firm, two partners being both young men. Mr. Davidson is a son-in-law and Mr. Hay a son of Robert Hay, M. P. The firm of Goulding & Co, milliners, No. 38, state that their stock has been damaged by water and smoke to the extent of between five and ten thousand dollars. Bryce, McMurrich & Co., wholesale dry goods, No. 34, have also sustained a slight loss. The loss by the fire cannot be less than $150,000.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S MEDAL.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—Dr. Tassie's letter to you of yesterday's date speaks for itself; the spirit which has actuated him in his treatment of the boy Haultain will, by it, be more apparent than ever to the public at large. Not only has he sought publicly to belittle this boy's work but now he descends to blacken the fair character of a deserving, and as all who know him will testify, a most inoffensive lad. Mr. Editor, courtesy restrains me from designating this conduct in the language it deserves. I leave it to a discerning and a justice loving public to make its own conclusions. That is sufficient for me. Even if the boy were the most reprobate pupil in the school, the veriest child who has a sense of right and wrong would at a glance see that he couldn't forfeit the medals which his examinations had earned, and here I again repeat that if 100 medals were given for one object, the boy who gained one would in justice be entitled to the whole hundred—if because of the apparent "unreasonableness" of such a thing the remaining medals were distributed to others then there would be 99 boys wearing honors that they never earned.

That Dr. Tassie should pretend to know the "divers reasons" which led me to take this boy from his Latin classes is too absurd to notice: but if he would seek to persuade the public that he himself had expelled him from these classes, then to that I give the most emphatic denial. This withdrawing from the classes would appear to have been the head and front of the boy's offending.

That the boy Haultain is a "specialist" is a new idea—that one who takes up all the subjects of the examinations and passes in them, can be called a "specialist" is what I am unable to comprehend—but if he be a "specialist" in mathematics then the other boy is a "specialist" in the "Moderns" Department.

And now I have to mention that this boy Haultain, at the commencement of this discussion when the Burnham medal "presented to the student ranking highest in proficiency" had been forwarded to him by direction of the chairman, applied of his own accord to the Register of the Toronto University requesting to be furnished with his own marks and with those of Armstrong's, that he might ascertain for himself who was justly entitled to the medal; the Register in reply informed him that he was not at liberty to divulge to any one the marks of any of the candidates; but to a later enquirer on this same point this official stated that the only way to decide proficiency prizes is for the Board to refer it to him and that he would make out, on the University basis, who is entitled to the medal. It is to be hoped that our School Board in the interests of justice will see it to be their duty to act upon this suggestion and not to be led by the opinion or judgment of any man, whatever his reputation may be, who has not access to the only basis upon which a sound and just conclusion can be arrived at, and further, that in the future the Board will see that pupils competing for medals will be made clearly to understand for what object they are given, and upon what basis—the basis of the university or that of the Principal—they are to be awarded.

In conclusion, it must be a matter of perfect indifference to the public at large, as it is to myself, what boy gains the medal, but it is justice that we seek for, and justice that we demand; I am contending for nothing else.

I am, dear sir,
Yours faithfully,
F. M. HAULTAIN.

HOME RULE.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—From the remarks of Mr. J. B. McWilliams the chairman, at the Loyalist meeting, last evening, in introducing the delegates, and from the report of the speech published in the Examiner and the fact of his having subscribed to the Gladstone (Home Rule) Fund I and others are in doubt as to, on which side of this great "Home Rule" question Mr. McWilliams is, and we will be obliged to him if he will openly declare his position, that is as to whether he is for or against "Home Rule." I am sure you will only be too pleased to allow hm space in your paper for the purpose.

THE IRISH QUESTION.

REASONS ADDUCED BY MR. GEO. HILL SMITH

Why Mr. Parnell Should not be Allowed to hold Parliament in Dublin—A Motion.

Mr. SMITH was next introduced. He said that the position his colleague occupied was different from his own. The difference he would explain. The Loyalists of Ireland were those who sought to maintain the integrity of the Empire on the broad grand and true principles of patriotism. This association was hampered by no party lines whatever. His colleague occupied a distinguished position belonging to a distinct body. He was not a member of that body. So far as he was concerned he desired simply the welfare of the country while being loyal to the Queen and constitution. The people here had doubtless heard much about what was popularly known as the Irish question. On this question he desired to advance arguments in a straightforward manner and then let it rest with the reason and judgment of his hearers to reject or accept what he had said. Let them together examine this question and see whether on what the Home rulers based their claims rested on a solid foundation. When Gladstone introduced his bill he said that 84 Parnellite members represented three-fourths of the people of Ireland, and Home Rule being the demand of that people their demand was entitled to consideration. That the Parnellites represented the Irish people has been reiterated again and again and it was on this principally that Mr. Gladstone based his right to accede to the wishes of the Parnellites. He thought he was able to show the people listening to him that the 84 Parnellite members did not represent three-fourths of the Irish people, nor one-half, nor one-quarter, not anyone, in fact, but Charles Stewart Parnell. He could prove it. It was the custom for candidates for parliamentary honors to issue an address to their constituents setting forth what stand on questions of the day they would take. The position of the Parnellites was simply this: The question of Home Rule had been more or less mooted. Some indications of a change in front on Mr. Gladstone's part had come to them and they went to the country without issuing a word of an address. The people voted on no issue except that of the last elections, when the candidates expressed themselves in favor of establishing the Irish tenantry on a free soil. Even the Ulster tenantry when appealed to from a selfish and sordid point of view—for they were but human after all—went over to the old Land Leaguers .This was the last issue the people of Ireland voted on. Then what right had the Parnellites with their new programme to say that they represented ¾ of the people of Ireland on this question when not a member addressed a word about it to his constituents. The Freeman's Journal also made this point clear by declaring that the elections were not contested on a clean issue,and it was the intention to raise side issues to carry elections. Did this look as if Parnell represented ¾ of the people on this single question? It had been said that the Irish were a down trodden race, controlled by laws not in operation in other places, and that their enterprise was hampered. It would be a good thing if this emancipation would commence with the members of the Irish Parliamentary party. While they talked of slavery they themselves in entering that party signed a pledge to vote with that party and that if the party decided that he was lax in his duties he would resign his seat. They talked about slavery when they themselves entered Parliament with manacles on their limbs more degrading and disgracing than any fetters which bound the blackest negro in the times of slavery. With all their talk about freedom they signed away freedom of thought, action and motion. In a bye election, Mr. Lynch, a Roman Catholic gentleman who had resided in the place all his life and whose family lived there before him, was chosen by the National League as candidate in preference to Mr. Healy. Mr. Biggar and others came down and exalted Mr. Lynch and belittled Mr. Healy. When Parnell heard of the selection, however, he said, "this must not be; Healy is the man." Forthwith Mr. Biggar and others turned tail at the bidding of Parnell and went off to Dublin. In due time Mr. Healy was elected. The Parnellites represented nobody but Parnell himself. Mr. Biggar himself was reported in the Freeman's Journal as saying that the Nationalists were elected to do Mr. Parnell's bidding. They represented not even themselves. But he would just now suppose that they did represent three-fourth of the Irish. He would answer that to dispute Mr. Gladstone's position. If in a family of six,four asked for a certain thing and two were against granting it, should not the parent of these children use discretionary powers? Should he not examine and see if any hurt would come to the minority of two? Was Mr. Gladstone bound to give Ireland Home Rule because the majority asked for it—a Home Rule that would involve complete separation from Great Britain. This is what the Parnellites were striving for. If it were denied, he asked what their programme is. Michael Davitt did not leave them in the dark on that point. The platform, he said, adopted and occupied by the Parnellites was one which embodied all the measures agitated for since the time of the union. This was broad. Like a reverend gentleman giving out the 119th Psalm as his text. However, he would examine this platform. First O'Connel agitated for a repeal of the union. Then the young Irishmen agitated for the expulsion of the British from Irish soil. Next the Fenians agitated for a republic. Next the Invincibles wanted to give the Irish soil to Irishmen. There was in this Parnellite platform then (1) repeal of the union, (2) the expulsion of the British from Irish soil, (3) the setting up of an Irish republic, (4) the giving of Irish soil to Irishmen. Perhaps the Rev. Dr. Burns would say that this did not involve complete separation, and that Home Rule meant only linking Ireland to England in a bond of love. But what was this giving of Irish soil to Irishmen? Who was Irish? Joe. Biggar enlightened him on the definition of that term. Joe Biggar says that a man is not an Irishman unless he was a Roman Catholic. He had thought his colleague and himself were Irish, but according to Joe Biggar that was a delusion. He thought himself Irish for two reasons: first, because his mother was Irish, and second, because he could trace his lineage to the time when a little event occurred at the Boyne and a 100 years before that. Joe Biggar himself was not a Roman Catholic until he was twenty-three, and up to that time what in the name of goodness was he? A Mermaid? But this Parnellite party aimed at separation. Parnell declared so in his Cincinnati speech. The representatives of the Nationalists who went to the Chicago Convention, after congratulating the chairman, Mr. Peter Fitzgerald, on being the worst Fenian in the country went on to say that if he had his way he would sacrifice every Englishman that set foot on Irish soil. This did not look like loyalty to the Queen and constitution. He gave the opinions of Bright and Chamberlain on the Parnellite party, and even Mr. Gladstone, at one time, declared that they were men steeped to the lips in treason. Gladstone's measure was one that would practically set up an independent Parliament in Dublin under Mr. Parnell's rule. He called on the Canadian people to help them to stem this tide. The cloud which was looming up in the east would surely spread over and darken the west if not dispelled. The darkness of the Irish would mean in time the darkness of the people of Canada. When told that the Irish were a down trodden people they might reply that it was a down right thumping lie. The Irish were as free as the English or Scotch. It was said that the Irish were over taxed. What were the Imperial taxes per head in England £2 18s. 2d., Scotland, £2 7s. 8.in Ireland £1.12.04. Besides this the appropriations made for Irish public works was out of all proportion larger than those in Great Britain considering population and revenue. Coercion was complained of. What did the term mean. Simply compelling refactory people to obey the law. The law had no terrors but for evil doers. He had lived in Ireland for 53 years and had never yet been coerced. What the loyal people of Ireland, the law abiding people, wanted was the integrity of the Empire. Who could tell what would be the influence on India if it was bruited that England was compelled to yield to Ireland. The Loyalists of Ireland would not submit to be ruled by Charles Stewart Parnell. He appealed to the people to express their sentiments on this question with no small voice. If they thought it was dangerous to permit the Parnellite Parliament to sit in Dublin he wanted them for to declare so and to give them moral support in their struggle. He appealed to the honest consciences of men to aid in preserving the unity of the great Empire which they formed a part; and he prayed to the King of Kings and God of Gods that it would never suffer dissolution. (Applause.)

The Rev. I. TOVELL said that a motion had been placed in his hands and he would move it as follows: "This meeting assembled hereby places on record its uncompromising opposition to everything which would tend to dismember the integrity of the British Empire, and hereby tenders its hearty support and loyal co-operation in all lawful measures taken in preserving the same. This meeting also expresses the earnest conviction that some remedial legislation is desirable in order to mitigate the condition of part, at least, of the Irish people, and thereby consolidate the affections and sympathies of all loyal and patriotic British subjects throughout the globe, and is confident that out of the wisdom, honor and justice of this great Empire will be found a true and peaceful solution of the Irish problem. This meeting further desires to sincerely thank the Rev. Dr. Kane and Mr. Geo. Hill Smith, delegates sent from the loyal anti-Repeal Union of Ireland, for their very able and instructive addresses, and to express our hearty approval of every constitutional method adopted in striving to maintain the Empire in its entirety." The rev. gentleman said that he would have liked to see one of some others on the platform move the resolution—men who were wrapt up in the political interests of this country and who, doubtless, were well acquainted with those of the Old. He referred to Messrs. Carnegie and Stevenson. However, as this resolution embodied his own sentiments he took pleasure in moving it. He did not fear in the least that the British Empire would be dismembered. The grand old flag which had floated for so many hundred years would still float unsullied. He looked forward to a peaceful subsidence of the agitation in Ireland.

The Rev. MR. TORRANCE seconded the motion, and it was carried unanimously.

Mr. MCWILLIAMS said that although a correspondent of the REVIEW had tried to throw cold water on this meeting by saying that there was too much Orangism mixed with it he was going to mix a little more. He would introduce Bro. Johnston, Grand Master of Eastern Ontario.

Bro. JOHNSTON said that at this late hour he would not make a speech. He had, however, a little insight into Land Leagueism. In a part of Ireland where Dr. Kane was not popular he saw a Land League demonstration, and of all the rif-raf, rag-tag and bob-tail, scruff and scrum he ever saw it was in that procession. On one of the banners he saw the motto "God Save Ireland." He said to a bystander that such a motto was rather objectionable. "Not at all sur," was the reply, "only it isn't finished, 'from the likes of us' should be tagged on the end." He believed that if it were not for these agitations the South would be in as good a condition as the prosperous North. He added that those wishing to contribute to the support of the Loyalist movement might leave donations with either Mr. McWilliams or Mayor Stevenson.

Mr. MCWILLIAMS said that he had in his hand a number of replies to invitations which it would take to long to read. He was glad to see that at least one of the members of Parliament had the backbone to take a seat on this platform. He referred to Mr. Carnegie.

The Rev. Dr. KANE returned thanks and after the band had played "God Save the Queen," the meeting dispersed.

CHAPTER XI.

JENNY CONFESSES.

In Mr. Strangfield's yard brisk business was doing. On stages round the skeleton hulls workmen were sending up a clang of saw and hammer. He walked sedately about, his hands clasped behind him, pausing often, and challenging the men's work with eyes which they had good reason to believe could see through an oak plank. He rebuked no jest, he was deaf to songs; but if ever a hint of scamping showed itself, in front of the sinner he stopped, and stared at him, immovable, with face of wood, which method of correction was as effectual as storming in immediate efficacy, and in the long run more prodigal in good results.

Indoors, in the same sitting room in which we have sat with Mr. and Mrs. Strangfield, Jenny was at work on a gown, which, you know, in that age had short sleeves, and a waist just under the bosom, and a brave breast opening for the divulgence of sweet secrets. This was a gown that Jenny herself had made, and toiled at with love and smiles and many a soft whisper; for it was to be put aside to furnish, with other work of her pretty fingers, her wifely equipment when Cuthbert should take her home.

But as she sat over it now she would leave her needle in the stuff, while her chin sank into the hollow of her hand, and her dreamy eyes looked out through the open window upon the people in the market place.

There was trouble enough to sadden her.

First of all, her father had not spoken to her that morning; with a sullen aversion of head he had declined her kiss, and with an iron manner turned from her.

Then her mother was peevish and short, irritated by the alarmed curiosity which Jenny refused to gratify, and wagging her head at her for an obstinate wench.

In pensive posture was she musing when her mother came actively into the room, with skirt tucked up for kitchen work, and face red with scolding and serious cooking.

To milder natures than Mrs. Strangfield's —and truly mild was hers—has the "general servant," or maid of all work, as that age termed the Thing, proved a steady vexation; and there was no more obliging, idle, willing, neglectful, tearful and ignorant slut in Greystone than the Polly Baggs who "did" (in several senses) for the Strangfields.

"There's no trusting the creature a moment!" cried Mrs. Strangfield, leaving the door open that her voice might carry to the kitchen, and making Jenny a mere excuse for a parenthetical attack on Polly. "Will you believe it!—the knives are not yet cleaned; the slattern hath left your father's new boots all night in the scullery; and not a bedroom touched."

"Still a dreaming!" she exclaimed to Jenny, "Wrapt with Polly's sinful idleness and thy moping face and dreadful swooning, I scarce know which end of me is upright. Tell me now, Jenny, if—well, well, say yes if I am right, then. Was it not Mr. Shaw whom you cried out about in the bedroom!"

The girl turned her pretty eyes upon her mother, and answered under her breath, "Why should it be Mr. Shaw, mother!"

"Nay, nay, it was—I see it in your face!" called Mrs. Strangfield, with a little burst of triumph. Jenny was silent. "Tell me it was—tell me it was. I shall not be angry, Jenny."

"It was," replied Jenny.

"Now, Jenny," continued Mrs. Strangfield, leaning forward in her eagerness, "tell me in two little words, what is there between thee and him!"

"Mother, I told father last night that you and he shall be answered, but not by me!"

"By whom, then, Jenny!" said Mrs. Strangfield, coaxingly. "See, my dear, I am not angry; I do but want the truth. Your father is in a bad way because of your stubbornness. Mr. Shaw is a pleasing young gentleman, and the Lord forbid that I should quarrel with a man of his quality for—for—" Here was a long pause, and then insinuatingly, "Now wilt thou not help me, Jenny!"

"Mother, mother, is it fair to press me in this way!" responded Jenny, with a bewildered look, yet with something like spirit quivering in her mouth. "Neither you nor father will bide. He has not heard me, and yet he judges. How cold and hard was he to me this morning! Oh, mother, I have a secret—it will make him angry, and I fear him! I have not courage to tell it myself, but it shall be told you. Oh, be sure, ther, you shall know it."

And now speaking thus, more fully than mere thinking could realize for her, did she feel the secret shiver and bitter fear that made her crave for Cuthbert's presence and support when the moment of disclosure or discovery should arrive.

Somehow, it had become a habit with her to believe that when the secret was told to her father, he, in his deep wrath, would turn her from the house—a notion built by her terror on the fierce severity of his judgments on human weaknesses.

And of this conviction, intolerable to her when seized with sense of loneliness, the pain and shame and misery were only to be mitigated to her imagination by her resolve to hold her tongue until Cuthbert was beside her; that, should her father drive her from his roof, her husband's hand would be in her's.

Mrs. Strangfield stared at her as a stranger might.

Of this lovable child of hers—this sweet and placid girl, whose pure soul workings had been heretofore as plainly figured in her lovely face as clock work shows in a crystal box—she on a sudden could make neither head nor tail; for a virtuous and holy reason, indeed! that no question of her child's honor could arise.

The fall of the moon or the drying up of the sea sooner than such a thing.

And not hitting upon a secret marriage, what, then, could remain but love! which, to be hugged as a mystery; to hold the tongue obstinate, to set a body swooning, altogether passed her simple understanding.

No wonder, therefore, was she puzzled and stared with perplexity.

With her honest wits at work she tried her hand at a solution.

"If you are in love with Mr. Shaw, and letting him court you slyly, your father will certainly be angry when he hears of it; because he does not like under dealing in man or woman, and would think it unpardonable in thee, who shouldst know better. But this I may say, child, that though I should agree with your father in thinking ill of a secret love, I would not allow him to say too much to you, nor set his face against the young man. You are fit to be a gentleman's wife, as I have told him over and over, and if you will just own all to me, Jenny, I'll break it to him as his wife should know how, and the rest will be easy, my dear. I am not averse to Mr. Shaw—quite the contrary; though what his father will say is another matter. But, then, 'tis no business of ours. Young Mr. Shaw is a handsome youth, and not accountable for his father. Indeed, if he truly loves you, he will attend chapel, which would win thy father's heart. You needn't smile. I have heard of a man turning Hebrew Jew to marry, and if a man can deny the Lord for love of a wench, surely Mr. Shaw may easily become a Baptist."

LINDSAY.

ACCIDENT.—On Sunday last a little girl about 5 years old named Snyder fell from a second flat window on Kent street striking on her head and was badly bruised.—Warder.

G. T. R. REPAIR SHOPS.—Local Master of Constuction Rainsford has admitted that the G. T. R. authorities are considering—in fact have almost decided to build at Lindsay—an engine-house capable of housing fifteen locomotives, besides affording room for some of the repairing machinery. The style of engine-shed known as a "round-house" is going out of fashion, being inconvenient for the purposes in view and affording no factilities whatever for removing engines in case the building takes fire. It is proposed to build the new engine-house at or near the railway property south of the round-house and lay down suitable switches to and from the building. Covering all the house would be about 250x50 ft. with three lines of rails inside. The company hint that exemption from taxes on the building would be a concession that would be esteemed, while they have the alternative of placing the house to the south outside the town limits. What say you gentlemen of the council? Post.

Fluid Lightning does not take a day or an hour to remove Neuralgia, Headache, Toothache, Lumbago or Rheumatism, but will do it instantly, and without carrying your head in a poultice for a day or using greasy liniments. Try a 25c. bottle from J. McKee. Druggist.

Mayor Wilson, of Napanee, and Dr. Meacham, of Odessa, were on Thursday nominated by the Liberal-Conservatives of Lennox as their condidates for the Dominion and Ontario Legislatures respectively.

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS.—Ther is now being manufactured here an article for instantly removing pain of any acute external nature, and it is certainly the most perfect cure for neuralgia, Headache, Toothache and the like that has ever been tried. It is called Fluid Lightning, from the rapid manner in which it acts, and is manufactured by McGregor & Parke. Sold in Peterborough by J. McKee, Druggist.

Two thousand applications for domestic servants have been received this season by the immigration agent for the Kingston district, most of which have been unfilled owing to the small number of girls coming out this season.

Fluid Lightning is simply a nervous Rheumatic Remedy. I was for two months a cripple, unable to get out of the house from Sciatica. One bottle gave me instant relief, and placed me on my feet again. I have driven fourteen miles to-day (something I could not possibly have done were it not for Fluid Lightning) for the express purpose of procuring another bottle. So says Wm. Dixon, Gananoque. Only 25 cents per bottle at J. McKee's.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Hall's VEGETABLE SICILIAN Hair Renewer.

Hall's Hair Renewer restores gray hair to its original color; makes the scalp white and clean; cures dandruff and humors; prevents the hair from falling out, and renders it soft and brilliant. The editor of the "Ocean Foam," Cape May, writes: "We speak knowingly, when we assert that Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is the best of its kind. The article is an elegant and cleanly one, without which we think no toilet complete." Thos. D. Jones, Middle Granville, N. Y., writes: "I have used

Hall's Hair Renewer,

Renewer about ten years, with satisfactory results." E. G. Perkins, Oberlin, Ohio, writes: "I consider Hall's Hair Renewer the best hair preserver in use. I have used it for the past twenty years, and my hair is in as vigorous and healthy a condition as when I was 30 years of age. Not a sign of gray hair to be seen anywhere." Dwight L. Chamberlain, Oakland, California, writes: "My hair, which was nearly white, has been restored to its original color and luxuriance by the use of Hall's Hair Renewer."

The advance of time is heralded by bleached, thin, and falling hair. By the use of Hall's Hair Renewer, the hair may be restored to its original color, lustre, and vitality. M. N. Johnson, Fitchburg, Mass., writes: "My hair was weak, thin, and full of dandruff. Hall's Hair Renewer has removed the dandruff, and caused a vigorous growth of new hair." Abel H. Smith, Portsmouth, Va., writes: "My hair had nearly all fallen out, and that which was left was dry and dead. I used one bottle of Hall's Hair and now rejoice in the possession of hair as abundant as ever." E. J. Adams, St. Paul, Minn., writes: "A diseased scalp caused my hair to fall out, and, after using a number of preparations without avail, I finally tried Hall's Hair Renewer, which caused a vigorous new growth. I am still using it, and could ask for no better results." Mrs. R. H. Corning, Battle Creek, Mich., writes: "By the use of Hall's Hair Renewer, my head, which was quite bald, has been covered with a fine growth of young hair."

DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

Topics of Interest to Y. M. C. A. Members Under Discussion.

FRIDAY MORNING SESSION.

A short thanksgiving service was engaged in, when on motion of Mr. King seconded by Mr. Wilkies, Mr. Craig was appointed Chairman.

Mr. M. HENSMAN, of Port Hope,then read a paper by J. F. Clarke entitled "What Can an Association do in Small Towns," showing many of the advantages derived from these institutions. Mr. Wilkie then gave his ideas as to how work should be carried on in small towns, and thought that variety in the meetings would tend to excite interest. A general discussion followed.

"The duty of the Association to the Provincial Committee," by Dr. Budge, Montreal, read by the Secretary of the Peterborough Association, occupied the attention of the Conference for a few minutes, explaining the connection between the two and soliciting their co-operation.

The most important question of the Conference was then taken up, "How to promote purity among young men," and was generally discussed. Mr. Wilkie, who has studied this subject closely, taking the most active part. Conference then adjourned to meet at 2.30.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

After the usual introductory devotional services, Rev. Mr. St. Dalmas gave an interesting bible reading. Rev. Dr. McTavish followed in an address on "How can we Strengthen the ties of Church Membership on the Part of Young Men." The Rev. Dr. expressed the view that one cause of the young men being so distant was the repetition of the same old stereotyped ceremonies, which had not life enough for the young men.

Mr. Wilkie then followed with an essay on "Evangelistic services in the Y. M. C. A.," showing how they could be conducted and the results which would almost certainly follow.

A paper by Secretary Brewster, of Owen Sound, entitled "What can our Association do for the young men in the neighboring country district," was read by Mr. King. The practibility of the views contained being considered, Mr. Williams thanked the delegates from other Association for their attendance and assistance during the Conference.

The Session and Conference was then brought to a close by the Rev. Mr. Trotter, of Port Hope, pronouncing the benediction.

The Finest lot of Gent's Furnishings in Peterborough at ANDREW MCNEIL'S.

The young people who read the REVIEW will be interested to learn that the Rev. F. H. Wallace will prrach a special sermon in the Charlotte Street Methodist Church to young people on the subject of "Reading." This sermon, Mr. Wallace says, is the first of a series which he intends preaching on kindred subjects.

HOME RULE.

THE subject of Home rule is exciting great interest, [illegible] discussing the question much confusion arises from the different meanings attached to the words. Those who are advocates of Mr. Gladstone's proposals, either as final or as an instalment of larger demands, are in the habit of speaking of those who cannot see with Mr. Gladstone's eyes as being opposed to Home Rule. This is by no means the case, especially in Canada, for our people having experienced the advantages of local management of local affairs, naturally look upon this system as being good for other portions of the empire and would gladly see it adopted. At the same time the great majority of the people of Canada, being proud both of their Dominand of their position as an integral part of the British Empire, having no sympathy with seccession as advocated by some Nova Scotians or with independence as advocated by some Canadians, are far from favouring any Home Rule that would amount or lead to separation or disintegration. By their constitutional representative in the Dominion House of Commons the people of Canada have more than once expressed these views.

This is we are convinced the preponderating opinion of Canadians, those who hold it far outnumbering those who on the one hand favor disintegration and on the other hand would deny local management of local affairs to other portions of the Empire. The position of the great body of the people of Canada on this question is not unintelligible and a few instances may illustrate their views in this matter. They believe in the Home Rule of the Provinces in the Dominion of Canada, but not in Mr. Fielding's Home Rule for Nova Scotia. They believe in the Home Rule of the United States, but not in Jefferson Davis's Home Rule for the Confederate States. They do not believe in the Home Rule of the Australian Colonies with their right to treat each other as separate powers, but in such Home Rule as a Confederation like our own would give them. They do not believe in Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule for Ireland, but they do believe in such Home Rule as will be just and acceptable to England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, individually and collectively. We have repeatedly and long since expressed ourselves in favour of such a measure. Its details must be left to the wisdom of the statesmen of the three kingdoms and the principality. We believe that they can and will be arranged in a satisfactory manner, and our hope that this result may not be deferred, we feel convinced is shared by the great mass of the people of Canada.

DR. MCINTYRE is a strong Reformer so he is not likely to be prejudiced against Mr. Blake, and he is a co-director with Dr. Hickey, in the Ottawa & Waddington railway, so he is conversant with the facts, yet he rose at a public meeting to declare the falseness of the charges brought against Mr. Hickey by Mr. Blake, who was not manly enough to meet Dr. Hickey on equal terms in public so that his slander could be exposed to his face.

JOHN CLARKE & SONS' Celebrated Razors, GEORGE STETHEM.

THE LOYALIST DELEGATES.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—In your issue of Saturday appears the conclusion of the report of the meeting in the Opera House on the 23rd inst., and at the close of the meeting, the Chairman, Mr. J. B. McWilliams, County Master, is stated to have said "that he had on hand a number of replies to invitations which it would take too long to read. He was glad to see that at least one of the Members of Parliament had enough back bone to take a seat upon the platform. He referred to Mr. Carnegie." These remarks appear to be uncalled for, except so far as political exigencies required the County Master to endeavor to injure his political opponents. Mine was one of the letters that would have taken too long to read and as it states the reason why I was not upon the platform, I give you a copy of it as follows:—

SEPT. 22nd, 1886.

"DEAR SIR,—I am in receipt of yours of 17th enclosing tickets for 'Orange Addresses,' by Messrs. Kane and Smith on 23rd, and inviting me to seat upon the platform. I have never in my life taken part in a religious party meeting of this description, and I must therefore decline your invitation. If the gentlemen who are to deliver the addresses did so simply as representatives of the Loyalists of Ireland, which includes, as I am informed, both Protestant and Catholic, I should have been pleased to accept the position you invite me to take. I shall, however, attend in the ordinary way and hear these gentlemen's views. Yours, "JOHN BURNHAM

"J. B. McWilliams, County Master."

I attended the meeting and, so far as Dr. Kane's speech is concerned, I am glad that I took the ground I did, as it was Orange enough to answer the description given on the tickets of admission, and I think rather inconsistent. His chief objection to Home Rule was fear of Catholic domination, and to justify it he gave numerous instances of Catholic barbarities to Protestants in times past. At the same time we were informed that he and Mr. Smith represented the Loyal Unionists of Ireland, who included not only Protestants, but a million and a half of Catholics, and he, therefore, distrusts a portion of the people that sent him out as a delegate. Now, these gentlemen came to this country to present their case to the people of Canada generally and not exclusively to the Orange or Protestant portion, and it was not fair or right for Mr. McWilliams to so pack the meeting as to exclude the Catholics. I consider myself, as good a Protestant as Mr. McWilliams and as ready to uphold my faith, but I have too much respect for my Catholic fellow-countrymen to needlessly insult them by being apparently a promoter of a meeting from [illegible] ed by Mr. McWilliams. I certainly have not the backbone Mr. McWilliams must possess when he presides at a meeting to denounce Gladstonian Home Rule when he is a Home Ruler of the most advanced type; and I certainly have not backbone enough, as Mr. McWilliams has, to prepare a resolution, and have it presented to the meeting, so opposed to the views expressed by the delegates, that Dr. Kane was obliged to repudiate it on the spot. But of course when one is trying to ride both the Orange and Catholic horses at once, it is necessary to have pronounced opinions both ways, and I sympathize with the County Master in the difficulty he experiences in performing this acrobatic feat. I may say in conclusion that I consider Mr. Gladstone's proposals go too far and that the best solution of the difficulty could be to grant Ireland a local legislature like our own, with proper safeguards for the protection of the minority, with representation in a Federal Parliament.

Yours truly,
JOHN BURNHAM.

The public anniversary services of the Young Men's Christain Association were held in St. Andrew's Church on Friday evening last. Mr. J. W. Flavelle, the President, occupied the chair, the Rev. Messrs. Torrance, Wallace, Bell, St. Dalmas, and Wilson, and Messrs. T. J. Wilkie, of Toronto, and Geo. E. Williams, Secretary, taking places on the platform. A fair number of members and friends were in attendance. The singing was conducted by a male choir, composed of members of the Association, led by Mr. D. D. Galletly. During the evening they rendered three chourses in such a manner as to win warm praise. After the opening devotional exercises, in which the Rev. E F. Torrance and Rev. J. C. Wilson took part, the General Secretary presented his report of the work of the past year, giving a general review of what had been done. He also read the Treasurer's statement giving the present financial position of the Association. The Finance Committee appointed at the annual meeting one week previous, reported having obtained subscriptions amounting to about $350 towards the deficit. They still need $800 to pay the debt, and carry on the work for the coming year. The chairman, Mr. Flavelle, made a few vigorous remarks, showing the value of the Association to the town, and calling on their friends to sustain it. Mr. T. J. Wilkie, late Secretary of the Brooklyn Association, and now of Toronto, gave an address dwelling on the rise and subsequent growth of the Association, piling up statistics in such a manner that the magnitude of the Young Men's Christian Association was clearly presented to the audience. He also sketched the work done by the Association in a very impressive manner, bringing to the minds of those present the conviction that this work ought to be sustained and constantly increased. After the collection had been taken, as the hour was late the closing hymn was sung and the benediction was pronuced by the Rev. A. Bell

Turnbull's Millinery and Mantle Show Rooms, crowded with novelties, will be opened on Wednesday and Thursday, 29th and 30th of Sept.

THE ROSS-BEACH RACE.

A FRENCH ULTIMATUM.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The French resident at Tamatave has presented to the Malagassy Government an ultimatum demanding the withdrawal of the appendix to the treaty of December 17th, the nullification of the Bank charter, and the concession of unlimited territory for French installations at Diego, Suariez bay. The Hovas have resolved to maintain the appendix. It is reported that the resident is about to leave for France. Trade in Madagascar is much depressed.

CANADA FOR CANADIANS.

PARIS, Sept. 25.—The National, comments on the remarkable display of products of Canadian industry at the Indian and Colonial Exhibition, asks why of the £20,000,000 worth of goods annually exported by Canada, £8,000,000 go to England and only an insignificant portion to France. The article concludes: "Though French feeling is still vigorous in Canada, the business connection of that country with England is too close to be suddenly snapped, but when France is ready to welcome Canadian commerce to such an extent as will compensate Canada for the loss of her English custom there will begin an evolution in that country so dear to France, and whose motto is 'Canada for Canadians.'"

RAILWAY TRAGEDY.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Wordz A. Fischer, who was found on Thursday night in a first class carriage of the London Underground Railway, with his skull crushed, is still alive, but unable to speak. It is not likely he will recover or be able to speak before death. The affair creates a marked sensation, because it is the fourth case within a month of similar mysterious deaths in railways leading from London. The present case is less mysterious than were the others, because the nature of the wounds makes the theory of suicide impossible. Dr. Russell, who was called to attend Mr. Fischer, says: "The railway officials are attempting to show that the injury was caused by Fischer putting his head out at a window. This is impossible, as the window was barred inside in such a way that the man could not get his head out sufficently to strike the side of the tunnel. I think Fischer was stunned by a blow on the temple with a hammer, and then, recovering, stuck his head out at the window to call for aid. The assassin pulled him back and struck him a terrific blow on the forehead with some sharp instrument. Fischer is a German Jew. His mother lives at Hamburg and his brother at Amsterdam. He was a commission dealer for German firms, but was never known to carry much jewellery."

TOLERATION IN SPAIN.

MADRID, Sept. 25.—On Sunday last, the Mayor of Madrid, with a number of policemen, knocked at the door of the British chapel and summoned the clergyman, on pain of imprisonment, to leave the pulpit and the congregation to disperse. When the latter protested the Mayor answered evasively, and pretended that the singing of the congregation disturbed the neighborhood. The same mayor refused to allow the re-opening of the Protestant schools, which were closed for a year during the Conservative regime.

MOONLIGHTERS CAPTURED.

DUBLIN, Sept. 25.—The police captured four more of the moonlighters with whom they had a conflict at Feale Bridge on Thursday night, making eleven prisoners captured from the party already. Every one of the four prisoners just captured is badly wounded with buckshot. All of the eleven have been identified as sons of very respectable Kerry county farmers.

ENGLAND'S AIM.

VIENNA, Sept. 22.—There is good authority for the statement that Lord Iddesleigh, the British Foreign Secretary, is trying to effect a reapproachment between Servia, Bulgaria, Greece and Turkey, and hopes that Austria will favor such an alliance, the formation of which is considered possible of uniting against a common invader. It is thought the only serious difficulty will be to get Greece to join the alliance.

RIOTING AT BELFAST.

BELFAST, Sept. 26.—Soon after midnight this morning a crowd assembled and stoned the police in the Shank Hill district. The police were reinforced and dispersed the mob. The attack upon the police was subsequently renewed and the police fired upon the rioters. A young man named David Moore was shot through the lungs and was conveyed to the hospital in a dying condition. Twelve constables were seriously wounded with stones. Many arrests were made.

CENTRAL EXHIBITION

TO BE OPENED BY THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR OF ONTARIO.

A New Building Erected on the Fair Grounds—Railway and Steamboat Arrangements—Prospects of Success.

On Saturday afternoon last a meeting of the Directors of the Agricultural Society was held, at which the final arrangements for the Grand Central Exhibition, to be held on the Agricultural Grounds, Peterborough, on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th, were all completed except some minor points, and everything will be in readiness on the opening day for a large and successful exhibition.

The Exhibition will open on Tuesday, October 5th, and all articles of agricultural, dairy and horticultural produce, ladies' work, fine arts, etc., are to be on the grounds that day. The formal opening by the Hon. John Beverley Robinson,

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR of Ontario, will take place at 2 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. At the meeting on Saturday afternoon the following were appointed to receive the Lieutenant-Governor:—Mr. J. Carnegie, M. P. P.; Mr. John Garbutt, President of the Society; Mr. James Stevenson, Mayor; Messrs. J. R. Stratton and J. B. McWilliams. An address of welcome will be read from the Society, and the Lieutenant-Governor will deliver an address. The Directors also decided to ask the Council and School Board to set apart a on Wednesday afternoon, so that all may take part in welcoming the Lieutenant-Governor and may visit the exhibition.

One advantage which the exhibition directors, exhibitors and spectators will have this year over last is the

which is about completed. It stands near the centre of the ten acre field and presents a good appearance, its appearance being benefitted by the liberal use of glass, by the elevation in the roof over the side doors and by the cupola elevators. The main building is 60 x 36 feet, with two wings 60 x 14 feet. The ground floor covers the whole extent of the building—main building and both wings being in one apartment—giving a room for [illegible] 60 x 84 feet. The first storey is thirteen feet high, and their are eight double doors. Over four of these doors there is a large circular fan light, and about one-third of the side walls is glass, every other sash being on hinges so that they can be opened for ventilating purposes. There are two stairs—one at each end of the building—leading to the second story or

THE GALLERY.

The second story is the full size of the main building, 60x 36 feet, and there is ten feet between the floor and the top of the side walls. The centre of the building in this storey is not floored, leaving a large open space through which a view can be obtained of the ground floor. There is a strong railing around this space. The floors at the sides are ten feet and at the ends twelve feet wide. About two-thirds of the walls are of glass, and there are two cupola ventilators in the roof. The amount of glass used in the building would justify the name of

for this building, and the crystal palace would not be an inappropriate name of the exhibition building in the Crystal City. The erection of the building enabled the Society to offer prizes for ladies' work, works of art, and other classes of exhibits which they could not accommodate last year, and this will give an increased interest to the exhibition. It will also offer better facilities for showing exhibits that last year were displayed under canvas. This building, large as it is, will form a part of the more extensive structure the Society intends to erect. The Society has now

SPLENDID EXHIBITION GROUNDS.

The agricultural grounds proper are about ten acres in extent, but in addition the Society has the use of the excellent Driving park attached to them, which gives them altogether about twenty six acres for exhibition purposes. The horse stalls, ninety-one in number and six, eight and ten feet wide, are on the south side of the agricultural grounds, and there are about 800 feet of sheds on the east side. The office of the Secretary and Treasurer and Board Room, and the ticket office, are on the northeast corner, and the entrance gate is on the north side near the same corner. The horse stalls have a verandah six feet wide in front of them and the upper half of the doors swing upwards, so that the animals can be easily seen. In the Driving Park there is a splendid (as is now widely known)

RACE COURSE.

It is a half mile track and is a perfect one. It is admirably addapted for showing the horses and could not be better for speeding the trotters. There is a large grand stand for spectators at the winning post, as well as the stand for the Judges. The agricultural grounds also contain a band stand and stands for refreshment booths. The latter has been secured for exhibition days by Mr. C. E. Starr.

THE PRIZE LIST.

The prize list is a long and comprehensive one, and includes various kinds of horses, cattle and other animals, poultry, agricultural, dairy products and horticultural products, fine arts, natural history and mineralogy, ladies' work, etc. The prizes are good ones, $2,500 being offered in premiums. FORCED APART.

BY W. CLARK RUSSELL.

Author of the "Wreck of the Grosvenor," "A Sailor's Sweetheart," Etc.

Jenny's smile quickly faded. It seemed easy to say the few words, and if their effect could begin and end in the kind-eyed mother who watched her, long ago would they have been said. But when she thought of her father, her throat grew dry.

In the midst of the silence between them, both actively thinking in wide-parted ways, there fell a substantial knocking on the house door; whereat up jumped Mrs. Strangfield, to see to her cap and gown, and square up all dishevelment, whilst Jenny's heart thumped wildly, and the work fell from her lap to the ground unheeded.

"Now, surely," exclaimed Mrs. Strangfield, "this cannot be Mr. Shaw who should have come last night!" and she looked at Jenny's white face with an air of comical fright, for, loudly as she talked, she was sincerely afraid of Michael.

Presently in floundered dirty Polly Baggs, with the bustling importance a bad servant assumes when she thinks she has something of consequence to deliver.

"Please, missus, you're wanted."

"Who wants me? Did you answer the door with that smut on your nose? Oh, for shame, you baggage! Who is it? Be quick—be quick! Don't you see you're keeping them waiting?"

"It's a gentleman," said Polly, surlily passing the whole length of her arm over her face in pursuit of the smut, which she succeeded in lodging under her eye.

"Well, show him in."

"He axed for master fust."

"Show him in, I say."

Who should appear, bowing gravely, his soft hat under his arm, and his light hair oiled and brushed into a cone, but Dr. Shaw's English master, Mr. Saunderson. Mrs. Strangfield favored him with a swift courtesy, and Jenny also prettily bent her knees, though fear made that an easier job than stiffening them again.

"Pray, sir, take that chair," said Mrs. Strangfield, with fussy politeness. "Do you wish to see Mr. Strangfield? He is in his yard, and shall be called at once, if you please. He hath much business on hand just now—two vessels building, and an order received for one yesterday, and likewise a galley for Mr. Jackson, of Mount Zion."

With much deliberation, undisturbed by Jenny's beauty, at which he flung several respectful, ardent glances, Mr. Saunderson put his hat on the table, divided his coat tails, and sat himself down. That he was in no hurry was easily seen, which very considerably, in Mrs. Strangfield's eyes, heightened the mystery of his visit.

"I am truly glad, madam," said he, "to hear of the flourishing condition of your husband's business, and would on no account have him summoned from his duties. You and your charming daughter will, I am sure, be as fully competent as he to answer the question which has occasioned my intrusion this morning."

"Indeed, sir, we shall be glad to oblige you in any way in our power"

"You are most considerate. I must tell you that Dr. Shaw, of Greystone school, with which academy I am at present associated, is much troubled about his son, Mr. Cuthbert, who, I believe, is known to you?"

This he said interrogatively, looking first at one and then at the other of them. Mrs. Strangfield gave her daughter a quick glance and replied:

"Mr. Shaw is known to me by sight, sir, but I have not the honor of a speaking acquaintance with him."

Mr. Saunderson elevated his eyebrows.

"Why, then," said he, "I have been greatly misinformed. I was told that Mr. Shaw visited here, and was on the most friendly footing with your family;" and he looked at Jenny with a smirk that gave a large meaning to his words.

"Whoever said that spoke what is entirely false!" cried Mrs. Strangfield, indignantly. "Pray, sir, who gave you this piece of news?"

"An old woman named Mead, ma'am, who lives behind the market yonder. I was directed to her as a gossip who has all facts concerning this town at her finger ends. Says she: 'If you are hunting after Mr. Shaw go to Michael Strangfield's house—the wooden house by the boatyard. If they choose to speak they can tell you all you want to know.'"

"Mrs. Mead is a shocking false speaker and is most unbearably impertinent to use our name in answering you. There is no truth in what she hath said. If you seek Mr. Shaw he is not here."

"Still, ma'am, I trusted that you—or you, miss—might know of his whereabouts. Last evening he left his father's house and has not returned. If he has run away he has gone foolishly to work—slyly and foolishly, ladies—for no man has seen him, and he has left with no more clothes to carry than what are on his back. It is idle to suppose that he is dead, for the cliff has been searched and the sands under the cliff, and all about the country we have sent our big boys and some men, and no sign of him visible."

Jenny sat motionless, staring at the speaker with unwinking eyes.

"However," continued he, slowly taking his hat from the table and rising, "it is plain that he is not here, and that you know nothing about him. His loss will be a heavy blow to his father, who had great hopes of him; though, for my part, I cannot help thinking that he kept him too much under, and so forced him, after a manner, to leave his home."

"But what is thought, sir? What doth his father think?" exclaimed Mrs. Strangfield, too much interested to notice the growing strangeness in Jenny's eyes and the singular blanching of her lips.

"Why, Dr. Shaw cannot conceive what has become of him; he is in a bad way, and there is no school kept this morning. Quite a sadness has fallen upon the boys, who talk together in subdued voices; for Cuthbert Shaw was a kind young gentleman, much loved by us all. As to what has become of him, I have my own opinion. Last night, a little before nine, I saw him leave the house, dressed more queerly than ever I had taken notice of in him. Shall I say shabbily dressed? That was it, ma'am. He was undoubtedly annoyed to find me posted at the gate, and addressed me very hurriedly, and was glad to make off. Now, I can put two and two together as well as another; yesterday afternoon it was that he spoke to me of being weary of his life under his father—not precisely those words, Mrs. Strangfield, but his meaning. Now, what would his disappearance represent but the true significance of his language to me?"

Having delivered himself of which, Mr. Saunderson bowed low to Jenny, saluted Mrs. Strangfield and went away, expostulating with the elder lady for coming to the door with him—though politeness was not so much her reason as a resolve to favor him with further views of her own respecting Mrs. Mead before she let him out.

Now, scarce had she re-entered the little sitting room when she uttered a shriek and ran forward to her daughter, whose aspect was one that might well excite a mother's terror. She stood rocking herself at the window, with both hands upon her heart, and her face of the dreadful whiteness of the dead. Mortally wounded she looked, with her languishing eyes.

"Oh, my God! what is this, Jenny?" cried her mother, flinging her arms around her. "Was he so dear to thee, then?"

No answer came from the pale lips for some moments, only hard struggles for breath, with now and again a little moan.

"Oh, Jenny, rest thy poor head on my shoulder! Oh, little hands, how bitterly cold! My lamb, my pretty one—hath he betrayed thee? Why were you not brave to speak out your heart's secret to me? Whisper now, whisper now, that I may comfort thee."

"Mother, I am his wife!" the girl answered, and with a mighty effort overcame the nausea and the darkness of swooning, and drew away from her mother and stood erect.

The Finest lot of Gent's Furnishings in Peterborough at ANDREW MCNEIL'S.

Meeting of the Ladies.

The ladies are going to help the Young Men's Christian Association in their work, and that is a guarantee that the result will be successful. They have a meeting in the Y. M. C. The Brown Memorial.

Sir Fredrick Middleton, Major-General commanding the Canadian Militia, has been invited to unveil the Brown Memorial on the Central Park. It has been intimated that Sir Fredrick intends coming here to inspect the 57th Battalion, and he will, no doubt, during the same visit, perform the duty of unveiling the memorial.

The Exhibition.

Have you been to the Exhibition? No! What exhibition? Why the one that is going on at the Bon Marche. They are selling goods astonishingly cheap. You should go and see for your self and spend a little money in dry goods, groceries etc., before everything is sold out. Can't buy as much in any other place in town for the same money.

An Enterprising Councillor.

Water street, between Antrim and Dublin streets, is being put in first class condition. For the past few days teams hired by the town are drawing gravel from the big excavation being made at the site of Mr. Hall's new block, corner of Dublin and George streets, and before they stop the street in this place, until recently almost impassible, will be made into a capital drive-way. Councillor Rutherford, who is the contractor for the building, is to be credited with engineering this street improvement.

Harvest Festival at St. Luke's.

The annual harvest festival, which is now an established feature in connection with St. Luke's congregation, was held on Friday, and proved an immense success. The day was delightful and all were pleased with the evening, which was spent in the school room. Owing to the improvements now being made in the church, the usual evening service in church was dispensed with, but a celebration of Holy Communion fitly began the day. In the afternoon the ladies held a sale of useful and serviceable articles, all of which met with ready customers. The tables were presided over by Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Orde, Mrs. Bradshaw, Mrs. Jackson and Miss Emma Peck, and the fish pond was in charge of Miss Juliet Orde. A thriving trade was done until the whole of the large quantity of articles was disposed of. From 5 o'clock tea was served by a bevy of young ladies, ably assisted by a number of young gentlemen, and this staff was kept hard at work until nearly nine o'clock. The attendance was very large and the utmost unanimity prevailed, the social features of the gathering being particularly pleasing. The usual abundant supply of delicacies graced the tables, and the large number of new-comers, who filled the vacant places, were quickly attended to. A short musical programme brought the evening's proceedings to a close. The ladies have reason to be satisfied with their zealous efforts to furnish the chancel, as by their endeavours on Friday considerably over $100 was realized. They return their sincere thanks to all who generously assisted in making the festival a success.

Turnbull has made an extra effort this season to secure for his patrons choice Millinery and Mantle Goods, and is bound to lead in stylish goods and low prices.

YOUNG FOLKS ADVISED.

THE SUBJECT OF READING DISCUSSED UNDER FOUR HEADS.

The Rev. Mr. Wallace Deprecates Wishy-Washy Sunday School Literature—He Recommends Wholesome Books and Does Not Object to Well Toned Novels.

On Sunday evening the Charlotte Street Methodist Church was well filled with people to hear the Rev. Mr. Wallace's sermon on the subject of reading, addressed particularly to the young people.

The Rev. gentleman chose for his text Proverbs xxiii, 12 :—

"Apply thine heart unto instruction, and thine ears to the words of knowledge."

After discussing briefly the merits of the subject in hand, he stated that to-night he was going to deal with it not in a particular, but in a general way. This was an age of newspapers, periodicals and magazines—an age of reading. If wisely directed this reading could be made a source of profit, but badly directed it was an injury to the soul. He would divide his subject into four sections:

(I) What should we read?
(II) How should we read?
(III) When should we read?
(IV) Why should we read?

First of all unquestionably the Bible is what should be read. The Christain heart and the wise heart says amen to that. Literature and science might be ransacked, but if the Bible—God's word—were not read by that man or woman, he would liken them unto a traveller who going to Switzerland forgot to climb a mountain. But besides the Bible there were other books that should be read and it was very important to the reader to make a wise selection. Out of the many which were permeated and provided with wholesome light he would name the works of Archdeacon Farrer. These works, though not written with the intention of illustrating the Bible, yet did so in illustrating the human history of the nations of ancient times. All books which taught how God had governed the world through successful generations were good. There were books, too, which enlarged our sympathys. It was a wise heathen who exclaimed that whatever pertained to man was not foreign to him. Colridge said: He prayeth best who loveth best the things both great and small, for the great God who loveth us both made and loved them all But he desired to impress upon his hearers that it was necessary to make a selection. Fifteen years ago there were in the libraries of Europe no fewer than 1,250,000 volumes. To read these it would require a life of 10,000 years supposing that two books were read every week. But even if such a life were given he did not think it would be wise to wade through all this literature.

There were two tests by which to make a selection of books; the intellectual test and the moral test, and some which passed the first test often could not pass the second. There were books of real genius whose tone was bad—which appealed to the lower parts of human nature and blunted the moral sense. These books were sure to work evil. They were radically bad. He did not mean Shakespere's works in saying this. Though there were many coarse [illegible] it was just as in the Bible—the tendency was good. In Shakespere vice is certainly depicted, but not elevated. Instead of that it was virtue which Shakespere strove to exalt and render attractive. The general tone of Shakespere's works were good and healthy. But the books most dangerous were, to give an instance, such as these: a story of married life wherein is depicted the turning away from the affections of both husband and wife to others. In these books the tale is so artfully worked out and piteously set forth that it is scarcely possible to resist being in sympathy with the guilty love. Such books should not be allowed in Christian houses. Christian parents would not introduce bad men to their dughters: Why should they introduce bad books written by bad men to poison the mind of their daughters?

Then again there were books which passed the moral test which did not pass the intellectual. These he classed as the "goody-goody" volumes. He declared earnestly that half of the books in the Sunday school libaries were absolutely worthless. They were written in such a nambypamby style, so barren of thought that to read them was to dwarf the mind in some degree. There was nothing in these weak peurile productions to stimulate thought or inspire to noble action. What was wanted in their place was books of information and stimulus; something to strengthen and create enthusiasm in the thought and mind of the young. He recommended travels, as setting forth the manners and customes of peoples; science, as giving an insight into the world we live in; history, as affording opportunity of tracing the course of great characters; geography—not treating of the barren number of square miles in a country, but entering upon the peculiarties of different countries—as giving to the reader a knowledge of his own and different countries; and poetry, as an instrument to polish off human nature, to prune down the sharp angularities of character and refine the taste. In speaking of novels he stated that he could not in his heart of hearts stand in this pulpit and condemn all works of fiction. John Bunyun wrote an admirable work of fiction and even our Lord's parables were fiction. There were novels that gave a true insight to British and European people and times, than did the histories. Others there were whose tendency was all for the good, why should such books be rejected? He could not imagine any one who read Charles Dickens novels through who would not rise from them with a prayer in his heart that he might be a better and more charitable man. It was the same with some of the Waverly novels. Some of these books provided them with the most effective weapons to fight the battles of Christ. Those works of fiction which were known to be good in their tendency were to be recomended; but the great mass was to be rejected as poisonous rubbish. He advocated choosing a few good works and read them well. If the time is limited the visitor to London will make it a point to see St. Paul's, Westminister Abbey, the tower and the places of great interest. So shall it be with books when not a great deal of time is to be spent. In these days there was a danger of the great giants of litterature being buried up by the innumerabte pigmies.

How should we read? There should be a method of reading. Much time was wasted in going from one thing to another and filling the mind with disjointed immages. He advised the reader to imitate the bee rather than the butterfly—to gather the honey and store it up rather than to flit objectless from flower to flower. He suggested taking a standard work and read and re-read it and read out from it. Take excursions out from it as the suggestions in it arise and then come back to the same point. It has been said that any road must lead to the end of the world. So was it with knowledge, any main thoughfare would lead into the infinity of thought. If a man would take "Green's History of the English People" and assiduously read out from it he would be a learned man in the course of time.

When should we read? Doubtless many now in the midst of the affairs of life had not much time for reading. But he argued that all had some time if they would only make use of it. He gave a number of examples of what marvels had been done by employing the odds and ends of time. He laid stress upon the necessity of acquiring a habit of reading.

Why should we read? First, because (it was not seemingly a high reason) it is an enjoyment to us. But God had made the body and soul for pure enjoyment. And what is more delightful than reading? It enriches thought, helps up to understand ourselves and the world, stimulates and inspires when in the midst of weariness and discouragement, makes us the contemporary of all ages, makes us a personal acquaintance of great men, and results in nourishment and strength. What is holiness but the perfect development of our whole nature?

THE HUDSON BAY RAILWAY.

IN an editorial on the success of Mr. Hugh Sutherland, M. P., in obtaining financial aid in London for the Hudson Bay Railway, the Woodstock Sentinel-Review says:—

"The building of the Hudson Bay Road will be of incalculable importance to the whole of the Canadian Northwest. The securing of an independent summer outlet through the Arctic Ocean is the only means left of breaking the freight monopoly of the Canadian Pacific. We hope Mr. Sutherland will succeed, but we have grave doubts about it. The present Government and its master, the C. P. R., will never tolerate a competitor in the Hudson Bay route to Britain. Mr. Sutherland is an Oxford boy, and many friends in this country will watch with interest the result of this great undertaking."

These remarks show how the system adopted by the Reformers of incessant misrepresentation of the Macdonald Administration effects even a journal that is usually comparatively fair. The Reformers generally having assumed the unfounded position that the C. P. R. is the master of the present Government, our contemporary concludes that the Government must oppose Mr. Sutherland's efforts. The facts show that this logical deduction is incorrect, and therefore might have been expected to call the attention of our contemporary to the falseness of its premises. The Macdonald Administration has given exceptional aid to the Hudson Bay Railway. It has procured a larger grant per mile for the H. B. R. than for any other railway in the Northwest. It has also been active in investigating the navigable condition of the Hudson Bay and Straits. This is strong evidence of the inaccuracy of saying that it will never tolerate the Hudson Bay route.

We would also point out another inconsistency into which our contemporary is apparently led. It speaks with warm approval of Mr. Sutherland, and supports him in working for a railway receiving exceptional public assistance though he is a member of Parliament. Certainly the Sentinel-Review can remove this apparent inconsistency if it disavows any sympathy with the vile abuse showered by the Reform press upon the Conservative member of Parliament who acts in the same manner as Mr. Southerland. Obviously it cannot be meritorious for Mr. Sutherland to employ his time and energies in aiding the development of our country, and at the same time a gross outrage for Conservative members to do the same.

THE Ottawa romancers have been at their old tricks again, the Free Press of that city having sent forth a bogus account of a supposed treaty with the United States as to reciprocity and the fisheries. Such a forgery has a tendency to impede negotiations and was probably concocted with this motive. The great objects of these Reform fabrications at Ottawa seem to be to injure their political opponents and to damage this country, so long as the people of Canada commit the offence of placing their confidence in Conservative statesmen.

JOHN CLARKE & SONS' Celebrated Razors. GEORGE STETHEM.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S MEDAL.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—I had not intended taking part in the controversy going on in your valuable paper, but it is just to the public that the misapprehensions likely to be caused by Dr. Tassie's letters be corrected.

It is well enough to boast of a number of 1st class honors &c., but it would be as well to know of the value of these. Below you will find a table of value and statement of the honors won by the two candidates in question.

Departments.	Sub-Departments.	Marks.	1st Class Honors.	2nd Class Honors.
MATHEMATICS.	None.	440	2 Haultain.
MODERN LANGUAGES.	English.	150	2 Armstrong.
	History and Geog.	100	8 Armstrong.
	French.	100		4 Armstrong.
	German.	75	11 Armstrong.

To obtain 1st class honors 67 per cent is necessary, for 2nd class 50 per cent.

It will at once appear that the total of marks for modern languages is not so great as that of mathematics, and also that as far as honor stand is concerned Haultain's is far superior, or in other words, that "the three first and one second" do not amount to nearly so much as the mathematical first.

The claim that Armstrong who took honors in one department is a general proficiency man and that Haultain who took higher honors in one department is a specialist is absurd.

The doctor claims that Armstrong took a fine mark in Honor Latin Composition. Now, sir, he did not even write on the Honor Latin Composition. On the paper set before the candidates there is a portion expressly for those seeking a pass only and another and additional portion for the honor candidates. Armstrong was not an honor candidate and did not try the piece. Again, he was taken over only twenty-five out of the forty exercises prescribed from Bradley's composition. On the other hand, Haultain was taken over the forty and had a considerable practice in re-translation of portions of the works of the prose authors set for examination. So we hold that the probabilities lie rather against Armstrong's taking even a "brilliant" pass on composition.

Owing to the eccentricities of the doctor's time-table, Armstrong had no class work for the last six months in mathematics. He MAY have passed a "brilliant examination" on the subject, but my knowledge of his proficiency did not lead me to suppose so. Now, the remrk quoted by the Doctor from his tutor was not made just previous to the breaking up. It was made some three months previous when He was only taking Latin of me but soon after I took up French and German with him and left him my history notes which were of use to him. From the papers set I judge that my coaching was not without advantage to him. I did not consider him the least shaky on any of his subjects, and assured his father so when he called upon me in May in reference to the boy. But I was confident he would stand among the first five in 1st class mathematics and I was not mistaken.

It can then clearly be seen which has passed the "brilliant" honor examination and that the probabilities are that there is very little difference on the pass subjects.

Now after these arguments let me state on the authority of the registrar of Toronto University that to no one will marks be revealed and the only fair method of deciding a question of general proficiency is for the Board to refer the matter to the University and then the registrar will make out the comparison and forward the result to the Board. This is the only way the question can fairly be settled. Then the award will be according to the examination record not according to imagination.

In conclusion, let me state that I have coached a great many students for examinations and taught in collegiate institutes and have never found one with whom it was a greater pleasure to work than with this much maligned boy Haultain, nor have I ever found one more gentlemanly or more tractable, and I must protest against all statements to the contrary, made in the letters and in public in various ways. They have no foundation.

Yours very truly,
L. E. HORNING,
Late Mathematical Master Coll. Inst. Cobourg, Sept. 24, 1886.

[NOTE.—We have now given as much space as we can fairly devote to this question, and must, therefore, request its discontinuance, in our columns at least, after Dr. Tassie has replied, if he wishes to do so.—ED. REVIEW.]

Turnbull's Millinery and Mantle Show Rooms, crowded with novelties, will be opened on Wednesday and Thursday, 29th and 30th of Sept.

A FOOLISH CROWD.

Seven People Killed By An Explosion of Gunpowder.

GLASGOW, Sept. 26.—Six persons, including three Glasgow magistrates, were suffocated to death Saturday while viewing a monster blast at the Lochfyne Side quarries. Seven tons of gunpowder were used in the blast.

The latest accounts place the number of victims at seven. The crowd paid no attention to a warning to keep at a distance but rushed past the person giving the advice. An indescribable scene followed the explosion. The people looked as if under the influence of intoxicants, undergoing convulsive contortions, accompanied by laughing, crying and screaming as they returned to consciousness. Medical men say that after the explosion, which loosened about 5000 tons of granite, a cloud of nitrous oxide gas ascended, and in the absence of wind fell to the earth and enveloped the spectators. A number of persons escaped unaffected, while others, probably 150 in all, detected a pungent taste and odor, accompanied by difficulty in breathing. This was followed by convulsions and vomiting, those in delicate health suffering the most.

BLACKMAIL.

Rielite Art—A Dastardly Insult to the Authorities or Robbery.

The Quebec own correspondent of the Reform Montreal Witness, under date of Sept. 25th reports as follows:—

"Le Canadian to-day denounces an alleged attempt to blackmail the Quebec Ministeralists here by threatening them with the widesbread circulation of a miserable lithograph representing the hanging of Riel, with the Federal Ministers hauling on the rope, and the Premier looking on as an indifferent spectator. It says that the lithograph is at a well-known local printer's and that $1,000 have been demanded to keep it back, but as no names are given the affair is generally looked upon as another of Mr. Tarte's electioneering fireworks.

POLICE COURT.

A TAGLESS DOG.

TUESDAY, Sept. 28.—Mr. Frank Anthony, the well known Italian Peanut vendor, was charged with having harboured a dog that had no tag. Both the Italian and the dog were in court. The Italian repudiated the ownership of the canine, but the latter persisted in crying out against such a denial so that the Magistrate was convinced that Frank was the real owner. But notwithstanding that the dog jumped up at Frank [illegible] to him he still swore [illegible] that it belonged to another party. The charge was withdrawn on conditio that Frank take out a tag at once.

OMEMEE.

ACCIDENT.—On Wednesday about 11 a. m. while Mrs. Wm. Clarke and Mrs. James Ball, four, of Omemee, were driving to Peterborough, the mare shied at a flock of sheep and backed the buggy into a ditch on the Communication Road about four miles from Peterborough, upsetting the vehicle and throwing the occupants forcibly to the ground. In falling Mrs. Clarke had her right arm broken above the wrist. Several men happened to be on the road at the time, righted the buggy and the ladies drove on to Peterborough where the services of Dr. Kincaid were secured, and the fractured limb set. Strange to say Mrs. Balfour escaped [illegible] slight injury. Mr. Geo. Ivory drove Mrs. Balfour home in the buggy, but Mrs. Clarke remained in Peterborough till the evening train when she returned home. Her many friends will regret to learn of the injury she has received.—Herald.

SHOT WHILE STEALING APPLES—Mr. William Parkes, a resident of Peterborough but who has for the last month or so been looking after a rented farm in Belmont, is in trouble. It appears that there is an orchard on his farm, and that his neighbors have on more than one occasion shown their extreme partiality for the fruit grown therein. Now, this sorely grieved William' who is an honest and upright man, but he was not the man to sit in sackcloth and ashes while his apples were taking unto themselves wings and disappearing. Armed with a double-barrelled shot-gun he laid in wait for the transgressors, whe made their appearance in due season, but on seeing William approach fled precipitately. The last man over the fence, William Hubble by name, in addition to the apples he was loaded with, carried off two charges of duck shot variously distributed over his person. On the information laid before Squire Drain by this latter gentleman, Mr. Parkes was committed to gaol to await his trial at the fall assizes Constable Hill acting as 'chaperone' until he was safely lodged in the castle. Register

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1886.

THE LIEUT-GOVERNOR.

THE TOWN COUNCIL ARRANGING TO RECEIVE HIM.

A Guard of Honor from the Battalion To Meet Him—Citizens and Local Societies to Turn Out—Addresses of Welcome—Regular Business Taken Up for a Time.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held on Monday evening to make arrangements for the reception of the Lieutenant-Governor.

There were present: The Mayor and Councillors Kendry, Menzies, Rutherford, Moore, Yelland, McClelland, McNeil, Kelly, McNaughton, Cahill, Davidson and Hartley.

The MAYOR, before opening the Council, stated that he had been advised that the Lieut.-Governor had intended to visit Peterborough, and seeing that he was the nephew of the Hon. Peter Robinson, after whom Peterborough was named, he thought it only right that a suitable reception be accorded to him. For this reason he had called the council together, but if they wised to do so they could deal with general business also.

On motion it was resolved to enter upon general business.

On account of the illness of the clerk, Mr. Macdonald, Mr. Jas. G. Macdonald was was appointed clerk, pro tem.

ACCOUNTS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

The following accounts and communications were presented:

The County (Otonabee bridge account	$650 80
H. Winch	1 00
Kingan & Co.	29 38
W. Lanford, grading Water street	25 00

The accounts were referred to the Finance Committe and the communications to the Court of Revision.

CHARITY.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON brought before the Council a charity matter. A woman in his ward had been widowed last week and she had four children. He had allowed her $2 a week. We wanted to know whether he would continue.

Councillor McNaughton was allowed to use his own judgment.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON assailed Councillor McClelland on the charity accounts. The latter had accused him of spending $600 in charity. He denied the charge, and he wanted to know where the $2,000 for charity [illegible] to report, but he was bound to make Mr. McClelland report.

The Clerk read from the Standing Committee's report, which stated that the Chairman of the General Committee report quarterly.

Councillor MCCLELLAND did not wish to enter into a harangue with Councilller McNaughton. He had come to the shop to-day and wanted a report. He replied that he had nothig to report. Then Mr. McNaughton attacked him in the strain in which he spoke just now. The matter had been out of his hands for some time. He inferred from what Councillor McNaughton said that he thought a collusion existed between the Mayor and himself (Councillor McClelland.)

Councillor MCNAUGHTON—I'm bound to make Mr. McClelland take back water.

Councillor YELLAND said that his account would amount to only $73.

The MAYOR announced that the $2,000 placed on the estimates would not be spent.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON moved, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON,—That the Clerk report to this Council at the next meeting the amount spent by each member of the Charity Committee.

STREETS.

Councillor MCNEIL moved, seconded by Councillor KELLY,—That the Street Inspector have George street, between Hunter and King, and at the intersection of Charlotte and George, Simcoe and George, and Hunter and George, scraped, and that the broken stone at the Central Park placed on George street.

Councillor CAHILL objected to the proposition on the ground that in the spring half the stone would be scraped off.

Councillor MOORE proposed a plan of lowering, instead of raising George street, as a preparatory measure to the block pavement, which would certainly have to be done before long.

The MAYOR agreed with Councillor Moore.

Councillor KENDRY said that it cost $10,000 to pave a block in Toronto.

Councillor KELLY argued in favor of the motion. He said it would ultimately save money to put on this broken stone.

Councillor MCCLELLAND supported the resolution by saying that the fall of the year was the proper time to macadamize streets and that he thought if the stone were laid down the street would be made good for many years.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON prophesied that George street would have to be paved at the sides.

Councillor RUTHERFORD was glad to find Councillor McNaughton at last agreeing to expend something on George street. There was a time when he strenuously opposed any measure to spend anything on George street.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON—I own my faults but you don't.

Councillor RUTHERFORD continued saying that he thought Councillor Moore's plan was too expensive. Let Toronto do the experimenting and if it worked well their would be time for Peterborough to adopt it.

Councillor MENZIES objected to this proceeding on account of no appropriation having been made.

The MAYOR—Do you object to scrape the streets?

Councillor MENZIES—Yes, sir; I do.

The MAYOR—Well then, I'll scrape them myself.

Two or three Councillors hurridly rose to attack Councillor Menzies. Councillor McNeil got the floor and, after expressing surprise at Councillor Menzies, proceeded to advance arguments in favor of the scheme.

Councillor CAHILL contended that the fall was not the time to lay the stone. The Street and Bridge Committee had intended to put down the stone this summer, but on account of the Gas Company and the Water Company having rooted up the street so much they did not think it advisable. As far as a block pavement was concerned it was out of the question at present, for it would take $8,000 to pave George street from the Post Office to Charlotte Street, while only $10,000 was granted to the Street and Bridge Committee. He considered $10,000 a very meagre appropriation for fifty miles of sidewalks and as many of streets. That amount was the amount given for grading a single mile of railway.

The motion being put was lost on the following division.

NAYS—Councillor Davidson, Cahill, McNaughton, Yelland, Moore, Menzies, Kendry and Hartley.

YEAS—Councillors Kelly, McNeil, McClelland and Rutherford.

Councillor CAHILL moved, second by Councillor DAVIDSON—That the Inspector be ordered to have George street scraped. Carried.

GAS.

Councillor RUTHERFORD moved, seconded by Councillor MENZIES—That on account of the large number of buildings that have been erected this year in our town it is desirable to have more gas lamps erected in certain parts of the town; be it therefore resolved that one gas lamp be erected on the north of George street, one on the north of Water street, one on the corner of Harvey and Dublin streets, one on the corner of Harvey and McDonnel streets, one on the corner of Stewart and Townsend streets, one on the corner of Wolfe and Stewart streets, one on the corner of Charlotte and Park streets and one on Gilmour street.

The motion was referred to the Fire Water and Light Committee.

ELECTRIC LIGHT.

Councillor MCNEIL moved a notice of motion to have an electric light placed on the west side of the Otonabee bridge.

The motion was referred to Fire Water and Light committie.

SIDEWALKS.

Councillor HARTLEY moved, seconded by Councillor Kendry—That the street Inspector be authorized to lay down an eight foot sidewalk in front of Mr. Delaney's store on Water street north and that he be reqired to repair the sidewalk northward as far as Hillards mill's mill.—Carried.

Councillor MCNEIL moved seconded by Councillor Kelly—That the matter be referred to the Street and Bridge comittee with power to act.

The motion was carried.

Councillor KELLY moved, seconded by Councillor MCNEIL,—That the Street Inspector be instructed to lay a new sidewalk between Snowden's Hotel and Dr. Crevier's office.—Lost.

Councillor HARTLEY moved, seconded by Councillor MENZIES,—That $5 be given Mr. Gamble to raise the bridge on Antrim street.

Councillor MCNEIL raised the point of order on the expenditure of money. The matter was left as a notice of motion.

Councillor DAVIDSON moved, seconded by Councillor CAHILL,—That the Street Inspector be instructed to put down a new sidewalk on George street, in front of Mr. Schneider's new store.—Carried.

PROPERTY.

Councillor MENZIES moved, seconded by Councillor KENDRY—That the Property Committee be asked to look into the state of the building known as the Small-pox hospital. The windows and doors are broken and open and it is in danger of being burned down from its exposed position, and that said committee have said windows and doors nailed up and made so that the public may not gain admittance as at present. Carried.

THE RECEPTION.

Councillor MOORE moved seconded by Councillor RUTHERFORD—That the Mayor and Councillors Cahill, Rutherford, Kendry, Davidson and the mover be a committee to make arrangements for the reception of the Lieut-Governor on his coming to Peterborough to open the Agricultural Association Exhibition, in such manner as they may think advisable, and that this Council attend in a body and present an address in behalf of the town, also that the Mayor declare the afternoon of the 6th a half holiday.

The MAYOR stated that Lieut-Col. Rogers had arranged for a guard of honor from the battalion to turn out and escort the Lieut-Governor from the depot.

Mr. Mr. G. B. Sproule was, on motion, heard. He said that it was his opinion that if the local societies were invited they would turn out.

Councillor MENZIES moved seconded by Councillor KENDRY—That the societies of the town and the citizens generally be invited to turn out and do honor to the occasion.

The Council adjourned to meet at the call of the Mayor.

COBOURG.

STOLEN PROPERTY.—On Friday last a man stole a horse and buggy from the Bay Horse Hotel, Toronto, and came east. He was in this vicinity on Saturday, and wanted to trade horses with Mr. Frank Meehan, but the offer was refused. On Monday parties from Toronto arrived here, and a search for the thief and property, with assistance from the town police, was made through the country between here and Brighton, and also along the travelled portion back of the different townships, but the search so far, has been fruitless.

NEARLY PERISHED.—On Sunday forenoon last an old lady named Mrs. Meehan, over 90 years of age, of this town, and mother of Thomas Meehan, cab-driver, was found in a perishing condition in the swamp south of Mrs. Capt. Rowe's, between here and Port Hope. She was conveyed to the residence of Mr. Wm. Burnham where everything possible was done for her comfort. Word was conveyed to her son of her whereabouts and she was taken to his house here in the evening. It appears the poor old woman left the house the day previous, and wandered to the spot where she was found, and had lain there until Sunday about eleven o'clock, and but for the kindness of friends she would have died.—Sentinel Star.

IMPORTANT AUCTION SALE OF RIVERDALE PARK
BETTER KNOWN AS
Crawford's Grove, Monaghan

I have received instructions from ALFRED CRAWFORD, ESQ., to sell by Public Auction

On Wednesday, Sept. 29th,

that very eligible property known as "Riverdale Park," situated on the banks of the Otonabee River, formerly well known as Crawford's Grove and situated in the Township of North Monaghan, and containing 73 acres. This property will be offered en bloc, and if not thus sold, will be offered in parcels or park lots as laid out in a plan by Mr. Ranney, which can be seen at any time.

This property is only two miles from the business centre of the Town of Peterborough. It can be laid out either for a summer park, picnic grounds or summer residence resort, its situation being admirably adapted for these purposes. An excellent opportunity is here opened for building summer cottages. No more beautiful park lots could be obtained than those contained in this property. The soil is composed of a sharp rich loam top with clay bottom, possessing excellent virtues for garden purposes. Its proximity to the Otonabee River affords ample opportunity for pleasure or boating, camping, fishing and other recreations.

which adjoins the above property to the north, will also be offered at the same time. It is composed of about 13 acres of excellent land, on which there is a good Brick Dwelling House, outbuildings and water privileges. It has a road on two sides, and the river on its front. It may be sold en bloc, or in three parcels—extending from the road to the river.

TERMS—Ten per cent. of the purchase money to be paid down at the time of sale, and sufficient to make one-third in ten days thereafter, when title deeds will be prepared, and a further sum, together with the above, sufficient to make one-half and interest, to be paid in one year from date of sale; the balance in three equal annual instalments, with interest at six per cent. per annum.

☞ Further particulars and conditions will be made known at time of sale, or may be had on application to Mr. A. P. Poussette or Mr. A. Crawford, Proprietor.

CHAPTER XII.

MR. STRANGFIELD'S CONSTRUCTION.

Mrs. Strangfield started and fell back with inimitable wildness of amazement. Her face was puffed out with the force of her surprise, and she drew no breath until a feeling of suffocation made her cry out.

"His wife—his wife, Jenny, do you say!" she exclaimed, in a tone almost as deep as a man's, searching meanwhile her daughter's countenance for any hint to make her doubt the truth of what she heard.

The girl fell upon her knees, with her hands clasped above her head.

"We were married when I went to Sydenham," she said, in a voice that had lost nearly all its sweetness. "My fear of father kept me silent. But Cuthbert should have come last night to claim me before thee and him, and—Oh! my heart—where is he now, and why has he left me?"

With which, and with her tearless face in her hands, she fell to moaning—in her humble, heedless posture of woe, a piteous sight. Then must her mother begin to weep.

"O, Jenny, what has thou been and done? O, my child, what shameful courting has made you stoop to this deceit? Alas! What a strange, wild thing to do!" And with streaming eyes she poured forth her interjections.

Now, it befell that the servant, Polly, having cast herself down upon a kitchen chair to indulge in one of those aggravating fits of whimpering, which seized her after every collision with her mistress, overheard some of Mrs. Strangfield's startling ejaculations, to which she listened, with her mouth gradually opening, and her head slowly lifting out of the greatness of her arm sleeve; and being a blockhead as well as a slut (for dirt and ignorance love each other's company), and eager to show how forgiving she was, and how smart was the watch she kept over the interests of the family, the draggletail sped softly out of the kitchen into the shipwright's yard, and, deaf to various personal remarks on her figure called slyly to her by the workmen, ran up to Mr. Strangfield, and cried out:

"Master, if you want a to do ye shall see it in th' parlor! There's bin a man, and missus is callin' Miss Jenny bad words; and sich blubberin' as is goin' on might fill a copper!"

Mr. Strangfield looked down with a scowl of surprise into the seamy face of the handmaid, and not choosing to risk any questions in the hearing of the men—for Poll's excitement was something to balance a stout voice upon—he sensibly concluded certain directions he was giving to one of the hands, and walked to his house.

On entering the parlor he found Jenny standing at the table, and her mother sobbing in her handkerchief. He was a man with a keen eye, but no sharpness of vision did he need to know that he stood in the presence of a sorrow the like of which had never before darkened his home. In the girl's short recoil as he entered, the sudden mutinous flash of the eye, that changed the whole character of the face, the swelling nostril and passionate resolution of misery informing the whole figure of her, he read it. For, in truth, in the blight and shock that had come to her with the news Mr. Saunderson had brought, fear of her father was lost; her recoil was an involuntary effort of instinct; firm in her misery she stood now, and her eyes were steady on her father's face.

Though his wife heard him enter the room she would not lift her head from the handkerchief. In her dread to tell him what Jenny had done she gave the mischief a more sinister aspect than it need have worn by preserving her weeping posture and silence. He knitted his brows and clasped his hands strongly, to preserve an evenness of voice and subdue the dull pain in his breast. But, do what he would, he looked a man striving with might and main to prepare himself for a shocking disclosure.

"Jane," said he, in a low, hard voice, "did you not hear my footsteps? Why are you crying, and what makes Jenny so white and wild-looking?"

He had turned his shoulder on his daughter, and gazed at his wife only.

"Oh, Michael!" quavered Mrs. Strangfield, talking in her handkerchief. "Jenny hath done a mad thing. She has just now owned it, and surprise makes a fool of me. But thou must bear with her, Michael. Deceit only is she guilty of—nothing worse, husband. You will show her mercy, Michael; for is not she our only child? And the Lord's truth is in the saying, that 'stolen waters are sweet, and bread eaten in secret is pleasant.'"

"'But he knoweth not that the dead are here, and that her guests are in the depths of hell,'" quoted Mr. Strangfield, in his deep tones. "What has our child been doing?"

There was a short pause, and then Mrs. Strangfield, removing her handkerchief from her eyes, and piteously looking at Jenny, feebly answered: "She has secretly married the son of Dr. Shaw."

Now most certain it was that Mr. Strangfield had expected a worse confession than this; for it is a truth not flattering to the saintly severity of such natures as his, that their conjectures are apt to sink to the very lowest deep of wrong doing, and stay there until drawn up again by discovery into pertinent bearings. For a moment, therefore, he was visited by a sense of relief; for not instantly could his mind get quit of the foul idea so as to apprehend strictly the meaning of his wife's words. But when once mastered, it brought with it a flood of amazement; and as though he discredited his hearing, as though his daughter had undergone some physical transformation that bewildered him utterly, he stared at her; then, in a terrible voice, cried:

"Let me hear this from your own lips, woman!"

"Father, it is true. I am Cuthbert Shaw's wife."

He walked round the table to his chair as though intending to sit, but still stood.

"When did you marry him?"

"When I was at my aunt Rachel's."

"When you were at your aunt Rachel's! That is three weeks since. Give me the day."

"It was on a Wednesday, father—I do not know the date. I forget," replied the girl, trembling like one in an ague, yet never shifting her feverishly lustrous eyes from her father's face.

"You will have to remember the date—name me the church."

"It was in London—I cannot tell the name. I will think presently," and she pressed her cold hands to her forehead.

"You remember nothing—neither the date of your marriage, nor the church wherein you were married!" he said; and, looking around him with a pathetic manner of uncertainty, he moved toward the door.

"Michael!" exclaimed Mrs. Strangfield in a whisper, laying her hand on his arm, "where art thou going!"

"To fetch the woman's husband, and examine him before thee. Let me go!" he answered, fiercely, shaking her hand off.

"Oh, Michael, you will not find him—he hath left Greystone! Just now came a gentleman to inquire for him here. It was the news that overcame her. Poor Jenny!—my little one!" and she sobbed bitterly.

He turned upon her as a man would on an enemy.

"Gone!" he shouted; then, subduing his voice: "Gone, do you say, wife?"

"Yes, Michael, indeed, indeed. Not ten minutes ago a gentleman was here to tell us. Mr. Shaw has not been home all night; and whether he is dead, or why he hath gone—Oh, Jenny! Look, Michael; she is dying! Oh, help her! help her!"

The girl was sinking on the floor, when the mother with a bound was at her side, and caught her as she fell. Bestowing a single glance upon the group Mr. Strangfield strode into the passage, seized his hat, and left the house.

With long, resolute steps he swung his arms up the High street to the corner of the road that led to Greystone school.

The boys were at their games in the playground as he skirted the wall.

Mr. Strangfield walked to the house door with a resolved step, and pulled the bell. The servant examined his face curiously, as if she would read tidings of Dr. Shaw's son there, but hesitated when questioned if the doctor could be seen.

"Tell him that I have come to talk to him about the young master," said Strangfield; whereupon the girl admitted him, but left him in the hall, while she went into the study. Then returning: "If you please, what name?" But Strangfield was in no temper for formality, even if he were one to admit its uses; he put the servant aside and entered the study, closing the door behind him.

The room was darkened by the curtains; yet there was light enough to discloss the figure of Dr. Shaw, seated near the table, his head lifted out of his hand, staring at the unceremonious intruder. In an instant he rose, and, drawing himself erect, exclaimed:

"I have not the pleasure to know you, sir. I desired the servant to obtain your name."

"My name is Michael Strangfield, and my trade be shipbuilding. I'm a deacon of the Baptist chapel, in George street, which is better than saying that only a bitter errand could have brought me into Dr. Shaw's house."

"Be pleased to sit," said the doctor, coldly, and stepped to the window and drew apart the curtains.

Fluid Lightning does not take a day or an hour to remove Neuralgia, Headache, Toothache, Lumbago or Rhuematism, but will do it instantly, and without carrying your head in a poultice for a day or using greasy liniments. Try a 25c. bottle from J. McKee. Druggist.

The death is announced at Karlsruhe of Prof. Karl Damm, who took an active part in the struggle for liberty in Germany in 1848.

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS.—Ther is now being manufactured here an article for instantly removing pain of any acute external nature, and it is certainly the most perfect cure for neuralgia, Headache, Toothache and the like that has ever been tried. It is called Fluid Lightning, from the rapid manner in which it acts, and is manufactured by McGregor & Parke. Sold in Peterborough by J. McKee, Druggist.

It is rumored that control of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Manitoba railway has been secured by the Canadian Pacific Company.

Fluid Lightning is simply a nervous Rheumatic Remedy. I was for two months a cripple, unable to get out of the house from Sciatica. One bottle gave me instant relief, and placed me on my feet again. I have driven fourteen miles to-day (something I could not possibly have done were it not for Fluid Lightning) for the express purpose of procuring another bottle. So says Wm. Dixon, Gananoque. Only 25 cents per bottle at J. McKee's.

An engine specially constructed to use petroleum as fuel has successfully drawn trains on the railway between Alexandria and Cairo.

A brilliant fete was given on Saturday night at the British embassy at Constantinople in honor of the Duke of Edinburgh and Prince George of Wales.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate,
In Seasickness.

Prof. Aldolph, New York, says: "I used it for sickness, during an ocean passage. In most of the cases the violent symptoms which characterize that disease yielded, and gave way to a healthful action of the functions impaired."

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Hall's VEGETABLE SICILIAN Hair Renewer.

Hall's Hair Renewer restores gray hair to its original color; makes the scalp white and clean; cures dandruff and humors; prevents the hair from falling out, and renders it soft and brilliant. The editor of the "Ocean Foam," Cape May, writes: "We speak knowingly, when we assert that Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is the best of its kind. The article is an elegant and cleanly one, without which we think no toilet complete." Thos. D. Jones, Middle Granville, N. Y., writes: "I have used

Hall's Hair Renewer,

Renewer about ten years, with satisfactory results." E. G. Perkins, Oberlin, Ohio, writes: "I consider Hall's Hair Renewer the best hair preserver in use. I have used it for the past twenty years, and my hair is in as vigorous and healthy a condition as when I was 30 years of age. Not a sign of gray hair to be seen anywhere." Dwight L. Chamberlain, Oakland, California, writes: "My hair, which was nearly white, has been restored to its original color and luxuriance by the use of Hall's Hair Renewer."

The advance of time is heralded by bleached, thin, and falling hair. By the use of Hall's Hair Renewer, the hair may be restored to its original color, lustre, and vitality. M. N. Johnson, Fitchburg, Mass., writes: "My hair was weak, thin, and full of dandruff. Hall's Hair Renewer has removed the dandruff, and caused a vigorous growth of new hair." Abel H. Smith, Portsmouth, Va., writes: "My hair had nearly all fallen out, and that which was left was dry and dead. I used one bottle of Hall's Hair and now rejoice in the possession of hair as abundant as ever." E. J. Adams, St. Paul, Minn., writes: "A diseased scalp caused my hair to fall out, and, after using a number of preparations without avail, I finally tried Hall's Hair Renewer, which caused a vigorous new growth. I am still using it, and could ask for no better results." Mrs. R. H. Corning, Battle Creek, Mich., writes: "By the use of Hall's Hair Renewer, my head, which was quite bald, has been covered with a fine growth of young hair."

Battalion Drill.

The regular meeting of the companies of the city battalion was held on Monday night. Lieut-Col. Rogers, Major Grover and the other staff officers were present. The battalion were put through some field movements which were performed in a very soldier-like manner.

The Exhibition.

Have you been to the Exhibition? No! What exhibition? Why the one that is going on at the Bon Marche. They are selling goods astonishingly cheap. You should go and see for your self and spend a little money in dry goods, groceries etc., before everything is sold out. Can't buy as much in any other place in town for the same money.

Personal.

Mr. D. J. Fitzgerald, son of Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, D. L. S., left town this morning for Kingman, Kansas, U.S., to fill an important position on the railway works of John Fitzgerald, contractor, President of the Irish National League of America. We wish our young townsman, in his new home, every prosperity and success, and if his genial and gentlemanly manners evinced in the town of his birth and boyhood be a guarantee of popularity and esteem, his success is already assured. We wish him then most cordially a God speed.

Scott Act.

At the Police Court this morning John Carr, who keeps a boarding house on George street, was charged by Capt. Cooper with committing an infraction of the Scott Act. He pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs. Wm. Powers, who keeps a temperance house on Aylmer sereet, was charged by Capt. Cooper with having committed an infraction of the Scott Act. The defendant pleaded not guilty. Capt. Cooper and P. C. Adams, who searched the premises, testified as to finding liquor there The defennant maintained that the liquor was purchased yesterday morning for his own use. The Magistrate, on hearing further particulars, held that he was guilty, and imposed a fine of $50 and costs.

Good Advice Without Pay.

The fact that orders for new furs are pouring in thus early in the season so rapidly that our staff is kept busy, is a sign that should not be overlooked.

We therefore take the opportunity of reminding our many customers who may want furs repaired or altered, to lose no time. Later in the season we shall be so crowded with orders as to make repairing an impossibility, as orders for new goods are of first consideration.

N. B'—All parties indebted to to the late firm are requested to call at once as all outstanding accounts must be paid in order to balance books through the changes in business. WM. LECH & SONS.

Turnbull has made an extra effort this season to secure for his patrons choice Millinery and Mantle Goods, and is bound to lead in stylish goods and low prices.

P. A. A. A. FALL SPORTS.

A First-Rate Programme of Events — Well Contested Races, Etc.

The annual fall sports in connection with the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association was held on Monday afternoon. The band of the Fire Brigade, in full uniform, played from town to the grounds in Ashburnham, reaching there at half past two o'clock. The attendance was small—not nearly the number of spectators were in attendance which the high character of the sports warranted.

Soon after the arrival of the band the proceedings of the afternoon were entered upon. The following named gentlemen filled their respective offices to the satisfaction of all:—Referee, Judge Weller; judges, the Hon. R. Hamilton, Dr. Tassie, Dr. Boucher, Dr. Burnham; starter, Mr. J. H. Long; time-keeper, Mr. R. W. Muncaster; clerk of the course, Mr. F. E. Bell; managing committe, Dr. Burnham, Jas. Morris, J. H. Long, R. B. Rogers and A. St. A. Smith.

The following is the programme of the sports, together with the entries and the names of those who won and the prize given:—

BOYS 220 YARDS RACE.—Entries, A. Millar, W. Kingswell and J. McCormick. Won by A. Millar.

ONE MILE RUN.—(Association) Entries, A. Moore, C. A. Lawford, and H. Bucke. Won by W. Orde; time 5.33⅕. Prize, a silver medal.

BICYCLE RACE (5 miles)—Entries, A. Dean C. A. Lawford and A. Greetricks. Won by A. Dean; time 18.58.

This ended the sports of the day. The band played the national anthem and the people left the grounds.

NOTES.

Several members of the association generously donated medals.

The medals were all of a very handsome character—rich and elegant in design.

The 100 yard (Association)dash was run twice on acount of a bad start on the first essay. The race was run the first time in 10¾ and the second time in 11 seconds. Gus Moore had a six yard start of the others in the first run.

It is a pity that the sports were not more judiciously advertised, for had the public known what really fine sport there would surely have been a large "gate."

For Madoc.

The Riversides go to Madoc to-morrow to play lacrosse with the Etnas of that place.

Jay Gould's Utterances.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Mr. Gould's utterances always receive attention in Wall street, whether taken in bona fides or not. There was, accordingly, a good deal of interest shown yesterday in the official announcement that the great man was on the bull side of the market. "I am willing to predict that all kinds of business will be prosperous and with a higher tendency for the next two years," said Mr. Gould.

Grave Desecration.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—About three days since it was discovered that three graves in the village of Wardsville had been opened and the remains of the deceased removed. One was that of a person buried about twenty five years ago, but only the skull was abstracted. In another case the remains of Mrs. J. M. Dykes, interred about six years ago, were abstracted, together with the oak coffin. The third case was that of a daughter of a Mr. Rowe, now in England, which was interred nine years since.

Crawfoot Coming East.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28.—The Chief of the Blackfoot Indians, Crowfoot, passed through the city last evening bound for Ottawa to see the "great Sachem of the white men," Sir John Macdonald, in his own lodge. Crowfoot, who was accompained by three of his head men and Mr. L'Heneux, Government interpreter, looked just as well as ever. After taking dinner Crowfoot and his party boarded the Atlantic express and departed for the East.

CANADA'S COPPER BONANZA.

What Mr. Van Horne Says About the Sudbury Copper Mines.

The wonderful discovery of the immense copper deposits at Sudbury, on the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has received additional interest form the description of the deposits given by Mr. Van Horne, Mr. Duncan McIntyre, and by other gentlemen who have just returned from there. Mr. Van Horne says that the ridge is situated about four miles from Sadbury. In a wall of rock 100 to 150 feet deep, three or four miles long and fully a quarter of a mile wide. Test pits have been made, and in the assays the run of the mine has been from 15 to 28 per cent. of copper. The Calumet and Hecla mines, which are admitted to be the most valuable known, only average four per cent., so that it is the opinion of experts that the Sudbury discovery will before many months close up all competitors. There is in fact over 50,000,000 tons in sight, or more copper than will supply the world for years to come. The Canadian Pacific purpose building a branch line to the mines, and the proprietors purpose immediately erecting smelting furnaces. The valuable property is owned by Mr. Ritchie, of the Central Ontario R.R., who has hundreds of thousands of dollars invested in Canadian mines. He is associated with a number of Ohio capitalists, and it is understood the deposit will be developed to its fullest capacity, all the capital necessary being forthcoming. At present 150 hands are at work, and about 300 tons a day are being shipped to New Jersey to be smelted.

The friends of the Canadian Pacific are delighted with the discovery, and appear to think that it ensures the success of the road. Other deposits of copper and nickel are found in the cicinity.—Montreal Star.

LARGE FIRE IN TORONTO.

Wholesale Grocery and Liquor Warehouse and Other Buildings Destroyed.

TORONTO, Sept. 24.—About three o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the wholesale grocery and liquor warehouse of Davidson & Hay, formerly Fitch & Davidson, 36 Yonge street. A general alarm was quickly sounded, but when the brigade arrived on the scene it was evident that the warehouse and its contents ware doomed to destruction. They, however, worked with a will, and after three hours succeeded in getting it under control and prevented the fire spreading to adjoining buildings. The stock, valued at about $120,000, is a total loss. It was insured for about $70,000 in the Western, Ætna, Hartford, British, Scotish, Imperial, Lancashire and other companies. The building, which is owned by J. C Fitch, is almost totally destroyed. Mr. Fitch is at present in Europe, and the value or insurance on the building cannot be ascertained. The origin of the fire is wrapped in mystery. Much sympathy is expressed for the firm, two partners being both young men. Mr. Davidson is a son-in-law and Mr. Hay a son of Robert Hay, M. P. The firm of Goulding & Co, milliners, No. 38, state that their stock has been damaged by water and smoke to the extent of between five and ten thousand dollars. Bryce, McMurrich & Co., wholesale dry goods, No. 34, have also sustained a slight loss. The loss by the fire cannot be less than $150,000.

ATKIN & SON'S Panel, Hand and Rip Saws are fully warranted. GEORGE STETHEM.

WIGGINS PROTESTS.

The Correspondents Concoct the Reported Predictions of Disaster.

OTTAWA, Sept. 28.—Wiggins to-day issued an address to the people of the United States, in which he says: The prediction published in the New York press, and asserted to be mine, that a great earthquake will devastate New Orleans, Galveston, and other southern cities along the south of the 30th parallel on Wednesday, the 29th inst., is a falsehood. It was originated here by their correspondents. Two years ago I foresaw that a great storm would occur in the north and south Atlantic from Sept. 29 to Oct. 1, 1886, and that an earthquake period would appear in America from Aug. 25 to Oct. 15, the greatest strain being on Sept. 29, south of the 30th parallel of north latitude, and so made my report to the Canadian Government. This is the sum and substance of my prediction.

Earthquake Shock.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 28.—Slight earthquake shocks were felt here at 2 and 4 o'clock this morning, and at 2 minutes past one o'clock this afternoon there was a sharp shock accompanied by the usual rumbling noise. The shock was violent enough to shake buildings and caused many people to rush out into the streets. The continuation of shocks on the eve of Wiggin's predicted earthquake has a demoralizing effect on the people here, and many will sleep in the open air to-night. The shock this afternoon lasted 6 or 8 seconds, but it seems to have been felt only in Charleston.

Politics in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Ohio., Sept. 25.—Many people were unable to secure admission to the Metropolitan Opera House last night, on the occasion of Governor Foraker's speech, which was not so much political as it was an exposure of the alleged irregularities at Ohio Penitentiary prior to last January. Affidavits were read which created a sensation, notably on the skinning of the dead bodies of convicts for the purposes of merchandise.

Indians on the War Path.

CROW CREEK AGENCY, Sept. 28.—There are five hundred Blood Indians now on the war path, raiding everything on this side of the line in revenge for the killing of six of their number by Gros Ventres.

Good Coatmakers Wanted. Apply to ANDREW MCNEIL, Habliment Hall.

To Maintain One Lie

you must invent twenty, but truth can never be strengthened by bolstering. The testimony of every lady who has used Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" for nervous debility and female weakness carries conviction with it. The facts are stated in such a way that no one can doubt them. All those peculiar pains and sinking sensations which ladies suffer from, can be overcome by means of this wonderful preparation. If you are a sufferer from female weakness, don't fail to employ it.

LTAEST CABLE NEWS.

SPANISH INSURGENTS.

MADRID, Sept. 27.—Thirty insurgents, who took part in the recent revolt, appeared in the village of Gerona yesterday. A number were wounded. These were left in the village, and the others then mode their way across the frontier into France.

THE PEACE ENDANGERED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 27.—Turkey's agents abroad report that the peace of Europe is endangered by the present temper of the English and Austrian cabinets against Russia. The Turkish war department contemplates equipping and drilling sixty thousand Kurdish horsemen in the same manner that Russian Cossacks are equipped and drilled.

SHUNNING CHOLERA.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Mr. Chamberlain has postponed his departure for the Continent on account of the prvalence of cholera in the sotuh of Europe.

AN ANTIPODEAN VOLCANO.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Advices from New Zealand say that White Island volcano is in a state of active eruption and that a column of flame and smoke many feet in diameter issues from the crater.

SPREAD OF CHOLERA.

ROME, Sept. 27.—The cholera has appeared in Sardinia.

RENTS REDUCED.

DUBLIN, Sept. 27.—Lord Ventry has abated the rents of the tenants on his estate at Dingle, County Kerry, 25 per cent on account of the fall in the price of produce. The tenants are satisfied.

PARLIAMENT PROROGUED.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Parliament was prorogued to-day. The Queen's speech stated that the Powers had given assurances that there would be no infractions of treaties as regards Bulgaria; that the commissioners for the demarkation of the Afghan boundary had been withdrawn and that the rest of the frontier would be determined by negotiation with Russia; and that a commission would enquire as to the tenure and purchase of land in Ireland. The last paragraph was as follows:—"I have observed with much satisfaction the interest which, in an increasing degree, is evinced by the people of this country in the welfare of their colonial and Indian fellow-subjects, and I am led to the conviction that there is on all sides a growing desire to draw closer in every practicable way the bonds which unite the various portions of the Empire. I have authorized communications to be entered into with the view to fullest consideration of matters of common interest. I pray that the blessings of Almighty God be with you."

THE RUSSIAN BALTIC FLEET.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Advices from St. Petersburg say that the Russian Government has resolved that the Baltic fleet shall remain equipped throughout the coming winter, so that it will be ready to emerge should a thaw permit.

THE NEW HEBRIDES.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Sept. 28.—Advices from Noumea, the capital of New Caledonia, dated Sept. 3rd, says that the French have formed a military post at Villa Harbor, in the Sandwich Islands, one of the New Hebrides group, with the intention of establishing the township of Villa.

THE ISLAND OF THASO.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 28.—Much comment, particularly in Austria and French diplomatic circles, has been excited by the fact that several transports recently touched at the island of Thasos with large supplies and armaments, consigned to agents of the British Government. It is felt that the English occupation and practical annexation of the island will take place at the first sign of a Russian occupation of Bulgaria. No technical objection could be raised against England's occupation as long as it was sanctioned by the Khedive.

PERMANENT COLONIAL EXHIBITION.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—At a meeting of London bankers yesterday, the Lord Mayor presiding, it was decided to raise a fund for the permanent colonial exhibition, in accordance with the suggestion of the Prince of Wales.

A FABRICATION.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The Foreign Office and the United States legation authorize the statement that the report telegraphed from Ottawa that a new fishery treaty had been effected between the United States and Canada is an entire fabrication and that no such treaty has been proposed by either Government.

THE POWERS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 28.—It is semi-officially announced that no international complications over the Bulgarian question are imminent, that the Cabinets controlling the question are decidedly in favor of preserving peace, that Russia recognizes the difficulty the Bulgarians must encounter in electing a successor to Prince Alexander, and that, pending this election, Russia will occupy her time in carefully watching England's action in Constantinople.

LETTER FROM PARNELL.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Following is a copy of a letter addressed by Mr. Parnell to Mr. Fitzgerald, Present of the Irish National Land League in America, which was made public to-day, and created quiet a sensation: "The rejection of the Tenants' Relief bill, the scarcely vieled threats of the Irish Secretary and the alarming increase in the number of evictions, clearly indicated the commencement of a combined movement of extermination against the tenant farmers of Ireland by the English Government and the Irish landlords. I lose no time in advising you of the imminence of a crisis and of a peril which have seldom been equalled even in the troubled history of Ireland. I know that it will be the highest duty and the most honorable task which can engage the attention of my countrymen in free America to do what in them lies to frustrate the attempt of those who would assassinate our nation, and to alleviate the sufferings of those who unhappily must be the numerous victims of the social war which has been preached by the rich and powerful Government of England against our people. In sending us that moral and material assistance which has never been wanting, has never been stinted from your side of the Atlantic, you will perform two most important and valuable functions; you will encourage the weak to resist and bear oppression, and you will also lessen and alleviate those feelings of despair in the minds of the evicted which have so often and so unhappily stimulated those victims to recourse to the wild spirit of revenge. In doing so you will assist in preserving for our movement that peaceable character which has enabled it to win its most recent and almost crowning triumph, while you will strengthen it to bear oppression and encourage our people until the final goal of legislative independence has been won."

The Daily Review.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1886.

NOT CONSERVATIVE POLICY.

Mr. Conmee, M. P. P., certainly made a point at Brighton when he asked if there would have been a rebellion in the North-west and a clamour for separation in Nova Scotia if Mr. Blake had been at the head of affairs, but the point was against Mr. Blake. No one can suppose that Conservatives would have suggested, fomented and aided rebellion, or that Sir John Macdonald by his agents and in person would have defended rebellion and allied himself with rebels and their friends, in order to oust Mr. Blake, and to punish the country for giving its confidence to Mr. Blake. Such, however, has been the policy of Reformers and of Mr. Blake. No one can suppose that Sir John Macdonald would have stumped the Maritime Provinces to inspire them with discontent, and to advise them to fraternize with the United States, rather than with the Dominion of Canada, in order to thwart Mr. Blake's management of public affairs, and to avenge himself upon his country for rejecting his services. But this is precisely what Mr. Blake did. No, Mr. Conmee, Conservatives in opposition would not encourage rebellion and secession, or ally themselves with rebels, murderers and traitors, even if the votes of such allies would restore them to power.

PROVINCIAL INVASIONS.

When Mr. Blake was in office as Minister of Justice for the Dominion, the following is the style in which he complained officially of invasions by the Province on more than one occasion:—

"There is, however, a growing tendency towards the invasion of the Criminal Law, by the Local Legislatures, which is obviously objectionable."

Now, however, that Mr. Blake is leader of the Opposition he is, by his brother leader, by his lieutenants and by his agents affording all possible encouragement to the Province of Quebec in the grossest conceivable invasion of Criminal Law. The Province of Quebec, or those who assume to speak in its name and to represent the popular feeling, are endeavoring to dismiss a Dominion Administration for allowing the Criminal Law to take effect, because the criminal in question had some Quebec blood in his veins. A more flagrant interference of a Province with Criminal Law it would be impossible to imagine. Yet Mr. Blake has not uttered one word of protest. On the other hand he allows those especially under his leadership to drag his name, and that of the party he leads, into this mire. Indeed such encouragement has he given to this attempt of his friends to set Quebec criminals above the criminal law, that their leaders publicly claim him as being one of themselves and represent him, with his more than tacit consent, as being in full sympathy with their movement.

Mr. Blake, when Minister of Justice, could reproach and threaten the Provinces for invasions of the criminal law. Mr. Blake, when leader of the Opposition and aching again to be Minister of Justice, even if at the cost of his honor, can encourage a Province in its invasion of criminal law, pushed to the extreme of claiming that its criminals shall be above the law, because by this disgraceful self-abasement he hopes to buy the votes of the friends of the criminal.

Was there ever before a great party that was disgraced by such ignominious leadership?

What a strange coincidence! It was on the eve of his fall from power that Sir John Macdonald accepted in 1872 an invitation to speak at Peterborough. He has now accepted a similar invitation. We are not superstitious; but the signs and omens do bear against the present Premier's political fortunes.—Ottawa Free Press.

What small things will cheer some drooping spirits? Without a policy and despairingly depending on the "race and revenge" cry, the Rielite press profess to see gleams of hope where there is not a glimmer. Sir John Macdonald, the Free Press is informed, spoke at Peterborough in 1878, and soon after was given a large majority in the general election. We hope that he will speak here again this year and that the result of the general election following will be the same as in 1878. We are not superstitious, but we have faith in the good sense and patriotism of the electorate.

In an editorial calling for the punishment of crime the Globe says:—

"What is necessary to prove is that the law can and will be enforced against criminals of every class, and the criminals had better take notice accordingly."

Of course it is understood that the Globe makes an exception in favor of criminals like Riel who have friends ready to sell their votes to the Globe and its party, in return for the alliance of the Globe and the Reform party, and their advocacy of criminals so favored.

Journalistic Swindlers.

Ottawa, Sept. 26.—Initiatory steps have been taken looking to the prosecutions of the journalistic swindlers who sent the bogus reports concerning the alleged new fishery treaty. Their offence is indictable, and in consequence of the popular indignation over the numerous impositions practiced lately, it seems that the industry is to be put an end to for a time at least.

ITALIAN LAND PROBLEM.

The Peasant Groaning Under High Taxes—Foreign Competition.

Rome, Sept. 27.—Vice-Consul Touhay, at Turin, in his report to the Department of State upon Agriculture in Italy, says:—Grain growers in that district are reduced to a desperate condition by taxes, high rents, above all by competition from the United States. "The agrarian question in Italy," he says, "is growing to be a great national problem, and as for the last five or six years the cultivation of the soil has been conducted always without profit and just now at a dead loss, the mutterings and discontent of rural districts are growing alarmingly. The Italian peasant is hopelessly ignorant, and although he possesses the right of being represented in Parliament and insisting upon some legitimate measure of relief, such as the reduction of the heavy taxation, under which he specially labours, he cannot extend his vision beyond his field, and his wrath is particularly directed against the landed proprietors, who are seemingly better off than himself, but who in reality have to share the same burdens. It is the old spectre of Socialism, and unless a remedy be found, and that quickly, there is a strong likelihood of trouble, not only in Piedmont, but all over this kingdom."

THE LOYALIST DELEGATES.

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—I observe in your issue of yesterday a letter over the signature of John Burnham, Esq., M. P., commenting on the meeting of the Loyalist delegates and my actions as presiding officer. As there appears to be a slight misapprehension in the minds of the public as to what parties were most prominent in bringing the delegates to this Province, I might say that they came to Canada under the auspices of the Loyal Orange Association, that they were met at Quebec by the Grand Master of the Association, that all appointments and arrangements were made by a committee of Grand officers of the Association, and I, as County Master, was requested by the committee to make arrangements for their reception at Peterborough. In pursuance of my duty I called together a meeting of the Orangemen of the county, who undertook to receive the Loyalist delegates under the patronage of the County Loyal Orange Lodge. The latter party instructed me, among other things, to invite Mr. James Stevenson, Mayor of the town, to act as chairman, as it was thought that his presiding would be a civic act of courtesy to the distinguished visitors. They also instructed me to invite the members of Parliament, all clergymen, town councillors and members of the press to take seats upon the platform, and among these Mr. Burnham was invited. The fact that any meeting happens to be under the auspices of Orangemen is no reason why their Catholic friends should not attend, and it is no reason why they should necessarily be insulted as Mr. Burnham would insinuate. The fact that a Canadian is an Orangeman is no guarantee that he is more bigoted or more bigoted than any other Protestant, and is no reason why he should not view Irish affairs with as charitable, human and intelligent a mind as any other man. Because a man is an Orangeman he is not necessarily an anti-Home Ruler, as all persons are denominated who are opposed to any legislation looking towards the advancement amelioration of the condition of the Irish people. I venture to say to-day that there is not an Orangeman in this county who would not hail with pleasure any legislation which would tend to elevate and improve the great mass of Irish tenants.

When Mr. Burnham asserts that I so packed the meeting as to exclude Catholics he is writing what is false and entirely uncalled for, for many Roman Catholics were present at the meeting. It was never intended that the meeting should be a religious party one, from which all parties whose religious views were opposed to those of the original promoters of the meeting should be excluded, but on the contrary it was the special aim of the Committee then that all parties irrespective of creed or politics should have the most free option of attending. Mr. Burnham need not feel that his acceptance of the invitation to take a seat on the platform would have bound and nailed him to all the opinions of the speakers, but on the other hand would rather furnish evidence that he has liberality enough to listen to both sides of any question, and courtesy and stamina enough not to be frightened at the mere possibility of a misconstruction of his actions. It seems very strange that Mr. Burnham should have experienced so sudden a conversion to the Home Rule movement. Only last winter in the House of Commons he voted for the emasculation of Mr. Blake's resolutions on Home Rule. As an acrobat attempting to ride both the Protestant and Catholic horses he must claim all the honors that are going. He might even give his chieftain a few points in that line.

As an Orangeman I have always been consistent and no man can point to any action on my part which would show even an inclination to diverge from the principles of the order. If Mr. Burnham's principles' whether political or otherwise, were as solid and mature as my Orange principles he would not be vascillating and shuffling on the question of attending a meeting which by chance was under the patronage of that order. No man can accuse me of making party capital by refering to Mr. Carnegie's manliness on taking a seat on the platform, although his views may not be in sympathy with the delegates. It is well known that Mr. Carnegie and myself have not been on friendly terms for years, but that need not prevent me from doing my duty and giving him credit for his courage, especially when I had such an opportunity of contrasting it with Mr. Burnham's cowardice. After a little liniment in the shape of advice from his friends during the past four days, Mr. Burnham's backbone shows some sign of stiffening and I hope they will continue the treatment until he is able to sit alone and then he can answer himself by pointing out what was wrong in the resolution to which he now objects, but for which he voted.

Yours truly,
J. B. McWILLIAMS.

A Broken Bank.

Portland, Me., Sept. 25.—Bank Examiner Wiswell said yesterday that he found the affairs of the First National Bank in a very complicated condition. He would not state whether Gould had added forgery to his crime, but it is rumored that Gould has used other men's names without their knowledge. The other day the directors ran into something of a startling nature, but what it is they will not disclose. It is feared the First National Bank stands in a precarious condition.

FORCED APART.

BY W. CLARK RUSSELL.

Author of the "Wreck of the Grosvenor," "A Sailor's Sweetheart," Etc.

Now were the features of both fathers visible, and never was offered a greater contrast of faces. The doctor, who had not been in bed all night, had a haggard look, which showed strongly on his plumpness; his eyes were languid with anxiety and fatigue. Yet the dignity of good breeding was in the repose of his face, and in his manners especially marked. On the other hand was the worn and handsome face of the shipwright, scorn and shame gleaming with a half-smothered light in his eyes, and the iron will of his nature hardening the curve and set of his mouth, and inclining his head to a backward fall of half-derisive haughtiness. With both hands he held his hat to his breast, taking no notice of the other's invitation to sit.

"Sir," he said, slowly, "there is a report below that your son is missing. But I am not a man to heed the town's gossip. Let me know from you that this is so."

"It is so," replied the doctor, eyeing him keenly.

"Is this sudden leaving of you unexpected?"

"Totally unexpected. Mr. Strangfield, if you have news to give concerning him, I beg you, in the name of humanity, not to withhold it."

"Answer me this, Dr. Shaw: Do you know that he is married?" said Strangfield, breathing deeply, and speaking with difficulty.

"Married!" cried the doctor, with unmistakable astonishment. "Certainly not, sir—most assuredly not, indeed!"

"I pray you reflect before you speak, sir. As you answer me now, so shall you be judged by Almighty God, who will hold you accountable for this action of your offspring. By word or look has your son Cuthbert ever given you reason to suspect he hath a wife?"

"Mr. Strangfield," replied the doctor, shocked by the energy of this adjuration, "I have given you a plain answer, and still my reply is, No. What has put this extraordinary notion into your head?"

"Then your son is a villain and a robber! the plunderer of my child's innocence and my name and honor! He hath enticed her into vile wrong; he hath taught her a deceit that hell itself would rebuke, and now hath left her to dwell alone in the disgrace and ruin he hath overwhelmed her with!" He let fall his hat, and buried his face in his hands.

The doctor stood petrified.

"In God's name, man," he cried, "speak out, and give some meaning to your charges. Dead or living, my son is outraged by your language, and before you leave this room you shall name me his offense, that I may establish his innocence."

With a shake of the head, as if he would clear his brain, Strangfield looked up.

"My daughter Jenny has this day told me that she is secretly married to your son, and you lied to me! That she is his wife, sir, which you would now make out a lie! Clear him of that!"

The doctor put up his hand. He was a man of decisive theories, and as bigoted at one pole of thought as Strangfield was at the other. So calmly confident was he his son was not married that he would not even condescend to reason the matter to himself.

"Your daughter," said he, in a cold voice, "is either wilfully deceiving you, or labors under some astonishing delusion. I am intimately acquainted with my son's nature and disposition, and do most positively assure you that he is the last man in the world to contract marriage clandestinely."

He spoke with a little curl of the lip, for he was very confident on this point.

"But—" he was continuing; then stopped and frowned, with his eyes bent on the floor.

"You were about to say it!" shrieked the unhappy father. "Speak out and clear him, in the name of God! I have called him villain and robber—clear him."

"I must beg you to restrain your impetuosity," returned the doctor, haughtily. "If my son has acted the part of a villain, you will not mend matters by clamoring at me. Statements have been made to you by your daughter, and their verification is a simple matter. But, mark me, she is deceiving you."

With a heavy effort Strangfield calmed himself, and, with a struggling face and twitching fingers, essayed to speak reasonably.

"You say my girl hath deceived me. This truly has she done, be she speaking gospel or a devil's lie, in what she told her mother. Yet you must know, sir, that up to this day never had I a cause to doubt her as a good girl. She declares that she was married to your son three weeks ago, when we had sent her for a change of air to her aunt, who lives at Sydenham."

The doctor grew a shade paler.

"Three weeks ago! My son was in London then. Good heaven, sir, he surely—the improbability—the—the—" Mr. Strangfield kept his glowing eyes bent on him. "For some time past," the doctor went on, "I have noticed a change in him, and his answers have been full of evasion. But if he were married, he cried, in his eagerness straining his head forward, and leaning with both hands on the table, "would he abandon his wife and mysteriously depart as he has now done, leaving no hint behind him either of his motive or his whereabouts. Oh, Mr. Strangfield, that speaks for itself. That is a very persuading argument against your daughter, sir."

"It is that which has brought me here!" cried Strangfield in a voice of thunder. "Has he gone? You answer yes. If he loved her well enough to marry her he would not leave her. If he had betrayed her, then have you his reason for flying!"

Dr. Shaw turned to pace the room. Light was beginning to dawn on him. It was difficult for him to bring his mind to believe that Cuthbert was guilty of a mortal sin; yet here was the father of the girl violent in heavy charges, so that the existence of the victim at least was an established fact by surest proof.

"As the husband of your daughter he would not have left her," he said, speaking in a tone of pain and shame, and with something like horror in the expression of his eyes. "May God forgive him if he has brought disgrace upon the innocent! But, Mr. Strangfield, have not you approached your conclusion with extreme hurry? On the statement of your daughter, unsupported by any evidence, you convict her and my son. She affirms herself married; and if this be so, it is most easy of proof. But though the marriage cannot be proved, what impeachment should there be in the silence of evidence unless you have testimony to satisfy you of their guilt?"

Mr. Strangfield picked up his hat and turned it about vacantly in his hands.

"I came here," he said, in a low voice, "to find out if your son hath truly left you, as reported. If he be my daughter's husband, it shall be proved soon. Sir, I thank you for receiving me civilly, and bearing with me. For forty years have I dwelt in Greystone, and for all that time no man hath ever pointed his finger at me for any act of wrong. That my girl hath owned to a secret marriage is a bitter disgrace upon me, who have ever tried to teach her the hatefulness of deceit, as the pathway of one that forgets the Lord. If you have news of your son, sir, you will please to acquaint me with it, that I may sift this business to the bottom."

And turning abruptly he left the room, and in a moment the doctor heard the hall door closed.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

The Temperature.

The following are the readings of the thermometer to-day at the hours mentioned:—8 o'clock, 50; 1 o'clock, 64; 3 o'clock, 62.

Social.

A social will be held under the auspices of the Mission Band of St. Paul's church on the evening of Thanksgiving Day, November 18th. The musical part of the programme will be under the direction of Mr. Parker.

The Finest lot of Gent's Furnishings in Peterborough at ANDREW MCNEIL'S.

Dentistry.

Mr. R. F. Morrow, gold medalist and honor graduate of Toronto School of Dentistry, successor to Mr. J. Pentland, attends to all branches of dentistry with care and uses anesthetics for the painless extraction of teeth.

The Exhibition.

Have you been to the Exhibition? No! What exhibition? Why the one that is going on at the Bon Marche. They are selling goods astonishingly cheap. You should go and see for your self and spend a little money in dry goods, groceries etc., before everything is sold out. Can't buy as much in any other place in town for the same money.

The Ladies will Help.

The lady friends of the Young Men's Christian Association met on Tuesday afternoon and decided to help the Association in their effort to get rid of the debt hanging over them. Representatives in each church were appointed to take charge of the matter. The finance committee of Association are meeting with very fair success, and their continued efforts, with these of the ladies, will doubtless place the Association on a good footing.

Good Coatmakers Wanted. Apply to ANDREW MCNEIL, Habiliment Hall.

The Market.

There was a fair attendance at the market this morning considering the state of the roads in the country. Not a great deal of grain was moving, but what appeared was quickly bought up. Wheat remains at the same figure, 78 cents per bushel for the best; barley sold all the way from 40 to 60 cents per bushel. The price of oats is considerably off, a good grade being bought for 29 cents per bushel; and pease has remained at about the same, 60 to 65 per bushel. A considerable quantity of potatoes were disposed of. The price remains firm at 60 cents per bag. A considerable quantity of hay was disposed of at $8 a ton.

Fooling with Electricity.

Mr. R. B. McKee, hardware merchant, has been making his competitors wonder at the novelty of his advertising. On Tuesday night he was actually giving free electric shocks to everybody that came along. At about half past eight o'clock his store was beseiged with people, there being a crowd of over a hundred in front of the shop. Among the scores that went up to the "trough" was the jeweller across the way, a well-known furniture dealer around the corner, several dry goods men, Charlie McGinty and a number of other prominent gentlemen. The way the people were given the shocks came about this way: The electric light wires had come in contact with the wet awning, which conducted the fluid to the bars which supported it and thence along to the whole iron front of the store. A person went to enter the shop, when placing one foot on the iron door plate felt so queer a sensation that the pedal extremity was at once removed and investigations were entered upon. Some thought the mesmerizer had thrown out an electric lasso to capture a subject, while others presaged an immediate manifestation of Wiggin's earthquake. When the real cause was found everybody circled around, were shocked, and went home.

THERE will be an elegant display of ladies and childrens mantles at the Golden Lion grand millinery opening on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 29, 30 and October 1st.

ENNISMORE PICNIC.

An Autumn Gathering to Provide for a Free Library.

A picnic was held at Chemong Park, Bridgenorth, on Tuesday, by the people of Ennismore. Father Kielty and the congregation of his church had made preparations for a large gathering, but the weather was most unfavorable. In the morning the sky was clouded, and during the day rain fell, while the wind was strong and cool. But the determination of the people was such that the picnic was carried out, and, considering the circumstances, it was very well attended. There were a number present from Peterbouough, including the Rev. Father Conway, and the people of Ennismore turned out very well, while others came from other townships.

Dancing was the principal amusement. A large platform had been prepared for this purpose and the Ennismore string band furnished good music. The platform was occupied all day.

An air gun shooting gallery afforded considerable amusement, and "bulls-eyes" were frequently made. A booth on the ground supplied temperance drinks to those in attendance at the picnic.

The ladies had provided a sumptuous dinner, laid out on tables, which was enjoyed by all present. The dinners provided at the Ennismore picnics are always of the best, and on this occasion the reputation was well maintained. Tea was also served later in the day.

A silk dress was to be competed for by two young ladies, Miss McCann, teacher at No. 1 school section, Ennismore, and Miss Williams, organist of the parish church. On account of the unfavorable weather and the attendance not being as large as was expected, the young ladies decided not to close the competition. It is not known which of them has been most successful in the canvass, but about $125 has been collected.

This picnic was held for the laudable purpose of providing funds to furnish a library for the people of Ennismore. Those present enjoyed themselves very well, the committee and those in charge doing all they could to make up for the unpleasantness of the weather, and the picnic, in all but the attendance, was very successful.

The financial result was such as will lay a good foundation for the library fund, and the people will ere long have a creditable library from which to procure intellectual nourishment.

Good Coatmakers Wanted. Apply to ANDREW MCNEIL, Habiliment Hall.

Mite Meeting.

A mite meeting in connection with the "Woman's Foreign Missionary Society" (of St. Paul's Church) will be held on Thursday evening next the 30th inst., at the residence of Mrs. Alex. Smith, Aylmer street, at half past seven. Those wishing to help fill the box for India will have an opportunity of buying from a selection of small articles to be disposed of suitable for the purpose.

Personal.

Dr. Kane and Mr. Geo. Hill Smith, the Irish orators who spoke in the Opera House here recently, were in town to-day. They will address a meeting at Millbrook to-night.

Mr. A. F. Hoover, pianist, of this town, was at Lindsay on Tuesday, where in a few hours he formed a numerous class for instruction in the various branches of pianoforte playing. He will pay weekly professional visits to Lindsay.

Irrespective of politics, the many friends and admirers of the Rev. D. J. Macdonnell in Peterborough, where he was so highly esteemed when pastor of St. Andrew's Church, are greatly disgusted with the Globe's conduct in calling him a Pharisee and hypocrite.

Good Coatmakers Wanted. Apply to ANDREW MCNEIL, Habiliment Hall.

Shooting.

Nelson Parkes, of Peterborough, was charged by Wm. Hubble, of Methuen, with having, on Sunday, August 22nd, shot and wounded the said Wm. Hubble. The case was heard by His Honor Judge Weller, at the Court House on Tuesday afternoon. Nelson Parkes owns a farm in Methuen on which there is an orchard. Having been troubled by boys stealing his fruit he resolved to call a shot gun to his aid to prevent future incursions. On the Sunday afternoon in question Wm. Hubble, more tardy than the others with him in the orchard, was just disappearing over the fence when three grains of shot penetrated his skin. The prisoner was found guilty of the charge and was sentenced to one week in gaol. Mr. Wood, County Crown Attorney, appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. John Burnham for the defence.

W. C. T. U.

A meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held on Monday, Sept. 27th. It was opened with singing, prayer by Mrs. Fife and concert reading of 144 Psalm. President in the chair. Miss Stinson, the Secretary, being absent, Mrs. Kendry by request read minutes of last meeting, which were approved. Treasurer's report read and adopted. Mrs. Wand reported a very generous response to request for bandages, which have been forwarded to the Nicholls Hospital. The President read a paper from minutes of Michigan State Union Convention, which contained many helpful suggestions, and which clearly showed that "it is not by might nor by power but by the Holy Spirit" that good work is accomplished. Mrs. Price, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Alexander were appointed to wait upon the ministers of the different churches and request them to hold temperance prayer meetings monthly. Meeting closed with the usual devotional exercises.

KITCHEN Grindstones, 3 sizes on hand, cheap. GEORGE STETHEM.

THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR.

The Reception Committees Meet and Make Arrangements.

The Reception Committee, representing the Town Council and the Agricultural Association, met in the town buildings on Tuesday evening to make arrangements for the reception of the Lieutenant-Governor.

There were present, for the Town Council, Mayor Stevenson and Councillors Cahill, Kendry, Rutherford and Menzies, and for the Association, Messrs. John Carnegie, M. P. P., Wm. Collins and J. R. Stratton.

Mayor Stevenson was appointed Chairman of the Joint Committee and Councillor Moore, secretary. It was decided that the town bear two-third of the reception expenses and the Association one-third.

Messrs. Stevenson and Moore were appointed a committee to arrange for a lunch for the Lieut.-Governor and suite. Mr. Carnegie was appointed to prepare an address on behalf of the Association, and Mr. Moore on behalf of the town.

The programme as now arranged consists as follows: His Honor the Lieut-Governor and suite will arrive in town on Wednesday, October 6th, by the Canadian Pacific Railway on the 11.30 train. He will be met by representatives of the town and association, and in carriages will be conveyed up George street, escorted by a guard of honor consisting of calvary, infantry and the Battalion band to the Oriental Hotel.

After lunch His Honor will be escorted to the grounds where addresses will be presented to him. The presentations will be made on a platform which is being erected in front of the grand stand.

Speculation.

An agent representing a grain and produce firm says that the Peterborough market is the worst point in the district. He thinks the prices paid for wheat last year were too high, and he backs up his opinion by saying that his firm lost $10,000 on wheat. He consoles himself, however, by the reflection that $15,000 was cleared on barley bought at low prices at a market in Victoria county.

The Finest lot of Gent's Furnishings in Peterborough at ANDREW MCNEIL'S.

Anticipating His Worship.

At the last Council meeting the Mayor asked Councillor Menzies if he objected to scraping the streets. Councillor Menzies said that he had decided objections to doing so. The Mayor then announced that he would scrape the streets himself. Inspector Wilson has doubtless heard of this conversation for this morning a relay of men were put to work with shovels and hoes on George street, thus preventing His Worship from engaging in so undignified a pastime.

OTTAWA EXPLORATIONS.

THE Ottawa Free Press gang appears to be busy again, as a sensational account of wholesale Indian depredations in the North-west has been telegraphed from the Dominion capital. As it is declared unfounded by the Department, and is unknown at Winnipeg or in the North-west, we decline to publish this "news," which is probably a device to impede the settlement of the North-west in accordance with the system under which the fabrications are perpetrated of doing all possible damage to Canada, so long as its people place their confidence in Conservatire statesmen. We decline to be a party to such a scheme.

FALL MILLINERY.

The Leading Shades, Styles, Materials, and Trimmings.

Several of the fall millinery openings took place on Wednesday and at night the various stores presented a brilliant appearance. There were a good many visitors out, but owing to the chilly weather, not so many as on other similar occasions. Other establishments held their openings to-day and to-night nearly all will be open for the reception of visitors.

The most fashionable shades this fall are dove color grey, cocicoce, or poppy color, amethyst, and black and white; but peacock blue, browns and greens in different shades, and garnets still remain in vogue.

The hats do not change much in regard to height of crown, there being but a slight diminution of height if there is any change at all. In some of the leading styles the brims are exceedingly broad, while the others, such as the walking hats, the brims are rolling and the crowns are high. The bonnets are very narrow and quite high in the crowns. Turbans are conspicuous in the display.

The hat and bonnet trimmings consist of striped plushes and velvets in different shades, birds and wings, moss cloth, and jet.

The mantles, jackets and dolmans this season, as last, are worn very short. The ulsters are worn long and close fitting. The materials for dolmans and mantles consist principally of Astrachan cloth, velvet, brocades and embossed cloth.

The velvet brocades are quite different from last season's in style of designs. The trimmings are chiefly feather trimming, fur, and rouching, a silk and chenille mixture. Large buckles form the ornaments. Nap and Jersey cloth are used for ulsters.

GRAND TRUNK EXTENSION.

Between Gravenhurst and the Sault—Railway Deputations.

It is reported on good authority that the Grand Trunk Railway Company will commence the immediate construction of the Sault St. Marie extension from Gravenhurst to Sault St. Marie. This line, forming a short outlet from the Northwestern States via the Midland system to Canadian ports, has been long contemplated, and its advantages toward increasing the Canadian carrying and shipping trades exhaustively discussed. Not only will the distance from St. Paul, the great metropolis of the Northwestern States, to the seaboard be shortened by several hundreds of miles, but there will also be a chief route from that city to Montreal over which through trains will be able to run. Such a line will not only divert an immense quantity of freight which is at present sent around the lakes to New York, through Canadian territory to Montreal and Quebec, but it will also afford needed competition. The opening of this new line will necessitate the completion of the Midland system from Bridgewater to Ottawa and Montreal. The Grand Trunk railway extension is already graded to Perth and the question remains to be settled whether it will be extended from thence to connect with the present main line at Cornwall or by way of Ottawa, via the Canada Atlantic to Montreal. If the latter scheme be decided on the main line from the Northwestern States will pass through this city and cannot fail to add immensely to its commercial importance, besides diverting an immense amount of traffic here, and give the Grand Trunk a share of Ottawa's growing business.—Ottawa Free Press.

WANTED, OR NOT WANTED?

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—In the Keene items of last week's issue by your correspondent, we notice that he thinks "a license is absolutely required for this place;" reason given—"it is impossible to go to Peterborough at all times." A word in reply. Since the Scott Act came into force we have had some liquor imported into our village, and once or twice the midnight slumbers of our citizens been disturbed by the worshippers of Bacchus as their benedictions brought their services to a close, nevertheless we have now as orderly and peaceful a community as can be found in Ontario. Does your correspondent want this happy state of things brought to an end, simply to give some one the privilege of making money by again bringing disorder and misery into our midst? All our doctors (we have four) signed a petition to have it enect that such a license is not required, besides, a large majority of the inhabitants do not desire such a change, and therefore hope that the present orderly state of our village may be allowed to continue notwithstanding agitations to the contrary.

Geological Survey.

Mr. Henry M. Ami, of the Geological Survey of Canada, Ottawa, has, for some weeks past been engaged examining the different geological formations in our County as also in the counties of Victoria and Hastings. The limestone formations here, as in many other places, have proved most interesting, and from the abundance of fossils which these rocks contained the age of the rocks was determined with greater facility than would otherwise have been. Evidence of great erasions and active denuding agencies was observed throughout the whole area. The present rivers and streamlets are the only historic facts remaining where there formerly flowed vast streams of water, where lakes and rivers of great size once were to be found. Much valuable information was obtained by Mr. Ami from Messrs. H. Strickland and G. M. Roger, in whose collections choice and rare specimens are to be found.

Wedding Bells.

On Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, at St. John's Church, the marriage of Mr. Huntly Elliott, of Orillia, to Miss Edith, eldest daughter of Mr. W. Brundrett, was solemnized by the Rev. Mr. Beck. Mr. Harry Stock supported the groom and Miss Annie Brundrett was the bridesmaid. After the celebration of the marriage the wedding party took lunch at the residence of the bride's father, Bethune street. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott left on the evening train for their home in Orillia. The bride was favored with a large number of presents.

Sproule Must be Executed.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 29.—Sproule, the American whose sentence of death was suspended pending an appeal to the courts at Ottawa, and afterwards to the Privy Council of Great Britain, will probably be executed on October 14th, the day to which he was respited. The State Department has exerted itself in his behalf but has been to-day informed from Logdon that representations in Sproule's behalf have not been considered sufficiently weighty to overturn the verdict or to longer postpone the execution.

Everything Quiet.

The report that the Blood Indians are on the warpath is denied by the editor of the Fort McLean Gazette. He says that everything is quiet there and the Indians are all on their reserve.

LTAEST CABLE NEWS.

WILL FORCIBLY RESIST.

SOFIA, Sept. 29.—General Kaulbar's note to the Bulgarian Government does not ask that the elections be postponed. It simply asks that the plotters be released and allowed to leave the country, and that the state of sieze be raised. He verbally explained that it would be politic to postpone the elections, as the Czar desires that the nation might choose any prince except Prince Alexander, whose election Russia will forcibly resist. There is an impression that the mildness of General Kaulbars is calculated to enlist sympathy with the Russian party.

UNEASINESS AT ST. PETERSBURG.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The Standard's Vienna correspondent says:—"I am informed by a friend that feelings of uneasiness and depression exist at St. Petersburg. It is now recognized that Russia will have to deal with Bulgaria, which is more hostile than before. The Czar is extremely averse to the occupation of Bulgaria. Reluctance is also shown to name a candidate for the vacant throne."

THE ISMAILIA PALACE TROUBLE.

CAIRO, Sept. 29.—The police have taken possession of the Ismail palace, which was seized by M. Lavison on behalf of Ismail Pasha. Sir Henry Drummond Wolff has returned, and a meeting will be held to-day, at which the subject will be considered.

BULGARIA'S ANSWER TO RUSSIA.

SOFIA, Sept. 29.—It is understood the Bulgarian ministry will courteously tell General Kaulbars that they regret they are unable to comply with Russia's demands, because compliance would involve violations of the Bulgarian constitution.

THE RIVAL SCULLERS.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Hanlan was promptly on hand at the Sportsman office yesterday, and patiently awaited the appearance of Beach to arrange the preliminaries for a match on the Thames or the Tyne, in accordance with the challenge issued by Hanlan and posted yesterday morning. Beach is said to still regard Hanlan's offer as a bluff, and will pay no attention to it unless the Canadian sculler desires to row him on the Paramatta, and so his non-appearance at the Sportsman office surprised no one. Hanlan yet hopes to goad the big Australian into rowing him here. Hanlan declined to enter the sweepstakes regatta, although he contributed £100 towards the purse fund. There are cash prizes offered to the extent of over £300. The first prize £125; the second, £75; the third, fourth and fifth, £40, £25 and £10 respectively. Consolation prizes of £30, divided, are offered to non-winners in the first-class.

RIOTOUS BELFAST.

BELFAST, Sept. 29.—There was desperate fighting to-day between Protestant and Roman Catholic workmen at Harland's foundry in this city. Police interfered, when the fighters joined forces and stoned and routed the police. The cavalry were then summoned, who charged upon and dispersed the mob. Many of the rioters and several policemen were injured.

INCLINING TOWARDS ENGLAND.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 29.—The Moscow Gazette states that the Austro-Hungarian Government is entirely separate from Germany and Russia on the Bulgarian question, and those countries now incline towards England.

A NIHILIST ESCAPES.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 29.—The Nihilist chief Degajeff, the murderer of Colone Soudeikin, has escaped. A reward of $5,000 is offered for his recapture.

FRANCE'S POLICY.

PARIS, Sept. 29.—At a banquet given in his honor at Toulouse, last night, Prime Minister de Freycinet urged that all Republician sections unite in order to avoid contentious questions, and to work for effective reforms. He said France desired peace, but it must be peace which would cost her dignity nothing. She would in no case abdicate her rank as a great power. In regard to colonial questions, he said the Government did not wish to make fresh acquisitions, but would maintain its present possessions. Mr. De Freycient dwelt upon the duty of the state to alleviate the condition of the workingmen, and thus end their antagonism to their masters. In the course of his remarks, the Prime Minister said: "If France's honor and dignity are threatened, we must be prepared to make all sacrifices to sustain them. At present our relations with the great powers are established on a footing of mutual consideration." M. De Freycinet was greeted with prolonged cheering at the conclusion of his speech, and a shout of "Vive Freciet," vive La Republique" went up from his enthusiastic hearers.

THREATS AND ACTS.

SOFIA, Sept. 29.—The Regency has posted notices for a grand Sobranje, which is to elect a successor to Prince Alexander. Gen. Kaulbars, the Russian special agent, threatens to have the notices removed. A rupture between Bulgaria and Russia is imminent. Gen. Kaulbass has removed M. De Klindoff, the Russian consul here, because of his lack of firmness in dealing with the Bulgarian Government, and has appointed in his place M. Ulgestrom, Russian consul at Philipopolis.

A VIOLENT CIRCULAR.

SOFIA, Sept. 29.—Gen Kaulbars has sent a violent circular to the Russian consuls in Bulgaria with the request that they inform the people of the circular's contents. The circular makes twelve points, several of which the Bulgarian Government declares Russia must know to be false. It begins by stating that "the time for mere words has ended. The Czar can now be convinced only by acts. Only then will he offer this country internal and external protection." The circular accuses the Bulgarians of acts of indiscipline in burning flags and the insigna of St. George. The Bulgarian Government denies the latter accusation. The circular declares that Russia cannot allow Bulgaria to try the kidnappers of Alexander, and that it is impossible to allow Alexander and his family to return to Bulgaria. It is understood that owing to this circular the Government will resist the demands of the Czar's ultimatum brought by Gen. Kaulbars.

The Daily Review.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1886.

SUPERANNUATION.

THE Riclite-Reform Montreal Herald, following in the footsteps of some of its party in Parliament, has an editorial on Civil Service Superannuation, in which it avers that Sir John Macdonald has placed on the list a number of Civil Servants who have drawn far more than they have paid in. It proceeds to give a list of 34 Civil Servants whom it pretends that Sir John thus treated, appending the sums paid by them and received by them till the beginning of this year.

Not having at hand the data to check this list and ascertain the degree of accuracy with which it is compiled, we have looked through it to see if it contains the name of any gentleman from this locality, with whose career we are thus acquainted, and by this means to test the Herald's facts and figures.

Sure enough in this list of Civil Servants, stated to have been superannuated by Sir John Macdonald, we find the name of one very well known in Peterborough, Mr. John Langton, who was for a long time a resident here, who among other offices filled the important position of Warden of the County, and who represented us in Parliament. As it happens MR. Langton was also the largest recipient mentioned by the Herald, which states (we have not checked its figures) that he paid $847 to the fund and received $29,146. This instance then is well adapted to afford us a criterion of the Herald's accuracy and fairness.

Now we find that Mr. John Langton was not superannuated, as the Herald declares, by Sir John. He was superannuated by the Reform Administration, of which Mr. Blake was not at the moment a member, having been seized with one of his periodical and temporary vanishing fits, but which he was supporting. He was superannuated, when a most capable and active officer, with, as has been proved, the energy for many years of active, useful work, when for years he might have retained the public office he filled so well without any loss to the community through inefficient service, and without the taxpayers being called upon to pay his superannuation in addition to the salary of his successor. He was superannuated on the eve of a general election, when the Reform leaders dreaded the popular verdict, and when they were hurrying to serve their friends before the people of Canada deprived them of the power by dismissing them from the management of public affairs. He was superannuated to make room for Mr. John Lorn McDougall, the Reform member for Renfrew, a zealous partizan, and to reward him for services which had brought him under the unfavourable notice of our judges.

This is the result of an investigation of the most prominent name on the Herald's list. Is it not probable that a further scrutiny would show equal dishonesty in other cases, a dishonesty which would be astonishing, were it not so characteristic of the Herald, which last session begged for Government advertisement, and which has gone into opposition with extreme virulence and with an unfairness of which we have just given a specimen, because it did not obtain this patronage.

The question of the remuneration of the Civil Service is one fairly open to discussion, and there may well be two honest opinions as to whether the superannuation of those grown old in the service is expedient, or whether the salaries should be revised and the recipients left to adopt ordinary insurance. But no useful light can be thrown upon the subject by falsified lists and the dishonest ascription to Conservatives of acts really performed by Reformers.

One thing is certain, that superannuation is neither economical, expedient nor honest, as thus shown to be conducted by Reformers on the plan of superannuating efficient, active and energetic public servants, to make room for Reformers whose doubtful partizan services have to be rewarded.

THAT FACTORY ACT.

THE Brockville Recorder is not satisfied with what we said in reference to the Ontario Factory Act. It says:—

"A statement of the Peterborough REVIEW respecting the factory act is false in some respects. Hon. Mr. Mowat has not asked the Dominion government to 'dispute' the constitutionality of the provincial act. He simply asked it to agree to submit a case to ascertain where the jurisdiction lies. Neither does the Mowat government wish Sir John to interfere with their legislation and denounce him because he does not do so. Nothing could be further from the truth than such a statement."

Statements further from the truth than were those made by the REVIEW are not difficult to find. When the Recorder said that the Minister of Justice suggested that Mr. Mowat should test the constitutionality of the Factory Act before the courts, and that the Dominion Government prevented that Act from going into force, it made statements a long distance further from the truth. In fact, they were so untrue that the Recorder does not try to prove them, because it could not.

If Sir John Macdonald had consented to become a party to the reference of the question of the validity of the Act to the courts, not even Mr. Mowat's invitation to him to do so would have saved him from the denunciations of the Reform press for "invading the rights of the Provinces." The Dominion Government, however, declined to become a party to the reference—refused to dispute the validity of the Act—and the Reform press are now angry because it does not.

Mr. Mowat must have caused the Legislature to pass an Act that he fears is not constitutional—he must have done something which he was not sure he had a right to do—or his Factory Act was nothing less than a tricky attempt to impose on the people by getting the Dominion Government to test its validity and thus giving his friends an opportunity to scarify Sir John Macdonald as an enemy of factory artisans and of Provincial rights. Perhaps it is the failure of the trick that arouses their anger. And perhaps the fact that there is nothing to prevent them from bringing the Act into force, and thus benefitting the workmen in factories, increases their illhumor. It is evident that they are angry about something, and it is plain that the Dominion Government has not prevented them from giving effect to the legislation in question.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The farmers of this, and adjoining counties, and others who devote attention to the market department of the REVIEW, will be interested to know that we have made arrangements with Mr. Cluxton to give his opinions on the state of the grain and produce market in this column from time to time. Mr. Cluxton has for the past forty years been one of the largest dealers in grain and produce between Montreal and Toronto, having for a long time moved the bulk of the crops in the district to the outside markets and, though now retired from active life on the mart, he still takes a keen interest in closely studying the signs of change as they present themselves on the commercial horison. These opinions, coming from such a source, cannot fail to be of value to those interested. Mr. Cluxton's first letter on the subject appears in the present issue of the REVIEW.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

BY MR. CLUXTON.

The depression, which has for an unusually long time prevailed in England and the United States, is lifting, and the future is bright and hopeful. The prices of manufactured goods and raw materials are advancing with a brisk demand. In Canada the crops are all good, and this is an uncommon thing. Generally when we have a good crop of fall wheat we have an inferior crop of spring wheat, and vice versa. Large crops, even with low prices, mean general prosperity and ease in money matters.

WHEAT.

The price of wheat is too low, when taking into consideration the larger wants of Europe, owing to the deficiency in the crop in England, Russia and France, to continue at the present range, and during the winter we may expect better prices. At present the farmers of the Western States are making a mistake by rushing their old and new wheats to market, thereby increasing the visible supply enormously, taking the life out of buyers and demoralizing the trade generally.

BARLEY.

The price of barley must rule low this season. California, the Western and Eastern States and Canada, have the largest crop ever grown on this continent. Western dealers are sending their agents east forcing sales, and already there has been a sharp decline in the price in Chicago, which was already low enough.

CHEESE.

The cheese product is becoming a very important interest in Canada, and is developing into every large dimensions Canadian cheese is looked upon with much favour in England, and is better in quality than that of the United States. We can beat the States in cheese and barley, and it is hard to enumerate the great benefit this fact is to this country. The cheese market at present is being manipulated by dealers, and the price is now abnormally high. The price in New York is 11½ cents per pound and 11⅛ cents in Montreal. The quality of the cheese made in the counties of Peterborough and Victoria is not as good as in the other parts of Ontario, but no doubt this will be remedied.

BUTTER.

Butter, as it was last year, will be ruinously low in price. The fact is, the butter trade is killed by the large quantities of butterine and other imitations, which are so well made in Germany that it is difficult for even good judges to decide whether they are imitations or choice dairy butter. England is flooded with this stuff, and Ireland and America have to suffer in consequence.

CLOVER SEED.

Clover seed is also becoming an important crop in Canada. So far as quality is concerned we can also beat the States in this article, but the States clean and dress it better than we do. Last winter there was about $40,000 worth of Alsyke clover seed sold in Lindsay, and there was also a good deal shipped from Peterborough. This year the crops of red and Alsyke clover seed are good, but the weather has been unfavorable for saving the seed. The prices of clover in the States are opening low—$4.60 for prime red and about $5.00 for Alsyke per bushel. Clover seed should be brought to market not later than January, so as to enable dealers to send it to Europe in time for the spring sowing.

ENNISMORE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

CRAB APPLE BLOSSOMS.—In the orchard of Jeremiah Carew, Lot 2, Con. 5, of Ennismore, can be seen [illegible] apple trees in full bloom, and a number of them are loaded with a crop of fine fruit on it, and a considerable amount of blossoms now coming to maturity.

WORRIED BY DOGS.—Four sheep belonging to Wm. F. Bolster, of Ennismore, got badly worried with dogs on Sunday last. The owner of the canine paid for the sheep and took them away.

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

SERENADE.—Our band serenaded Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Stricklank on Friday evening.

PERSONAL.—Mr. D' Eyncourt Strickland, of the Quebec Bank, Toronto, is at home for a short holiday.

WELL AGAIN.—Your many readers will glad to learn that Mr. Traill, who has been seriously indisposed, is now quite well again.

A WASHOUT.—I would call the attention of the Council to the condition of the footpath just north of the residence of Mr. R. C. Strickland. The path being on a slope and lower than the road the late heavy rains have made a regular washout and in its present condition is really dangerous to pedestrians.

PROVINCICL VOTERS' LIST.—His Honor Judge Weller is revised the voters' lists for the village on Wednesday.

L. O. L.—Beresford Loyal Orange Lodge will hold their regular monthly meeting next Monday.

KEENE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

BURGLARY.—While Mr. John McIntyre, 8th con. Otonabee, was at church on Sunday evening last, his house was entered through the cellar and ransacked by burglars, who doubtless knew the run of the house. They did not secure anything of value and overlooked all the money which happened to be in the house.

ORANGE.—Keene L.O.L. meets on the first Thursday of every month, instead of the second as formerly.

LACROSSE.—The Excelsior Lacrosse 'Club of this place has disbanded for the season, as several players have left and others intend leaving shortly and all challenges will have to wait over until next spring, when they expect to be stronger than ever. The club feels very much disatisfied at not being able to get the Norwood seniors to play off the draw of July 1st.

MASONIC.—Keene Lodge 374, G.R.C., A.F. and A.M., meets on Thursday evening next. Visiting brethren are cordially invited.

ADDRESS.—Mr. McEwan, of Lakefield, delivered an interesting address to Ladies in the Presbyterian church on Tuesday afternoon last.

PERSONAL.—Mr Geo. K. Mark has left to resume his studies at Trinity Medical College, Toronto. A number from here attended the fair at Roseneath this week. Mr. and Mrs. T. Cameron are visiting relatives near Montreal.

LARGE ONION.—Dr. Harrison has a large quantity of onions averaging 14 inches and over in circumterence and weighing nearly a pound each. A sample can be seen at the Victoria Drug store where the Doctor procured the seed.

STAGE.—Mr. A. Brice has taken possession of the Keene stage and is as obliging as mine hosts of the American Hotel.

CORRECTION.—The Canadian thistle mentioned a fortnight ago as being over 6 ft. should have been over 7½ ft. Mr. J. H. Cruickshanks will be pleased to show it to anyone wishing to see it.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Several houses and shops are being improved by a large quantity of paint. Mr. Price, of Peterborough, has a large contract with Mr. Alex. Campbell.

Fluid Lightning is simply a nervous Rheumatic Remedy. I was for two months a cripple, unable to get out of the house from Sciatica. One bottle gave me instant relief, and placed me on my feet again. I have driven fourteen miles to-day (something I have not done for [illegible] for the express purpose of procuring another bottle. So says Wm. Dixon, Gananoque. Only 25 cents per bottle at J. CHAPTER XIII.

THE DEACON'S CHARITY.

"Mr. Strangfield went straight to his house, and stood a moment under the shelter of the leaves to wipe his forehead before entering. His wife, hearing his step, came out of the parlor and looked at him in silence, too frightened to offer him any kind of salutation.

"Is dinner ready, Jane?" he asked, thrashing the dust from his shoes with a red pocket-handkerchief and assuming an off-hand tone of voice which was a lie in his wife's ear.

"More than ready, Michael. The bit of beef is baked to a chip by this time, I doubt; but if we eat it quickly, it may still be worth asking a blessing over. As to Jenny, now thou'rt in, I'll not wait for her."

"Where is she?" inquired Mr. Strangfield, looking at his wife with a frown.

"Why, she went out soon after you left the house, and Polly says she walked up the High street. She's gone to get the news about her husband, I dare say. Dear! dear! to hear me talk of it in this easy way! But that must be because I have cried my heart dry."

Mr. Strangfield walked into the parlor where the table was prepared for dinner, he held his face toward the window for a while and then, turning round to his wife, who gazed at him from the doorway, not daring to ask questions, but too eager to bear the result of his quest after Cuthbert to divert him by calling to the servant, he said:

"Why do you speak of her husband? Do you know that she is married?"

"Do I know? It was she who said so. Oh, Michael, why do you look at me so wildly?"

"You do not ask me where I have been," he exclaimed, with a grim, fleeting smile. "That is strange in one so curious. I will tell thee, Jane—I have been to see Dr. Shaw."

"Michael, what hath Dr. Shaw to say about his son?"

"Ask me if he knows that he is married." Then, relenting under the twitch of pain in his wife's mild face, he cried out in a quivering voice: "Oh, Jane, this man swears that his son is not married—that neither by word nor look has he given him cause to suspect such a thing. And he asked me: Would my son, if your daughter was his wife, leave her mysteriously, and without message or reason? Such words he said. And he hinted at sin and conscience hurrying the scoundrel from the town!"

"Michael," said his wife in a hoarse whisper, going up to him and putting her hand on his arm, "dost thee mean to say that—that——"

He looked down upon her with stony eyes; whereupon she half shrieked, "No, no! Lord, did the vile schoolmaster charge my pure child with such a sin before her father, and no denial made him! Michael, didst thee let the foul old man say that of her? Oh, my pretty one! Oh, my Jenny! how can they think it of thee! how can they think it!"

"Do you call her pure!—she who, by her own confession, has deceived those who love her!" he exclaimed, in a slow, bitter voice. "Since she has confessed to one sin, why shall not you believe in her deeper guilt, until she shall prove that she hath wronged us by deceitfulness only! It is good reasoning to declare that, if this man were her husband, he would not have left her without token of his going, and a truthful conclusion to come at, that having wronged her, and dreading my wrath and his father's, he has fled from the place, and, like a sneaking coward, left her to bear her sin alone."

Dumbfounded, the mother listened; then, plucking up heart, replied, "Why do you doubt that she has spoken the truth? If she be married, she has not sinned as you say; and yet, though you know not for sure whether she be married or not, you condemn her as if she were a single woman that had fallen. Oh, Michael! thy heart is too hard. Though she be not married, yet why do you say that she hath sinned? Poor little one! must her heart be broken by her father?"

"It is her father's heart that will be broken by her!" he cried. "Oh, fie! that you should excuse her!"

He walked hastily to the door, and, seizing hold of the staircase banister, stopped and looked back.

"Come with me to her bedroom," he said. "You shall bear witness."

"What to do?" replied Mrs. Strangfield, not offering to move.

"To get what truth is to be found in her letters, if she has any," he exclaimed. "I will sift this matter to the bottom."

His wife turned her back upon him, and he went upstairs alone.

A little chest of drawers was soon ransacked and pockets of dresses; and the rosewood desk, forced with a jack knife for a lever, was promptly explored, and here was more than he wanted. A pile of letters, indeed, which no carrier had ever delivered either; some of them illegible almost with stains of wet, which, in good truth, they could hardly fail to contract, seeing that the lover's post box was always the grass under the evergreens hard in the corner of the front garden, and close to the railing for accessibility from the roadway.

Drawing from his pocket the wooden case that contained his spectacles, and perching the glasses on his nose, Strangfield went to the window and began to read the letters. No tradesman guards his receipted bills more religiously than Jenny had preserved these precious missives. Folded most carefully were they, with sweet smelling dry flowers among them, and held together with ribbon, and the dates in such accurate sequence as only love (after trade) would have patience to order.

All these letters, with one exception, bore dates prior to Jenny's visit to Sydenham. In them he called her sweetheart and mistress, and the signature was always "Bertie." Many of them were hurriedly scribbled appeals for interviews. The one letter written after the visit to Sydenham was a passionate protestation of love, with a tender reference to deep endearments, and a bit of sly humor at the end, where pious Aunt Rachel and "the puritanical deacon of George street" were spoken of as "people easy to hoodwink, because they imagined themselves so very keen-sighted." So from beginning to end of these letters was Jenny Cuthbert's darling, his pretty heart, his sweet girl, and the like; never once did he call her his wife, and there was no mention of marriage. Such are the trumpery accidents which produce tragedies.

Mr. Strangfield flung them upon the floor and went down stairs.

His wife had finished her dinner and was coming away from the house door, where she had been standing a while on the lookout for Jenny, whose absence troubled her, though, for the girl's sake, she would not complain. Something like disdain was in her face when she looked at her husband. He could not have been guilty of more humbling meanness in her sight than to ransack his daughter's bedroom.

"The dinner is cold," said she, "and I have dined. If——"

"I have no appetite," he interrupted. "Let the wench clear the table."

He went to his armchair and seated himself in a sullen, rapt attitude, and never stirred all the while his wife helped the girl to remove the cloth. Then the poor woman, hardly knowing what she ought to do, was about to leave him alone and was closing the door, when he called to her. She came to the table.

"If you are taking her part," said he, in harsh, concentrated tones, "and justifying her conduct to yourself, tell me that I may know how to address you."

"I do not take her part, neither am I against her, until I know the truth," answered the mother firmly.

"The truth is in the letters you will find lying on her bedroom floor. Her sin is there written by the hand of the villain who has brought shame upon us."

Mrs. Strangfield turned white and grasped the table, while she stared at her husband.

"Why do you say that, Michael! Is it so plain! Is it so plain!"

"Plain!" he cried hoarsely. "What brains do you allow me, that I should not know the language of the paramour! Get up stairs and judge for thyself!"

"No, no! Not if I died for refusing. Oh, Michael, art thou not headstrong in thy fears! If he be her husband, and loves her——"

But she faltered and stopped here; for what was to be done with that hard question—if he loved her, why had he left her to bear her trouble alone! And, stammering a little, she went on:

"But you will not believe that she is his wife, and 'tis easy, therefore, for their poor letters to make thee think they have sinned."

"Leave me!" he cried sternly, for he feared the anger which his wife's obstinate advocacy was kindling in him.

She went away quickly, smothering her sobs until the door was closed. Then, at her bedroom window, she planted herself to watch for Jenny's return.

Hall's VEGETABLE SICILIAN Hair Renewer.

Hall's Hair Renewer restores gray hair to its original color; makes the scalp white and clean; cures dandruff and humors; prevents the hair from falling out, and renders it soft and brilliant. The editor of the "Ocean Foam," Cape May, writes: "We speak knowingly, when we assert that Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is the best of its kind. The article is an elegant and cleanly one, without which we think no toilet complete." Thos. D. Jones, Middle Granville, N. Y., writes: "I have used Hall's Hair Renewer about ten years, with satisfactory results." E. G. Perkins, Oberlin, Ohio, writes: "I consider Hall's Hair Renewer the best hair preserver in use. I have used it for the past twenty years, and my hair is in as vigorous and healthy a condition as when I was 30 years of age. Not a sign of gray hair to be seen anywhere." Dwight L. Chamberlain, Oakland, California, writes: "My hair, which was nearly white, has been restored to its original color and luxuriance by the use of Hall's Hair Renewer."

The advance of time is heralded by bleached, thin, and falling hair. By the use of Hall's Hair Renewer, the hair may be restored to its original color, lustre, and vitality. M. N. Johnson, Fitchburg, Mass., writes: "My hair was weak, thin, and full of dandruff. Hall's Hair Renewer has removed the dandruff, and caused a vigorous growth of new hair." Abel H. Smith, Ft. Smouth, Va., writes: "My hair had nearly all fallen out, and that which was left was dry and dead. I used one bottle of Hall's Hair Renewer, and now rejoice in the possession of hair as abundant as ever." E. J. Adams, St. Paul, Minn., writes: "A diseased scalp caused my hair to fall out, and, after using a number of preparations without avail, I finally tried Hall's Hair Renewer, which caused a vigorous new growth. I am still using it, and could ask for no better results." Mrs. R. H. Corning, Battle Creek, Mich., writes: "By the use of Hall's Hair Renewer, my head, which was quite bald, has been covered with a fine growth of young hair."

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Boy Wanted.

Boy wanted. Apply to R. FAIR, Golden Lion.

Social.

A social will be held under the auspices of the Mission Band of St. Paul's church on the evening of Thanksgiving Day, November 18th. The musical part of the programme will be under the direction of Mr. Parker.

The Finest lot of Gent's Furnishings in Peterborough at ANDREW MCNEIL'S.

The Exhibition.

Have you been to the Exhibition? No! What exhibition? Why the one that is going on at the Bon Marche. They are selling goods astonishingly cheap. You should go and see for your self and spend a little money in dry goods, groceries etc., before everything is sold out. Can't buy as much in any other place in town for the same money.

Fall Excursion.

Remember and purchase your tickets for the excursion to-morrow and following day, Oct. 1st and 2nd, via Grand Trunk Railway, the old established and favorite route, to Kingston, Montreal and Quebec, fares as follows:—Kingston, $3.65; Montreal, $7.00; Quebec, $9.00. Tickets good for return until Oct. 11th, and good to go either by Port Hope or Belleville.

The Ladies will Help.

The lady friends of the Young Men's Christian Association met on Tuesday afternoon and decided to help the Association in their effort to get rid of the debt hanging over them. Representatives in each church were appointed to take charge of the matter. The finance committee of Association are meeting with very fair success, and their continued efforts, with these of the ladies, will doubtless place the Association on a good footing.

Good Coatmakers Wanted. Apply to ANDREW MCNEIL, Habliment Hall.

Disappointment Not Allowed.

Owing to the fact that a great many were prevented from attending the Ennismore picnic on Tuesday by the unfavorable weather, it has been decided by the people of Ennismore that they should not be thus disappointed, and a picnic will be held at Bridgenorth on Thursday, October 21st. This will give all an opportunity of enjoying an outing and the picnic sports, and the picnic will no doubt be largely attended by people from the town and townships.

Lumbering.

The lumber season of 1886-7 has opened, and here there is considerable activity. Men are being hired by the agents of the different lumbering firms to be sent off to the various timber limits. Mr. J. M. Irwin shipped thirty men this morning per Grand Trunk Railway for Haliburton district. His gang followed another gang of forty-five men who were sent last week. These gangs will operate in the townships of Eyre, Havelock, and others adjacent. Mr. Cassidy, who is stopping at Cavanagh's hotel, is hiring men for the Stricklands to go to the Georgian Bay district. The wages paid vary from $15 to $20 per month.

Read This!!!

We direct attention to Dr. Pott's advertisement in another column. Observe that he will be at Croft House the remainder of this week. From the favorable notices in the papers published in the towns and larger villages of this and adjoining counties we gather the facts of the marked success attending his treatment of chronic troubles. Diseases of the Eye and ear are also treated. Some long standing cases of deafness have been effectually cured. Dr. Potts refers to patients cured who may be enquired of. Hereafter the doctor, owing to increased demands upon him, will only visit Peterborough professionally once every two months.

THERE will be an elegant display of ladies and childrens mantles at the Golden Lion grand millinery opening on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 29, 30 and October 1st.

Notice.

A special meeting of all the members of number one company, in full uniform, will be held to-night at 7.30 o'clock.

Mite Meeting.

A mite meeting in connection with the "Woman's Foreign Missionary Society" (of St. Paul's Church) will be held on Thursday evening next the 30th inst., at the residence of Mrs. Alex. Smith, Aylmer street, at half past seven. Those wishing to help fill the box for India will have an opportunity of buying from a selection of small articles to be disposed of suitable for the purpose.

Fire in Ennismore.

The dwelling, barn and stables of Mr. Patrick Brick, on lot 9, concession 7, Ennismore, were destroyed by fire on Wednesday. When the fire was discovered, at noon, the second story of the house was in flames, and everything in that story was consumed except one bed mattrass. The furniture in the first story was nearly all removed, although some of it was damaged. The fire spread from the house to the barn, and the barn and stable, together with fall wheat and other grain, were destroyed. The vehicles, farming implements and live stock were saved. The house was a brick one. Mr. Brick was away from home, at a neighbor's, when the fire broke out. It is supposed to have caught from the chimney. The buildings and contents were insured in the Royal for $2,450.

Burglary.

On Wednesday night shortly before 12 o'clock, Mr. J. Coughlin's grocery store, on the corner of Aylmer and Charlotte streets, was entered by an unknown. The entrance was gained from a window on the Charlotte street side. In climbing in the invader pushed over several paper bags of flour which were piled in the window. These fell to the floor and powdered its surface several feet around. When the entrance had been accomplished the intruder proceeded to show his preference for the fragrance of the tobacco kept in stock by Mr. Caughlin. Not even touching other commodities he smelt out where the tobacco was stored. He departed through the window laden with a box of cigars and 15 pounds of chewing tobacco. This burglar is different from others of his class; he is not a lover of darkness. His feat was done immediately under the blaze of the electric lamp suspended over the street at this point.

Good Coatmakers Wanted. Apply to ANDREW MCNEIL, Habliment Hall.

Personal.

The Rev. Dr. Dewart refers as follows in the Christian Guardian to a recent visit of his to Norwood:—"Last Sunday the editor of the Guardian preached morning and evening at Norwood, in the Methodist church. This visit was invested with peculiar interest on account of bygone associations with that part of the country. It is about forty-five years since he first visited 'Keeler's Mills.' There was not the beginning of a village at that time. For many years the growth of the place was very slow, and it was regarded as a backwoods village shut off from the commercial centres of the country by want of railroad accommodation. But the passing of the C. P. R. line through the village has brought Norwood quite to the front. It is a great change when one can leave Toronto on Saturday evening, spend the Sunday in Norwood and get back on Monday morning in time for business or work. Though the day was rainy the congregation on Sunday was good. We met many friends of former years and enjoyed the hospitality of our good friends Dr. and Mrs. Ford; but were sorry to be unable to remain for the 'Harvest Home' on Monday."

Good Coatmakers Wanted. Apply to ANDREW MCNEIL, Habliment Hall.

Mesmerism.

Prof. John Reynolds, the mesmerist, of London, Eng., commenced a weeks engagement in Bradburn's Opera House on Monday night. The first night he could get no "subjects," other than unruly boys to come to the platform. He dismissed the audience. The next night after speaking and inviting for about an hour he succeeded in getting only two to come up. He explained that only about one out of every 10 was susceptible to mesmeric influence, and that if he did not get twenty to come up he would have to dismiss the audience. After a while a few more reluctantly went up till there was about ten on the platform. As no more would come up he stated that he would proceed, though expressing his doubts of success. One out of the ten was brought under the influence so far as to stammer and forget his name, but he resisted so much, the mesmerist said, that he could not be brought wholly under control. After making another effort to get a sufficient number of volunteers without success, Mr. Reynolds dismissed the audience. He says that in all his 33 years experience he never had such an experience before. He attributed his want of success, first, to the lack of volunteers, and second, to the dampness of the atmosphere, which he says, acts on the mesmeric fluid as on the electric—it acts as a conductor, and not as an insulator, as does dry weather. Prof. Reynolds left town very much dissatisfied, more on account of want of success in his experiments than on account of pecuniary loss. He says that after filling an engagement in New Jersey he will probably come here again while on his Canadian tour. There is no doubt that Prof. Reynolds is just what he advertises himself as, several in the Opera House testified that they saw his wonderful feats during his Toronto engagement recently.

POLICE COURT.

SCOTT ACT.

THURSDAY, Sept. 30.—James H. O'Shea, the proprietor of a grocery store on the corner of Water and Hunter street, was charged by Inspector Cochrane this morning with an infraction of the Scott Act. He pleaded not guilty.

On Monday last Inspector Cochrane and Capt. Cooper searched the premises and found a quantity of ale and port wine which was duly confiscated and taken to the Police Station where it is now.

The case was enlarged for further evidence.

CAMPBELLFORD.

AN ATTRACTIVE BUILDING SPOT.—As an evidence of the material progress of Campbellford, we may say that during the past few years fifteen new buildings have been erected near the railway bridge, on Front street, all within about the space of one hundred yards. There is not a greater collection of buildings in any other part of the village put up in the same length of time.

GOODS TAKEN FROM A CELLAR.—Some one playing the part of a burglar gained admission to the cellar of Mr. W. Nealson's residence in Seymour east, one night last week, and took therefrom all the canned fruit and a number of table knives. Before leaving the night-walker removed the whiffletrees and hung them on a tree, and threw a plough over the fence and painted it with night soil. Mr. Nealson has very good reason to suspect who the offending party is.

TRENT BRIDGE.—The townships of Belmont and Asphodel have refused to give anything towards repairing the Trent Bridge at the Narrows. The Bridge will be proceeded with however, as soon as material can be procured. Messrs. G. Bedford, Reeve of Seymour, and John Rutherford were appointed a committee at the last session of the Council, to purchase material and superintend the job. Funds sufficient for a new bridge may be forthcoming from the counties' council and the county of Peterborough, at some future day.

NORWOOD.

EAST RIDING EXHIBITION.—Every preparation is being made to make the East Riding Exhibition, to be held here on Tuesday and Wednesday, 12th and 13th of October, the most successful held since its inauguration. It is confidently expected that the exhibit will be the largest and most complete ever seen in this section. Already the secretary's (W. E. Roxburgh, Esq., duti s are commencing to be laborious——answering the multitudinous queries, etc., etc., of proposed exhibitors.

A CONSTABLE REQUIRED.—The corner of Colborne and Peterborough Streets was the scene of a row on Saturday evening. We understand the Council have not yet appointed a successor to Mr Jones. A village constable should be appointed at once—a man with some back-bone and one who will not shrink from discharging his duty without "fear, favor or affection.

VILLAGE TAXES.—The rate on the dollar for the village of Norwood this year is 18 8-10 mills, made up as follows:—County rate, 1 1-10 mills; village rate, 3 8-10 mills; school rate, 8 8-10 mills; school equivalent rate, 7-10 mills; school debenture rate, 3 6-10 mills; park debenture rate, 8-10 mills.

A NEW EXPLOSIVE.

General Boulanger's New Bombs and Their Destructive Properties.

PARIS, Sept. 29.—General Boulanger desiring to secure from the Government an appropriation of $25,000,000 for the most explosive bombs, recently invited the Budget committee to witness the experiments he has been carrying on in private. The experiments were made with a monster mortar, designed as a type for the destruction of fortifications. The missile, which explodes with exceedingly destructive effect, is charged with a new explosive, of whose composition General Boulanger and his associates alone possesss the secret. The compound, however, is admitted to have all the powers of gun cotton, with none of its defects, and is said, in addition, to be easily transportable and to be free from liability to spontaneous ignition. It is stated that the budget committee were not only highly satisfied with the results of the experiments, but promised to fully support General Boulanger's demand for a special appropriation.

WHOLESALE ROBBERIES.

A Gang of Burglars Operating Extensively in Aylmer.

OTTAWA, Sept. 29.—At Aylmer, in Quebec, fifteen shops and houses have been burglarized within a few days. On Monday night at the store of O'Reiliy Bros, a number of auger holes were bored through the back door and an iron bar fastening the door was cut partly across when the burglars were alarmed by the barking of a watch dog and made off. On the same night E.A.Cole's flour store was entered, and tried to break the safe. The front door was forced in, the safe door drilled and a fuse for blowing open the safe inserted, but for some unknown reason it was not fired. About a week ago Dr. Church's residence was entered and robbed, about $60 in cash and a lot of plate and cutlery being carried off. A number of other private houses have also been visited by these burglars, and it is believed that it is the same gang that have been committing numerous small robberies in and about Ottawa lately. The town council of Aylmer has offered a reward of $500 for such information as will lead to the conviction of the burglars.

THE RIELITE LEADERS.

Mr. Mercier Claims Messrs. Mowat, Fraser and Blake as Allies.

In a letter addressed to the Montreal Gazette, Mr. Mercier replies to the charge that [illegible] has not hesitated to "stir up feuds of race and creed and to set citizen at war with citizen." He claims the Reform leaders in Ontario as being on his side as follows:—

"Allow me again, Mr. Editor, to ask you if, in my declarations against the Tory Government, I have been more guilty than the Hon. Mr. Mowat, Prime Minister of Ontario; the Hon. Mr. Fraser, Minister of Public Works, and other eminent statesmen of that Province, who severely censured the mal-administration of the North-West and who condemned the Government of Sir John Macdonald for having executed a political prisoner?

"Allow me again, Mr. Editor, to ask you if I am more guilty than the Hon. Edward Blake, who made the following statement on the floor of the House of Commons:—'My opinion is then that a great wrong has been done and a great blow has been inflicted upon the administration of criminal justice, and for this the Executive is responsible to us * * * * I am unable honestly to differ from the view that it is deeply to be regretted that this execution should have been allowed to take place, and, therefore, in favor of that view I must record my vote.'"

AT THE INDUSTRIAL.

The C. P. R.'s Exhibit From the North-West at Toronto.

The Canadian Pacific Railway made a splendid display at the Toronto Exhibition of Northwest products and minerals. Of it the Globe said:—The exhibits in this building are extremely good, and ought to attract much attention. Entering from the south, several large lumps of a reddish substance, on the first table, will be noticed. According to the label attatched, this is rock salt for horses and cattle, and sceptical curiosity needs only to rub its fingers across and put them to its mouth to be convinced that the label speaks truly. The same table supports bags holding fine samples of oil cake in various conditions, broken and otherwise.

This exhibit, however, good as it is, will not long detain the visitor's attention from the most striking feature in the whole building—the exhibit which is made by the Canada Pacific Railway, and which illustrates the productive powers of the whole country along its course to the Pacific ocean. It is an admirable display, both for its extent and its impressive character as a whole, and for the variety, excellence in quality, and skill in arrangement shown in the way of details. The attention of even the slowest observer, will hardly miss the gigantic section of the British Columbia spruce tree, which stares him in the face. It bears a legend, telling its birthplace and that it is 7 ft. in diameter. At the foot of this trophy, and on either side, either lying exposed, or kept from thievish hands by glass cases, are fine specimens of the mineral wealth of the great Canadian North-West Territories. At the other end facing the north entrance, is a similar trophy, the tree section being fir, and eight feet in diameter Between every two of the supporting pillars of the building a miniature arch is constructed by means of bundles of prairie grasses and different sorts of grain. On opposite sides of each pillar are affixed the splendid specimens of the fauna of the North-West. On the tables below, in almost bewildering variety, are arranged samples of the agricultural wealth of the same reigons.

Discovery of Gold in British Columbia.

An important "find" of gold has been discovered on the bars of Stewart river, one of the largest tributaries of the river Youkon near the boundary of Alaska. The quantity already realized is estimated at $25,000 and it is believed that a large number of people will go into the district.

AUSTRIA'S DECIDED STAND.

VIENNA, Sept. 30.—Diplomates here believe that since the return of Count Kalnoky the Austrian Minister for Foreign affairs, from Pesth, Austria's attitude against Russia's occupation of Bulgaria is more pronounced. This is partly accounted for by the belief that Austria fears that if Bulgaria is occupied by Russia, King Milan will be deposed in Servia, and Servia and Bulgaria would be both Russianized. This, it is argued, would cause disorder in Bosnia and probably a conflict with Montenegro.

FEEDING THE INDIANS.

A NUMBER of the Opposition speakers and journalists, in their endeavors to excite prejudice by any means against the statesmen entrusted by the people of Canada with the administration of their affairs, are unwarrantably assuming that it is the duty of the Dominion to feed all Indians till they are satisfied. If they are improvident, if they are idle, if they disregard their own treaties and suffer in consequence the Administration is held responsible by these unfair critics.

Now we protest utterly against this view of the case. We admit to the utmost the moral responsibility of the people of Canada for the promotion of the welfare of the red men, but we cannot consent that this responsibility should be measured by the capacity of any Indian stomach, nor by his objection to work if he can satisfy his appetite without it.

Our legal liability is defined by our treaties with the tribes. These obligations have been fully carried out, and have even been exceeded. They do not include the supplying of the Indians with their daily food, nor supplying them at all if they leave their reserves. There has been no evidence produced of failure to observe our treaty obligations.

Our moral liability is of course more extensive and it is not so sharply defined. It manifestly includes, among other things, the relief of unavoidable distress and want, and the encouragement and facilitating of habits of industry and the adoption of means of securing a livehood in the changed circumstances of the country. It does not include the feeding of the red men to such an extent as to relieve them from the necessity for any exertion, nor the encouragement of their leaving their reserves to hang aronnd a town or post to obtain what they can pick up. Indeed, our moral duty precludes us from thus injuring the prospects of the Indian population by encouraging improvidence and the avoidance of settled industry.

The evidence proves the fulfilment of our duty in these respects. Food, far in excess of the treaty stipulations has been cheerfully supplied on the reserves to those in real need. At the same time every effort has been made to induce the Indians to rely more upon agricultural and pastoral industry, instead of relying so greatly upon the hunting of game, which is disappearing quite as much from the wasteful improvidence of the red hunters themselves as from the influx of the white settlers. The alleged cases of hardships and suffering from the want of food seem to resolve themselves into two classes. Indians who choose to hang about a town with far from good results, have, very properly, been refused the supplies that they could draw upon their own reserves. According to the best evidence Indians, who have been given adequate supplies of food for several days, have gorged themselves at the moment, leaving insufficient food for their women and children, and hunger for themselves till next ration day.

Our obligation to look after the religious welfare of the Indians, rests, under our system, not upon the administration, but upon the people at large, and we will not here discuss whether this duty has been adequately realized.

The kindred duty of looking after the moral welfare of the Indians is a matter that is also largely for individual rather than administrative action. Where the Administration is chiefly responsible, that is for the conduct of its officials, the remedy for any wrong must be reached through specific charges, which, however, have been withheld, not through vague and wholesale accusations, including railway navvies, hunters and others of the floating population, but which have been dishonestly and slanderously misrepresented by the Opposition as applying only to Government officials. If specific charges were formulated an investigation and appropriate action would quickly follow.

As to the food question, upon which the Opposition harp most persistently, we believe the people of old Canada are quite willing to be liberal and even generous in case of need. We are certain, however, that the taxpayers, say of Ontario, do not agree with the Opposition in the idea that their money should be spent in supplying an Indian who will not work with as much food as he can devour and of the choicest quality he can fancy.

HASTINGS.

ACCIDENT.—A man named Smith from Sterling at work upon the dam inflicted a very severe cut on his right leg just below the knee with an adze last Monday, which will lay him up for some time.

A FINE RACE.—The workmen on the dam were treated to an impromptu foot race last Saturday forenoon. One of the workmen, it appears, had neglected to pay a small fine which was imposed about a year ago, and our two constables were detailed to arrest the delinquent. Dividing their forces, they approached their man from each end of the dam; who, however, divining the attention of the law officers took to the water. One of the constables followed, but got out of his depth, and had to swim for it. This gave the pursued considerable start, and amid the laughter and cheers of the workmen, and dozens of citizens who congregated on the bridge to witness the sport, the race continued. The race was hot for a time, but eventually the constable was distanced. The fine was subsequently paid and harmony restored.—Star.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—New York reports seven loads wheat taken, probably as much more before close. Markets strong. To-day's noon cash quotations are:- Wheat, 73¾; corn, 36½; oats, 25; pork, $9.30; lard, $6.25.

British Live Stock.

Liverpool Correspondence of Montreal Gazette.

At all the principal store-sheep sales prices have been going steadily up for two or three weeks, until the advance is fully $1 50 above the average of last year. At Birkenhead the moderate offerings enabled wholesale men to get through their stuff more quickly, but owing to the weak demand in London, an increase in values was impossible. Good useful bodies are quoted at 9½c. to 10c. The weather at present is nice and cool, and if it holds the prospect of some little advance in beef may not be so foolish as some think.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

JESUS' BETRAYAL.

DR. JOHN HALL'S NOTES ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

Lesson I of the International Series for Sunday, Oct. 3—Golden Text, "The Son of Man is Betrayed Into the Hands of Sinners"—Lesson Text, John xviii, 1-14.

Lately the French republic drove "the princes" from French soil, fearing that they, by creating parties of followers in favor of a monarchy, might destroy the government as it is now. Different opinions were held as to the wisdom of the step; but when one of them published a protest stating his views, many who had doubted the wisdom of the expulsion said: "The nation was right; his parting words show his bad spirit." The prince of peace is rejected by his own and given over to death, but never did his character appear so wonderful and glorious as in the closing scenes on which we now enter and continue till the end of chapter 19. His bearing conquered suspicion, even as in dying he conquered death.

He had taught his disciples as to what they should be and do when he left them, and prayed with and for them. Now the distinct passive part of his work begins.

V. 1. The upper room is quitted. Cedron was a brook or winter torrent running through the valley that lay east of Jerusalem. (John is thought to use the word "brook" or winter stream as an object in harmony with the sorrows and stream of trials now beginning.) David once crossed this "brook" in deep grief (see II Sam. xv, 23). The son of David is now pursued by those who should have been his friends. His disciples are taken along that they may witness his demeanor, learn from his bearing and have their characters tried and developed. Down from the temple hill, by a road winding over the steep, across the stream whose waters, it is said, were darkened by the blood of the sacrifices, probably in silence, went the little band, on to the orchard in which olives were cultivated and in a part of which, shaded and retired probably, it was possible to engage in quiet prayer. "He entered"—the leader as elsewhere. Here was the scene of the agony which John knew had already been described by the other evangelists, so he does not repeat the narrative. He is bent on showing more particularly that the "Word was God" (John i, 1 and xx, 30-31.)

V. 2. It is mentioned that Judas knew the place. Jesus having often gone there with his disciples. This is meant to show that there was no attempt at concealment on the Saviour's part. The hour was come. (See Acts 2, xxiii.) If it be asked, why arrange to make Jesus a prisoner here, instead of in the temple or on the steep? the answer is that a riot might have been the result of an arrest in the presence of a multitude. "They feared the people." In many other cases of persons in favor with the public, the arrest has been so arranged as to avoid publicity.

V. 3. Now another company travels the same road. The Roman authorities have no doubt had an exaggerated account given of the danger from this rival to Cæsar, and a "band" or cohort—the tenth part of a legion, as we would say, a "company" is sent. Accompanying them are the "officers" of the Jewish authorities to represent the prosecutors of Christ and see that the arrest was rightly made. In Acts xxiii, 23, we have a similar military arrangement. The party is provided with lanterns and torches on the assumption that Jesus may hide among the trees.

V. 4. All this is explanatory of the situation set out in v. 1. Jesus "went forth"—there is no concealment or attempt to flee—presented Himself, received the treacherous kiss of Judas, identifying Him to the band as reported by Matthew and Mark. He asks whom they seek. He means to show that He is not attempting flight or concealment.

V. 5. Like men used to orders they reply as they were doubtless told. The words "of Nazareth" would represent to them His lowliness or His belonging to the discontented Galileans. Judas, we are told, was standing by, representing here the enmity of man and of Satan against the Holy One of God. The powerlessness of this malice is shown by the effect of our Lord's calm avowal as we have it in

V. 6. Here is a type of Christ's ultimate triumph over all opposition. Powerless as were the deflers of the temple before Jesus, these also, overawed and overpowered by an indescribable power felt to be in Him, retreated and fell to the ground. As soon as they recovered themselves He

(V. 7) again asks: "Whom seek ye?" The same reply is given, with soldier-like obedience to instructions. Then He, in a way characteristic of Him, sets Himself forth as the One to be taken, to the shutting out of the disciples. They are not to be treated as He is. He is to tread "the winepress alone." "Let them go their way," and this, John tells us, was in harmony with His words uttered before in John xvii, 12. There, indeed, He thought of eternal loss; but all evil seems one to His holy eye, just as all things work together for good to His friends. Godliness is profitable for all things—safety of the whole man is secured in the way of obedience. Jesus thinks of such things as they affect His disciples. They had little enough courage when free. How would it have been had they been seized? Probably on this second avowal of Jesus, the servant of the high priest, with more zeal than the soldiers, and bent on carrying out his master's will, approached Jesus. This led to

(V. 10) the rash act of Simon, who had a certain hardness in him, as the name Peter indicated, and who drew the sword he had and cut off the right ear of one whose name is only mentioned by John, and whose healing by Christ is mentioned only by Luke the physician (Luke xxii, 51). John is hastening on to "the hour." The teacher will recall "Here are two swords" in Luke xxii, 38. Fishermen were not commonly armed.

V. 11. Jesus discourages the opposition. It was useless. It was against his purpose. He was "going forth" to the final work of suffering and so saving. This is the beginning of the bitter draught, but it is the cup his Father, for good reasons, puts into his hands—shall he not drink it? As he prayed he acts. See Matt. xxvi, 39. So it is in all true prayer. The suppliant moves in the direction of his petitions.

V. 12. Even the show of opposition is now withdrawn. Jesus is arrested and bound. It is plain that nothing is to be feared from the disciples. So they

(V. 13) carry out orders and bring Jesus before the authorities. The other evangelists content themselves with referring to Caiaphas, but John puts in the appearance before Annas first. He was older than Caiaphas, had far more influence, and it is felt to be a good thing to have the weight of his name and authority against Christ. Annas was not acting high priest. We know how men are called "judge" who are no longer in office. Changes were often and suddenly made in this office by Roman rulers, and sometimes a man who had the confidence of the people was treated by them as if in office still, though another was in his place.

The presumption would be that Annas and Caiaphas, his son-in-law, would be of the same mind, for it was Caiaphas who had said, with more wisdom in his words and more statement of fact than he understood, that it was expedient, more polite, better, that one man—Jesus—should lose his life than the whole people come under the Roman anger. He was a Sadducee, haughty, self-willed and despotic. He was in office for eighteen years, with possibly some of the changes then occurring, for five and twenty high priests are reported in the century before Jerusalem fell. —Sunday School World.

Half a Thousand in a Month.

An audience of 500 would fill an average country church full, and there are multitudes of churches which never see such an audience. But 500 was the number gathered by a single missionary in the southwest in a single month. He organized ten Sunday schools with a membership of 518. Many of the families live in small log houses, having a single room, which is kitchen, dining room, bed room and parlor for a large family. The children and many of the grown-up people go barefoot. They are experiencing very close times while opening up new homes, and they must be supplied with religious reading by donation, or go without it. These people have very few religious privileges. One pious lady said to the missionary: "If we could only have preaching once a month through the summer I should be so thankful." Our hearts are moved with compassion toward these people, who are as "sheep having no shepherd." Were it not for the American Sunday School Union and her noble supporters, many of these poorer communities would be wholly uncared for. —The Sunday School World.

Sunday School Teaching.

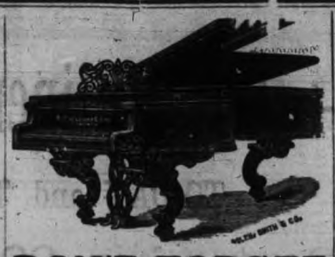
When we take up the calling inconsiderately or thoughtlessly, we are in danger of treating this great work with too much indifference. This is the reason why so many continue for a brief time in the Sunday school and then leave it. I fear such superficial workers did not count the cost. "No man, having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God." The present day requires teachers who will work with zeal, discretion, patience, firmness, prayerfulness and studiousness, having the Master's help very near. Thus Sunday school teachers will become mighty instruments in the hands of the Saviour; in all their efforts they will produce a powerful influence over their scholars. We require more teachers having such qualities. The Sunday school needs steady, persevering work from teachers who have a solemn consideration of the responsibility of the work, as those who have to give account. Our lessons and addresses and discipline in the Sunday school should mean that we are in earnest, as engaged in work of the highest importance. We must not think that anything will do for the Sunday school, whose chief aim is for the salvation of the young. When we consider the greatness of the Saviour's love in coming into the world to die the dreadful death of the cross to reconcile man to His Father, we may very soon see the importance and character of the work we co-operate in. The redemption of man was a stupendous and infinite work which the Saviour achieved. We, his servants, should labor with prayerful and solemn consideration. The Sunday school is a nursery for the training of the young immortals for an eternal destiny. The reward to the faithful will be glorious in a better world. Yes, an imperishable crown, which will never fade away, eternal in the heavens.

It behooves every Sunday school teacher, in consideration of the vastness of the work, to deeply consider what is necessary, when he takes the teacher's chair. Let me say that first of all, Jesus must dwell in our hearts, having the control of their workings and aspirations. Keeping close to the Master, and receiving his help, his Spirit, the wisdom he is able to give, we shall gain greater influence over our scholars, and in God's hands win them as trophies for the Redeemer, to shine forever and ever.—Thomas Heath, Plymouth, Eng.

Sunday Schools in the Adirondacks.

A very worthy member of the Society of Friends, who is familiarly called the Quaker missionary of the American Sunday School Union, writes to the primary class of a Congregational Sunday school in Brooklyn, of his work among the Adirondack mountains, where so many go for health:

"My dear little helpers: after organizing a Union Sunday school, I promised a pretty card to every scholar that would bring me a dollar for the library. One little girl said, 'Well, I know grandpa is awful tight, but I am going to try to love a dollar out of him some way.'"



To the Sunday school of Plymouth Congregational Church, Brooklyn, he writes of meeting a hermit who has lived alone among the mountains for thirty years, on corn meal and water, but has given 2,300 large Testaments to such as would agree to read in them every day.

To the Gospel Chapel Sunday school he writes: "As I drove up in front of a grog shop a man said, 'Mister, you need a revolver more'n a Bible up here; nary a Christian here. We don't go much on 'ligion; rather have a keg of beer and a dance.' This community was a by-word—'Nothing worse this side of Africa.'" But the missionary started three schools in that neighborhood and round about.

Horse Thief.

Mr. R. R. Macklan, of Brighton, sends a card to the Peterborough Police Department complaining of the theft of a bay mare and a second hand buggy belonging to him.

Remember

that the C. P. R. cheap excursion to Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec begin to-morrow and continue for the balance of the week. Rates lower than ever. Tickets goods to return until Oct. 11th. Mr. Wood who has been appointed by the Canadian Government as Canada agent in Australia, to use his efferts to introduce the manufactures of this country through Australasia, was in town to-day. He will obtain samples of goods from the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company and the Ontario Canoe Company.

Real Estate.

The sale of park lots on the Crawford estate, two miles south of Peterborough, commenced on Wednesday and still continues. On Wednesday Mr. Charles Stapleton auctioned off No. 2 lot in the lower place to Mr. Geo. Taylor, for $380, and No. 3 to Mr. John Douglas for $305; No. 6, in the upper place, was sold to Mr. Thomas Bradburn for $300. The two first contained 2½ acres and No. 6 about 2 acres.

TARRED and Plain Building Paper, only 2c. lb. GEORGE STETHEM.

Schiverea.

Mr. Geo. Sproule, Canadian agent for Mr. Ferdinand Schiverea, the evangelist, announces that arrangements have been completed for the season up to January. The evangelist opens to-night in Galt and will remain for two weeks, will go to Cobourg for two weeks, and will remain in Toronto for the month of November. The two first weeks in December and the two first in January are spoken for by Port Hope and Lakefield. It is probable that he will be in Peterborough in the latter part of December.

Bridge Building.

Mr. W. H. Law, of the Central Iron and Bridge Works, has returned from Millford, Prince Edward County, where a new ninety-six feet span iron bridge, made at the works, was opened for public traffic. The Warden of the county and members of the County Council, the Reeve and Councillors of the township, and a number of prominent people from Picton, were present on the occasion of the opening of this, the first iron bridge put up in the county. Speeches were made by prominent men. Everything passed off with entire satisfaction.

A Serious Accident.

On Thursday Mrs. McKimm, of Ashburnham, suffered a painful, and what was but by a miracle saved from being a fatal, accident. She was passing an open cellar way when her foot caught on a strip and she fell forward through the opening. Her head struck the cellar floor obliquely stripping the scalp from her forehead more than half way to the back of the head. The wound presented a sickening appearance. The gravel was ground into the flesh so thickly that the copious flow of blood was insufficient to wash it away. Dr. Clarke attended and performed the necessary surgical operations, and to-day the patient is doing very well, though suffering much pain. It was very fortunate that the head came in contact with the ground obliquely as it did, as otherwise a fracture of the skull would have been inevitable.

CLOSING MEET

Of the Rifle Association—Cameron Wins the Ontario Medal.

The fourth and last monthly rifle meeting, under the auspices of the County of Peterborough Rifle Association, took place at the butts on Thursday. The attendance was fairly large and the scores made were high considering the very windy weather. The Association has had bad weather at all of their meetings this year, but on no occasion was the wind so strong as on Thursday. During the whole of the afternoon an "eight o'clock" wind swept across the range making good scoring an impossibility. One rifleman says that he had to aim twenty feet off the target to score at all. But even this is as good practical practice as could be had. As will be seen by the annexed table, the scores were very good when the unfavorable circumstances are considered. The ranges were, as usual, placed at 200 yards, 500 yards and 600 yards, five rounds to each range. The following are the scores:—

	200	500	600	Total
W. A. Bell	20	21	12	53
R. H. Smith	17	22	12	51
F. Hall	13	20	17	50
Dr. Bell	17	9	22	48
G. Fitzgerald	20	12	14	46

D. Cameron	15	16	13	44
Dr. Brennan	17	15	7	39

W. A. Mason	14	9	13	36
W. H. Hill	16	6	2	24
H. C Rogers	10	8	0	18

The highest possible score that could have been made was 75.

SEASON'S ANALYSIS.

The Ontario Rifle Association offer a silver medal from year to year to the rifleman who makes the highest aggregate score in any three out of the four monthly matches. Last year D. The Sunflower's Adieu.

On Thursday evening a special meeting of the Sunflower Club was held in the Mechanic's Institute building to bid adieu to Mr. Bert M. Tate. The members turned out in large numbers to do honor to Mr. Tate, who has always taken an interest in the affairs of the Club. The evening was spent in songs and speeches and a very enjoyable time was spent. Mr. K. Hall responded to the toast "Her Majesty and the Royal Family;" Mr. E. Sherwood to "The Governor-General;" Mr. T. Haultain to "The Army and Navy;" and "The Guest of the Evening," being received with loud acclamations Mr. Tate replied suitably. Mr. R. Stevenson spoke for the "Mayor and Coporation. The speech of the evening was one by Mr. Allen V. R. Young, who responded to "The Ladies." He said he thought he was expressing the opinions of the ladies of Peterborough when he regretted the departure of his friend and office companion Mr. Tate. He dwelt on the influence a good woman held over her gentlemen friends and trusted that the guest of the evening would be fortunate in this respect. He challenged the truth of the article he had seen in a paper which stated that the ladies of Peterborough were "unsophisticated, with a weakness for skating," and warmly defended them as being proficient in the fine arts. He dubbed the writer of article in question a perfect blockhead. Mr. Young resumed his seat after eulogizing the guest in the most flattering manner. Mr. F. E. Bell, who occupied the chair, was tendered a vote of thanks for the manner in which he discharged that duty.

Valuable Dogs Poisoned.

On Thursday evening while Mr. L. Steele, Lakefield, and family were absent attending the Smith, &c., exhibition some malicious person went to his house and poisoned a valuable hound, which Mr. John Richardson had lent him for the season, and which was at the time chained up in the yard, and also a valuable collie dog, which was running loose, at the same time. Mr. Steele assumes that the poison was intended for his own hound, as he usually kept him where Mr. Richardson's was that night. Mr. Steele says he will gladly pay a reward of $100 to any one giving such evidence as will secure the conviction of the perpetrator of so dastardly a deed.

MR. MERCIER'S CRY.

Happy Mr. Mercier! Worthy followers! One set repudiate with scorn and indignation the wicked imputation that he would raise the race and religion cry. The other set not only admit that he is using the cry, but boast that he is using it pretty effectually. Each explanation is used where it will do the most good; that is to say get the most votes.—Montreal Star (Indep.)

RUSSIA BULLYING.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 30.—The Russian newspapers generally express themselves as satisfied with the action of Gen. Kaulbars in Bulgaria. The Novoe Vremya says: "Nothing remains for the Bulgarian regents but to bow to Russia's will, unless it be to force Russia to adopt measures to render it materially impossible for the regents to prevent Russia's wishes from being realized. The election of a new prince in Bulgaria will be impossible until the proper relations which should exist between Gen. Kaulbars and the Bulgarian government be restored."

A POLITICAL SENSATION.

BERLIN, Oct. 1.—A sensation has been caused in Berlin by the disclosure of a letter by means of which it was attempted to win the Socialist vote for Count Bismarck at the last election at Lauenburg. The author, a Judge, has been discovered at Katzedurg and has been placed on trial for forgery and attempted bribery.

IRELAND AND MR. GLADSTONE.

DUBLIN, Oct. 1.—The wives of the Lord Mayor of Dublin and the Mayors of Cork and Limerick, Mesdames Sullivan, Healy, Dillon, Kenny and others, will present the Irish ladies' address on Home Rule to Mr. Gladstone.

AUSTRIA'S POSITION.

VIENNA, Sept. 30.—Prime Minister Tisza, replying to interpellations for the Government in the Lower House of the Hungarian Parliament to-day, said that Austria-Hungary intended to prevent any single Power from establishing a protectorate over Bulgaria. "We want independence among the Balkan States," he continued, "without having any covetous designs towards any of them. No community of interests exists in the Balkans. The Austro-German alliance continues guarding the mutual conditions of existence without endangering peace. Austria-Hungary will not allow any single Power to make an armed interference in Bulgaria." This declaration was loudly applauded.

FIRE IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A block of warehouses was burned at Leicester, occupied by Wm. Barrow, a leather mdnufacturer, Mr. Wright, a boot and shoe dealer, and Mr. Riley, a hosiery dealer. The loss amounts to $500,000.

A QUEBEC SHIP LOST.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The British bark Alfred the Great, from Quebec, was abandoned at sea on August 26th. A boat containing five men is missing. The Captain and remainder of the crew reached land.

STATE OF SIEGE RAISED.

SOFIA, Oct. 1.—The state of siege has been raised. The Government offers to deal only with the actual leaders of the plot and proposes that the elections be held on October 10th. The Assembly not to be convoked until the candidates for the throne have been made known. General Kaulbars, however, refuses to make any concession, and threatens to depart unless Russia's demands are agreed to.

CONSPIRATORS ESCAPE.

MOSCOW, Oct. 1.—A Sofia despatch to the Moscow Gazette says "D'Mitriel, the man who actually arrested Prince Alexander, and the author of the revolution, and Captain Wasoff, a Russian student at the Engineer's Academy, have disappeared and no trace of them can be found. It is feared General Kaulbar's mission will prove futile.

REFUSE TO PAY RENT.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A Dublin despatch says the tenants in Clare County, Ireland, refuse to pay any rent unless the landlords offer an abatement of 15 to 20 per cent., in which case they will settle up at once. This proceeding shows fairly the ability of the tenants to pay, as they are very prompt in settlement as soon as the landlord or his agent has conceded the reduction.

PLOT AGAINST THE CZAR.

BERLIN, Oct. 1.—It is rumored that a plot to blow up a train on which the Czar was travelling has been discovered at St. Petersburg.

WHIPPED TO DEATH.

A PRINCELY GIFT.

PARIS, Oct. 1.—The Duc d'Aumale has presented to the Institute of France the entire domain of Chantilly, with its magnificent castle and all its dependencies, the value of which, at the lowest estimate, is over sixty million francs. The galleries and collections at Chantilly will be called the Musee Conde, and will be open to the public. The Duc Aumale's gift to France is praised by even the Republican journals of Paris.

A REPUBLICAN BOURBON.

MADRID, Oct. 1.—The Duke de Seville, cousin to the late King Alfonso, has issued from a prison in Madrid a Republican manifesto to the Spanish people.

GEN. KAULBARS MODERATING.

VIENNA, Oct. 1.—It is stated positively that Gen. Kaulbars, in consequence of hints from St. Petersburg, has moderated his attitude equally with the regency, and has become more conciliatory. An immediate relaxation of tension between Russia and Bulgaia is therefore considered probable.

Washington Marks, superintendent of Government warehouses, has challenged Naval Officer Kernochan to fight a duel. Kernochan insulted and struck Marks in the Congressional convention at New Oaleans on Monday.

To Maintain One Lie

you must invent twenty, but truth can never be strengthened by bolstering. The testimony of every lady who has used Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" for nervous debility and female weakness carries conviction with it. The facts are stated in such a way that no one can doubt them. All those peculiar pains and sinking sensations which ladies suffer from, can be overcome by means of this wonderful preparation. If you are a sufferer from female weakness, don't fail to employ it.

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1886.

A RIELITE-REFORM LEADER.

MR. MERCIER publishes a very long letter, in which he endeavors to defend himself from the charges of blackmailing, which have been brought against him by both political opponents and political friends. The leader of the Rielites in the local politics of Quebec, gives a mass of detail into which it would be impossible for us to follow him. It will suffice to say that Mr. Mercier admits that at least on three occasions he was a party to commencing legal proceedings and subsequently to discontinuing them, on the condition, among others, of the payment of large sums of money. He makes a general denial of receiving these sums for his own benefit, but in his details he shows that thousands of dollars went into his own pocket under the guise of fees for his legal services, and that he gave other large amounts to his political friends. How all this differs from blackmailing we are at a loss to see. There may be a legal distinction, but there is no moral difference.

Mr. Mercier produces in his defence the testimony of some political friends and bitter partizans that in their opinion there was nothing wrong in all this, some of them even expressing wonder at his moderation in not exacting more from his political opponents when he had the opportunity. The value of this testimony may be judged from the fact that among those who testify in his favor is the Hon. Mr. Laflamme, who was elected by stuffing with bogus votes the ballot box removed for that purpose through a trap door, and who, though it has been decided that he was ignorant of the exact means used, has sworn that he knew that there was something wrong in his majority at that polling place, yet on this fraudulent title he took his seat in Parliament and at the Reform Council Board as Minister of Justice. We submit that the evidence of fellow knaves cannot have much effect in clearing Mr. Mercier's character.

Of course Mr. Mercier carefully abstains from noticing, on the other hand, the published declarations of leading men of his own political party, that he was guilty of the grossest dishonesty in these matters. Nor does he dwell upon the judge's condemnation of his blackmailing proceedings.

Another line of defence adopted by this unworthy leader of the Rielites is to plead that he cannot be guilty because leading Conservatives submitted to his demands. We never heard before that the success of a blackmailer in fleecing his victims proved that the blackmail was honestly obtained. It may be urged that it shows some weakness on the part of the victim, but not innocense on the part of the offender. Would Mr. Mercier, if he handed over his purse to a highwayman, admit that his doing so exonerated the robber? He would not even admit that he was a party to the crime because he assented to it under compulsion, and the very question of cowardice would depend upon the disadvantage at which he was taken by the thief.

Mr. Mercier's own defence substantially admits the charge. All that he establishes in mitigation is that he did his dirty work under legal forms as far as possible, and that many of his friends have as loose ideas as himself regarding dishonest money transactions in political matters.

And this Mr. Mercier is one of the foremost of the "new allies" of that portion of the Reform party headed by Mr. Blake and Mr. Mowat.

IF the Globe is correct, and it ought to be well-informed as to the movements of the leading Rielites, when Sir Richard Cartwright recently delivered a public address at Windsor, he had Pacaud, Mr. Mowat's candidate for North Essex, as a companion on the platform and in speech making. Sir Richard had gained credit from all honest loyal men for his manliness in declining to be led by Mr. Blake into voting in favor of the murderous rebel Riel. But it now appears that Sir Richard has basely yielded to the pressure put upon him by the worst elements of his party, and consents to besmirch his honor by being hand-and-glove with a vile wretch like Pacaud, who slanders our brave volunteers by calling them murderers, ravishers and thieves, and who calls the Canadian authorities murderous hangmen for administering justice on a condemned criminal. What degradation for one who boasts of his U. E. Loyalist descent.

WE are surprised to see that Ontario journals speak with astonishment, real or pretended, at any Conservative advocating manhood suffrage. Surely they cannot have forgotten that Mr. Meredith, the leader of the Conservative Opposition in Ontario, and his supporters proposed to adopt manhood suffrage for the Provincial Legislature. It was Mowat and his colleagues and followers who scouted and voted down the motion, being true to their record of having an abject fear of the voice of the people.

TRUTH IN JOHNSONIAN

Mr. Mercier declares that he will return from the elections next month with a majority of fifteen. According to a new setting, which we ran across the other day, of an old proverb, "it is unsafe to enumerate juvenile poultry at a period anterior to the compie 'tion of their incubation."—Montreal Witness (Reform.)

A judgment for $2,482,947 was given by the court at Trenton, N. J., against Oscar Baldwin, the defaulting cashier of the Mechanics' National Bank of Newark. Baldwin is now in prison.

THE BULGARIAN CRISIS.

The People Will Not Yield to Russian Dictation.

SOFIA, Sept. 30.—General Kaulbars to-day received a deputation of prominent Bulgarians, who called upon him to endeavor to induce him to withdraw or modify his circular. The deputation was composed of 114 of the most respected and influential citizens of the principality, and was headed by Dr. Voultcheff, who acted as spokesman. He stated to General Kaulbars that the circular had surprised the Bulgarian people, and asked him to re-consider the Russian demands, particularly for the postponement of the elections for two months. The nation was anxious, Dr. Voultcheff continued, to speedily settle the choice of the prince to occupy the Bulgarian throne. In addition to that modification the doctor said the people desired Russia to withdraw her demands for the immediate raising of the state of seige, and also the demand for the instant release of the garisoners in custody for the complicity in the coup d'etat. The continuance of the state of seige was the only guaranty the Government had for the preservation of peace, which the rest of Europe desired as well as Bulgaria. The Bulgarians, believing that the Czar had no desire to prolong the crisis, begged Gen Kaulbars to telegraph to him to hasten the choice of a Prince. The constitution stipulated that the Grand Sobranje, elected to select a ruler, should meet within one month after the elections. In regard to the liberation of political prisoners Dr. Voultcheff said it would be a dangerous precedent to establish, to liberate without trial or punishment those responsible for such a momentuous an act as the deposition and kidnapping of Prince Alexander, besides being contrary to the laws which were the safeguards of the country. Besides, if the prisoners were released as demanded, the probabilities were that the people would kill them in the streets, such was the popular indignation against the implicated men. The Government thought the imprisoned officers should be tried first and subsequently offered clemency. In conclusion the deputation assured Gen. Kaulbars that Bulgaria was thankful to the Czar for his past protection, but maintained that the laws of the country must be respected. No other Ministry than that at present in power could extricate the country from its crisis. Gen. Kaulbars in reply, said the Bulgarians knew very well that the Czar had the prosperity at heart, but they must confide in the Czar, and carry out his wishes. Dr. Voultcheff interrupted Gen. Kaulbars at this point, and said, "If that is all you have to say, we will retire." The deputation then withdrew.

AWFUL POWDER EXPLOSION.

Four Men Blown to Fragments—A Building completely Wrecked.

BARLOW, N. Y., Sept. 30.—A terrific explosion occurred at the Ditmar Powder Works, at Bay Chester, on the Harlem River branch of the N. Y. and N. H. R. R., about ten o'clock this morning, resulting in the instantaneous death of four men who were employed in the factory. The explosion occurred in the packing house. The men were putting up and packing cartridges when the explosion occurred, shattering the building to splinters, and blowing the four men to fragments. The exploding powder, of which there was a large quantity, shot up in the air as high as 50 feet, and splinters of the building were blown a great distance. The names of the men were Earnest Dralen, John Rusch, Max Shafbolt and Reinhart. The foreman of the works says the explosion was caused by two fellows shooting into the building.

THE FISHERY DISPUTE.

Views of the United States Government —Discussion Inopportune.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The Tribune's London correspondent says:—The American Government, while desirous of coming to to some amicable understanding on the points in the fishery dispute, is understood to consider the present an unfavorable time for entering upon the discussion. When Great Britain shall have brought Canada to reasonable views, and when Canadian irritation has subsided, a good understanding between the two countries may be embodied in a suitable treaty.

Ha! Ha!

When trade grew slack, and bills fell due, the tradesman's face grew long and blue; his dreams were troubled through the night with sheriff's bailiffs all in sight. At last his wife unto him said, "Rise up at once, get out of bed, and get your paper, ink and pen, and say these words unto all men: 'My goods I wish to sell to you, and to your wives and daughters too; my prices are so very low, that all will buy before they go.'" He did as his good wife advised, and in the paper advertised. Crowds came and bought of all he had, his bills were paid, his dreams were glad; and he will tell you to this day how well did printer's ink repay. He boasteth, with a knowing wink, how he was saved by printer's ink.

Sly Girl!

"Charley, what is a chestn bell?" said his girl.

"Oh! it's a bell that rings when any one tells an old story.

"Well, they couldn't call me a chestnut belle—I have no ring."

It succeeded, and they are to be married when Charley has his salary raised.—New York Sun.

Forty-Seven Persons Killed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—Hong Kong advices says a band of discharged Chinese soldiers made a descent on a leading pawn shop in Huchong on August 13. They murdered the proprietor and 46 of his employes. The robbers were all arrested.

Buried Alive in a Drain.

FACTS
Concerning Dr. Dorenwend's

It is the only prepration in the world that will do what is claimed for it. It has produced luxuriant growths of hair on bald heads where baldness has existed for years. It has restored the color and vigor to numerous crops of gray and faded hair. It has relieved hundreds of persons of disagreeable Dandruff and has saved many when hair was falling, from becoming bald.

☞ Remember these facts and if your hair is falling out and becoming thin, get a bottle at once and save the growth, or you may lose it for ever. Ask your druggist for HAIR MAGIC and take nothing else.

CHAPTER XIV.

THE EAST INDIAMAN.

An hour before sunset an East Indiaman, of the build and beauty familiar to students of sea pieces painted seventy years ago, was some leagues to the southward of the Start, under pressure of full and towering canvas. She was one of five vessels, and carried the commodore's pennant; for here was a little squadron of peaceful merchantmen undertaking a long and perilous voyage, with nothing better to protect them against an uprush of enemy's ships than their own carronades and the stout hearts that filled the forecastle.

The four ships, which had no need to check their weather braces to let the commodore hold the van, were scattered to right and left upon the dark surface of the water, yet not so far but that a half hour's sailing would enable them all to close. Such a majestical object as the foremost vessel looked, frothing the blue at her bow, and sweeping her stately spaces of white against the heavens, no pen could express.

At this moment some sailors, furling the awning long the tall poop, left to the nakedness of the sky a numerous company of passengers, and a charming picture of white deck, brilliant with coloring of female apparel, the gold and white of uniforms, the sheen of brass catching the ruby glitter of sunlight, the flash of glazed skylights, the trim coils of salt-white rope.

Conspicuous among the passengers was a black man, clothed with a mighty turban, in the midst of which flashed a jewel. He sat in state near the wheel, scarcely deigning to bend his red-brown eyes on the commander of the ship who was addressing him. At either elbow of this potentate stood two black attendants, inflexible figures of ebony. The rest of the passengers occupied parts of the poop at respectful distances from his highness, yielding him, with proper modesty, that regal environment of space which is one kind of sustenance of majesty.

"If you shall look dar," said the Indian, with a haughty nod of the head in the direction of the sea to the left, "you will see a black ting."

Captain Turbulent, a full-faced man, with legs curving outward to as true an oval as the outline of an egg, looked hard at the water, but protested that he could see nothing.

"Mr. Mattocks," called the captain, "get the glass and sweep the sea to leeward on the port bow, and tell me if there is anything to be seen there, will you?"

The officer thus directed took up a telescope from the skylight, and began to work away with it.

"There's a ship's boat, sir, down there, about four points on the port bow," he sang out presently. "I don't see anybody in her, sir. It's a job to fix her."

"What I tell you?" said the prince.

"Let her go off a couple of points," exclaimed the captain, motioning with his hand to the man at the wheel. "We'll run down and see what it's like. Your highness has good eyes."

Now, whether "his highness" was the correct term to apply to the Indian, Captain Turbulent did not positively know; it sounded well and felt safe, and that was the merit of it. The black man was prince of some territory to the northward of the Sautpoora mountains, and was now returning to his subjects after a voyage to London, where he had been enlarging his mind by visiting King George, the Tower, Change alley and more harmful places of curiosity.

The boat was soon a visible object to the right of the crimson fall of sunshine on the sea, and one by one the passengers left their seats on the deck and went to the poop rail to look at her. Even his highness sunk his dignity for the sake of his curiosity, and commanded his servants to carry his chair to the other side of the deck, where he had the boat clear in his sight, while the attendants salaamed to their slippers.

Mr. Mattocks, second officer of the Elizabeth, had ascended the rigging to the height of a dozen ratlines, and was covering the boat with his telescope.

"What do you make of her?" called Captain Turbulent.

"Why, she looks like a man-of-war's dingey gone adrift. I don't see any one in her, sir." Then a moment after, "Hello! there's something dark in the bottom of her. I caught sight of it as she rolled this way. There again, sir!"

"Stand by to man the weather main-braces!" shouted the captain. "Let her go off another point, and pass her close—d'ye hear? But mind your helm, my man, and don't run her down. Put us that we may see into her."

Some of the hands came tumbling aft to the braces, and then a silence fell, for expectation was strong enough to keep even the ladies silent. No object that a ship can encounter excites more curiosity than a boat fallen in with leagues away from the land, for rarely does it fail to prove a witness to some tragedy, freighted, being ofttimes horrible with death or madness or the gaunt agony of thirst, and empty, almost always a memorial of some great disaster, and pathetic in its loneliness.

In twenty minutes' time the boat was close ahead.

The ship's way was stopped; down splashed the cutter full of men; the oars cheeped merrily, and with fine smartness the boat was laid in tow and brought alongside.

In the bottom of her two men, one atop of the other, under the thwarts, and a third in the stern sheets, his head back and his half-closed eyes fixed upon the sky. The women sent up a cry when they saw them; but not the horror but the pity of it went to the hearts of the men, for the dress of one of the lonely dead was an English naval officer's, and no more was needed to make feeling deep.

The doctor, who had been roused by the steward from a nap, which he had been taking over a book in his cot, came bustling through the crowd, and treading on the slippers of royalty with little concern, and even jeopardizing the delicate amber of the bejeweled hookah. Down he went on his knees and felt for pulses.

THE LAKEFIELD FAIR.

EXHIBITION OF THE SMITH, ENNISMORE AND LAKEFIELD SOCIETY.

A Large Number of Entries in the Different Classes—A Large Attendance of Spectators—Cold Weather.

The annual exhibition of the Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield Agricultural Society was held in Lakefield on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 30th and Oct. 1st. The was open on the first day. This department included the grain, fruit, dairy products, vegetables, ladies' work etc. Each class was well filled. The show of grain was a good one, and the vegetables were plentiful and fine specimens. Mr. H. J. Daubuz had a fine collection of potatoes, including sixty-one varieties, displayed in cases with a apartment for each, and each variety labelled. There was a good show of fruit and of dairy produce, and home manufactures were well represented. The display of ladies' work included many fine specimens of fancy work and useful articles. A collection of red cedar ornaments of curious natural shapes and nicely finished, were well worthy of notice. They were shown by Mr. J. P. Strickland. Mr. Thos. Gordon had a couple of canoes of his manufacture in the hall, and Mr. Thomas Hendren had a collection of furniture on exhibition. On Thursday evening the hall was crowded with spectators, attracted by the display.

OUTSIDE DEPARTMENT.

The show of horses this year was a good one, being ahead of previous years in number, and there were fine animals in the different classes. They were the centre of attraction on the second day, the crowd along the course being very large while they were being judged. A two year old colt owned by Mr. J. Galvin was admired by all who saw it. It was a heavy animal for its age, weighing 1,398 pounds. There were fourteen bulls exhibited of different ages, and they included superior animals. There was also a good exhibit of cattle, thoroughbred and grade. The sheep and pig exhibit was up to the average, and the feathered animals showed up well, Mr. F. E. Bell alone having twenty-one pairs of fowl, two turkeys and a collection on exhibition. Several waggons, buggies and harrows were shown, and two Peterborough manufacturers, Mr. H. Owens and Messrs. Wright & Patton, had some pumps on exhibition.

The Lakefield band, which was organized this year, furnished music on both days. The band is progressing well and manifested a creditable degree of proficiency.

Altogether the exhibition was very successful, the number of entries being large, the animals and articles shown were good specimens and the attendance satisfactory.

WATCH THE RESULT.

THE backsliding of Sir Richard Cartwright from his honest and loyal position in declining to vote for vengeance on the Administration on account of justice being done to the murderous rebel Riel, is hard to explain. That he should have announced his change of views by the very degrading step of publicly patronizing Mr. Mowat's standard bearer in North Essex, Pacaud, the slanderer of our brave volunteers, and of the constitutional authorities of Canada, for daring to suppress and punish armed insurrection, adds to the surprise of those who thought Sir Richard Cartwright was superior to such ignominy. The manner, however, of his thus enrolling himself among the Rielites affords a possible clue to the means adopted to seduce him from the paths of loyalty and patriotism. The service he rendered to Mr. Mowat in thus countenancing the Attorney-General's political standard bearer and personal adherent, suggests some consideration from Mr. Mowat in return. Now Sir Richard Cartwright is running all over the Province looking for a seat, only to meet with rebuffs, in spite of appeals from Mr. Blake to accommodate him with a safe seat. Is it not very probable that the plan is for Mr Mowat to come to the rescue, as on previous occasions, and to purchase (with Provincial funds) the retirement of some Reform candidate for a safe Dominion constituency in favor of the new Rielite? Of course this will be indignantly denied—till the time comes. We remember, however, that we were met with indignant denials for suggesting that Mr. Mowat had bought a vacancy for Mr. Blake, when the Reform leader, being rejected by the electors of his old constituency, was in want of a seat. But the events proved us to be correct when Mr. Mowat a few months later in pursuance of his system of using his patronage for his personal or political ends, rewarded Mr. Burk for his service in thus effacing himself, by an office of honor and emolument. Again, Mr. Mowat purchased with his public patronage a vacancy in the pocket constituency under the control of Mr. Blake, in order to make room for Mr. Blake's lieutenant and personal agent Mr. J. D. Edgar. What has thus happened more than once may happen again. and it will be interesting to keep an eye on Mr. Mowat's dealings with Reform candidates in the constituency upon which Sir Richard Cartwright may at length settle down. Watch the result.

SOME Reform journals are expressing surprise at Conservatives approving of the employment of detectives to capture a Sarnia dynamiter, because they disapproved of Mr. Mowat's conspiracy with some of his most disreputatable followers to procure bribery. The detective was employed to discover a criminal, but Mr. Mowat hired his friends to beg and implore with tears men to commit an offence, probably also himself supplying the means, for the money came from a person known to none but Mr. Mowat, and who disappeared as secretly as he had been brought, as soon as his trap was set. An Attorney General should know the difference between inciting to wrongdoing and detecting it.

BIG FIRE IN BELLEVILLE.

The Defoe House Burned to the Ground.

By Telegraph to the Review.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 3.—The Defoe House was burned to the ground this morning The fire originated in the kitchen and spread quickly to all parts of the hotel, but not so rapidly as to prevent the escape of all the guests and inmates uninjured. The building was owned by Mr. Wm. Defoe whose loss will be $25,000. From the furnishing and effects the loss is $18,000 covered by $14,000 insurance. Mr. S. R. Balkwell was the lessee.

FIENDISH DOUBE MURDER.

A Farmer's Throat Cut and His Daughter Brutally Maltreated.

WACO, Tex., October 2.—The story of a fiendish double murder has been received here from Throckmorton county. The victims are a farmer named Urney and his grown-up daughter Lizzie. The father, who had been lassooed and dragged some distance from his home, was found with his throat cut. The daughter had been ravished and then murdered by mutilation. Horses tracks were discovered in the yard, which on being followed led to the arrest of a negro cowboy, who said he had stopped at Urney's house for a drink and saw two white men enter the yard as he left. The negro's lariot was missing and he was taken into costody. Fearing lynching, the officers have left Throckmorton with the prisoner.

THE GOOD TEMPLARS.

The English and American Bodies Preparing to Amalgamate.

BOSTON, ass., October 1.—In 1876 a rupture occured between the American and English grand bodies of Good Templars, caused, as claimed by he English, by the question of the admission of colored people into the order. Since that time there have been two international courts, one mainly American and the other mainly English, each having branches. Overtures for the union of the two sections resulted in a conference in this city during the present week between representatives of each section. It was decided that no applicant for membership could be rejected by a lodge on account of race or color, nor could lodges deny visitations on such account. Several other matters were discussed and favorable action taken upon them all. It was then resolved that the two Supreme Courts of R. G. W. Lodges should each hold its next session at Saratoga, N. Y., on the fourth Tuesday of May, 1887, the two bodies to meet separately to complete unfinished business, and then meet unitedly and become one body.

IMPERIAL POLITICS.

Lord R. Churchill on the Conservative Policy—The Unionist Combination.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Lord Randolph Churchill, speaking at Dartford to-night, said the House of Commons was the slave of the caprice of the Radicals and Parnellites. It was imperative to provide a simple and effective means of closing debates. If Ireland followed the advice of agitators such action would lead to further repressions, but Irish commerce had begun to improve and with the present good harvest the people of Ireland might anticipate brighter times.

With regard to affairs in Bulgaria, he said it was impossible to foreshadow the outcome, but he still hoped a peaceful settlement would be effected. England ought to support Aurtria in her difficulty.

Lord Churchill spoke in praise of the loyal support which the Government had received from Lord Hartington, Mr. Chamberlain and all of the Liberal-Unionists. He said that foreign affairs would be subordinated to the Union and the Unionist party. The Government recognized the sacrifices which the Unionists had made and the odium which they had incurred among their former friends; therefore, it was the duty of the Government to prove to the people of England that the Unionists were right in the course they took. The Government would give the greatest attention to legislation affecting England and Scotland, which had lately been neglected for Ireland. It would introduce measures to enable farm laborers to obtain freehold allotments, and would also deal with the questions of tithes and railway rates, measures for cheapening the cost of transfer of land, and a genuine popular form of local government would also be presented. With regard to the land question in Ireland, they would have to change from double to single ownership in order to have peace. On all of these questions the prospects were fair, although the work would be heavy. He did not believe that there would be harsh evictions in Ireland.

The Knights and the Church.

MONTREAL, Oct. 3.—At St. Patrick's Church to-day the Rev. Father Dowd continued the reading of the circular of the Council of Bishops of the Province of Quebec referring to the Knights of Labor and other secret societies and stated that they had been denounced by the clergy of Quebec, and that as such they could not be recognized by the Church. Cardinal Taschereau had submitted the whole matter to Rome with the result that the Pope had pronounced against the organization. In such a case they had nothing to do but to submit to Cardinal Taschereau. It might be said that the Association was not condemned in the States. With that they had nothing to do whatever.

A Husband's Price.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—David Debensande, the husband of Violet Cameron, the actress, was arrested last night for threatening to kill his wife if she did not give him a thousand pounds.

SPACE is too valuable to enumerate all the bargains to be found at the Golden Lion. Come and see for yourself. R. FAIR.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

JACOBINI VERY ILL.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A special despatch from Rome says: "In spite of strong efforts to conceal the true gravity of the illness of Cardinal Jacobini, the Papal Secretary of State, and notwithstanding the slight improvement to-day, it is greatly feared that one of the almost daily acute attacks of gout from which he suffers, may at any moment prove fatal. He is very feeble and undergoes excrutiating agony."

SENTENCED TO DEATH.

MADRID, Oct. 2.—The Court Martial today condemned fourteen participants in the recent rising to death. The list includes General Villacampa, three officers, five sergeants, three corporals and two civilians. It is thought the sentence will be carried out on only seven. It is expected the prisoners will be executed on Monday.

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A terrible explosion occurred on Saturday at Alton's colliery, near Wakefield, Yorkshire. Seven men have been found dead. Eight have been rescued and 17 are missing. In all probability the missing 17 lost their lives.

RUSSIA'S TERMS ACCEPTED.

LONDON, October 2.—A despatch from Sofia states that Bulgaria has accepted the terms of Russia, with the provision that the independance of the principality be formally guaranteed, both by Russia and the other great powers.

A VALUABLE COLLECTION.

BERLIN, October 2.—The splendid ethnological collection of Dr. Schweinforth, the African traveller, will shortly be placed in the museum at Berlin.

WATCHING SUSPECTS.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—In accordance with the advice of Gen. Buller, and with the approval of the Home Office, Gen. Warren, Chief Inspector of the Police, has largely withdrawn the special police protection from public buildings at London in order to liberate at least 1,000 policemen to be henceforth employed in watching suspects.

ANOTHER REPLY.

SOFIA, Oct. 3.—Gen. Kaulbars having again asked for a reply to Russia's ultimatum, the Ministry to-day (Sunday), after a long discussion, drafted a reply to the effect that the Bulgarian Government would comply with the demands of Russia to the extent that the constitution and laws would permit. It is expected that when this reply is delivered to-morrow, Gen. Kaulbars will demand a more precise answer.

MORE BELFAST RIOTING.

BELFAST, Oct. 3.—While two constables were arresting a man yesterday they were attacked by a mob. Stones were freely used and three persons were injured, one had to be taken the hospital.

A SUGGESTION.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—With your permission I would call ihe attention of the pastors of the different churches to a matter which I am sure has only to be brought to their notice to be rectified. In giving out the morning lessons the practice generally obtains of stating the chapter, and immediately begining the reading of the lesson. Now, it is utterly impossible for any member of a congregation to find out the chapter so as to follow the minister at once, and if the announcement be indistinct, as very often happens (from circumstances apart from the delivery), it makes matters worse; a pause of half a minute would, no doubt, be quite sufficient and put every one at their ease. Of course these remarks do not apply to the English Church, where the lessons being tabulated for Sundays and holidays, the members of that church have no excuse for not starting fair.

Yours truly,
SENEX.

Peterborough, Oct. 4, 1886.

THE ULSTER LOYALISTS.

We have been asked to publish the following letter, which appeared in the Port Hope Gaide of Friday:—

"DEAR SIR,—My attention has been drawn to a letter published by you in yesterday's issue, which you reprint from the Peterborough DAILY REVIEW, written by J. B. McWilliams. I am in a position to state that Mr. McWilliams is in error when he states that the delegates were "brought to and came to Canada under the auspices of the Loyal Orange Association." As stated by Mr. Smith they came to Canada as the representatives of the Ulster Loyal Anti-Repeal Union, which union sent them to this country and the United States without consulting anyone on this side of the Atlantic. This correction with some other, I am quite sure Mr. McWilliams will make on his return to Peterborough.

"I am, yours truly,
"WM. JOHNSON,
"Sec. Com.

ENNISMORE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On Wednesday, last week, an effecting scene was visible in Ennismore, at the burial of Maurice Collins, a young man of twenty-three years of age, who took sick on the previous Thursday with what the doctor pronounced to be congestion of the brain, and died on Monday morning at four o'clock. His many friends and acquaintances sympathize very much with his dear parents and family, who feel their loss as one that years cannot vanish. Their "pride and joy" was one who always proved to be a kind and obedient lad, and a particular favorite with all who knew him.

"Affliction sore long time he bore,
Physicians were in vain
But had he used Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," the greatest blood-purifier known, he might still be living. For all scrofulous diseases this preparation is a sovereign and never-failing remedy. All humors from a pimple to an ulcer yield to it. It will cure consumption (which is a scrofulous disease of the lungs) if taken in time. All druggists have it.

Some Miraculous Results

SOUTH MONAGHAN.

The Annual Exhibition held in the Village of Centreville.

The annual exhibition of the South Monaghan Branch Agricultural Society was held on Friday last at Centreville. The day, although dry, was rather too cold for the comfort of visitors, and no doubt was the chief reason why the attendance was not quite so large as usual. The exhibit in extent and variety was much the same as on former occasions, except, perhaps, in cattle and horses. FORCED APART.

BY W. CLARK RUSSELL.

Author of the "Wreck of the Grosvenor," "A Sailor's Sweetheart," Etc.

"Dead and gone!" was the sconic verdict of this juryman of Judge Death, letting fall the arm and head of the nearest of the three, a bushy-whiskered Jack, in life named Thompson. "See, captain, he has been in action. Look at the throat here; do you observe the small swelling? I should find a bullet there by probing for it."

He turned to the man in the officer's uniform, in life named Transom.

"Dead and gone, too, captain. Here's cursed foreigner's work, depend on it. I see no wound. Ah! these fingers have been wanting a long time, poor fellow! Stay, here is a contusion behind the ear no cutlass nor musket stock produced that."

He rattled on, putting out his hand as he talked and laying hold of the wrist of the third man.

Instantly, and in a changed voice, he called for brandy, and bade any man pull off his coat and roll it up for a pillow; and, with keen promptitude, was busy over buttons and chafing, and such working as skill dictated.

A spoonful of brandy swallowed (for twice as much ran on to the deck over the pale edges of the handsomest mouth man ever had) produced a sigh and a quiver of the limbs; and in a hurry, to the order of the doctor, was the body lifted and carried away to a cabin.

All night long watch and watch was kept in his cabin, by order of the doctor, the steward and his mate taking turn and turn about, and with lemonade moistening his lips, and with spoonfuls of beef tea feeding him. The rest and the food and the care were like a strong hand laid upon the shoulder of a man who walks toward a precipice, slewing him round and starting him back again to safety; for in the morning, when he awoke, he could speak, and his first question concerned his whereabouts.

"I'll go and tell the doctor you're awake, sir," says the red-headed steward's mate, whose spell it was in the cabin.

The doctor was with Captain Turbulent, arranging the funeral of Lieutenant Transom and the man-of-war's man.

"Dr. Cotton, sir, if they've come by their death by a Frenchman, we'll bury 'em to a volley, sir," the captain was saying. "Sir, we'll make a state ceremony of it, for the glory of the cause and the satisfaction of our consciences, sir."

Here broke in the steward's mate.

"Captain, you had better come along with me," says Dr. Cotton. "He may have voice enough to give us his story, sir."

So they went together to where the sick man lay. But first some medical forms must be gone through, and when the tongue was inspected, and the pulse felt, and feeble answers made, the doctor softly asked questions.

"Pray, my dear young man, who are your two companions, and how came you to be in this miserable plight?"

"They are both dead, sir!"

"Alas, yes—stone dead! and all their troubles over."

"They belonged to an English brig of war call the Cleopatra, and one of them is Mr. Transom, first lieutenant of the vessel."

"Dear me—first lieutenant! Poor man! Promoted higher than any admiral now, sir. And the other man is a sailor?"

"Yes, sir," he said, in a feeble voice; and then rallying, and propping himself on his elbow to speak: "My name is Cuthbert Shaw, and I was impressed in error to serve on board the Cleopatra. We fell in with a large French frigate and fought her; but our captain was killed, with more than half our men, and a great number wounded, after a few broadsides, and we struck. It was a cruel fight, most unequal, and all chance for the brig was gone when her wheel was carried away. We made up our minds to be carried to France; but the Frenchman, who was same distance astern of us when we struck, and standing toward us, altered her course suddenly and headed away to the east, under all the sail they could pile upon her broken masts. Mr. Transom believed that, from her superior elevation, she had sighted some vessel which was not to be discerned from our deck, and that she had hauled away for safety, as, in her crippled state, she would have to strike to any British vessel that might fall in with her. So hot had been the action, we had scarcely time to notice the condition of the brig; but, soon after the Frenchman left us, we found the hull settling under our feet. There was a rush for the boats, and most of the men got away in the pinnace and yawl, and Mr. Transom and I and the boatswain, who were left behind, had just time to scramble into the dingey and cut ourselves adrift, when the brig went down. It then came on to blow, and the boats got separated and in the night the boatswain, who had been shot in the throat, died; and, within a few hours of his death, poor Mr. Transom died, quite suddenly, and I was left alone, without food or water, and God knows how many hours passed before my senses left me. That is the story, gentlemen," and the poor young fellow dropped his head wearily on the pillow and closed his eyes.

"Bad news! bad news!" exclaimed Captain Turbulent, striking his leg with his fist. "An Englishman sunk by a Frenchman, by jingo!"

"Gentlemen, please tell me where I am, and what ship this is!" said Cuthbert, in a faint voice.

"This is the ship Elizabeth, my lad, bound to Bombay, and we hope to clear the Scillies by sundown."

To the astonishment of doctor and commander, Cuthbert sat with a vehement movement upright in his bed.

"I implore you," he cried—"I implore you, in the name of God, to set me ashore on the English coast. I engage, gentlemen, that you shall not suffer for the delay, if money can compensate you. I have a wife who will not know why I have left her—you will save us both deep misery by landing me! I have strength to row myself ashore, if you will lend me a boat. I—I—Oh, gentlemen, in God's name, do not carry me to India!"

Reported Wreck of a Vessel.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., October 2.—A report comes from Lake Superior that on Wednesday last, during a heavy gale, as the steamer City of Owen Sound was lying beside Pie Island for shelter, they saw a vessel go down with all hands. They could not make out what kind of craft it was, but it is supposed to have come from Verd Island.

IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

A Branch of the League being Organized Here.

A branch of the Imperial Federation League is being organized here. Mr. W. Brundrette who is taking an active part in forming the branch, has handed in for publication the following motions, adopted at the meeting in Montreal on May 9th 1885, which explain the objects of the League:—

1. That this meeting has observed with satisfaction the increased interest in the outlying portions of the Empire displayed by the people of the mother country, and the formation under the auspices of many distinguished practical statesmen of The Imperial Federation League.
2. That to the end that the mother country and the colonies may remain perpetually under a common sovereignty, a United Empire in its foreign affairs, with constitutional liberty for every part as regards internal administration, a readjustment of the several constitutional authorities of the Empire should, as occasion arises, be made in such manner as to increase the practical efficiency of Imperial unity.
3. That the resolutions passed at the Conference held in London, on the 29th July, 1884, and at the inaugural meeting of the League on the 18th November, 1884, and notably the following.

"That, in order to secure the permanent unity of the Empire, some form of federation is essential.

"That no scheme of federation should interfere with the existing rights of local parliaments, as regards local affairs.

"That any scheme of federation should combine on an equitable basis the resources of the Empire for the maintenance of common interests, and adequately provide for an organized defence of common rights."

meet with the hearty acceptance of this meeting.

4. That a Canadian branch of the League be now formed, to be called the Imperial Federation League in Canada, and that the object of the League in Canada should be to promote the discussion of means whereby the permanent unity of the Empire may be maintained, and its practical efficiency increased, to further the development and interchange of the resources of its various parts, and to resist any measures tending to disintegration.
5. That the membership should be open to any British subject who accepts the principles of the League, and pays a yearly subscription of at least one dollar, out of which the necessary fees for affiliation with the League in London shall be paid.
6. That the League shall meet annually in one of the principal cities of Canada, the place of meeting for each year to be selected at the proceeding annual meeting.
7. That the business of the League shall be conducted by a General Committee, to be now appointed, with power to add to their number; that the General Committee be instructed to adopt such means as they may find convenient to promote the objects of the League and that they furnish a report at the next meeting.
8. That the co-operation of men of all political parties in every part of Canada be sought for the establishment of branches, which shall have power to elect representatives on the General Committee.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Board of Education.

A regular meeting of the Board of Education will be held on Tuesday evening.

Cows Again.

When the St. Andrew's Church congregation were coming out of the church on Sunday evening two cows were found grazing on the lawn and boulevard. Considerable damage was done, the soft ground being broken up a good deal.

Personal.

Mr. David Browne and wife, Customs officer at Lindsay, spent Sunday in town. It is six years ago since Mr. Browne visited Peterborough before, and in that time he says that we have indeed made great progress in many respects.

Sale and Refreshments.

The ladies of St. John's Ladies Aid will hold a sale of work with refreshments on Wednesday, 15th, and Thursday, 16th December next. Any parties wishing to contribute either material or money the same will be thankfully received by Mrs. Beck up to the date above mentioned.

Anniversary Services.

On Sunday the Rev. G. F. Copeland, of Cobourg, preached the anniversary sermons in the Mark street Methodist Church, at the morning and evening services. The congregations were large on both occasions This evening the anniversary addresses will be delivered in the church by prominent men.

Illuminated.

Ashburnham has adopted the electric street lighting, and every night now the principal streets there are brightly lighted. Four lamps have been put up, one at the bridge, one at the corner of Elizabeth and Lake street, one at the corner of Elizabeth and Mark street, and one at the head of Elizabeth street. The lamps cost the village $75 per year, the same rate as the town gets.

Tag and Collar Thieves.

Since the dog tag law came into force the owners of dogs are compelled to provide collars for them in order that the tag may be placed on the neck of the dog. Complaints are being made that some evil-disposed persons are making a raid on tagged dogs, especially if the collar is worth anything. They not only come into possession of the tag, which represents $1 or $2, as the case may be, but they also take away the collar of the dog. Mr. Thos. Sabine, of the south end of the town, is the latest victim, and in consequence is minus both the tag and collar worn by his dog. An example will doubtless be made of some of the thieves before many days have passed.

Accident.

On Saturday night at about nine o'clock Mr. Barton Earle was walking southward on Aylmer street, returning home from calling on a neighbor. It was pitch dark and above Edinburgh street the sidewalk is very narrow. When about fifty yards from his house he stepped off the boardwalk and his left foot doubling under him he fell to the ground. When attempting to get up he found he was unable to do so. Dragging himself along with his arms he reached the front of the house, but was so exhausted that he could get no farther. A passer by saw him, and, with others, carried him into the house. Dr. Fife being called made an examination and found both bones of the leg broken off above the ankle. The necessary setting was done, and Mr. Earle is doing very well. It may be here said that there are many places in the streets, especially in the north ward, left wholly unprovided with gas lamps and on which it is absolutely unsafe to walk on dark nights. If a few actions for damages were brought against the corporation the Council would be likely more prompt to place lamps where they are needed.

March Out.

The City Battalion will hold its first march out this evening. Officers and privates will assemble at the drill shed as soon after six o'clock as possible. When the companies are formed the Battalion will march through the principal streets headed by the Battalion Band.

A Week's Engagement.

The Robt. H. Baird Dramatic Company has arrived in town and will commence a weeks engagement at Bradburn's Opera House to-night. The bill for to-night is the sensational society drama, "The Banker's Daughter," succeeded by a laughable farce.

Good Coatmakers Wanted. Apply to ANDREW MCNEIL, Habiliment Hall.

The Exhibition.

Have you been to the Exhibition? No! What exhibition? Why the one that is going on at the Bon Marche. They are selling goods astonishingly cheap. You should go and see for your self and spend a little money in dry goods, groceries etc., before everything is sold out. Can't buy as much in any other place in town for the same money.

Great Success.

If there is fine weather the Central exhibition will be certain to be a great success. Up till 3 o'clock this afternoon there were two hundred and ninety-nine more entries booked at the Secretary's office than was received altogether last year. This is the last day for receiving entries. The Secretary will be in his office, Water street, until ten o'clock to-night to accommodate exhibitors. Exhibitors will be charged a dollar extra if they put off making their entries till to-morrow.

Good Coatmakers Wanted. Apply to ANDREW MCNEIL, Habiliment Hall.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Abbey's Double Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. held forth at the Opera House last evening to one of the largest audiences ever gathered together within the walls of that edifice —in fact there was not sufficient seating accommodation for the immense concourse of people. * * * The performance was unusually good—the excellant singing and dancing of the two Topsys, and the eccentricities of the two Marks, being in particular noteworthy.—Elmira Free Press.

This Company will appear in Bradburn's Opera House next Monday evening, October 11th.

The Market.

The attendance at the market on Saturday was extraordinarily large, the square being scarcely adequate to contain the hundreds of teams, and the butter and egg market being crowded to the door. There was not a heavy delivery of wheat. The highest price paid was 77½ cents per bushel. A few loads of choice barley sold up to 62 cents per bushel. Hay, offered in a considerable quantity, sold at $8 and $10 per ton. Potatoes sold at 55 cents and 60 cents per bag. The offer was not half so large as at this time last year. Butter sold at 20 cents per pound and eggs at 15 and 16 cents per dozen.

POLICE COURT.

ASSAULT.

SATURDAY, Oct. 2.—John Elliott of North Monaghan, was charged by his wife with having committed an assault upon her.

He pleaded not guilty.

The COMPLAINT was heard. She stated that her husband had frequently abused her and had threatened to throw her down stairs if she did not feed the pig.

The DEFENDANT stated that last Sunday morning he got up and washed his face but when he came to look for the towel he could not find it. He asked "this woman," as he terned his wife, where it was but she did not reply. He asked the little girl where it was but she did not answer. He then gave the little girl a little slap, but when he did that "this women" seized a fork and threatened to run him through—

The COMPLAINT—No Jonnie it wasn't a Sunday I took the fork to you.

The DEFENDANT, continuing, did not deny that he kicked some beans out of the house, alleging that the floor was strewed with refuse and had not been swept for a month. As to feeding the pig he said that he worked hard in the harvest field all day and when he came home late in the evening he thought it too much that he should chore. He did lay hands on "this woman" when she took up the fork. He was not such a fool as to let her strike him as she did before with the poker.

The MAGISTRATE said that he thought it a pity that a couple of their age should have so little sense. He would like to see them living peaceably and harmoniously together as man and wife ought to live. Nevertheless the defendant had broken the law by unlawfully laying hands on his wife and he would impose a fine—a small one, considering the circumstances of the case. He fined the defendant $2 and costs.

STATUTE LABOR.

Michael Dunn was charged by Wm. Cumming with non-payment of statute labor tax.

The defendant did not appear. Evidence was taken and a fine of $5 and costs or ten days in gaol was imposed.

SCOTT ACT.

MONDAY, Oct. 3.—James H. O'Shea was charged by Inspector Cochrane with having committed an infraction of the Scott Act. He pleaded not guilty.

Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the crown and Mr. J. O'Meara for the defendant.

Evidence of Capt. Cooper as to finding the liquors in defendant's cellar, and others as to having drunk beer there, was taken.

The defence made was that the liquors were stored in the defendant's cellar for the Toronto Brewing and Malting Company.

The MAGISTRATE summed up and found the defendant guilty and fined him $50 and costs.

The police were ordered to destroy about four gallons of port wine and several dozen bottles of ale, which was confiscated.

BELFAST COMMISSION.

The Bar Take Umbrage at Justice Day and Leave the Court.

BELFAST, Oct. 4.—The Royal Commission of Inquiry into the Belfast riots opened its session here to-day. All the barristers but two insisted on an adjournment for fifteen minutes, for the purpose of deciding upon what course to adopt in pursuing the investigation of the causes that led to the riots. Justice Day refused to grant the adjournment on the ground that it would be a waste of time. The Justice then proceeded to examine a witness, whereupon the members of the bar rose and left the court in a procession, beating with them their bags, books and briefs. Several solicitors, priests and Orangemen followed the example of the barristers. Barrister O'Shaughnessy is indignant at the action of Justice Day, and remarked in court that the Irish bar had never before received such treatment.

SIGNS OF DISINTEGRATION.

DUBLIN, Oct. 4.—It transpires that Messrs. French and Adams, the Irish members of the Royal Commission, favored the request of the barristers for an adjournment, while Messrs. Bulger and McHardy supported the ruling of the chairman refusing to grant the same. It is rumoured in legal circles that Mr. Adams will probably retire from the commission, as a result of to-day's proceedings. Those who were acquainted with the true state of affairs are of the opinion that the whole thing will end in a farce. It is thought that the constables will be the only witnesses examined.

INDIGNATION MEETINGS.

The only witness examined by the Royal Commission of enquiry into the cause of the Belfast riots to-day was Inspector Carr. Indignation meetings are being held to-night to protest against Mr. Justice Day's treatment of the members of the Irish bar in to-day's examination.

THE ULSTER LOYALISTS.

We have been requested to publish the following letter, which has been forwarded to the Port Hope Guide for publication:—

To the Editor of the Guide:

DEAR SIR,—My attention has been called to a letter of Mr. Wm. Johnson's in your issue of the 1st of October, referring to certain statements made by me in a letter replying to a communication of Mr. Burnham, both of which were published here. I have sent to Mr. Johnson an explanation, which he is at liberty to publish, if he sees fit to do so, but I have nothing to retract.

Yours truly,
J. B. McWILLIAMS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

SAD AFFLICTION.—On Saturday last, at noon, Mrs. Read, wife of Mr. George Read, ex-M. P. P., Township Clerk of Otonabee, passed away after a lingering illness. She had been an invalid for over two years. Mrs. Read was aged 64 years and 9 months. She was buried on Monday. On Monday evening at 6.30 o'clock Mr. Read suffered another affliction by the death of his daughter, Miss Agnes E. Read, aged 30. She was taken ill on Friday, September 24th, with cerebral spinal meningitis and expired on Monday evening. Funeral on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Read has the sincere sympathy of the community in his sad bereavements.

Why it Was Published.

The Manitoulin Expositer publishes a poem represented to be the work of a summer visitor to the island, and favors the rash author with the following notice:—The poem published this week is not rendered immortal by reason of its intrinsic merits, but out of consideration for its author. Had the verses not been published the writer might have considered himself a poet and some day been impelled to commit a greater iniquity. As it is, somebody will now kill him and prevent the possibility of a repetition of the offence.

NO RUSSIAN DICTATION.

Tumultuous Meeting at Sofia—General Kaulbars Received With Jeers.

SOFIA, Oct. 4.—All but seven of the officers who are under arrest for complicity in the deposition of Prince Alexander have been released.

SOFIA, Oct. 4.—Five thousand persons attended a meeting held yesterday to hear from Doctor Voultcheff his report of the conference last Thursday between General Kaulbars and 114 Bulgarian notables, headed by the doctor, who called upon the Russian agent to request a modification in Russia's demands. The audience cheered Dr. Voultcheff during his narrative and uttered groans for Russia. Doctor Voultcheff proposed and the meeting adopted a resolution declaring confidence in Government and an assurance to it of moral and national support so long as it continued to maintain the independence of Bulgaria, and the constitution and laws of the country. During the proceedings a Russian arose and shouted "Long live the Czar" and "Down with the Government." He was at once set upon by the audience and roughly handled, and would probably have been killed if the police had not rescued him and conducted him to a place of safety. While the proceedings were in progress General Kaulbars suddenly and unexpectedly appeared and mounted the tribune. His appearance made a sensation. The audience became quiet and respectful. He addressed them and said he was there to express the Czar's desire. He was at once loudly interrupted by shouts of "We want no desire; we will listen to advice if it is good." General Kaulbars, when order had been restored, continued, saying:—"I have heard that a Russian had been beaten here because he cheered for the Czar." Here there were fresh interruptions, and shouts of "The man was not beaten for cheering for the Czar, but because he cried 'Down with Bulgaria.' The same fate will befall all saying the same thing." General Kaulbars then attempted to explain three points in the Russian demands. The crowd cried out that they would receive no orders. Among the shouts were, "The state of siege has already been raised;" "Political prisoners will not be released;" "The people will stone them if they are free;" "The elections will not be adjourned;" "The law must be respected, otherwise progress is impossible." When the crowd had ceased shouting, General Kaulbars declared that the Czar would refuse, unless the elections were postponed, to recognize the great Sobranje elected to choose a successor to Prince Alexander. The audience again became tumultous. They shouted at General Kaulbars: "We don't care; we will stone whoever violates our constitution."

A NEW USE FOR CHEESE.

An American's Queer Device to Secure An Earlier Wife.

A correspondent informs us of a new method of advertising for a wife. On cutting open an American cheese the other day, a person in his employ found a mysterious box. This inclosed another box still more mysterious within which was an offer of marriage from two young men, who gave their names and addresses, in a district in America. There the romance ended in the particular case, but it is easy to see that it might have had a very different termination. The writers, perhaps amorous cowboys in a settlement devoid of the society of the fair, might have been driven by sheer necessity to this mode of communication with the outer world of womenhood. There is something infinitely more touching in it than in most of those devices of captivity with which history or fiction has made us familiar. The file in the pie and the missive in the hollow oak, will henceforth be as nothing to the love letter in the cheese. It, however, betrays some ignorance of our island habits, for only a cowboy should have supposed that our most eligable soul mates are usually found among those who take the first cut out of our cheese. The senders must have been under the impression that we divide our prime Cheshire, as we devide our Twelfthcakes, by the aid of the prettiest person in the company. More familiarity with the piecemeal way in which this delicacy is retailed in the Old Country would have showen the writers that the first person likely to have a sight of their message would be a grocer's assistant. Our young women do not often take their cheeses whole, nor does innocence, brooding over the problem of love, usually sink its gaze into the depths of the double Gloucester. In view of the disappointment to the senders in the miscarriage of their missive we forbear to dwell on the grievance of the purchaser of the cheese. Yet what with two boxes, to say nothing for the probable style of the letter within them, he must have had to pay for a good deal of deadweight.—London Daily News.

MURDER AT BUCKINGHAM.

Fatally Stabbed while Ejecting Drunken Men from a Tavern.

OTTAWA, Oct 4.—A report comes from Buckingham that on Friday evening last two men named Rousseau, father and son, entered the tavern kept by one Frangeat, at Notre Dame du Laus parish, about fifty miles north, and demanded liquor. As they were intoxicated Mrs. Frangeat, who was in charge, refused them any, whereupon they commenced to raise a row and take possession of the house. Mrs. Frangeat called John Laderoute, a butcher about 45 years old, to her assistance. He had ejected the younger and was about to do the same with the father when a knife was drawn. Laderoute was stabbed in several places, and died from the effects of his wounds. The Rousseaus have been arrested.

British Ship Lost.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—The steamer Alameda from Sydney and Honolulu brings news of the loss of the British ship Dunnopar Castle on Ocean Island 1200 miles from Honolulu on July 15. She left Syndey July 9 for Wilmington, Cal. All of the crew reached the shore in safety, but as the Island is barren, seven of them left for the Sandwich Islands, which they reached after a perilous of 52 days in a open boat. A relief steamer left Honolulu to succor the remainder of the crew consisting of twenty-two persons, on Sept. 14, and was expected back Oct. 1st.

An Epidemic.

VICKSBURG, Miss. Oct. 4.—There now prevails in this city an epidemic of fever which is unprecedented. It is estimated that over 1,000 cases are under treatment. The disease, while a painful and prostrating one, is by no means malignant or dangerous, there having been over 15,000 cases without one death.

LORD CHURCHILL'S SPEECH.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Daily News says: "Lord Randolph Churchill's comprehensive Radical proposals are somewhat startling, even to advanced Liberals. The Government propose to do next year what the Liberals have tried to do in the past six sessions. They have given the Unionists control of their policy to enable them to retain office." The Chronicle says:—"The Conservative programme presents the best phases of Liberalism, but is a work for a whole parliament rather than for two sessions."

NO CONFIDENCE.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Mr. Joseph Arch, the well-known Radical ex-member of Parliament, in a speech at Fordingbridge to-night said that he was convinced that if Lord Randolph Churchill had not been a Radical before he certainly was one now. Talking of the demoralization in the Radical party, Mr. Arch said it could not be greater than the demoralization of the Conservatives, who were driven to sending silly women to do the work which should be done by men. Lord Randolph Churchill had said that when Parliament met the Government would pass a "Three Acres and a Cow" bill, but they had failed to do so. In conclusion, Mr. Arch warned his hearers against accepting the policy mapped out by the Conservatives, and asked them not to be deceived by their promises.

Canada In England.

The Liverpool Courier, in its account of the agricultural show at Chester, says:—The Canadian Government has a magnificent display of grains, grasses, timbers, and minerals from Manitoba and other parts of the Dominion. Worthy of notice are the 233 different varieties of grain in the ear and to name, and a remarkable sample of the celebrated Manitoba red wheat of this season's crop. It was sown April 9th and cut August 12th. The weight per bushel was 62 lbs., and the yield per acre 35 bushels. It was grown at the Binscarth stock farm, on the line of the Manitoba & North-west railway. There are also specimens of flour made at the Ogilvie Mills at Winnipeg, which have a capacity of some 900 barrels per day by the Hungarian roller process. It will be remembered that fourteen years ago some 9,000 emigrants emigrated from the Crimea to Manitoba, and they took with them some Russian flax seed. The product of this seed is destined to become a most important factor in the success of Northwest farming. Specimens of linseed cake manufactured in Manitoba from the Russian flaxseed are exhibited, and it is believed that with this oilcake and the native grasses the farmers in the North-west will, to a great extent, be independent of root crops.

JOURNALISM.

We learn on the authority of the Montreal Herald, which, as a zealous and unscrupulous supporter of the Riel-Reform combination, should be well acquainted with the tactics of its friends, that it is the intention next session to force a series of debates on the position and opinions of the Toronto Mail. If mere obstruction of the public business is the object of the faction, perhaps this is as fit a method as any other excuse for waste of time and thwarting the wishes of the people of Canada as expressed through their constitutional representatives. But from any other point of view such discussion in Parliament would have no practical meaning, however well it might suit a debating society.

If it is to be argued that Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues are answerable for the views of the Mail on certain questions, that point has been settled by the disclaimer of the Premier, and the utmost that could be fairly asked would be an authoritative repetition of the disclaimer in the House. But there remains the wider question of how far the Conservative party as a whole is responsible for the utterances of the Mail, or, indeed, of any journal that supports a Conservative policy generally, though having opinions of its own on some points, on which it professes to speak for itself and its friends, not for the party as a whole. Among honest journals, as among honest men, differences of opinions which must inevitably exist, for no two persons see with the same eyes on every subject, will find expression without implying any agreement. The Conservative journals are not the slavish dependants of any man or set of men, and while supporting or opposing the general policy of a party, do not follow their leaders like a flock of sheep. We do not find them turning round in a night, as did the bulk of the Reform press, which clamoured for the execution of Riel while they thought he might be pardoned, and which clamoured for vengeance for the death of Riel as soon as he was punished for his crimes. This was evidently a party move, for it was not confined to their journals, but was adopted and supported by the two Reform leaders and by their principal lieutenants, in the House and on the platform.

The Globe has pronounced in favor of confiscating the freehold property of every farmer in the country as soon as it can educate the people of Canada into its way of thinking. Would not Mr. Blake and the Reform party as a body think it very unfair if we charged them with being implicated in the Globe's scheme of wholesale robbery? Yet, as far as Mr. Blake is concerned, it would be far more reasonable to suppose him responsible for the utterances of the Globe, than to hold Sir John Macdonald answerable for all that may appear in the Mail, since among the controllers of the Globe are lieutenants and personal agents of his own.

Of course there may be occasions when the utterances of party journals may be the subject of comment in Parliament with considerable fitness. As an instance, the Globe at one time assumed to offer a wholesale inducement to the Quebec representatives to support Mr. Blake, promising in Mr. Blake's name that they should be rewarded for turning their coats by greater concessions than those that had been condemned by Mr. Blake as excessive and unfair to the other Provinces. Mr. Blake repudiated the promise, and thus from a Parliamentary point of view set himself right so far, but he did not relieve himself of the responsibility of having allowed this disgracefully corrupt offer in his behalf and in his name to remain unrepudiated until he found that the Quebec representatives were not the base men who could be thus bought to aid him.

For want of any defined policy the Reform journals, like the Reform leaders, are reduced to the simple tactics of opposing everything that is done by a Conservative Administration, and doing all they can to thwart the progress and prosperity of Canada so long as its people anger them by confiding in Conservative statesmen. Thus the Reform press is able to be practically unanimous, as they agree in condemning anything done or proposed by the Administration, and in belittling their country as long as it will not entrust them with office. Very unfairly, but not unnaturally, they think the Conservative journals are like themselves, for they cannot understand journalists supporting the general policy of a party, and yet preserving their independence on points as to which they may see differently from their political leaders.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

BLAKE AND LIEUTENANTS.

The Globe made a place for itself by the independence of the Browns; it has fallen from that leading position into being a mere organ, a mere apologist for the reform leaders. It has been handed over body and bones to Mr. Blake and if that honorable gentleman does not avail himself of its columns his lieutenants Mr. Anglin and Mr. Edgar certainly do, to push or advocate what they consider to be in his interests.—Toronto World (Indep.)

IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

By all means let the question be fully ventilated, and if there are matters of common interests in which the colonies can profitably unite with the Old Country, in the name of common sense let them co-operate. The independence of the colonies is in no way menaced by these communications. If ever the splendid dream of the Imperial Federationists is realized it will not be by a sudden revolution, but by a steady growth. If the Queen's Majesty is to reign over a more united empire than at present her throne will be as now, "broad-based upon her people's will."—Montreal Star (Indep.)

Brazen fabrication is a chief feature of the work of some correspondents of American journals, at the seat of the Canadian Government. One of them has manufactured a draft treaty between Canada and the United States, and represented it as having originated with the British Government. Every word of this formal document is a forgery. To the same source is traceable the harrowing tales, published during the summer, of famine in Labrador; of hundreds of men succumbing to the attacks of bears. A MOTHER'S REFLECTIONS.

After the death of her infant son, Fredrick William Nichols, second son of William and Elizabeth Nichols, who died in Beaver City, Nobraska, on the seventh of July, 1886, aged 10 month and ten days.

My God, how great and kind Thy care and love bestowed on me,
My life was spared, a new life given, all were kind gifts from Thee.
I gazed upon his infant face that day I gave him birth,
In hope he would be spared to me, long happy years on earth.
Alas, how false our brightest hopes, we plan, but can't fulfil;
How insignificant our thoughts to Thy mysterious will.
With joyful heart I pressed his lips close to my breast each day,
I little thought that You so soon would take my Fred away.

I watched his first sweet infant smile, as he lay by my side,
I viewed that type of innocence with all a mother's pride.
His infant tongue was never loosed to tell his mission here;
Feet that never trod this sinful earth may tread a brighter sphere.
God's ways seem hard to mortals here; a mother's love to crush;
The cooing of that baby's voice so premature to hush.
He gave to me that darling form—but Ah, how short his stay—
Ten months, ten days, God's time fulfilled—He called my Fred away.

I know it now, my darling Fred for that brief space was given
To me, to show pure innocence compose the throngs in heaven.
God only gave him unto me, to show his infinite power;
Gave life on earth—transplants in heaven—in Paradise to flower.
None but a mother can conceive pangs of a mother's heart,
While she beholds her tender babe pierced by affection's dart.
The height or depth of my own love forsooth I did not know,
Till heavy sickness ends in death, and laid my Freddie low.

I watched the conflict, life and death, striving for victor's place,
But still that calm complacent smile shed lustre o'er his face.
God's pruning hook had done its work, his feeble frame gave way,
His spirit fled—all that remained with me of Fred was clay.
God gave no time for vice or sin, his soul here to deprave,
How short his life on earth, between the cradle and the grave.
If Jesus still loves little babes, with such a special care,
And clasps them in his arms, in love, then my dear Fred is there.

NEWS OF THE DISTRICT

BETHANY FAIR.

The Annual Exhibition of the Manvers Agricultural Society.

The annual exhibition of the Manvers Agricultural Society was held at Bethany on Friday and Saturday of last week. The Society has new grounds in Bethany, and the exhibition was the first held in the village. The weather was cool on Friday, but on Saturday it was more favorable.

The new grounds are very well adapted for the purpose, the hill which rises above the horse ring giving the spectators a good view of the course, but they are scarcely large enough, and the cattle yard is rather small. The building is a capacious one, and it was filled with an extensive display of ladies work and kindred articles, vegetables, etc. This department of the exhibition was very successful in the number and quality of the exhibits.

The show of horses was very good, especially in the single carriage horse, saddle horse and mare and foal classes. The exhibits in the team classes were good, but were few.

There were some excellent catt sheep and poultry on the grounds, and altogether the display must have been considered satisfactory.

The attendance, especially on the second day, was quite large—indeed, was very large for a township show. The lady riders and other attractions on the first day were entertaining, and the horse ring was the chief attraction on the second day.

BOBCAYGEON.

UPSET.—As the Maple Leaf was nearing Crowley's island, on its way from Bridgenorth on Wednesday evening, the captain noticed something peculiar in the water. On nearing it he heard cries for help, and he then found that it was a capsized punt with two men clinging to it. The steamer was turned towards them, and they were rescued from their perilous position. One of the men was kneeling on the end of the upturned punt, comparatively comfortable, but the other, who was the worse for liquor, was down in the water, hanging to the boat and much exhausted. It appears that the inebriated one tumbled out of the boat, and the other in attempting to pull him in, capsized the punt. Two bags of flour remained under the boat and were taken from the water by a man who came out in canoe, having heard the shouting. The captain put them on shore, and it is to be hoped that their experience will be of some use to them in the future.

LINDSAY.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.—A special meeting of the Lindsay school board was held Wednesday for the purpose of receiving the report of the special committee appointed a short time ago. The report recommended that the High school staff be requested to resign, but that is not to stand in the way of asking for applications again. The object is, we believe, to reorganize the staff for the new year.

THE FAIR.—Owing to the very unfavorable weather of Monday and Tuesday many intending exhibitors were prevented from exhibiting. However, the Fair has been on the whole very successful, and what was shown was of the best, and made ample amends for any lack of quantity. The display of horses was excellent, also that of cattle. The track was in prime condition though owing to the rains in the early part of the week it was somewhat soft in spots Tuesday and Wednesday.—Warder.

MINDEN.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. Eastman, of Snowdon, was bringing some young cattle to the village with their heads tied down to their front feet, and got two of them into the water at the Ingoldsby Narrows, which were drowned before they could be rescued.

LUMBERING.—The different lumbering firms have a large number of men in the woods north of this village. Nearly every day fresh arrivals take place. Considerable energy is being evinced here this season in lumbering operations.

CONFIRMATION.—One of the most interesting events that has transpired in this village for some time past was the confirmation service in St. Paul's Church, Minden, on Tuesday evening last, when Rev. J. G Dean presented no less than forty-eight candidates to His Lordship, the Bishop of Toronto to be confirmed. Thirty of the candidates were females and eighteen males. The services were of a very solemn character and the addresses of the Bishop was most affecting. His Lordship very clearly explained the nature of the ordnance and the duty of the candidates. His address was listened to with great attention and marked effect upon the very large congregation present which filled the church to overflowing, notwithstanding the late hour at which it was held, 8 p. m. Some of the candidates and their friends had long distances to travel to reach here, but all expressed themselves highly pleased with the results. A liberal collection was taken up for missionary purposes. His Lordship was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Delamere during his short visit, and we understand he expressed his delight with the progress church work is making in this mission.—Echo.

SCOTT ACT FINES.

The Dominion Government is coming round like the Mail to treat the prohibition movement with respect. A very good sign and a most useful concession is the agreement of the Government to the request of the promoters of the Scott Law that the fines derived from the execution of the law should form a fund in the hands of the municipalities in which they were collected for the prosecution of further offenders. It is highly desirable that every law should as far as possible provide for its own enforcement. It is unfair that the cost of discovering or prosecuting offenders should fall on any private citizen or cr citizens, and so long as there is to any extent the case, the enforcement of any law will be lame.—Montreal Witness (Reform.)

STILL THEY USE IT.

Mr. G. W. Stephens says that for years he has deprecated the race and religion cry. We can readily accept that statement. All the Leaders of the National Party deprecate the race and religion cry, but nevertheless they are using it for all it is worth. Most earnestly do they deprecate the use of that cry in Ontario. In Quebec one day it is the fashion for the Rouges to deny that they are guilty of using this atrocious weapon and another day to justify its use. —Montreal Star (Indep.)

of danger by the condition of your blood, as shown in pimples, blotches, boils, or discolorations of the skin; or by a feeling of languor, induced, perhaps, by inactivity of the stomach, liver, and kidneys, you should take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It will renew and invigorate your blood, and cause the vital organs to properly perform their functions. If you suffer from

or Neuralgia, a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla will relieve and cure you. Alice Kendall, 218 Tremont st., Boston, Mass., writes: "I have been troubled with Neuralgia, pain in the side, and weakness, and have found greater relief from Ayer's Sarsaparilla than from any other remedy." J. C. Tolman, 336 Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "In no other remedy have I ever found such a happy relief from Rheumatism as in Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, there need be no fear of Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Eczema, Catarrh, Liver troubles, or any of the diseases arising from Scrofulous taints in the blood. Geo. Garwood, Big Springs, Ohio, writes: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has been used in my family for a number of years. I was a constant sufferer from but Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected a permanent cure. Seven years ago my wife was troubled with Goitre: two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured her, and she has never had any return of the disease. I regard this preparation as the best medicine in use for the blood." B. Barnard Wair, 75 Adams st., Lynn, Mass., writes: "For many years I suffered terribly from Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Scrofula. Almost hopeless, I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and am a well man to-day." Be sure and get Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the most thorough and effective blood purifier. The best is the cheapest.

Dyspepsia,

Personal.

The friends of Dr. O'Sullivan will be pleased to learn that he is satisfactorily recovering from the effects of the accident he sustained recently. He is now able to be about.

Congratulatory.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Sailsbury have arrived home from their wedding tour through Eastern Canada and have taken up their residence on Brock street. The REVIEW extends, with Mr. Sailsbury's many friends here, cordial congratulations on his accession to the married state, and also welcomes Mrs. Sailsbury.

A Blaze.

At about six o'clock on Monday evening a gas jet behind one of the plate glass windows in Rowse's Trade Palace fluttered in the draught of an open door and ignited a lot of light drapery hanging in the window. In a moment the window was in a blaze. Two of the clerks succeeded in smothering the flames, but in doing so, received rather severe burns on the hands. The loss is about $50.

The Electric Cash Railway, one of the Wonders of the Toronto Exhibition, can be seen at Turnbull's Electric Light Millinery Opening, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Run Over.

On Tuesday evening when Mason's delivery express was being driven along George Street near the Methodist Church, Walter, a little nine year old son of Mr. W. Mason, who was in the express, tumbled over the low dashboard and fell to the ground. The driver quickly pulled up the horse and alighted to find that one of the hind wheels was resting on the little fellow's body. The front wheel had passed over his body and head. Walter was extricated and taken home when Dr. Fife examined him and pronounced the injuries to be slight.

The Opera House.

The Baird Comedy Company commenced a week's engagement at Bradburn's Opera House on Monday evening in "Cast Adrift." There was a fair attendance. Mr. R. H. Baird as "Norton Heath," was a strong feature of the caste. He personated the passionate but fine hearted old man in such a way as to win unreserved approval from the audience. Mr. E. Houghton was an uncompromising villian as "Frank Lewton," and Mr. John Beith as "Fredy Simpkins" made a very favorable impression. Miss Georgia Gardner was a strong "Mable Heath," the scene where she meets her blind father in Lawton's house being especially impressive, and Miss Minnie Stanley filled the part of Sadie creditably. The entertainment concluded with a laughable farce.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

* * Eight hundred and sixty-four was the number of people who paid to witness the performance of that time-worn but always popular drama, Uncle Tom's Cabin, by the well-known Abbey's Double Mammoth Co. at the Academy of Music last evening * * The introduction of two Topsys and two Lawyers at first strikes the casual observer as rather incongruous; but the novelty is admirably handled, and the dialogue is arranged to suit the situation, * * The magnificent singing of the South Carolina Jubilee Singers, the æsthetic actions of the trick donkey, the wonderful intelligence exhibited by Eva's Shetland Pony, and the marvellous performance of the trained Russian bloodhounds, were alone well worth the price of admission.

This Company will appear in Bradburn's Opera House next Monday evening, Octobar 11th.

For the benefit of those attending the Exhibition, Turnbull will have an Electric Light Millinery Opening on Wednesday and Thursday Evenings, Oct. 6th and 7th.

GEORGE AND CHARLOTTE

Join with Mark in Celebrating the Latter's Birthday.

On Monday afternoon, commencing at five o'clock, a tea meeting was held in the Town Hall, Ashburnham, in celebration of the anniversary of the Mark Street Methodist Church. The tables were prettily decorated and fairly loaded down with the most palatable of good things. The attendance was large and ample justice was done to the repast provided by the ladies of the church.

At eight o'clock the gathering adjourned across the street to the church, where the usual addresses were given.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson, the pastor, nominated Mr. Thos. Johnston as chairman, and the nomination being so favorably received Bro. Johnston was installed in the chair. He good humoredly said that there were two things he didn't exactly care about doing; one was sawing wood and the other was acting as a chairmrn. But, being there, he would do the best he could. He thought he could not do much better than call on the choir for some music.

A choir of sixteen voices responded, and also did excellent service throughout the evening.

The Rev. F. H. WALLACE was the first speaker. He defined what a tea meeting speech ought to be as being something said which would not savor of a sermon and yet which would be in consonance with church work. He did not think he could do better than to say something about how to make a church successful. He had said something of this sort to his own people, but what would make a successful church on Charlotte would be just as likely to make a successful one on Mark street. First he urged attendance of the church. There was nothing that gave more encouragement to the minister than to see his church well filled. By mere attendance at church people helped God's cause along wonderfully. By manifesting an interest in the church in this way the church officials were greatly encouraged. A lady was once asked why so-and-so had lost his interest in the church replied that because she supposed he had lost his principle. No one could have interest without principal. Secondly people should attend from principle. They did good by attending, but if they attended from principle and entered warmly into the spirit of God's service they did infinitely more good. He related an instance where an old Scotch lady quarrelled with her minister but still kept on going to church. The minister was curious to know the reason of this and went to her house. He asked her how it was that after quarrelling with him she still attended church regularly. "Wha," returned the old lady, "Me quarrels wi you are no wi the gospel." People should not go to church merely because they liked the minister, but from a fixed principle that it is their duty to do so. He quasi-humorously put the trial of a minister in preaching. Some of his congregation wanted to be told over and over again of the saving power of the Lord Jesus Ohrist, while others wanted argument and demonstrations and others a soaring aloft on the wings of rhetoric and eloquence. The sermons must be varied. He counselled those who heard a sermon which they did not appear to get any good from, to reflect that perhaps others were benefitted. And above all he asked the sympathy of the people for the minister, both in the church and in the pastoral work. He deprecated little jealousies which often existed among church communities. Nothing was so injurious as these; but socialbility was an element warmly to be commended. The greatest stress was laid on prayer, as an efficacious means of making a church successful. Concluding he urged the people this church to live earnest lives.

The Rev. Mr. COPELAND was the next speaker. He was pleased to meet with the people of this church after an absence of four years. During that time Peterborough had made great advancements and had grown to large dimensions. Ashburnham had improved considerably and the church had improved. He was a great believer in unions. He thought Ashburnham would be better to unite with Peterborough. He was glad to learn that such union was to be brought about in the near future. He dwelt with pleasure for a time upon the history of the church, counting its ups and downs, and was glad that it was now prospering. He did not lay claim to being the founder of this church, as the chairman had said, for that honor was his late revered brother Butcher's. But he was the first pastor of the church, and anything connected with the church's weal always greatly interested him. He warmly commended the address given by Mr. Wallace, and recounted actual benefits from following such advice. He added one more duty which the people should observe, and that was to be benevolent. Though he had never drawn a large salary, he had always given a tenth for God's work, and he found it was a blessed thing to do.

The Rev. MR. TOVELL followed with a characteristically fitting few words. He told a story to start with of a minister who had preached an hour and a half, and then waxing still more eloquent, apostrophised, "And what can I say more?" An impatient old lady arose from her seat and advised him to say "amen." This was the best thing he could do. After talking a little while about the affairs of the three churches in a happy manner, he did say "amen."

Motions of thanks were passed in behalf of the ladies and the chairman, and the Rev. Mr. Copeland closed the meeting by pronouncing the benediction.

Doing well.

Mr. Barton Earle's friends will be pleased to know that he is doing very well and is on a fair way to recovery. The fracture not being a compound one it is likely that he will be well some weeks sooner than at first anticipated.

PETERBOROUGH'S BIG FAIR.

The First Day a Preparatory One—Crowds of Exhibitors.

This is the opening day of the Peterborough Central Exhibition. The morning opened sombre, though pleasantly mild, and the weather continued so all day. There have been comparatively few visitors to the exhibition grounds except the exhibitors, but these number hundreds. From early this morning the streets leading to the grounds have been occupied by a procession bearing the products of the farm, garden, orchard, and factories, as well as carrying south an ample display of goods sent by enterprising Peterborough merchants. This motley train, containing all kinds of merchandise and produce, has kept moving till two o'clock this afternoon, when it has slackened somewhat.

At the grounds all is stirring with activity. Tents have been spread in all directions by exhibitors; the grooms are hurrying about the long lines of stables; boys and men are in charge of the patient fat stock; the exhibition building is a beehive of industry; and the Directors look on and smile and presage a great attendance for the three succeeding days. The well lighted building is divided into five departments on the first flat—dairy produce department, grain department, canned fruit department, roots and vegetables department, horticultural department, and special exhibits' department. The fine art, ladies' fancy work, fruits, manufactures and merchandise are shown in the second flat.

All look forward to a successful day to-morrow, provided the weather be favorable.

The Temperature.

The following are the readings of the thermometer to-day at the hours mentioned:—8 o'clock, 48; 1 o'clock, 55: 3 o clock, 55.

You should go and see for your self and spend a little money in dry goods, groceries etc., before everything is sold out. Can't buy as much in any other place in town for the same money.

THE FOUR DAYS FAIR.

Inauguration of the Central Exhibition Yesterday.

IT IS NOW IN FULL BLAST.

THE DEPARTMENTS ALL FILLED WITH NUMBERLESS ENTRIES

And the Cry is "More Room"—The Exhibit Indoors and Notices Thereof—Art, Manufactures and Farm Produce—A Great Display.

TUESDAY.

The judging in the various classes in the the exhibition building commenced at two o'clock this afternoon, when all the departments, except the special exhibition department, were in good order. The latter kept coming in till late in the evening.

The lower part of the building has a well stocked, comfortable, and it might safely be said, elegant appearance. From the centre of the hall, to the right and left, is set apart for merchants and manufacturers. At the main entrance to the right is D. Smart's exhibit of pianos, organs and sewing machines—an attractive display. Opposite the Singer sewing machine in different styles and operated on.

Another step in the zig-zag line brings the spectator face to face with a rich display of furniture made by the Lindsay-Seldon Company, of Peterborough. The whole exhibit is one of rare merit, but if one article may be particularized above another, their fancy mantle grates must be mentioned. Two of these are shown, one finished in cherry and the other in walnut. The grate is bordered with inclined panels, in mosaic, and the heavy ornamental framework surrounds it. The mantles are neatly finished, and mirrors sunk in the frame behind duplicates everything set on them This first exhibit made by this company is certainly a creditable one.

Gough, "The Wonderful Cheap Man," is to be seen in a deep recess formed of his noted ready-made clothing. Up ten feet high the space occupied by him is closed in by all kinds of seasonable clothing.

Messrs. Breeze & Bain, have a display of stoves in front of Gough's. The line includes several of the Peterborough Stove Company's finely finished stoves and other makes.

Messrs. Craig & Mooney have spread out a profusion of parlor furniture south of Gough's, exhibiting what they can do in the upholstering line. The specimens shown are rich and would ornament the most well appointed drawing room.

The floral display is separated, the cut flowers being on the west side and the foliage plants being on the east side. Both classes are well filled with exhibits, and altogether present a superb appearance.

The canned fruit is not largely represented but what is there appears to be well put down. The ruby plums, rosy cherries and crabapples shine through the transparent glass as natural as if fresh picked from the tree.

The Peterborough Mattress Company have a secluded spot for their display, but a good many people are curious enough to go around and examine the goods. Mattresses, large sized and small, of copious variety, and pillows of different sorts, make up the exhibit.

Of vegetables there is a comprehensive display, there being over twenty entries, 8 in each, of mangold wurtzels, a number of curious kinds of squashes, melons of different kinds, an assortment of large pumpkins, nine bushels of white and yellow corn and exhibits of other kinds of corn, some magnificent celery, large and numerous heads of cabbage, vegetable marrow, fine tomatoes, large cauliflowers, splendid carrots that were not excelled at the largest exhibitions, parsnips, peppers and some great turnips, a varied assortment of onions, and an exhibit of potatoes that could not be easily excelled any place.

There is a considerable display of home made bread, and some fine honey in comb and strained. Bottles of pickles and of maple syrup are displayed near the honey.

A number of boxes of factory made cheese are shown, and half a dozen firkins of butter, thirteen crocks of the same dairy produce and over a dozen exhibits of fresh butter in rolls and prints.

The exhibit of grain is good evidence of the fertility of the soil of the surrounding country, and of the quality of the seed. There are about one hundred different exhibits of various kinds of grain and seeds, including twenty of fall wheat, eighteen of spring wheat, eighteen of oats, eleven of barley, twenty of peas, timothy seed, flax seed, beans, and several extra entries which are not called for in the prize list.

Facing the entrance to the second flat is an exhibit of the work done by the White sewing machine. The exhibit includes all sorts of plain and fancy sewing, ornamental work in tinsel, arasene, hem stitching, silk embroidery, edging, and braiding. Some specimens of scenery done on the sewing machine with colored silk thread are so deceptive as to lead one to believe that the scenes are done in paints. The exhibit is in charge of Mr. W. J. D. Thompson. Opposite this fancy display is the Peterborough Business College exhibit. The specimens of work done at this college as set forth in this exhibit are possessed of remarkable finesse. The show consists of the different types of penmanship, (specie prominence being given to the business hand.) The specimens of fancy pen work executed by Mr. Bannel Sawyer with a steel pen is a marvel. It demonstrates what light and shade, delicacy and boldness, can be worked out with this simple instrument when in competent hands.

Passing along the gallery the extensive display made by Hall's Biscuit and Confectionery Works meets the eye. It is situated at the south-east corner of the building—a prominent place, and well suited for so handsomely arranged an exhibit. A great variety of confectionery is displayed most temptingly in sloping glass cases, bordered by fancy glass boxes filled with plain and fancy biscuits. A glass pyramid of seven elevations shows off an additional number of classes of confectionery.

The display of fruit occupies the whole west side of the gallery, being ranged on a long table extending from one end of the building to the other. The exhibit is exceptionally good—so good that competent judges say no better has ever been shown in Peterborough. Special mention may be made of the winter apples, the classes in which are exceptionally fine.

The Fine Art department is situated opposite from the front display, and extends along the north end of the building. The works art hang from the ledge of the gallery and face the light from the eastern side. The collection embraces some pretty hand painting on enamel, some interesting pencil drawing, animal groups in crayon, crayon portrait, crayon drawing, painting on glass and leather, sepia work, landscapes in oil, and oil portraits. Mr. J. Frazer shows a speciality in the shape of architectural drawing, giving a handsome representation of the new Board of Trade, Chicago. Along the north end Mr. T. Workman exhibits a number of oil portraits and landscape scenes which attract much attention.

Owing to a mistake in printing the prize list the home manufacture of woollen goods was ommitted, no prize being offered for this important branch. This accounts for the light show of woollen goods, which line the north end of the gallery. Notwithstanding that no prizes were offered in this department the directors have offered suitable awards.

The China Hall comes to the front with a glittering show of goods. Mr. Wilson occupies vantage ground on the north east corner, which space he has covered with a very handsome display of china, delf and table ware generally together with some magnificent specimens of silver ware. One piece alone—a fruit apergue—elaborate in design and beautiful in workmanship, is valued at $300. A sideboard is within the pale, and is trimmed with silverware, showing how pretty it can be made to look. Nor is this all. China Hall shows its lamp goods and oils. Samples of thirty different kinds of oil are shown.

The fancy work department occupies the west side of the gallery. Here also is a fine photographic display made by Mr. G. B. Sproule. In large cases crowned with glass all fashionable styles and sizes of photographs are shown. Solars and crayons are not neglected. The show of fancy work is elegant in quality and average in quantity. The prominent classes in this department are the crazy patch work, painting or fabrics, fancy patch work, toilet sets and quilting. The crazy work show represents a prodigious amount of toil with the needle, the results of which are being pleasing to the eye.

Pretty exhibits of painitng on plush, velvet, silk, satin and china are made, giving flavor to the general display.

The fancy patch class work embraces a number of fancy articles, cushions, etc., Arasene work is prominent in the exhibit. A number of table scarfs and sofa pillows, made with exquisite finish, contributed considerably to the display.

Specialties are shown by Mrs. Gemmel and Mrs. Newbald, the former exhibiting a line of corsets, and the latter a model ulster.

BRITISH CABINET CHANGES.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Several important ministerial changes will take place when the Cabinet reassembles next month. Mr. Henry Chaplin is to be reappointed Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, with a seat in the Cabinet, as Lord John Manners is so much out of health that he is no longer equal to the fatigues of an official member of the House of Commons. Mr. Balfour will likewise obtain a seat in the Cabinet. Col. Stanley's retirement will enable Lord Salisbury to promote Mr. Ritchie to the Presidency of the Board of Trade. It is probable that Mr. Ritchie's present position will be offered to Sir Matthew White Ridley.

CAUGHT BY GRIZZLIES.

Frightful Death of the Keeper of the Cincinnati Zoo.

Mathias Hathoffer, the keeper of the animals at the Zoological Gardens, was fatally mangled by the grizzly bears yesterday afternoon. Shortly after four o'clock he was sweeping, as usual, in front of the iron gateway of the pit containing a male and female grizzly. Hathoffer had been at the Zoo nearly a dozen years, and familiarity had made him somewhat careless when approaching the animals. While sweeping he came rather close to the iron bars, not noticing the male bear, who was standing close to the gate. Like a flash the huge paw came through the bars, catching the keeper's right arm by the coat. In an instant Hathoffer was drawn to the cage, while the bear began to tear the arm and try to pull the keeper through the narrow aperture. The coat and shirt sleeves were torn off in a moment, and the animal began to tear and chew the arm.

The she bear, seeing the struggle and excited by the sight of the human blood which was pouring to the ground, rushed up and began the feast herself on Hathoffer's flesh. The keeper shouted for help, and two visitors who happened to be in that portion of the garden, came running to his assistance. Neither had weapons, but one picked up a large stone and struck the she bear a fearful blow on the head, making her leave Hathoffer and retire to her corner. The other visitor had in the mean time ran and got an iron bar and alarmed the attendants. They came rushing to the scene, and the other grizzly was beaten away with the iron bar.

Hathoffer dropped fainting to the stone pavement, and was picked up senseless and carried to the house. A waggon with a mattress was immediately prepared, and set out to meet the patrol waggon, which had been telephoned for. Hathoffer was transferred and taken at once to the city hospital. His clothes were saturated with blood, which literally poured from the injured member, and from its loss he was hardly able to speak or tell how the accident occurred. Large hunks of flesh had been torn from his arm, and the muscles and bones were exposed the entire length. On his shoulder, from close up to the neck, were terrible deep scratches inflicted by the claws of the enraged beaste. The surgeons at the hospital examined his injuries, and stated that the torn and mangled arm presented one of the most sickening sights ever witnessed even at this institution. The bears had literally munched it, tearing the flesh to shreds and crushing the bones with their teeth. The surgeons were unable to tell what would be the result, or whether Hathoffer's arm would have to be amputated. Surgical skill was useless, and the man's nervous system could not rally from the awful shock, and he died at a quarter past eight o'clock.

Hathoffer is a married man, about forty years old, and lives with his family on Fountain street, Corryville. A similar accident occurred some time ago, when the same animals badly mutilated a soldier who had approached too close to the bars. They were furious yesterday over the taste of blood, and it was two or three hours after the affair before they quieted down. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

OUR CANALS.

Our canals have cost a good deal, but they are worth to the country millions upon millions more than they cost. It would be a grand mistake to measure the value of the canals to the country by the tonnage they carry, as compared with what is carried by the railways. Every million tons carried by lake, river and canal cheapens the freight on five million tons carried by rail, supposing that to be the proportion carried by each. True, our waterways are closed half the year; but just imagine what freights would be were there no inland transportation by water at all to keep the railways in check. Our forty or fifty miles of canals on the St. Lawrence route suffice to give us the use of a thousand miles and more of open lake and river navigation, for vessels of a pretty large class. Every mile of artificial navigation we have gives us command of twenty miles of natural navigation on the through route. In brief, the canals are our true material guarantee against railway extortion, and the people of Canada can never over-appreciate this important fact.—Toronto World (Indep.)

THE LOCAL PRESS.

There is one lesson that our readers may learn from these press notices. It is, that journalists observe each other; and that newspapers abroad are taken as a truthful reflection of the character of the town in which they are published. A bright, well-conducted and prosperous newspaper is everywhere regarded as a sure indication of a live and progressive town. The best standing advertisement that any place can have is a good paper widely read. In the end it will do more for the community than bonussed industries, or even railway competition. It is the interest of every town or city to have a healthy, progressive and generously supported press. Those who would destroy either its commercial prosperity or its influence stand in their own light.—Woodstock Sentinel-Review (Reform.)

THE PRICE OF WHEAT.

RECENTLY Mr. Blake and journals supporting him have been discussing the price of wheat, mingling clumsy facetiousness with unfair denunciations of the N. P. The Opposition leader generally shows that he is out of his depth, and makes strange blunders when dealing with trade questions, but at present he is unusually absurd, if not unfair. He says that the advocates of the N. P. pretended that they could fix the price of wheat, and charges them with being either untruthful or neglectful of the farmers' interests because they do not raise it to $1.40 a bushel.

This is a gross misrepresentation of facts. It was not claimed that the N. P. could fix the price of wheat, but it was claimed that it could effect it beneficially, and this it has done. The price of wheat in Peterborough, for instance, has since the adoption of the N. P. been higher, as compared with the price in Liverpool or Chicago, than it was before the N. P.

In fixing the price of anything both buyers and sellers have something to say in the matter. If the seller fixed a price for himself the buyer would simply decline to buy if he could do better elsewhere. Now Canada, like other great wheat growing countries, having a surplus over home requirements, finds its chief market for that surplus at Liverpool. No wheat growing country can fix the price which is subject to their mutual competition.

The home market is to a large extent effected by the price in the great markets of the world, but it still remains to be considered that the home market is more profitable for the producer. The N. P. has benefitted the Canadian farmer by enlarging his home market. This it has done in two ways: By shutting out much foreign wheat it has left its place to be filled by our farmers; the fostering Canadian industries of manufacturers of foreign industries it has enabled Canadian farmers to feed Canadian operatives, instead of leaving foreign farmers to feed foreign operatives making goods for Canadians. By thus extending and strengthening the home market the N. P. has brought about the undisputable result that the price of wheat in Canada has ruled higher as compared with the prices in Liverpool and Chicago than it did before the N. P. This means that our farmers have obtained some cents on each bushel more than they would have obtained without the N. P., the increased receipts amounting to a very large sum in the aggregate.

In addition to this we may remark that wheat is not our farmers only crop. Nor are they confined to grain of any kind. They have a variety of other produce, and the prices they obtain for these have much to do with their prosperity. It is in vain that the opponents of the N. P. air their theories, for the farmers know by practical experience that they have obtained better prices for these other products, that they are obtaining better prices for them on our market to-day than they did before the N. P. It is also a fact, as they and their wives know by practical experience, that articles they require to purchase have been cheapened, not raised in price, under the N. P.

Our farmers, therefore, are not to be deluded by false assertions as to pretended promises made by the advocates of the N. P., nor by unfounded statements as to the prices they receive for what they sell or pay for what they buy.

SOME Reform journals are pointing out that among the volunteers who fell in the Northwest are some who were Reformers. Yes, but these brave and loyal men were not Reformers of the style of those who are attempting to attain power by a close alliance with those who say that our gallant volunteers are murderers, ravishers and robbers. They would not sympathise with Mr. Blake in censuring the punishment of Riel for his murderous rebellion, with Mr. Laurier in his desire to shoot them, with Mr. Mowat in choosing for his friend and standard bearer one of their worst slanderers, with Mr. Fraser in suggesting a statue in honor of Riel. The heroes of the Northwest might be Reformers, but not of the pattern of the Reform leaders.

THE Rielites in the city Hull, at the direct instance of their candidate, refused to allow a meeting called by the Conservatives to proceed, howling down Attorney General Taillon and breaking up the meeting. The Reformers and their new allies are constantly showing that they prefer force and abuse, and dread free discussion.

Murder on the High Seas.

QUEBEC, Oct. 4.—It has leaked out that a most atrocious and cold-blooded murder on the high seas was perpetrated on board the Eliza S. Milligan, a vessel belonging to St. John, N. B., while on the voyage from Antwerp to Quebec. The informant is a sailor named John McKeown, who states that during the voyage a young German sailor named Auguste was coming on deck from aloft when, without any provocation on officer, with an oath, ran at him, and kicked him in such a brutal manner that the poor fellow's stomach was burst open and his entrails dropped out, none of the sailors who witnessed it daring to interfere for fear of being treated as mutineers. Auguste died, and was buried at sea. McKeown has made a formal disposition of the facts before the clerk of the peace in this city.

PRACTICLE PINAFORE.

Rulers of The Queen's Navee Who Got Sick on a Pleasure Cruise.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The recent adventures of the Lord of the Admiralty have furnished a standing joke in official and club circles. Immediately after the conclusion of the debate on Mr. Parnell's Land bill, Lord George Hamilton, First Lord of the Admiralty, with a party comprising Lord Charles Beresford Admiral Sir A. Hood, Mr. Ashmead Bartlett Junior Lords of the Admiralty; Mr. A. B. Forwood, Secretary to the Admiralty, and others, started on the customary cruise of inspection annually indulged in by the Admiralty Lords. This cruise generally means a season of jollity, lasting a month or two, on board the superb official yacht Enchantress, and the inspection is usually confined to exhaustive tests of different brands of wines, liquors, cigars, etc., which the Government provides in abundance for the occasion. All went smoothly until the party arrived at Portsmouth, where a fearful gale set in, and the season of jolity ended. The first one to succumb to the effects of mal-de-mer was Admiral Hood, whose nautical experiences in London had not included storms at sea, and he sought his berth at the first shriek of the gale. Mr. Bartlett was the next victim, and a few hours later on Mr. Forwood was heard to express a desire to commit suicide as a means of securing relief from the pangs of sea-sickness. Everything had been arranged for the party to proceed to Davenport, Pembroke and Queenstown, and extend their cruise around Ireland and the coast of Scotland; but the majority of the party being confined to their staterooms, had already had enough of the sea, and declined to go further. Accordingly they landed at Portsmouth, and returned to London by rail, a most woe-begone looking crowd, whose pale, grave faces bore no traces of the ruddy complexion and happy expression which chartcterized them when the party started. The permanent officials in the Admiralty Office have suddenly developed a fondness for singing and whistling the music of "Pinafore," and display great unanimity in the selection of that part of Gilbert & Sullivan's opera which conveys the advice to "Stick to your desks and never go to sea,

And you all may be rulers of the Queen's navee."

SENSATIONAL PAMPHLET.

Accusing Parnellites of being Connected With Fenianism.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—In conversation with your correspondent last evening Mr. Wm. Ridgway, publisher, said concerning the pamphlet on the repeal of the Union recently published by the house of Ridgway Bros., that Mr. Justin McCarthy was the only Parnellite member of Parliament who had disclaimed connection with Fenianism, which the pamphlet mentioned as affecting all of the Irish members. He (Mr. Ridgway) had no reason to believe that the allegations in the phamplet were untrue or exaggerated, but on the contrary he believed them to be correct, else he would have had nothing to do with their publication. This remark, however, he did not wish to apply to Mr. McCarthy, as that gentleman's flat denial was amply sufficient to exculpate him. Mr. Ridgeway said the object that Mr. Parnell had in view in bringing an action against those who published the pamphlet was baseless. Moreover, he felt confident that Mr. Parnell did not contemplate doing anything of the kind. The action of Mr. St. John Brenon, Mr. Ridgway said, was absurd and would probably be dropped. "If it is continued," said he, "I will make Mr. Brenon sorry he ever entered the witness box. I only hope the matter may come to a trial, and if it does the case will only furnish you journalists with an abundance of good sensational copy."

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

MISERABLE CANADIANS.

As a hint of what may hereafter be expected, let Mr. Greenway's remarks at Boissevain the other evening be recalled. The leader of the local Opposition, in speaking of the Customs duty, stated that he was forced to use "a miserable binder, manufactured by a miserable Canadian." The Reform hostility to Canada cannot be concealed. It will not down. The Grits would seem to be unable even to refrain from calling their fellowcountrymen vile names. Their admiration is all reserved for the Yankee. With him they want to deal. To him they would like to belong, as they cannot help showing, although they have not the courage to declare openly for anexation They loose no opportunity of belauding the United States and desparaging Canada. Why in the name of wonder do they not go over the line in a body, since their hatred of "miserable Canadians" and everything Canadian is so great?—Winnipeg Manitoban.

MANHOOD SUFFRAGE.

The Opposition in the Ontario Legislature, or at least the majority of them, have been for some time past in favor of giving every male citizen of adult years a vote on the usual conditions of sanity, residence, and freedom from conviction for crime. Many years ago Mr. Meredith, at a time when he was a private in the ranks, supported the Hon. J. G. Currie in a manhood suffrage motion in the Legislative Assembly, and there is not the slightest ground for doubting his perfect sincerity in doing so.—Montreal Witness (Reform).

The Dominion Revenue.

OTTAWA, Oct. 3.—The Customs revenue of the Dominion for the month of September last was $2,281,399, as compared with only $1,744,460 in the corresponding month last year. From excise, the receipts were $420,019 as compared with $363,742 in 1885, making the aggregate increase from those two sources $603,226. The total revenue, from all sources, for the three months of the fiscal year, commencing July 1st, was $8,487,671, against $6,882,039 for the corresponding quarter last year, being an increase in 1886 of $1,625,632. The expenditures for the quarter were $7,336,739, showing a surplus for the first three months of $1,150,932.

Mysteries of Nature.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 4.—A curious phenomenon has occurred at Chimapala, in the State of Mexico. Within a few days past tremendous subterranean reports were heard, though at the time the meteorological conditions were perfect, there being no unusual aspect of the sky, nor the slightest rain. The people of the town were filled with alarm, and an investigation was made, by which it was discovered that a high hill in the vicinity had been completely divided into two parts by some powerful force.

The Overdue Anchoria.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The Anchor line steamship Anchoria has not yet arrived. She left Glasgow Sept. 16, and stopped at Londonderry to take on 132 passengers. In all she had about 450 passengers, and was due at this port on Wednesday last. The company's officials profess to believe that nothing has occurred beyond the breaking down of some machinery. From the fact that heavy weather has prevailed lately on the Atlantic fears are entertained for the safety of the vessel.

DUNN'S BAKING POWDER
THE COOK'S BEST FRIEND

FORCED APART.

BY W. CLARK RUSSELL.

Author of the "Wreck of the Grosvenor," "A Sailor's Sweetheart," Etc.

The pen cannot put into these words the agony of voice that was in them, nor impart the pathetic force they took from his clasped hands and pale and working face. Captain Turbulent and Dr. Cotton stared at each other. Their minds were slow at the digestion of facts, and it was very odd to them—extremely odd, indeed—that the salvation of this young man from death was not sufficing.

"As to setting you ashore, Mr.—Mr.——"

"Shaw," suggested the doctor, whose memory was good.

"Mr. Shaw, I do not see how that can be done. Indeed, with this wind it is impossible; and with any wind, sir, it would be a bad job for me to attempt, with a—a—damned black thief of a native prince to report me for delaying the journey. Besides, Mr. Shaw, there is a fleet of us, and I'm commodore, and I give you my word, sir, if I stood in for land the rest of them would think themselves in duty bound to follow. No, sir, with Frenchmen about, my business is clear—a midship helm, Mr. Shaw, and the true course, sir."

"What you have to do," said Dr. Cotton, "is to write a letter and keep it by you, ready to put on board any homeward bound ship we may come across. I'll answer that Captain Turbulent will help you in this way."

"Oh, to be sure. But to land you," exclaimed the captain, shaking his head, "against this wind, with that black rascal ready to swear me out of my ship—if you offered me a thousand pounds, Mr. Shaw, I wouldn't dare do it."

And, to save himself the pain of beholding Cuthbert's face, he quitted the cabin.

The young fellow turned his face from the door, and sobbed aloud. But on deck all was bright and breezy; and under the blue of the windy sky, and over the long green sweep of water, went the stately ship, broadening, with every plunge and burst of foam, her distance from the English coast.

CHAPTER XV.

MOTHER MEAD.

It had been a sudden sickness and a dreadful giddiness that had caused Jenny to sink on the floor, from which she recovered soon after her father had quitted the house for his visit to Greystone school. The wild distraction in her eyes had repelled Mrs. Strangfield, and for mercy and dread the mother asked no questions, but sat, silent and sighing, watching her daughter with piteous concern.

Then her duties calling her, and thinking besides that solitude would be precious to such bitter grief as Jenny's, Mrs. Strangfield gently left the room.

No sooner was she gone than Jenny started to her feet, and paced about as though seised with madness, with a frown upon her forehead, and her hands pressing tightly below her hips. Full realization of what had befallen her had come to her heart, and she was Adam to intolerable agony of spirit. That Cuthbert had left her of his own free will did not come into her mind. Belief in love does not fall dead in this way. And no one had yet suggested to her, as kindly solution of the mystery of his disappearance, that it might be he had taken a sudden shame of her as his wife and had left her, acting a sweet part up to the last hour—for men are shocking deceivers.

What, then, did she think? Why, that some accident had befallen him; and the idea that he might be lying dead in some hidden place so frenzied her, that, without consideration of her purpose, she fled upstairs for her hat and left the house to seek him.

She had wandered beyond the market place when her mind took a grasp of her intention, and that brought her to a stand. The midday sun beat fiercely upon the road, and held the pavements tolerably empty. But there were people in the shops, and they stared at her as she stood; perceiving which, she went down the street again, with her heart beating furiously over a new-born resolution to call on Dr. Shaw, and begin her inquiries after her husband at his own home.

But when she had got as far as the market place, the fame of Mother Mead as a gossip and teller of fortunes occurred to her, and this because she saw the old woman's bent figure going at a hobble on the other side of the market place. So Jenny, passing quickly through the stalls, intercepted the dame as she was turning into the court in which she dwelt.

Mrs. Mead was talking to herself in a loud, quavering voice, and so completely engrossed with witchlike thoughts—for what other thoughts could possibly visit such an ugly conformation?—that she did not observe Jenny until she found herself stopped by the girl standing in front of her.

"Ah, Miss Jenny Strangfield—if that be your rale name, my dear! A hot marning, isn't it? with a power of dust for an old nose that finds snuff cruel, dear. Why, your father is jest beyont—I am now from him—and Lard! his eyes are in such a blaze that my old skin cracked when he looked at me."

"May I speak with you in your house, Mrs. Mead? I am in great trouble."

At sight of the sad, sweet face Mrs. Mead's ugly countenance underwent a kind of transformation. Her nose and chin did not, indeed, moderate their intimacy; but the bloodshot old eye took a sudden light of compassion, and a strange grin of good nature overspread her face.

"Come along, my dear," she exclaimed, "if ye're not above being seen with sitch a scarecrow as me. Stoop your head, for 'tis an old-fashioned door, built afore palaces was known. There's a strong chair that'll hold thee; and if I can comfort thee, my pretty, I'll mop out my old heart to do it, I'll warrant."

They had arrived at a rickety old house, with a sitting room very abruptly entered from the street. This room and a bed chamber adjacent composed Mrs. Mead's dwelling.

Taking a seat opposite the girl, she ran her eyes over her from top to toe.

"Now, my child," said she, "what can I do? Is it your fortune you want told? Nay, nay, there's no physic in such stuff for rale troubles. It's good for foolish wenches whose brains are made o' ribbon, but not for the likes o' thee, dearie."

"I am in bitter trouble, indeed, Mrs. Mead. Mr. Shaw, the son of the doctor, is missing, and I am mad to know where he is," said Jenny, bending her pale face forward as she spoke.

"Likely enough, my dear—he had the most noble face that iver I see on a man. What was he to thee? Your answer shall be sacred with me. Speak the worst, if harm hath come to ye. You'll find Judith Mead dumb as your heart."

"He was my husband," replied Jenny, in a voice scarcely above a whisper, for the secret was still so fresh that the revelation of it startled her to hear, though spoken with her own voice.

Mrs. Mead screwed up her eyes to look at the girl, until the upper part of her face was a mask of wrinkles.

"Your husband!" she exclaimed, in a tone and with a manner that would have made it impossible for a third person to know whether she believed the girl or not, for, as to Jenny, it could not occur to her that her word would be doubted. "Why, then, no wonder his going troubles ye."

"Oh, Mrs. Mead, why do you say 'his going?' He has not left his home, do you think? Is it not possible that he has somewhere met with an accident? Or has his father forced him to leave? On Wednesday he promised me to call last night on father and break the news of our marriage, for all this w[illegible] it our hidden secret. What should prevent him coming? Oh, Mrs. Mead, he loves me truly, and would be with me if he could come. Can he be dead? Oh, kind God! if I thought this I would kill myself, that I might be dead with him."

"My dear," said Mrs. Mead, slowly, and reflecting hard while she spoke, "he is not dead. Folks do not die like this without it being known. Where could he die? Coming to call on father? Then his body would ha' been found—for the Lord knows they've been searching closely enough; an' unless he's gone up to heaven, clothes an' all, like the Prophet Elijah, you may be sure he's walkin' about on this world somewheers, hale an' hearty. Did they tell 'ee there was a press-gang here last night? But ye mustn't look to that. They'd never take a slender man like him. Billy Basings they forced away, but he's a strapping sailor. Mr. Shaw's meat for their masters, and the wagabone plunderer 'ud never burn their fingers on him."

She shook her head emphatically.

"He's your husband, is he, my dear? That's beyond doubt, I hope?"

"Oh, yes, Mrs. Mead; we were married in a church in London three weeks ago."

"Ye're a soft little wench, and not larned in London ways. Are 'ee sure it was a church?"

"Oh yes, indeed—a large church!" exclaimed Jenny, gazing at the old woman with a new expression gathering in her eyes.

"Why, then, if you knows the name, and got the bit o' paper they gi'es ye when folks are married——"

"I do not know the name of the church. I do not think my husband ever mentioned it. If any bit of paper was given to us he will have it. I was ready to swoon for fear, and took no notice of anything, so scared was I. But this I have," she cried, drawing out a purse with quivering fingers and showing a wedding ring.

The old woman put it aside with a movement of her hand.

"You know if it be right wi' thee," said she; "but the ring's only worth what it 'ud fetch as gold."

Something in these words, something in the irrepressible leer that weighted the old woman's eyelids, took Jenny's breath away. And then instantaneously there flashed upon her the sense and knowledge of the false and fearful position she was placed in by her husband's disappearance.

She started to her feet.

"Oh, Mrs. Mead!" she half shrieked through her pale lips, "is it possible that my words will not be believed? Great God! will it be thought that I am not Cuthbert Shaw's wife?"

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

The performance given by this company is far superior to that of any similar oraganization which has ever visited this city, and has given universal satisfaction.—New York Sun, March 26.

This Company will appear in Bradburn's Opera House next Monday evening, October 11th.

Serious Accident at Hilliard's Mill.

A very serious accident occurred on Tuesday at Hilliard's mill, by which a man named Alexander Cooper lost his right arm. The facts of the case are these: The unfortunate man had only started work in the morning and unaccustomed to the machinery, stepped into a depression in the ground fell forward, and endeavoring to save himself put out his arm and it was caught by a revolving saw. Dr. Pigeon was immediately telephoned for and on his arrival attended to the temporary wants of the sufferer, and then had him removed to the Nicholls Hospital, where, in the absence from home of Dr. King, the present attending surgeon, Dr. Pigeon, after consulting with Dr. Boucher, amputated the arm above the elbow. At noon to-day he was doing well.

B. McWilliams, window blinds; Mrs. Tate, parcel clothing. The committee of the Peterborough Protestant Home would feel grateful to their friends in the country if they would kindly give donations of vegetables, &c., to the home.

MOUNTED Grindstones for Hand or Foot ower. GEORGE STETHEM.

Presentation.

On Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, the members of St. John's Church Choir surprised the choir master at his residence on Harvey street on the occasion of his birthday. A few minutes after the arrival of the welcome visitors and after the usual congratulations, a ring at the door ushered in a large, comfortably upholstered in plush and silk arm chair. This Mr. Poussette, as spokesman, presented to Mr. Seward, adding in the choir's behalf wishes for future happiness, prosperity, and many more birthdays, and that the choir would have the pleasure of waiting on him on many similar occasions. Mr. Seward replied, thanking the choir very much for their kindness, adding good-humoredly that, possessing this chair, he came into a new sense of dignity. A very pleasant evening was spent, and the several people present returned to their respective homes.

Just So.

The following paragraph appears in the market column of the Lindsay Post:—"Prices, we regret to notice, have fallen a trifle. Wheat is 5c. per bushel and barley 5c. per bushel lower than last week. Why this should be so is not clear. We give below a memorandum of prices at other points, by which it will be seen that wheat is 5c. lower in Lindsay than at Oshawa, while Peterborough prices are better than Lindsay by 5c. for wheat and 5c. for barley. Should the grade at these points equal the grade offered at Lindsay there is a discrepancy that should be explained.' It may be remarked that the REVIEW some months ago tried to convince the Post of this "discrepancy" in prices paid on the two Lindsay and Peterborough markets. The Post seemed then to be a little skeptical about what was said, and assailed the REVIEW and the Peterborough markets in the most frightful manner. A few days afterward a gentleman from Lindsay who incorporated doubt within him came to town to satisfy himself of the REVIEW's untruthfulness. He was not satisfied, but on the contrary was convinced that tall prices were prevalent here. It will be noticed in the Post's paragraph that Peterborough pays the same prices as a lake port town.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

A Regular Meeting—The Business Transacted at it.

A meeting of the Board of Education was held on Tuesday evening. There were present: Mr. James Stevenson, Chairman, and Messrs. Stratton, Dumble, Errett, Denne, Wrighton, Wier, Sawers Rutherford and Dr. Burnham.

COMMUNICATION.

A communidation from Mr. Mr. Seward, organist of St. John's Church, was read, referring to the training of school children in vocal music. Several members of the Board highly commended Mr. Seward.—The communication was received.

ACCOUNT.

An account of 18.10 from the Times Printing Co., was referred to the Finance Committee.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

The school attendance was read as follows:—

	On. Roll.	Av. Att.
Central School	710	598
South Ward School	215	175
West Ward School	179	144

PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

MR. WRIGHTON, chairman of the Property Committee, reported giving a detailed statement of what had been done in the schools during the holidays, a statement of which has already been published in the REVIEW. The total cost, the report states, is $673.51. The report concludes as follows: "Your Committee have complied with the requirements of the Educational department as near as possible and at a low cost, considering the numerous changes asked for, we are pleased to learn that the Government grant due in September has been paid without any comment from which we may infer that the Institute is now satisfactory."

The report was adopted without amendment.

CRITICISM.

Messrs. Rutherford, Denne and Dr. Burnham criticised Mr. Dumble's action in not giving sufficient notice to members of the Committee on appointments at the engagement of the last teacher.

SUPERVISION.

Mr. STRATTON, Chairman of the School Supervision Committee, reported, stating that the committee had complied with the requirements of the Department except in a few details. The committee had asked the Principal of the Institute for a list of the articles in the Institute owned by the Board. A full report would be given at the next meeting.

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

Dr. Tassie entered the Board room and handed in a report of the attendance at the Institute during the last month, as follows: On the roll, 146; average attendance, 128.

Dr. TASSIE stated owing to the accident which Mr. Earle had sustained, an experienced teacher would have to be employed for two months. It was necessary to get an experienced man as everyone could not take Mr. Earl's place.

MUSIC.

Mr. DUMBLE moved, seconded by Dr. BURNHAM,—That this Board accedes to the request of Mr. Seward for leave to occupy a room in the Collegiate Institute after school hours for the purpose of instructing children in local music, Mr. Seward to make such arrangements with the janitor as will secure his attendance during the time he may be teaching.—Carried.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. DUMBLE, chairman of the committee on appointments, reported that the committee had engaged Miss Greenwood.

The report was adopted.

Mr. DENNE called for the yeas and nays, which were as follows:—

YEAS—Messrs. Dumble, Errett, Stratton, Wrighton, Burnham and Weir.

NAYS—Messrs. Denne and Rutherford.

A TEMPORARY TEACHER.

Mr. STEVENSON said that as Mr. Earle had had the misfortune to break his leg and would be unable to attend to his duties for some weeks it would be necessary to secure some one to take his place.

Mr. ERRETT asked Dr. Tassie what he proposed to do.

Dr. TASSIE said that as an experienced man was needed it would be best to write to Victoria University, which he thought would supply one.

Mr. Errett asked which position was most easily filled—the modern languages and English department and on Dr. Tassie's referring that modern language master would be the most readily had, recommended that Mr. Long take Mr. Earl's place for the time being.

Mr. Dumble said that the English department was undoubted the most important in the school. Mr. Earl was a man of fifteen years experience in this department and was of acknowledged ability. He urged that no so called economy be practised in getting a man to fill the position for the time being as two months of bad teaching would upset the school for the whole term. It was a well known fact, and one that could not be denied—that scores of men could be had to teach French, German or Russian while there were but few who could teach our mother tongue efficiently.

Dr. TASSIE said that English and mathematics were certainly the most important departments in the Institute.

On motion the Committee on Appointments was given power to arrange for the filling of Mr. Earle's position till he recovers.

The Board adjourned.

ATKIN & SON'S Panel, Hand and Rip Saws are fully warranted. GEORGE STETHEM.

The Temperature.

The following are the readings of the thermometer to-day at the hours mentioned:—8 o'clock, 48; 1 o'clock, 55: 3 o clock, 55.

Burglary.

Some time on Tuesday night Mr. John McNaughton's shoe store, on Sherbrooke street, was entered by unknowns and about $30 worth of boots and shoes were taken. The entrance was gained through a window. This is the second time that Mr. McNaughton's place has been visited by burglars.

The Exhibition.

Have you been to the Exhibition? No! What exhibition? Why the one that is going on at the Bon Marche. They are selling goods astonishingly cheap. You should go and see for your self and spend a little money in dry goods, groceries etc., before everything is sold out. Can't buy as much in any other place in town for the same money.

POLICE COURT.

ABUSING LANGUAGE.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 6.—A case was heard at the Court this morning growing out of the old "tailors strike." Sore Picard vs. Fitzgerald was the case, the complaint accusing the defendant for using abusive language towards him. After hearing the case the Magistrate dismissed the case.

For the benefit of those attending the Exhibition, Turnbull will have an Electric Light Millinery Opening on Wednesday and Thursday Evenings, Oct. 6th and 7th.

The Hudson Bay Railway.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 4.—Mr. Hugh Sutherland, president, and Mr. D. D. Mann, contractor for the Hudson Bay Railway, arrived yesterday. Their statement with regard to the enterprise is about as follows: Arrangements have been made for the building of forty or fifty miles of road immediately, partially by outside capital. Winnipeg will probably be asked to give a bonus, and much is said to depend upon the local aid received. Mr. Mann has the contract for 200 miles of road, and will build the amount to be built this season as a portion of the work. An effort will be made to buy from the Canadian Pacific either the Selkirk or Stonewall branches, and negotiations to this end are now in progress, and, it is expected, will be settled one way or the other to-day.

Reported Faith Cure.

LONDON, Ont Oct. 5.—The sensation of the city is the reported faith cure of Mrs. McKenzie, wife of a sewing machine agent here. The lady had for a considerable time been confined to bed with a malady that was generally considered incurable. Recently, however, she was visited by Rev. Messrs. Brown and Porter, who engaged with her in prayer and devotional exercises, and in answer to their prayers the woman was perfectly restored to health, and is now completely cured. The fact of the cure having taken place is vouched for by Rev. Messrs. Brown and Porter, and also by F. H. Heath, secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

Robberies at Aylmer.

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—Advices from Aylmer announce additional robberies. On Thursday night the office of Conroy's mills was entered and $5,000 in money and $30,000 in negotiable notes and mortgages taken. Sixty dollars in cash and plate and cutlery were taken from Dr. Church's residence. On Friday night John Gordon's residence was entered and $400 in cash and $3,500 in negotiable notes and mortgages were taken. Other places have been entered.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

BY MR. CLUXTON.

Peterborough is opening out this autumn, as usual, as one of the best produce markets in Canada. The writer, who for many years took pride in making Peterborough a good market, got the mistaken notion that when he went out of the business the market would go back, as he thought there would be no one venturesome enough to take his place and handle the large quantities of grain brought into town for sale—some days from 6,000 to 8,000 bushels. But no farmer need be apprehensive that he will have to take his load of grain home again for want of buyers at a reasonably good price. Competition amongst buyers is keen and all produce offered for sale is readily taken.

We have four large flouring mills and three grain dealers in this market, so there is not much cause for complaint on the part of farmers. Another help is our excellent shops, which would be a credit to any city. They do their part well. They keep large stocks, sell at reasonable prices and keep a good class of goods. There is no necessity for any of our people to go to the cities to spend their money there, and if they should go they will spend money that they would have saved if they had stayed at home. The expenses of conducting business here are less than in Toronto, and our merchants can sell cheaper than Toronto prices. When we add to these the advantages that the large and increasing manufacturing enterprises give, and the extensive employment of labor, we see nothing to fear for the future of Peterborough.

The large increase in the visible supply in the States 1,700,000 bushel, is depressing the markets, and wheat is lower and unsettled. But lateron we may look for animprovement.

The movement in barley is slow and the market featureless.

The "corner" in cheese is well maintained and the price is advancing rapidly, 12 cents in New York and Montreal.

Wool is excited. There has been a great advance in the price in England and the States.

A GLUT OF WHEAT.

The wheat crop of Minnesota and Dakota this year has been estimated at about 55,000,000 bu, and may reach 60,000,000 bu. It is ascertainable much more precisely that at least 12,000,000 bu of it is already out of the hands of farmers. The necessary reserves for seed and consumption at home have to be substracted from the remainder. The forwarding thus far has been done with a perfect rush. It is stated from Minneapolis that cars laden with wheat are strung along the lines of rail for as much as ten miles from Duluth.

FRENCH NEEDS.

According to the latest returns from France that country will need to import 57,000,000 bu of wheat to tide over her home deficiencies. And according to the latest returns from the department at Washington the State of California has raised at least 15,000,000 bu less than the previous estimates. In these two facts there may be some hope for the wheat bulls in this country. For some time past they have seemed to be hoping against hope. The deficiencies of the Continent are variously estimated at 100,000,000 to 112,000,000 bu.

KEENE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

"WANTED OR NOT WANTED."—An effusion from "X" demands a reply. We still insist that a license under the Scott Act is absolutely required. "X" says that the village is very quiet and orderly; so it is, as much if not more so than any place double its size in Ontario, but he is mistaken when he mentions one or two disturbances since May 1st. There have been at least three rows since May 1st for one prior to that time. We did not in our Keene correspondence ask for a license to sell over the bar, but simply on a medical man's order, so "X" must have a very poor opinion of our doctors to think that they would encourage drunkenness as it is now liquor is imported in large quantities and sold on the streets in fence corners and in fields but when wanted for purely medicinal purposes it is almost impossible to obtain it. The Majority who are offered to such a license. Where and who are they? recent importations who wish to run the place to please themselves. We understand that a petition is to be circulated asking for a license for medical purposes and as the majority must rule we ought to have one here before long in spite of what "X." "K." or "M." says to the contrary and we are prepared to guarantee that these will not be any more drunkeness than there is at present.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain; relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

THE FOUR DAYS FAIR.

Inauguration of the Central Exhibition.

IT IS NOW IN FULL BLAST.

THE DEPARTMENTS ALL FILLED WITH NUMBERLESS ENTRIES

The Reception Tendered to the Lieut. Governor Yesterday—His Reply—Another Fine Day and Another big Crowd—The Special Attractions.

WEDNESDAY—CITIZENS' DAY.

The morning of yesterday was wrapt in a thick fog, but as noontide neared the sun shone splendidly, and, to use the trite phrase the veil was lifted. The day was really a glorious one, bright without being too hot.—even the most optimistic director couldn't have improved on it if he had it made to order.

Fair Peterborough looked her handsomest and George street, with its gaily fluttering flags, bunting, streamers, and other decorations, extended a holiday welcome to the hundreds of people who kept ariving during the forenoon by the regular trains over the railways which centre here, the excursion steamboats plying up and down the Otonabee, and by conveyances from the country. By eleven o'clock there was a great crowd on the principal streets.

The first event of the day was the extended [illegible] a hearty welcome to His Honor, John Beverly Robinson, Lieut.-Governor of Ontario, who had kindly consented to formally open the exhibition. Long before the 11.30 train over the Canadian Pacific Railway which was bringing His Honor and suite had reached town the George street station was packed with people both inside and around it. The band of the 57th Battalion in full uniform was there, and the representatives of the Agricultural Society, members of Parliament, and Mayor and Town Councillors in broadcloth and shining silk hats awaited to do His Honor the honor due to him. Precisely on time the train dashed up to the station. The reception committee crowded to the parlor car, and as Her Majesty's representative stepped out on the platform of the car hat in hand he was received with cheers, waving of hats, and "God Save the Queen." His Honor acknowledged the reception with a gracious bow, descended the steps and was followed by Miss Tully, Capt. and Mrs. Grant and Capt. Geddes, A. D. C. The Mayor led the way to the carriages. The band marched ahead a block up George street where a body guard of cavalry under command of Col. Harry Rogers and Lieut R. A. Morrow, accoutred in full regimentals, blue uniform, white cross belt, white helmet, spurs and clanking swords formed a part of the equipage. The visitors and escort progressed through the crowded thoroughfares till the Oriental Hotel was reached. Here they were received by Mrs. Weller and Mrs. Stevenson.

At half past one o'clock a squad of infantry, commanded by Capt. Langford and Lieuts. Brennan and Lee, marched to the grounds headed by the band of the 57th. They were drawn up in double file in front of the grand stand in the Driving Park. At two o'clock the Lieut.-Governor and suite, escorted by a body guard, entered the Driving Park gate, as the other entries to the grounds were blocked with people. The Mayor, the Governor, Councillor Moore and Capt. Geddes, who rode in the first carriage, alighted and ascended the platform erected in front of the grand stand, where, among others, Messrs. Vance, Garbutt, Rutherford, Fitzgerald, Collins, Davidson, Carnegie, Cox and Stratton, representing the Society, and the members of the Town Council, were waiting. The band played "God Save the Queen." The other carriages drove up in front of the platform, but the occupants did not alight.

Mayor STEVENSON then read the following address from the town:—

To His Honor Jno. Beverley Robinson, Lieut.-Governor of the Province of Ontario:

We, the Mayor and members of the town Council, desire on this the event of your first visit in your official capacity, to extend to you a most hearty welcome and to express our sense of the honor we peculiarly feel to be done us, from the circumstance that you are the first Lieutenant-Governor of this or any portion of our Dominion to whom we have had an opportunity of presenting our respects. We sincerely trust you may thoroughly enjoy your sojourn with us, and find much in in our growing municipality that may prove of interest to you.

It will afford us pleasure, indeed, to be permitted to show you our town and present to your view our great manufacturing facilities, which we are assured are not surpassed in this large and prosperous province. Our industries are already important and considerable, and we shall be glad to have the opportunity of bringing them to your notice, and, if time permits to your inspection.

Although our town has not had any phenomenal growth, yet we believe it has laid a foundation for future importance; and from enjoying the many surrounding advantages it has, we are sanguine of its continued progress and material prosperity.

Thirty-six years have elapsed since we obtained our present status. At that time our population numbered 1,800 souls, and our assessment was less than $100,000, with 300 ratepayers on the roll.

At present we number 9,000, or with Ashburnham, which is really a suburb, over 10,000, our assessment is upwards of $4,000,000, and the number of ratepayers on the roll 2,500. At the date of incorporation the annual expense of municipal government and for all yearly demands was the sum of $1,600. It is now $54,000; and taking credit for the available securities and property held by the town, it is free from debt.

We cannot allow this occasion to pass without a reference to our grateful remembrance of your late uncle, the Hon. Peter Robinson, whose name is a household word throughout this county; who, in the year 1825, brought to this locality a large number of excellent immigrants, and who by his goodness of heart, personal sympathy in their individual and then distressed condition, and by his indefatigable energy on their behalf, secured for them comparative comfort for the time, and the certain means of obtaining a competence for them and their families.

This noble and beneficent act formed the nucleus of a settlement in this town and county of worthy pioneers, many of whom have since, with much credit and ability, occupied public positions of trust and responsibility.

As a lasting memorial of the people's appreciation of these voluntary and generous exertions on your late uncle's part, remarkable for the happy and beneficial results which followed, the town, at its incorporation, adopted the name it has since borne.

Permit us also to say that your most estimable father, many years Chief Justice of this Province, distinguished as he was, alike for his exalted abilities and amiable qualities, was well known in Peterborough, and his name is held in lasting and loving remembrance.

We congratulate you on the occupancy of the high and honored place you hold in this fair Province of ours, and we beg to extend to you and Mrs. Robinson our warmest respects, sincerely wishing you and her long life and happiness.

SIGNED BY MAYOR AND COUNCIL.

Mr. JOHN CARNEGIE, M. P. P., followed with an address from the Agricultural Societies as follows:—

ADDRESS FROM THE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

To His Honor, John Beverly Robinson, Lieutenant Governor of Ontario.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOR.—We, the President and Directors of the West Riding of Peterborough Agricultural Society, desire to express the gratification afforded us by your Honor's consenting to open this, the second "Peterborough Central Exhibition" held under our auspices.

We need scarcely say that we deem it peculiarly appropriate that the first exhibition ever opened in this county by a representative of our beloved Queen, should be opened by one, who, like yourself, had a paternal uncle so closely identified with its early history and settlement, and whose kindness to and solicitude for its first settlers led them to perpetuate his memory by calling it Peter's borough.

If the comparisons between what you see here and what you have seen elsewhere, which will naturally suggest themselves to your mind, should not prove as favorable to this district as we could wish, or as its comparatively early settlement may have lead you to expect, we would ask you to bear in mind that during the large portion of the more that half century which has elapsed since the time of the Robinson immigration, its progress was seriously retarded the difficulty of ingress and egress, and the consequent-enhancement of all the settler had to buy and depreciation of all he had to sell. And that even after railway facilities were obtained, the conditions under which they existed were, until a recent period, such as to leave us, in cost of transport, as far from the front as the front was from the seaboard.

Happily, however, as a sequence to the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway, this great drawback to our prosperity has been removed, and our position with regard to railway facilities rendered second to that of no other county in the Province. And we venture to think that the progress of the last few years is not only a harbinger of what the future has in store for us, but the best proof of the wisdom of those who left the more easy path along the lake, and sought a home for themselves and their families in the valley of the Otonabee.

For the same reason our agriculturists have not had the same opportunities for, and the same inducements to improve their stock as those so fortunately situated as to enable them to reap the many advantages arising from the occasional visit of the Provincial Exhibition to their respective localities.

Now, however, we are looking forward to an early visit from this same Provincial and a share in those advantages which have done so much for the agricultural advancement of other parts of the Province, and we hope your Honor will see in our town, in the extent of these grounds and in the few improvements which have already been made upon them, an ample guarantee that whenever the Council of the Agricultural and Arts Association decide to hold their annual exhibition in Peterborough, there need be no fear but that the accommodation provided for both man and beast and display of exhibits will be, at least fully equal to that provided by many of the places in which the Provincial Exhibition has already been held with so much advantage to the best and most important interests of these localities and to the manifest advantage of the Province at large.

HIS HONOR appreciated the addresses just read. He assured the representatives of the town and society that he would enjoy himself, chiefly because he had a goodly capacity for enjoyment. He expressed great pleasure at having been able to accept the invitation extended to him to visit Peterborough. He had been at several exhibitions in Ontario and one in the Province of Quebec and had just returned to Toronto after two weeks' absence. He must apologize to the Mayor for not presenting him with a written reply to the kind address, but he had not had time to prepare a suitable one. Reference had been made to his uncle, Peter Robinson, who came to this place when it was in its infancy. He ventured to say that Peter Robinson did not come here with a written address (laughter) and he was going to follow his good example and return thanks in a homely way. (Applause.) In the Mayor's address allusion was made to the fact of Peterborough possessing manufactories which the country might be proud of. Canada's manufacturing industries were now being made known. He stated that he had met a prominent Englishman, who said to him that the Colonial Exhibition had done untold good to Canadian manufacturers. The tenant farmers had gone through and inspected the labor saving machines in husbandry, and, to use his own expression, "Gazed on them with profound astonishment." (Hear, hear.) It was a great thing for a country to have great factories. They kept the money at home, and, more than that, thept the country's boys and girls at home. They afforded variety of labor to the population. He referred with pride to his late uncle, and was glad that the people here honored him by naming this fair town to perpetuate his memory. Up to the present he was the first Lieut.-Governor, as far as the Dominion of Canada was concerned, that had visited Peterborough. He hoped others would follow his example. (Applause). He would go away impressed with the importance of this flourishing town. But he was not the first Lieut.-Governor that visited Peterborough. In 1836 Sir Peregrin Maitland, Governor of the Province came here. The settlers met him and presented their grievances to him. The people here now were too prosperous to have any grievances. They all were convened in an old house near the market. One chief thing wanted was a mill and a settler made, according to the reports preserved of that meeting, a singularly strong argument in favor of having a mill. Said he, "Saving your honor's presence, sur, I've had to stay up all noight to chew corn to feed my childer." (Laughter.) Of exhibitions generally he had but unqualified praise to give, for nothing else stimulated agriculture, arts and manufactures like them. He was quite sanguine that the Provincial Exhibition would be held here at an early date. Reference was made to the Canadian Pacific Railway. It was a great institution. It seemed to wake the whole country to life and activity. Up till now the people of the United States had laid claim to the monopoly of enterprise, but they were beginning to see that there was as much push and energy in the 5,000,000 of Canadians as in their own 48,000,000. The Canadians had built their road across the continent in one half the time the Yankees did, at one half the cost, and had'n't half as hard a time to get the money to do it. (Cheers.) He made a lively comparison of the respective time made by the railways and computed that in a short time the C. P. R. would outstrip all competitors. He thanked the representatives of the town and society for the courtesy shown him, and then addressed a few words to the citizen soldiers before him. Concluding he thanked Lieut.-Colonel Rogers for the escort given to him and then declared the exhibition opened. The party then went to the building, and after passing through it, it was thrown open to the public.

While the opening ceremonies were in progress crowds were pouring thrugh the various entrances and the grounds were well crowded. [illegible] was observed by a good many and the school children turned out over a thousand strong.

The people crowded the building to see the inside exhibit, and a good amount of attention was bestowed upon the outside exhibit of farm implements and other manufactures.

DUNN'S BAKING POWDER

THE COOK'S BEST FRIEND

FORCED APART.

BY W. CLARK RUSSELL.

Author of the "Wreck of the Grosvenor," "A Sailor's Sweetheart," Etc.

And then recalling her father's iron nature, and his hard rejection of unsupported words, and his evil, unsparing habit of thinking the worst, her heart seemed to stand still, and she remained motionless and frozen, with her hands locked and her teeth clinched.

"Sit down, my dear, sit down, and do not run clane daft, for there's nothing heavy the matter yet," creaked the old woman, again inspecting Jenny closely, motioning her the while to be seated by arching her hands out of her shoulders like a rabbit's paws. "If he's your sweetheart, ye must have some faith in him, and maybe he'll be turning up in a day or two, and then the laugh'll be on thy side. Do ye hear?"

"He is my husband," said Jenny, in a sobbing whisper, breathing quickly.

"Well, well, husband or sweetheart, if he comes he'll be welcome, won't he now, dearie?"

"My husband!" shrieked the girl, with a wild stamp of the foot. "Will it not be believed?"

"Why, to be sure it will. But see. I'm an old, lorn woman, who knows the world as thy father knows the Bible—all the harm of it, my dear; and if you was my child, this would I say—hold thy peace about your marriage until you can show proof, that Satan himself wouldn't doubt, that young Mr. Shaw is thy husband. What! will you make envious wenches and their flabbergoon mothers believe ye by saying, 'I do not know the name of the church where I was married, and I have no bit o' paper' (the Lard knows what them things are called) 'to prove that Mr. Shaw is my husband, and 'tis the truth itself that ne'er a living cratur', my own father not excepting, knew that I was Shaw's wife until this blessed day, when my husband hath left me to give the news o' my marriage alone?'"

She ceased, leering shrewdly, with a forefinger against her nose.

The stunned look that had settled upon Jenny's face while the old woman was speaking passed a moment or two after she ceased, and a strange and striking character was given to her beauty by an expression which it seems absurd to describe as a mingling of despair and determination, yet which assuredly suggested both these qualities.

"I see that a great trouble has come upon me; but in the sight of God my heart is pure," she said in a low but steady voice. "Mrs. Mead speak to me honestly and tell me what you think has become of my husband."

"My honesty won't ease you, my dear, and the Lard knows I may be wrong, though folks think that it's the devil as gives me wisdom," said the old woman, showing her fangs with a grin of ill-dissembled triumph; for in her own mind she had no doubt of the motive of Cuthbert's disappearance, and was flattered with the facile mastery that put her far ahead of the town's surmises.

"Pray answer me. I have the heart to listen to anything now, Mrs. Mead."

"Well," exclaimed Mrs. Mead, speaking slowly, intermitting her words for the sake of filling the spaces between with deliberate nods and shakes of the head, "they'll be thinking this of thee—that you are not married, and that Mr. Shaw hath left you to bear your shame alone. They'll argey that the son of th' old popinjay up at the school house 'ud never match with Mike Strangfield's darter, and that he hath ruined 'ee with promises. And maybe they'll say that th' old doctor's in the secret, and hath got his son away slyly to save him from the deacon, unless you shall defeat the liars by sure proof of thy marriage, and that you must get about quickly."

Jenny stood looking at her with a steady, vacant gaze, as though she did not heed what was being said, and, with the same absent manner, was moving toward the door.

"How shall you get about it, dearie? You do not ask?"

"How!" exclaimed the girl, pausing. "If my husband does not come to me, I am quite helpless."

"Why, who should help 'ee but thy father? Let him go to work. He hath money and strength. If I was his wife he'd not sit idly cursing."

And at the notion of the deacon cursing, she set up a creaking laugh. But such advice was lead instead of life to the poor heart that heard it.

"Good-by, Mrs. Mead," said she, "if you have news to comfort me, you will not keep me waiting for it?"

"Trust me! I'll do my best. But I'll not come anear thy house, though I had young Mr. Shaw in my arms. I'm none so dear to th' deacon but that he'd bile me in his pitch caldron, could he find a reason for murderin' me i' the Bible. As to thy mammy— But there, dear heart! if I have good news you shall have it quickly."

CHAPTER XVI.

HER FATHER-IN-LAW.

Her face like marble, but with no lack of determination in it, Jenny walked down the grimy court and crossed the market place. She halted a moment to deliberate which way she should take to Greystone school. She chose the way of the sands, and down to the beach breathless concealment there until blushes waned under kisses, and courage rose to whispers—thoughts of an interview with the haughty little doctor, whose fiery prejudice had earned him hate and fame among the sect she belonged to—who had held her own Cuthbert in awe and was always named by him with fear—was terrifying, indeed.

But, then, what would become of her if she had not spirit to push her quest into the presence of the one man who could, if he chose (as she believed), give her more information concerning her husband than all the rest of the town put together? Bravely she stepped forward under a supporting impulse, and walked firmly to the door of the house.

The servant who answered the summons happened to be a Greystone woman, and knew Jenny well by sight. Much surprised she looked to behold the daughter following the father so quickly, for the deacon had not left the house five minutes when Jenny arrived.

"Can I see Dr. Shaw?"

"Yes, miss, I think so," replied the servant, taking it for granted that Jenny knew her father had just called. "Will you walk in, please?"

Now, Dr. Shaw was at this moment vehemently pacing the study, and revolving, with mingled emotions of horror, doubt and rage, the communication Strangfield had made to him. Five minutes is no time for such spirits as his to grow calm in; and, with a desperate frown upon his forehead, he was muttering eagerly to himself, and in a quite audible key, when Jenny was announced.

She went, with drooping head and frightened peeps at the people who passed her; for on her now was cruel sense of heavy shame, and the despair that bares the nerves of the heart for the sunshine and human eyes to torture.

Crossing the space of shingle on which lay the fishing boats roasting in the sun, she toiled along the sand toward the ravine which led to Greystone school. When she caught sight of the schoolhouse the pulse of her heart grew smaller, and her feet dragged. To the nervous, modest girl, whose shy spirit all the might and fire of love had scarcely endowed with bravery enough to keep her bold in secret meetings with her own husband—whose coming to him was always a sweet scamper to his heart and

An important seizure of jewllery, for alleged undervalution, has occurred at Victoria B. C., and has been referred to Ottawa for a decision.

Sufferers from the effects of quinine, used as a remedy for chills and fever, should try Ayer's Ague Cure, a powerful tonic bitter, wholly vegetable, without a particle of any noxious drug. It acts promptly, breaking the chill, curing the fever, and expelling the poison, yet leaving no harmful effect upon the patient.

of danger by the condition of your blood, as shown in pimples, blotches, boils, or discolorations of the skin; or by a feeling of languor, induced, perhaps, by inactivity of the stomach, liver, and kidneys, you should take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Rheumatism,

or Neuralgia, a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla will relieve and cure you. Alice Kendall, 218 Tremont st., Boston, Mass., writes: "I have been troubled with Neuralgia, pain in the side, and weakness, and have found greater relief from Ayer's Sarsaparilla than from any other remedy." J. C. Tolman, 336 Merrimack st., Lowell, Mass., writes: "In no other remedy have I ever found such a happy relief from Rheumatism as in

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

It instils new life into the blood, and imparts vitality and strength. Being highly concentrated, it is the most economical blood purifier.

Geo. Garwood, Big Springs, Ohio, writes: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has been used in my family for a number of years. I was a constant sufferer from

Dyspepsia,

but Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected a permanent cure. Seven years ago my wife was troubled with Goitre: two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured her, and she has never had any return of the disease. I regard this preparation as the best medicine in use for the blood." B. Barnard Wair, 75 Adams st., Lynn, Mass., writes: "For many years I suffered terribly from Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Scrofula. Almost hopeless, I took Ayer's Sar-

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1886.

THE FOUR DAYS FAIR.

Peter Hamilton, of Peterborough, makes an extensive show of farm implements, his various machines shown covering fully quarter of an acre of ground. The Light Twine Binder, which was driven by a steam engine, was surrounded by a constant crowd. Among other things shown by him were: the Tiger hay rake, the Perfect hay rake, a horse turnip drill, a spring crop cultivator, a boss two furrow gang plough, several steel ploughs, hand power and horse power straw cutters, a root pulper and slicer combined, a root pulper, a Daisy iron framed seeder, a Crown mower, and a separator and horse power.

J. Whyte & Co., of Peterborough and Campbellford, shows Whyte's patent ploughs, Nos. 3 and 4, Whyte's patent sod plough, two furrow gang plough, Iron Duke cultivator, Hull's patent thistle cutter, and seventeen different patterns of ornamental iron cresting and finials.

W. Forsyth, manufacturer of fanning mills, windmills and pumps, Peterborough, exhibits four of his I X L fanning mills and one champion bagger which cleans the grain and baggs it, also specimens of his pumps.

R. Fife, representing the Massey manufacturing Co., of Toronto, shows a new light steel binder, the Toronto mower, the Sharp's horse rake and the steel framed seeder, manufactured by Noxon Bros. Ingersoll.

Fitzgerald & Stanger make a magnificent display of buggies, carriages, phaetons and village carts, under a mammoth tent. The elegantly finished rigs, glittering in their pristine gloss, overflow the large tent and waggons and other vehicles stand outside. The representatives of this firm are kept busy showing visitors around. There are fifteen rigs shown.

Henry Owens, the well known Peterborough pump maker, has space immediately behind the exhibition building. He shows samples of his force and lift pumps, together with the Wisher combined drill broad cast seeder, and spring tooth cultivator, manufactured by J. O. Wisher & Co., Brantford.

Bowie & Best, the agents of the Masson Manufacturing Co., Oshawa, and the Cockshutt Plough Co., Brantford, exhibit the Masson rake, the beaver combined drill, the Cockshutt plough, the Joseph Hall Steel Mower and the Chatham waggons.

Porter Bros., the carriage makers, have an exhibition building of their own, 80x24 ft. It is substantially built and covers an array of substantially made carriages, buggies, cutters, etc. There are altogether twenty rigs under the building. They pay special attention to their cutters, all of which are new, nobby and convenient. The "Peterborough sleigh" promises to lead this season's fashion. It is designed by Mr. S. Fitzgerald and reflects credit on his ingenuity. It has a deep pannelled, bottle green body with shifting seat. The gearing is painted carmine. The New York phaeton attracts much attention. It has a leather top 3 spring gear and is elegently trimed in green broadcloth. Mr. R. H. Wright, the trimmer, has added to his reputation in this model work.

In Porter Bros. exhibition buildings J. Watson shows samples of sign painting Jas. Might, representing the champion cabinet creamery manifactory, Morrisburgh, shows the "Daisy" a revolving churn, and "Daisy" a horizontal moving churn, and the champion cabinet creamer.

The Ontario Canoe Company, Peterborough, have spacious tent covering a fine show of their celebrated canoes and canoeing gear.

Two exhibits which were omitted in yesterday's report are those of the Peterborough Lock Works and that of Mr. Crosby. The Lock works have a glass case filled with all kinds of locks and appurtenances. Mr. Crosby makes a fine show of organs.

Mr. J. J. Turner has a fine display of tents.

The special attractions in the Driving Park during the afternoon consisted of the performances of the Thistle Club, of Toronto, and the club swinging contest. They gave several Highland dances in full Highland costume, and also sailor dances, to the music of the Queen's piper. There were two entries in the club swinging contest, T. McNaughton, of Peterborough, champion of Canada, and D. E. Smith, of Toronto. Messrs. A. McNeil and H. Calcutt were the judges. McNaughton swung first, doing some very pretty and intricate movements. Smith followed with some good swinging. The prize, $10, was awarded to McNaughton. The speeding in the ring took place between these performances. There was a fine contest in each class. There were six in the carriage horses over 15¼ hands high, six in the carriage horses under 15¼ hands, and six in the saddle horse class. The wards will not be made till to-morrow

THURSDAY—FARMERS' GALA DAY.

To-day opened as serenly bright as yesterday. No better weather could be wished for. The influx to town commenced early, the morning excursion trains over the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific railways discharging trainload after trainload till noon. The streets were again crowded.

At the exhibition grounds business commenced early. The judging of the horses was the first thing to do. Large rings were made, and the judges were kept busy till after dinner. At ten o'clock in the forenoon Canadian draught horses paraded in the park; at 10.30 the saddle horses, and at 11 the roadsters and carriage horses. The show of horses in each class was good as regards both quantity and quality.

The cattle shown are quite up to the average. The stalls contain about a hundred fine animals competing for prizes. The principal exhibits in Durhams short horn are Messrs. Grant & Sons, Woodville, Redmond, of Otonabee, and Cox, of Smith. An unusually fine exhibit of Holsteins is made. S. Curtis, of Harwood, and James Stothart, of Smith, both show large herds. Mr. A. R. Kidd, of Dummer, shows a two year old Holstein bull, "Rabbie Burns." A lot of grade cattle is shown.

The sheep exhibit is also large. R. Vance, Cavan, shows a flock of Cotswalds; J. Vance, of Manvers, flock of Cotswalds and Leicesters; Messrs. Grant & Sons, Woodville, and Robt. Hannah, Manvers, large flocks of Shropshire; A. R. Kidd, Dummer, and R. Walton, Smith, flocks of Southdowns.

The show of Berkshire, Essex and other varieties of swine, is also up to the mark.

The poultry department is situated to the right of the main entrance, under a shed built for the purpose. The various classes are well filled with entries.

LAST DAY OF THE FAIR.

Another Chapter of the Prize List Story.

GAY SCENES IN THE PARK.

SPEEDING OF TROTTERS AND SADDLE HORSES.

A Continuous Large Attendance—Fine Show of Horses, Cattle and Poultry—The Exhibition Closed at Five O'Clock To-Day.

FARMERS' GALA DAY—AFTERNOON.

The people began to go to the grounds about eleven o'clock, and from that time till two in the afternoon the ticket sellers were kept busy. At one o'clock the Fire Brigade Band marched down George street to the grounds, and took seats on the grand stand in the Driving Park. Here during the afternoon a great throng of people were held by a continuous succession of attractions. Speeding in the ring was the chief amusement. The carriage horses 15½ hands high and over, prancing in holiday harness, were shown off to good advantage. Then came the double carriage horses 15½ hands and under. The saddle horse competition gave the spectators good sport. There was six of a field but the contest for speed lay between Maggie Roach and Wand's horse, Maggie won again to-day. The competition for the McWilliam's cup offered by Mr. J. B. McWilliams for the best single buggy horse, speed to be considered, brought to the front a field of eight. Fanny B. won as far as speed was concerned. Heavy draught horses, drawing gaily painted waggons, were also driven around the track and judged. For prizes awarded the reader is directed to refer to the prize list.

During the afternoon the Fire Brigade Band gave open air concerts in front of the grand stand, and the Thistle Club again performed.

In the evening the exhibition building was brilliantly illuminated. Another Indian club swinging contest took place between McNaughton and Smith. The Thistle Club and the Fire Brigade Band were present. To-morrow is the last day of the fair.

MANUFACTURES.

The Directors, at a meeting held on Friday morning, decided to give diplomas to manufacturers making meritorious exhibits. Judges were appointed who awarded diplomas to the following:—

W. Forsythe, fanning mills.
H. Owens, pumps.
Ontario Canoe Company, canoes.
J. J. Turner, tents and tent furniture.
Geo. W. Hall, confectionery.
Lindsay & Seldon, furniture.
Craig & Mooney, upholstery.
John Fraser, mechanical drawing.
Porter Bros., carriages and sleighs.
Fitzgerald & Stanger, carriages and waggons.
Peter Hamilton, agricultural implements and machinery.
J. Whyte & Co., agricultural implements.
Peterborough Stove Company, stoves.
The Peterborough Lock Works, locks, &c.

FINE MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

Mr. D. Smart has an exhibit at the exhibition of rare merit, of organs, pianos and sewing machines. The double bank Bell organ was especially an attraction to visitors. The double bank, or two key boards, gives a double power, as well as allowing the performer to manipulate different musical sounds, from the softest flute to the most powerful swell. The instrument is of French burl, finely finished. Had prizes been offered for musical instruments this organ would undoubtedly have carried away honors. The Williams piano shown by Mr. Smart is an elegantly finished instrument of pure tone. This display is an attraction and will no doubt be long remembered by all who visited the exhibition.

THE SINGER SEWING MACHINES.

The Singer Manufacturing Company (Mr. H. Laishley, manager,) showed at the exhibition several splendid sewing machines. Their domestic machines do the finest work, their work being awarded first prize at this exhibition for family sewing. Their heavier manufacturing machines are adopted for all kinds of work, the button hole adjustment being an admirable attachment for manufacturing of clothing. It cuts the button holes and stitches them perfectly. The patcher adjustment for sewing shoes is also one that would be of great assistance to boot makers. Patches, of any shape no matter how irregular, or on any part of the shoe, can be neatly sewed on, and it is perfectly adopted for stitching. A cabinet domestic machine, in which the works are enclosed and are raised ready for work above the cabinet by a spring, is a very handsome, handy and useful sewing machine. The Singer Company have machines suitable for all kinds of work, with adjustments and improvements which entitle them to a first place in the consideration of the public.

A SERVICEABLE INSTRUMENT.

The dress makers square, designed for the use of dressmakers and tailors, is shown by Prof. Smith, of Toronto. The object of this wonderful instrument is to render any lady as expert in cutting dresses, dolmans, mantles, or any other garment worn by ladies or children, as a professional. The square gives instructions for cutting with unerring accuracy Princess dresses, polonaises, dolmans, skirts and overskirts, Gabrielle wrappers, cloaks, sacques, boys' clothing, etc. It shows how to cut fifty different garments in four hundred different sizes, and is so simple in contrivance that a child can understand it. Diplomas have been awarded to Prof. Smith and whole catalogues of testimonials have been sent him.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

BOGUS REPORTS.

BECAUSE we looked with such suspicion upon a lying telegraph from Ottawa containing false news of a massacre by Indians in our North-west territories, and therefore would not give it publicity; and because we not unnaturally suspected that this new invention might proceed from the "Ottawa Free Press Gang," much indignation is expressed by the Rielite organ at the Dominion capital. We are glad to find that the Free Press is in a position to repudiate any complicity in this new offence, and hope that this is an indication that it sees the enormity of its recent misdoings, so that it will desist from them in future. If so the conversion of the Free Press is too fresh to warrant it in putting on airs of injured innocence because it is judged by its recent conduct and is suspected accordingly. To take only two striking instances of its manufacture of news injurious to Canada, we may mention its avowed publication of the unfounded tales of dire misfortunes in Labrador, and its boastfully defended circulation of the forged draft treaty as to the fisheries. Even if the Free Press is correct in saying that no one on its regular staff actually invented these falsehoods and others, we cannot relieve it of responsibility, for the fact it is the ordinary channel used by the culprits argues very friendly relations with them, and as least gross neglect in giving them credence and aiding them after repeated exposure.

This matter has more importance than the mere question of the publication of unfounded sensational news. Without including the pretended Indian massacre and taking only the two cases we have mentioned as to which the Free Press admits its complicity, it is evident that these inventions are contrived so as to injure our country. Though the greater part of the Labrador coast is under the control of Newfoundland, yet it is conterminous with the Dominion, and without any very clearly defined boundary, so that any disaster in Labrador is widely ascribed to Canada as the report circulates abroad. In the case of the forged draft treaty, its utterance by a journal in the Dominion capital has the injurious effect of impeding negotiations. Many journals in the United States have been led to consider it genuine, and some of them have spoken of it approvingly, more especially as regards the supposed concession of reciprocity in certain manufactured goods. Now it is well known that the chief difficulty in the way of a reciprocity treaty is the frequently shown unwillingness of the United States Senate to give that assent to such treaties which their constitution makes necessary for validity. We feel strongly that no reciprocity treaty with the United States should include, for instance, woollen and cotton manufactures, and we are convinced that the great majority of the people of Canada agree with us in objecting to see these industries sacrificed. If, however, a treaty without these particular concessions should be submitted hereafter to the U. S. Senate, is it not certain that its opposition would be intensified by this omission of what it had been led to expect? Thus a great obstacle would be unnecessarily placed in the way of an agreement between the two countries. And the Free Press does this mischief, and appears to think it justifies itself by boasting that it "scooped" its contemporaries by circulating this mischievous forgery.

We congratulate the Free Press on having so far seen the error of its ways as to feel indignant at being suspected of a fresh outrage. Of course we accept the disclaimer of our contemporary as to this bogus Indian news.

The British Iron and Steel Trade Decreasing.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—At the annual meeting of the Iron and Steel Institute, President Piercy, the retiring officer, delivered an address on the iron and steel making resources of Great Britain and the United States. He showed that the British output of Bessemer steel was constantly decreasing and he warned his hearers that if there should be a war or a commercial struggle, a blind belief in their own supremacy would be dangerous and that disregard of their antagonists' power would result in disaster.

LAKEFIELD IN A BLAZE.

MESSRS. R. & G. STRICKLAND'S NEW FLOUR MILLS DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Fire Brands Scattered Over the Village Start Several Incipient Fires—An Exciting Night—Total Loss $10,000.

By Telephone to the Review.

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 8.—At 8.30 o'clock last night the four storey Trent Valley flour mill owned by Messrs. R. & G. Strickland and leased by Mr. B. McLean, were found to be on fire in the upper storey. The alarm bells on the English church and the sawmill were rung and the villagers hastened to give assistance. As soon as possible a line of hose was attached to the hydrant between the planing mill and flour mills and the pump on the side dam was started.

Meanwhile every effort was being made to save the stock and machinery on the ground floor, but owing to the thick smoke which filled the building very little could be done. Some low grade flour, coarse grain, the scales and the books from the office was all that was saved. Baptie's planing mill which extends about fifty feet south of the flour mills was in imminent danger, so much so that Mr. Baptie had the machinery removed and blankets from Messrs. R. & G. Stricklands storehouse were spread over the building.

The water was playing continuously on the outside of the burning building. For some time the blaze was confined to the interior. At about 9.30 the roof fell in, sending up a cloud of sparks and burning shingles which spread over the village. Luckily there was hardly any wind blowing, or the chances are that this morning Lakefield village would have been a thing of the past. Two fires were started in the rear of the post office, but being immediately discovered were extinguished. The roof of the Blakely house was at one time covered with burning brands, but by the timely use of the village hand engine the building was rescued.

By 11 o'clock the danger was over, the flames having died almost out at what was a couple of hours before the Trent Valley mills. These mills started running on the the 9th of April last, so that they had been in operation just six months.

Mr. McLean, we are sure, has the sympathy of the residents of the village and surrounding country in his misfortune. He had just got a good trade, and there was every prospect of doing a better business when this blow fell upon him.

The origin of the fire is not definitely known, as no one was near the mill having being shut down for the night. The total loss is $10,000, on which there is an insurance of $7,000. Messrs. Strickland lose $8,000 and are insured for $6,000. Mr. McLean's loss is $2,000, the half of which is covered bo insurance.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from proprietary medicines, no doubt has largely benefitted the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing those remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the German Syrup for cough and lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size. d84

JESUS BEFORE PILATE.

DR. JOHN HALL'S NOTES ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

Lesson II of the International Series for Sunday, Oct. 10—Golden Text: "I Find in Him no Fault." John xviii, 38. Lesson Text, John xviii, 28-40.

The pupils may be reminded that our Saviour went through three forms of trial: before the chief priests in a sort of secret session (v. 13 and v. 24); in open court, for form's sake, before Pilate; and before Herod (Luke xxiii, 7-12). They may have it explained to them that the chief priests conducted the Jewish trial, and on religious and church grounds; the Roman governor and Herod had charges of a civil kind brought before them against Jesus, as the only grounds on which Christ's enemies could hope for his death. The Jews had not, of course, the power of life and death in their hands. It is of the trial before Pilate we are now to study the details.

Joseph Caiaphas, as Josephus calls him, is named as high priest by Matthew, Luke and John, and again in Acts iv, 6. He held office during the whole time of Pontius Pilate, but was afterwards deposed. He married the daughter of Annas. The prosecutors of Je us lost no time. "Early" in the morning they led him into the judgment hall, for the Roman procurator must give sentence. The illustration they give here of being scrupulous about rites while bent on moral wrong has been often noticed. So many men keep up the form of religion while carrying on unjust, dishonest or violent proceedings. Fanaticism and horrible injustice and cruelty often went together in the middle ages. The court or palace, or pretorium, was counted by them a defiling place, being a Gentile dwelling; so they remained at the door, and the Roman judge had to go to the door to hear their charge. It was, likely, a part of the castle of Antonia. So common were popular disturbances at the passover time that the Roman ruler was wont to come to keep order. It was contrary to Roman usage for a judge to pronounce sentence in court before 6 o'clock in the morning, at which time Pilate (John xix, 13) "sat in the judgment seat." All the incidents of our lesson occurred between the cock-crowing and the sixth hour. Their fearing defilement before eating the passover has been counted a difficulty. If we assume that they had been interrupted and kept from their service by Judas and the proceedings of the night, and wished to get through with it before the next day, all difficulty is removed. They hoped to get Christ condemned—the true Passover—and then to eat the typical; and even this latter they seem to have been kept from, for Pilate took time with the accused prisoner.

V. 29. Pilate "went out unto them." It was his duty to keep peace and deal promptly with cases. Like magistrates in a time of popular riot, he had probably been at his post all night. (See v. 3.) His question, "What accusation bring ye against this man?" they hardly expected. They hoped that their sentence would be ratified as a matter of course, much

(V. 30) their reply, "If He were not a malefactor," etc. They did not mean or desire to go into evidence in the case, but if possible to get sentence on their verdict. They stand on their dignity. "Is it not enough that we, chief priests, etc., tell you He is a malefactor?" He took it for granted it was a mere dispute about some Jewish religious matter. He held them and their religion in scorn; was arbitrary and sometimes cruel. Like Gallio, he "cared for none of these things," and he said accordingly.

(V. 31.) "Take him," etc. Now they have to shift their ground. They cannot get a sentence of death on "blasphemy" or Christ's messianic claims. They must bring a political charge, and they have to recall their humiliation as a nation. They cannot lawfully put any one to death; they lost this power in their subjection to Rome. Had they possessed this power, stoning would have been Christ's doom. But He had spoken (John iii, 14, and xii, 32) of being "lifted up." Their inability to put to death made good His words (v. 9).

V. 33. In his condensing the narrative John omits what Luke tells us (Luke xxiii, 2), the charge—forbidding tribute to Cæsar and claiming to be himself king—which they now bring. Hence Pilate's question, in the form of which (in the Greek) some find a tone of scorn. "You, a prisoner, in poverty—are you a king? Are you the king of the Jews?" It is every way likely that Jesus bore the marks of blows and violence. The dignity and self-control of the Saviour appear in His reply.

V. 34. "You are a judge, set for the vindication of the innocent and the punishment of the guilty, and bound to go upon evidence. Is this charge, implied in your question, on evidence, or from your own mind?" It was proper that the guilt of bringing such unjust charges should be brought home to his persecutors.

V. 35. Pilate resents the question, speaks contemptuously of the Jews, in the question "Am I a Jew?" What interest, he says in effect, have I in this matter? What should I know about it but from "thine own nation and chief priests, etc.? What is thy crime? What hast thou done to make them condemn thee?"

V. 36. Here it is that Jesus witnessed his good confession. He claims to be in a true sense a king, but not in the sense in which they alleged. He was not a rival of Cæsar. If he had been a king "of this world"—of the accepted kind—he would have trained his servants to fight for him. (So Mohammed did, and many another). But his kingdom was not of an earthly origin—"from hence." If it had been, there would have been resistance to the officers. He stopped all resistance (vs. 10, 11). Pilate could easily learn that. "Now" does not imply that it would yet become "of this world." He means "now" for strong statement of its place and nature.

V. 37. A third question is put, and in the same spirit: "Art thou a king, then?" It is in contemptuous surprise, in Greek: "A king, then—that is what thou art!" The reply is a little obscure. Pilate did not say Jesus was a king. Our Lord's words mean: "Thou applied the word king to me, and it is true, but not in the sense of this world. I was born (so he owns his humanity) and I came into this world (this refers to pre-existence and power) to witness to the truth. This is my royalty." How far-reaching is this word! The truth as to the divine nature, attributes, as to mercy and hope for men, as to justice and righteousness, as to love and grace—all this he came to witness to. Truth makes free, elevates, strengthens. This is a king's grandest work. He who witnesses to truth, as Christ did, makes free, elevates, strengthens, and is to be acknowledged as a king by his saved ones. See II Cor. iv, 6, for a picture of Christ's witnessing. Our Lord adds—and this is for Pilate, for (just as he dealt with his betrayer, tenderly and faithfully), he is dealing with him: "Everyone that is of the truth heareth my voice." If we be so far influenced by the Spirit of God as to live the truth, we shall recognize Christ's voice as speaking it.

Men living in sin, bent on wrong doing, with no love for goodness, but fixed love for evil, will not feel kindly to Christ's message. Their hearts are closed against it. So it was with Pilate. He thought of self, pride, passion, power, his procuratorship. Things interested him as they bore on these

(V. 38), so he says, not in seriousness, nor inquiry, nor yet in mockery, for he was concerned about this case, but in self-defence. "What is truth?" There are so many views, one with one thing, another its opposite, of what use is it to talk of "truth?" He meant that abstractions and discussions of that sort were not in his line. He has many a successor in this way of thinking. So he goes out to the Jews and gives his acquittal of Jesus. He found no crime in Him. Jesus is vindicated by a Gentile, when "His own" reject and persecute Him. He is harmless in Pilate's eyes, when a criminal in His own brethren's! John probably is led to bring out this truth here.

V. 39. Then comes Pilate's proposal—to comply with the passover custom, and, without too nicely settling how this "criminal," as they said, stood, to release Jesus. His language again shows his contempt—"the King of the Jews." Whether it is for Jesus or for them the contempt is most felt, we cannot say. But

(V. 40) the prosecutors reject the proposal. They had "cried out" before and shown their spirit, though he does not mention it formally. Now they say "Not this man, but Barabbas." With condensed meaning, but no useless language, the evangelist shows, in another point of view, how deep their degradation. Barabbas, whom they preferred to Jesus, "was a robber." On his standing and character see Mark xv, 7; Luke xxiii, 19. He was probably a foe of the Romans.—Sunday School World.

FACTS

Concerning Dr. Dorenwend's

It is the only preparation in the world that will do what is claimed for it. It has produced luxuriant growths of hair on bald heads where baldness has existed for years. It has restored the color and vigor to numerous crops of gray and faded hair. It has relieved hundreds of persons of disagreeable Dandruff and has saved many when hair was falling, from becoming bald.

Remember these facts and if your hair is falling out and becoming thin, get a bottle at once and save the growth, or you may lose it for ever. Ask your druggist for HAIR MAGIC and take nothing else.

Mr. T. B. Braden, who is also on the board of directors, was acting as secretary.

The Rifle.

The annual rifle matches under the auspices of the County of Peterborough Rifle Association will be held on Monday and Tuesday at the Association range. The prize list, which will appear to-morrow, is one of unusual worth, excellent prizes being offered in the various classes. DEPARTURE.

The Lieutenant-Governor Leaves Peterborough.

After opening the Central Exhibition, His Honor, the Lieut-Governor was driven about town accompanied by prominent citizens.

The next morning at 8.35 His Honor and suit went northwest to Lakefield by the Grand Trunk railway, a special parlor car being set apart at his disposal. At Lakefield the distinguished party found Mr. R.C. Stricklands steam yacht "Undine" awaiting to convey them to the far famed Stoney Lake. They went up to the lake, sailed around it, visited the Burleigh works and returned in the evening. The Grand Trunk train started from Lakefield at 5.45 and steamed up to the Burleigh street station at 6.15. In leaving His Honor expressed his thanks to the Grand Trunk officers for their obliging treatment and his admiration of the fine equipment place at his disposal.

His Honor and suite then went to the Canadian Pacific Railway station where, by the 6.43 express they left town.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

An immense audience witnessed a very creditable rendition of Uncle Tom's Cabin, by Abbey's double Company, at the Globe Theatre, last night. The introduction of Two Topsys and Two Marks is a decided novelty, and kept the spectators in one continual roar of laughter. But no small share of praise was awarded to Eva's Pony, "Prince," and the æsthetic Donkey, "Oscar," the latter animal being riden by Marks Sr. The scenic effects were perfectly magnificent.—Boston Herald, April 18th.

This Company will appear in Bradburn's Opera House next Monday evening October 11th.

HOSE, Couplings, Nozzles, Sprinklers, &c. at reduced prices for rest of 1886. GEORGE STETHEM.

Personal.

James Dolan, Esq., of Madoc, is registered at the Oriental Hotel to-day.

The Calgary Tribune of Oct. 2, in its personal items has the following:—

"Mr. Geo. Hilliard, M. P. for West Peterborough, passed through to the coast on Wednesday evening. He expects to be back in a couple of weeks and spend a few days in town. Mr. F. G. Haultain, of Brockville, was among the arrivals on Wednesday He goes to the coast and on his return will visit his brothers at Macleod."

The Campbellford Herald of Oct 7th says:—"Mrs. McCrea, wife of Dr. McCrea, of Campbellford, was taken very ill, recently, while visiting her daughter, Mrs. Richards, at Warkworth, and for two weeks she was confined to her bed. The doctor was absent from here one week in constant attendance upon her, and it is feared she would not recover. We are pleased to state that she is now convalescent, and will be able to return home soon.

RICHMOND Star and Easy Lawn Mowers at cost for balance of 1886. GEO. STETHEM.

Nip and Tuck.

The popular farce-comedy, Nip and Tuck, was played by the Baird Dramatic Company in Bradburn's Opera House on Thursday night. The two detectives were impersonated by R. H. Baird and Edwin Houghton respectively. The disguises with which each shrouded himself were effective, and the parts assumed well sustained. The droll situations in which the partners found themselves when working in opposite directions on the case brought down salvos of applause and peals of laughter. The final discomfiture and overthrow of Tuck was especially laughable. Miss Georgie Gardner, as Lady Beauford, deepened the favorable impression she has made during the week's engagement. Lewis Baker did the part of Major Tremaine, the accomplished villain, with ease and sang froid, and Miss Minnie Stanley played the part of his wife successfully. To-night Mark Twain's play, "The Gilded Age, or There's Millions in it," will be produced.

THE Golden Lion for Carpets. R. FAIR.

A DISTASTEFUL PLAY.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—The five act drama entitled "Juarez," by Alfred Gassier, as produced last night at the Chateau D'eau Theatre, is based upon incidents of the Maximilian expedition to Mexico. Marshall Bazaine figures in the play as the villain who alternately tricks Juarez and the Emperor. The censors refused for a long time to allow the production of the piece. It was finally somewhat modified. The author has been obliged to fight a duel with a son of Gen. Miramon, who objected to the father's name appearing in the play. The audience was disorderly. The play will probably be prohibited.

SEVERE DISTRESS PREDICTED.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The social Democratic Federation, in a manifesto addressed to the unemployed workingmen of Great Britain, declares it to be certain that distress still severer than that of 1885 will be seen during the coming winter. Honest workmen are doomed to a helpless struggle against starvation. The wealthy classes it is says are alone responsible for the awful neglect of the Government, and they could not but fear for themselves if they could see the agony which their selfish apathy inflicts upon the producers of their wealth. It concludes: "Show them your despair and their danger. Leave your slums and follow the Lord Mayor's show on November 9th in silent, solemn order. Convince the rich as they are driven to their banquet that the most munificent charity on their part can never plaster over the cancer which their greed for wealth has planted in the heart of civilization."

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator has no equal for destroying worms in children and adults. See that you get the genuine when purchasing.

An important seizure of jewellery, for alleged undervalution, has occurred at Victoria B. C., and has been referred to Ottawa for a decision.

Jacob Lockman, Buffalo, says he has been using it for rheumatism. He had such a lame back that he could do nothing; but one bottle entirely cured him.

It is a remarkable fact that Dr Thomas' Eclectric Oil is as good for internal as external use. For disease of the lungs and throat, and for rheumatism, neuralgia, crick in the back, wounds and sores, it is the best known remedy, and much trouble is saved by having it always on hand.

Mr. R. A. Harrison, Chemist and Druggist, Dunnville, Ont., writes: "I can with confidence recommend Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure for Dyspepsia, Impure Blood, Pimples on the Face, Biliousness and Constipation—such cases having come under my personal observation."

The Government has presented Moosomi the Cree chief, with sixty sheep, as a reward for his neutrality during the Northwest rising.

LATEST CABLE NEWS.

WAR NOT INTENDED.

SOFIA, Oct. 7.—The officers of the Shumla garrison have telegraphed to the Government asking if it is true, as reported, that Bulgaria intends to make war on Russia. The Government promptly denied that any such intention was entertained, and warned the enquiring officers that they would be punished if they again questioned the Government about its affairs.

RIOT AT ALDERSHOT.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Several drafts of men from the Inniskillen Fusiliers, who objected to doing service in Africa, rioted at Aldershot last evening. The police were called upon to put down the disturbance, and in the conflict that ensued a number of soldiers and police were wounded. Forty-one rioters, soldiers, were arrested.

SUFFOCATED BY CHOKE DAMP.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Mr. Lakin, son of the proprietor of a colliery at Newbold, Leicester, descended the shaft of the mine to-day, fearing something was wrong. He did not return, and one of his brothers descended in search of him. He also failed to return, when another brother and then the father descended. The bodies of the four men were afterwards found, all having been suffocated by choke damp. The colliers were safely rescued from other parts of the mines.

KIDNAPPERS AGAIN.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Rumours worthy of credence are current to the effect that a conspiracy has been discovered at Altpasena to kidnap King Milan and force him to abdicate with the alternative of death.

FRANCE AND THE CHURCH.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—It is generally believed that the De Freycinet Cabinet will shortly bring down a measure for disestablishing the Roman Catholic Church in France. They also intend, it is said, to abolish the concordat. This latter step was threatened a few weeks ago when the Pope was contemplating sending a nuncio to Chili.

WHAT BULGARIA WANTS.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—In an interview yesterday a member of the Bulgarian government said that after the elections in Bulgaria the ministers and regents would resign to a Sobranje agreeable to the support of a Russian candidate for the throne, and would not waste time in useless discussion regarding the re-election of Prince Alexander. The Bulgarians were desirous of the amity of Russia, but on condition that Russia shall cease to regard Bulgaria as a Russian province.

PRAISE FOR THE LEAGUE.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Mr. J. E. Ellis, Gladstonian, Liberal M. P. for Rushcliffe, Nottinghamshire, who has just completed a tour of Ireland, has sent a donation to the National League to be devoted in assisting evicted tenants. Mr. Ellis speaks in high praise of the Nationalist League's work.

NOBLEMEN TO VISIT INDIA.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The Earl of Aberdeen starts next month with Lady Aberdeen for a tour of India. The Earl and Countess of Rosebery sail on October 28th, doing the whole distance by sea and the Suez canal. They return at the end of February. The Duke and Duchess of Manchester will sail in the same ship.

CHURCHILL IN BERLIN.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—A Berlin correspondent of the News says he saw two English gentlemen alight at the railway station in Berlin on Tuesday night, who registered at the Kaiserhoff Hotel as "Spencer" and "Trafford." The correspondent, who is an Englishman, says he is certain "Spencer" is Lord Randolph Churchill. The Kaiserhoff Hotel is within a stone's throw of the palace of the German chancellor and the Foreign office. Without doubt Lord Randolph Churchill has already had a private interview with Count Herbert Bismarck, and he will probably go to Varzin to see Prince Bismarck.

A DOUBTFUL DESPATCH.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—The Journal des Debats has a despatch from Constantinople saying that England has made overtures to the Sultan for his consent to the establishment of a British coaling station on an island near the Dardanelles, and that the Sultan, with a sharp expression of irritation, refused to grant the request.

SUPPOSED TO BE THE ANCHORIA.

GLASGOW, Oct. 7.—The Anchor Line steamer Ethiopia, which arrived at Glasgow to-day from New York, reports that on the 29th of September she passed another steamer of the same line. The latter was probably the Anchoria. The owners believe the Anchoria is safe, but delayed by some accident to her machinery.

ANGRY MEMBERS.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Oct. 7.—The Colonial Assembly was in session all night, discussing the estimates. Great disorder prevailed. Sir Henry Parkes, leader of the Opposition, called the Ministry "brutish." Member Wisdom endorsed the expression and was forcibly expelled. A motion to expel Sir Henry Parkes was defeated by a majority of two. Sir Henry re-entered the House and was greeted by prolonged cheering. He moved to readmit Mr. Wisdom and the motion was agreed to.

STIGMATIZED AS A REBEL.

SOFIA, Oct. 7.—The newspaper Independent Bulgaria, stigmatizes General Kaulbars as "a rebel fomenting rebellion among the people and army." It also urges the Government to "bind General Kaulbars and send him across the frontier." The bureau of parties supporting the Government has issued an appeal to the people and army to refuse to allow General Kaulbars to deceive or bribe them. The appeal says:—"Rather uphold the honor of the country and the army, and show yourselves worthy of independence."

"THE LITTLE MONSTER."

DUBLIN, Oct. 7.—United Ireland, Mr. Parnell's organ, in its issue of to-day, describes Lord Randolph Churchill as "the little monster."

CHURCHILL'S POLICY.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The Standard endeavors to refute the statement that Lord Randolph Churchill has adopted radical measures. It says his Dartford speech affords no ground whatever for the belief that the Government contemplates astonishing the world with a daring or eccentric policy likely to undermine the stability of Conservative interests. There is nothing at variance with Conservative traditions in the new programme.

NO LONGER A SCHOOLBOY.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The Standard says:—"Assuredly business and not pleasure is taking Lord Randolph Churchill to Berlin. For an English minister to go to Berlin and see Prince Bismarck is like a visit to Rome without seeing St. Peter. We appreciate his talent and recognize the growing distinction of Lord Randolph. We may almost claim him as a pupil, because since he gained his present position he has abandoned the foolish school boy tricks, which disfigured his earlier career. His trip to Berlin is evidence of a new departure in diplomacy."

THE WINDING UP DAY.

LARGE INCREASE OF GATE RECEIPTS OVER LAST YEAR'S FAIR.

A Gala Day in the Park on Friday—Factory Girl Wins the Stove and Little Ned the $20 Gun—Foot Races.

FRIDAY—CLOSING DAY.

The Peterborough Central Exhibition closed at five o'clock to-day with as much bustle as it opened. Shortly before that hour the inside departments' exhibits were being packed up, and between five and six o'clock the outgoing train loads of prize pumpkins, prodigious mangolds, and crates of roots and vegetables generally, carefully packed art exhibits, coops of cackling hens and squaking ducks, huge bellowing Durhams, stallions glorying in their strength and red labels, and the dismal groaning of Berkshire adiposity—all this announced that the Exhibition was informally closed.

Friday had the best programme of any day of the Exhibition. All of the departments were open as usual, while in the park there was the best sport of the week. The first event of the afternoon was the stallion trot far the Brewery Cup, offered by Mr. H. Calcutt. "Lapidist Chief," owned by John Simpson, and "Honest Morgan," owned by Jas. Millar, were the contestants. "Lapidist Chief" won.

The trial of speed of double carriage horses came next, the prize being $15, offered by Messrs. Jas. Stevenson, W. Rutherford and Jas. Barnhard, for competition carriage horses owned by exhibitors, speed being the only point considered. Mr. Hicks, of Nassau, carried off the prize.

The trot for the Peterborough Stove Manufacturing Company's prize brought on the turf no fewer than six steppers. The prize, a $30 stove, was offered for the fastest driving horse in harness, heats, best three in five. As a second prize Mr. R. B. McKee, hardware merchant, offered a $20 double barrelled, breech loading shot gun. The entries were: Mac McGreggor's Maud M.; W. Clancy's Clara C; J. Simpson's Lapadist Cheif; R. B. Lundy's Factory Girl; A. P. Morgan's Little Ned, and J. J. Daly's Fannie B. The trot was exceedingly fine and the heats closely contested. Factory Girl won first place, Little Ned second and Fannie B third. The heats won were as follows:—

Factory Girl	3	1	1	2	1
Little Ned	1	2	2	1	2
Fannie B	2	3	3	3	3

The best heat was trotted in 2.40, Little Ned being the winner.

The hundred yard foot race was won by Archie Moore in 11 seconds.

The mile foot race was won by A. Rose in 5 minutes and 2 seconds, M. Bird coming second.

During the afternoon the grand parade of stock took place when all the horses and cattle exhibited were led around the ring in one long train stretching over half a mile in length.

The last event of the day was the hurdle contest, a trial of hunter's high jumping. The animal owned by Mr. Patterson won with Mr. Nattress chestnut second.

GRAIN UNLOADER.

By inadvertance the exhibit made by Mr. C. C. McDonnel, of Peterborough, has not till now been noticed. He showed the Harrington Improved Shir-eling hay and grain unloader. This implement lays claim to being able to unload a load of hay, grain or anything of the sort in from three to six minutes, and more than that, the beauty of it lies in its facility of management—a boy can work it easily. It is made of good material and is not expensive.

STRAWING MACHINE.

Mr. John Johnston of North Monaghan exhibited a pitching machine which has been received with great success here. Among the testimonials given from this place are those from Messrs. T. G. Hazlett, Geo. Webber, N. T. Laplaute and Charles Moore. The machine is simply constructed, is easily managed and most expeditious in its work. Mr. Laplante says that he can unload a ton of hay with it in four minutes, and that the laborious task of unloading is reduced to a mere pleasure.

CREDIT TO WHOM.

In a large measure the success of the Exhibition was due to the officers and directors. The committees of management which were as follows, did their work in a satisfactory manner:—Horses—Messrs. J. B. McWilliams, Joseph Tully and Wm. Rutherford. Cattle—Messrs. Geo. W. Fitzgerald, H. Davidson and Wm. Collins. Sheep and pigs—Messrs. R. Vance, John Riddell and Geo. W. Fitzgerald. Poultry—Messrs. John McClelland, Geo. W. Fitzgerald and J. R. Stratton. Agricultural produce and garden vegetables—Messrs. Jas. Stevenson, Jos. Tully and Wm. Rutherford. Dairy and horticultural products—Messrs. J. Stevenson, J. R. Stratton and John McClelland. Mr. Joseph Tully, as Superintendent of the Grounds, had a great deal of trying work and unceasing calls upon his attention, but he has a large capacity for such work, and fulfilled his duties quite satisfactorily.

The smoothness of the working of the fair and the absence of difficulty depends a great deal on the Secretary, and the Society was fortunate in having a gentleman in that office, Mr. D. D. Galletly, who understood what was required, and who strove, very successfully, to do everything necessary, and everything that would tend to improve the fair and make things pleasant for all concerned. Careful, energetic and obliging, Mr. Galletly fulfilled his duties in an exceedingly satisfactory manner.

NOTES.

Owing to mistakes the following prizes were omitted from the list:—Embroidery on cotton, 1st Mrs. L. G. Steele; thoroughbred Durham heifer calf, 3rd Joseph Redmond. The name of the winner of the 3rd prize for spring wheat, bald, was not ascertained.

Mr. Terrence Smith's team of horses, which won first prize in the heavy draught class, were weighed on the market scales and registered 3,220 pounds. Mr. Doherty, the market clerk, is accustomed to weighing heavy animals, but these surprised him.

The total gate receipts for the three days were $1,869.70. No charge was made on the first day of the exhibition. Last year the total receipts were $1,408.85.

There were fifteen hundred and six entries not counting the large number of special exhibits. These latter would be at least another hundred.

The REVIEW and Examiner each had tents on the grounds.

The amount derived from booth rents was about $250.

The dozens of hackmen who industriously plied their busses between the grounds and the town reaped a harvest.

The Knights and the Church.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—A Richmond special says: Mr. Powderly was asked last night about the report from Montreal that the delegates are going their to submit to the Knights of Labor a constitution as revised by Archbishop Fabre, to which the General Master Workmen is alleged to have pledged his support. Mr. Powderly replied rather petulantly: "There is nothing in the world the matter. I cannot see how people can send out such things."

A Great Strike in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—About 15,000 employees in twenty-one pork packing establishments at the stock yards almost unanimously resolved not to return to the packing district on Monday. Yesterday notice appeared in the different houses stating on and after Monday, Oct. 11th, the proprietors would operate their houses on the basis of 10 hours for a day's work. To this notice was appended the signatures of twenty-one packing firms. The employees went on strike this morning.

There was no occasion to apprehend any wavering or disturbance of the close, trustful relations on both sides.

THE GRAVES OF FRENCH SOLDIERS.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Official Journal of Strasbury, noticing the formation of a ladies' committee at Metz to tend the graves of the French soldiers who were killed there in 1870, declares that the committee is useless, the German Government having charged itself with the careful tending of the graves upon Article 16 of the Frankfort treaty; further, that if the committee make the matter the occasion for a political demonstration they will not be tolerated.

In his speech Mr. O'Kelly expressed his conviction that Lord Randolph Churchill would turn out the Home Rulers.

IRISH HOME RULE.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Daily News says it is enabled to state that the Committee of the Cabinet is preparing a bill to establish four National Councils to represent the provinces of Ireland. The bill differs from Mr. Gladstone's bill chiefly in the omission of provisions for a legislative body in Dublin. With this exception the bill meets the aspirations of Home Rulers in regard to transferring to local bodies the direction of Irish affairs not dealt with at Westminster. The Government has secured from this bill the hearty support of Lord Hartington and Mr. Chamberlain. Mr. Gladstone was consulted in the matter. The News expresses the belief that Mr. Chamberlain is the real author of the scheme and that the Parnellites will reject the bill with contempt. Commenting editorially on the bill, the News says:—The Government are sanguine that they can carry the bill. It is possible that many Liberals will support the measure as a welcome instalment. If the bill passes all the world knows that Ireland owes it to Mr. Gladstone's bold initiative and to that alone.

RELIGIOUS RIOTS IN DELHI.

DELHI, Oct. 8.—The ill-feeling recently aroused between the Hindoos and Mohammedans here, over the mutual violations of their religious principles, culminated in a riot last night and several persons were killed. The immediate cause of the bloodshed was the profaning of Jumma Musjed, or the great Mosque, by the Hindoo sectarian leader, who tied a small pig in a painful posture within the sacred edifice, so that its squealed with all its might. This enraged the Monammedans, and they at once assaulted the Hindoos. Native religious agitation is continually gaining a dangerous activity. A society has been organized to propagate hostility to Mohammedanism and to inculcate a general knowledge of the true Hindoo religion.

RIOTING STILL CONTINUES.

LIFE AND LIMB OR PARTY.

SOME time ago Mr. Mowat came to the conclusion that the lives and limbs of those employed in factories and workshops were exposed to such dangers that legislation was required for their protection, accordingly he procured the enactment of a Factory Bill. This bill, as is often rovi was not to be in force till proclaimed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council. Under our constitution to make the bill an act, an affective law, the assent of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council was required. Mr. Mowat, as Premier and Attorney-General of Ontario, advised the Lieutenant-Governor to give his assent and it was done.

Now a change came over Mr. Mowat. Either Mr. Mowat had changed his mind and now thought the lives and limbs were of no consequence, or he had so little confidence in his knowledge of law that he feared he had blundered in his legislation, or he yielded to the influence of some one whose approval had more weight with him than his regard for the lives and limbs of working men, women and children. He advised the Lieutenant-Governor to make the bill an act by giving his assent to it, but now he declined to advise the Lieutenant-Governor to put the Act in force by his proclamation. Thus the Factory Act remained a dead letter, and the lives and limbs of factory operatives were left without that protection which Mr. Mowat had considered necessary.

Such a strange and apparently inhuman decision on the part of Mr. Mowat naturally excited surprise. In endeavoring to account for it the solution was suggested that Mr. Mowat might have been actuated not so much by care for the lives and limbs of workingmen as by the wish to make political capital for himself, thus being consistent if heartless. An investigation of the facts converts this suspicion almost into a certainty. When he passed the measure through the House and advised its assent by the Lieutenant-Governor, the gratitude and votes of the workingmen were claimed for him in return for this benefit conferred upon them. Then he waited quietly for the Dominion veto. When he found that instead of disallowing the Act the Dominion authorities assented to it, he begged the Macdonald Administration to contest the validity of his measure in the courts, but they refused to accommodate him. Thus it seems obvious that his Factory Act had two motives, to gain the votes of the factory operatives by pretended sympathy, and to gain other votes by raising a cry against Sir John Macdonald on account of the hoped-for interference with his legislation. The feeble excuse of his organs that he had to beg the Dominion to interfere because he could not himself bring his Act before the courts is utterly worthless, since nobody but himself was disputing the validity of his measure.

There is no possible explanation except that Mr. Mowat had been trafficing for votes with the lives and limbs of the workingmen, which he declared to be in danger, but which he refused to protect as long as he could hope to make himself more secure in office by endangering them.

Now at length finding that he could not succeed in inducing the Dominion Administration to oppose his legislation, and that he had excited general disapproval and contempt by his tricky and heartless conduct in this matter, he has been driven tardily and reluctantly to advise the long deferred proclamation. He cannot expect credit for his legislation, which was devised only as a political dodge not intended to be carried into effect, and which goes into force only through the continued refusal of the Macdonald Administration to play his game of opposing it and thwarting its operation.

SUPERANNUATION.

THE Montreal Herald has this very courteous reference to us:—

"The Peterborough REVIEW, which is one of the lay-down-and-growl-before-Sir-John journals, does not approve of the Herald's discussing the way in which the practice of superannuation has been worked. Sorry for the REVIEW. By the way, which side does that perplexed organ intend to repudiate? For the present Sir John, not the Mail, retains the key of the treasury."

We certainly cannot approve of the Herald's mode of discussing the superannuation question, when it censures Sir John Macdonald for superannuating Mr. John Langton, who was, in fact, prematurely superannuated by the Reform Administration to make a place for a supporter in want of a reward for his party services. We pointed out that the Herald was either mistaken or was misrepresenting the facts, but our contemporary, instead of retracting, as honesty would prompt, shows itself in the wrong by substituting vulgar abuse for an acknowledgement of its error. The suspicion that we are actuated by venal motives is, perhaps, not unnatural in a journal that grumblingly represented in the House its claims to Government advertising, and in revenge for not obtaining it, is now the unscrupulous ally of the friends of rebellion and murder. Believing in the Conservative policy, we will continue, as in the past, to give it an independent support, and, as in the past, we will do so without being the mere echo of the views of Sir John Macdonald, the Mail, or any one else, but will exercise the right of forming our own judgment on public questions.

MURDERED IN A MELEE.

A Farmersville Family Evicted by Masked Men and One Shot.

FARMERSVILLE, Ont., Oct. 8.—The settlement of Daytown in the 8th concession of the township of Bastard, and situated about seven mimes from Farmersville, was the scene of a terrible tragedy on Wednesday night. The counties of Leeds and Grenville are well known for their quiet law abiding character of its inhabitants. It is a long time since any blood curding tragedy has transpired within its limits. Yesterday morning, however, the spell was broken when it became rumored around that the house of a man named Carr, about seven miles back of Farmersville in the direction of Plum Hollow, had been attacked by masked men and that Carr had been shot dead, his body being left lying in the road. The facts are as follows: It appears that Carr lived on Nate Stevens' farm and Stevens wanted to get Carr off the farm and offered a reward for any one who would put him out of his house. While Carr was away from home, three men by the name of Dan Carle, Dick Carle, and another brother went to Carr's house and turned his wife, children and mother-in-law out of the house on to the road. Carr came home while they were there. It is supposed Dan Carle is the one who shot Carr. The men had masks on their faces and Carr's mother-in-law tore the mask off Dan Carle's face and says she will swear he was the man who shot Carr. The Carles were arrested at Sim Lillie's farm at Plum Hollow, yesterday morning, while husking corn, by Walter Denault; jr., Thomas Berney; of Delta; and Jesse Delong.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

DELTA, Ont., Oct. 8.—A shooting affray occurred on Wednesday night, about 12 o'clock, three miles from Delta, where lived an old lady named Day. For some cause or other threats were made that she would be turned out of doors if she did not leave. The deceased, Burton Carr, and his wife, the daughter of Mrs. Day, hearing of the threats, went to stay with her to protect her if necessary. About 11 o'clock three masked men with guns went to the house, tore down the doors, door frames, windows and window frames, threw everything out of the house and drove the inmates out. Deceased said they had no business there and would be sorry for it. Mrs. Carr tore the mask off Daniel Carle's face. He drew his gun and said he would blow her brains out. She grabbed the muzzle of the gun and when her husband rushed to assist her, Carle fired, shooting Carr. The ball entered his right cheek close to his mouth and went out at the back of his head, killing him instantly. The guns used were taken from an armory close by which they broke into. Two of the offenders have been arrested, but Daniel Carle, who did the shooting, is uncaptured.

NORWOOD.

A CALF AFFECTED WITH HYDROPHOBIA.—The Register says that Mr. Matthew Sedgwick, of Dummer, has a year old calf which he firmly believes died a victim of hydrophobia. On driving it to the creek, which runs through his farm, the other morning, the animal on seeing the water appeared to become mad, frothed at the mouth and ran and tumbled violently around the field, showing all the symptoms of hydrophobia. Mr. Sedgwick secured his rifle and after firing four shots succeeded killing the frantic animal. He believes it was bitten by a mad dog that was seen in the neighborhood a few days previously.

VALUABLE HORSE KILLED.—Mr. Thomas Star, of this village, had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse on Thursday last. The animal attempted to jump over a picket fence and in doing so sustained injuries which necessiated its being shot. Mr. Starr estimates his loss at over $100.

CAMPBELLFORD.

STOPPED AGAIN.—The Herald of Oct. 7th says: Another stop was made in the regular movement of the mills, this week, on account of the lowness of the water. On Tuesday morning the stop-logs at the slide were lifted, and the water was run off, making the river lower than it ever was before. A gang of men was then set to work to lay new plank along the coffer-dam, and deposit gravel at the bottom to prevent a leakage of water. The repairs at Hastings are completed, and the Trent will now spread out to its former size.

A FERTILE FIELD FOR FROGS.—We are informed that three well-known frog-catchers one night last week caught sixteen hundred frogs in one night, on the Trent river. The entire number weighed nearly 300 pounds. One barrel of this class of meat was shipped at the station here for the American shores, on Friday last. The price lately dropped to 30 cents per pound.

KINMOUNT.

RAILWAY.—The Bobcaygeon Independent says Mr. Pusey is pushing forward his railway with great vigor. There are nearly one hundred men at work on the line, and it is expected it will be finished from the termination of the Miles branch to Irondale by the commencement of winter. I am happy to say that the lengthy negotiations between Mr. Pusey has obtained all the powers he desired. The new line will have a very large amount of traffic the moment it is completed, quantities of forest produce being ready for shipment. As soon as the exportation of iron ore commences the traffic of the main line of the Victoria branch will be so considerably increased that a second train will be necessary. This will ensure a more efficent train service on the line and will be of immense convenience to the whole district.

Important Milling Project.

GRAND FORKS, Dak., Oct. 8.—A representative of the Syndicate of the Detroit, Buffalo, Rochester and Scotch millers arrived here yesterday. He said: "The stockholders of the organization are actual millers. We propose to buy up all the genuine No. 1 hard wheat raised in the Red River Valley, not to speculate with, but to grind in our mills. This wheat is worth 10 to 15 cents more per bushel for actual grinding purposes than any other wheat raised. Having resorted to every known measure to get this wheat in its unadulterated purity, and, having failed, we now propose to come into the market and buy in person."

The La Mascotte Disaster.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8.—Three deaths occurred yesterday among those injured in the La Mascotte disaster, making the total number thirty. The Coroner's jury returned a verdict exonerating the officers of the Mascotte from all blame, and severely censuring Captain E. Brough, of the Eagle, for his treatment of the survivors, and for not attempting to run the burning boat ashore, and recommedding that his license be revoked.

Mail Robber Found Guilty.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 8.—Garnett, the Prince Albert mail robber, was found guilty at Regina yesterday, and sentenced to fourteen years' imprisonment in the Stony Mountain penitentiary.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from proprietary medicines, no doubt has largely benefitted the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the German Syrup for cough and lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. OTONABEE INFELICE.

Where is the promise of the years
Once written on my brow,
Ere errors, agonies and fears
Brought with them all that speaks in tears,
Ere I had sunk beneath my peers?
Where sleeps that promise now?

Naught lingers to redeem those hours,
Still, still to memory sweet;
The flowers that bloom to sunny bowers
Are withered all, and evil towers
Supreme above her sister powers
Of sorrow and deceit.

I look along the columned years,
And see life's riven fane
Just where it fell, amid the jeers
Of scorned lips, whose mocking sneers
Forever hiss within mine ears,
To break the sleep of pain.

I can but own my life is vain—
A desert void of peace;
I missed the goal I sought to gain,
I missed the measure of the strain
That lulls fame's fever on the brain,
And bids earth's tumult cease.

Myself! alas! for theme so poor—
A theme but rich in fear;
I stand a wreck on error's shore,
A spectre hot within the door,
A housebed shadow evermore,
An exile lingering here.

FORCED APART.

BY W. CLARK RUSSELL.

Author of the "Wreck of the Grosvenor," "A Sailor's Sweetheart," Etc.

"Show her in!" he exclaimed, astounded, and rooted himself against the table, confounded by this utterly unexpected and entirely new condition of the trouble that had come upon him.

The strange, pale beauty of Jenny's face, and the tint of pride, and the sorrowful dignity in her manner which were there through her hard and violent effort after courage, made the old man stare at her with unaffected surprise. Then, with an elaborate old-fashioned bow, he saluted her, and coming round the table, placed a chair. She addressed him at once in a sweet, plaintive voice, fixing her sad eyes on him.

"I have to beg your pardon for calling on you, but I am seeking my husband, whose home is here. They tell me he is gone; but I cannot believe that he would have left me without sending me a message; and, in my sorrow, whom should I come to but my husband's father!—though indeed, indeed, nothing but my misery would have made me intrude upon you."

"No intrusion, Miss — Miss Strangfield—at least, ahem! I am so much taken by surprise, madam, so little qualified at this moment to—to——"

The old gentleman smothered his incoherence with another bow, and, pulling out his snuffbox, looked shyly and frowningly upon the floor.

"It should have been Cuthbert's duty to tell you we are married. I knew he had not done so, for last night he was to have seen father and broken the news to him; but he did not come, and this morning they say he is gone. Oh, Dr. Shaw! can you tell me where he is? Do you know? Have pity on me, sir! Without him I am very, very lonely; and if he does not bear witness to what I say I—I——"

The poor girl looks down, biting her lip to subdue her tears, lest the sight of them should anger the old gentleman.

"I positively assure you that I am as ignorant of his whereabouts as yourself," he replied hastily, that she might not labor under a wrong impression one moment longer than he could help. "His ungrateful conduct has wounded me to the heart. All last night I sat up waiting for him, not doubting that he would return. But—may I ask you if you are aware that your father has just left me?"

She shook her head.

"He and I have been discussing the subject, and I can only trust," continued the doctor, "that, to my son's unnatural conduct to his father, he has not added a deeper, a more unpardonable, an inexpiable offense."

"I am truly his wife, sir."

"Truly! Pray forgive me; I may lay rough fingers on a wound my heart would choose they should touch tenderly. But let me ask you, when were you married to my son!" said the doctor, forcing his voice into a tone of suave composure; for emotion could not be permitted to qualify his dear delight in asserting his elegance and breeding.

"Three weeks ago," replied Jenny anxiously, with her heart beating painfully, for she feared the next question.

"He was in London three weeks ago. He went for a little holiday, as at that time I suspected his depression, or absent fits were owing to the monotony of our scholastic disciplina. Were you in London then?"

"No, sir; I was at Sydenham stopping with my aunt Rachel. I met Cuthbert, by appointment, on a Wednesday morning at the bottom of the hill on the road to Dulwich, and there we took the coach that passed and afterward, when we reached London, he put me into a hackney coach and we drove to a church, where we were married."

The doctor applied a pocket handkerchief to his forehead.

"A strange rascal!" he muttered to himself, "I had never given him credit for so much duplicity." And then he sighed and looked through the window and, recollecting himself, forced his voice into suavity once more and said:

"I represented to your father that nothing could be easier than to prove your marriage. If, as I do not doubt," (with a bland wave of the hand) "you are my son's wife, I—I scarcely know whether there be cause to offer you my congratulations. Since he has played his father a vile trick there is nothing to hinder him from deceiving you. But each to his kind; you to your father, to whom you are accountable, and my son to me—when he chooses to return."

His whole manner had changed with these words, and he addressed her with an icy hauteur of gaze.

Jenny looked at him fixedly for some moments, with a wonderful gaze of mingled consternation and disdain, and rose.

"I did not come here in expectation of finding sympathy or kindness," she exclaimed, with a bitterness that took a keener acidulation from the very beauty that should have failed to warrant it. "You know whose daughter I am; and what you think of my father Cuthbert has often told me. I have called to know if you can give me tidings of my husband. Doubt my honor as you please, sir; but in God's name, answer me my question."

"I have answered that question," he replied.

"Many of the elder boys of the school and several of the men were dispatched by me this morning to search the shore and the neighborhood, and likewise are inquiries still being made in places beyond Greystone. If I obtain information, be sure that I shall cause it speedily to be conveyed to you. Should he ever return," he continued, in slightly depressed tones, "this trouble he has brought upon you is an account to be settled between him and me, with an adjusting he will not relish."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Possesses the greatest possible power to heal and control affections of the throat and lungs, with absolute safety for children or adults. The experience of years has proven it to be of inestimable value as a household medicine, and for professional use. Thousands of physicians and families testify to its great worth. Jas. E. Moling, Hilliard, Ohio, writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for twelve years, and have found that, as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, or Sore Throats, it

Is Unequaled.

J. I. Miller, editor of the "Lutheran Home," Luray, Va., writes: "I advertise nothing that I do not know to be good. I was saved from the grave, I am sure, by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and have recommended it to others with the happiest results." L. J. Addison, M. D., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have never found, in thirty-five years of continuous study and practice in medicine, any preparation of so great value as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, for treatment of diseases of the throat and lungs; and I constantly recommend it to my patients. It not only breaks up colds and cures severe coughs, but is effective in relieving the most serious bronchial and pulmonary affections."

John J. Uhlman, Brooklyn, N.S., writes: "Twelve years ago, I was afflicted with a severe bronchial trouble, pronounced by a skilful physician to be very dangerous, and liable to terminate in Pneumonia. After using one bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I found great relief, and an occasional use of it since that time has, I think, extended my life ten years at least." Mrs. V. M. Thebaud, Montreal, Canada, writes: "Last spring my daughter was attacked by membraneous croup, or diphtheria. The doctor prescribed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which cured her of the diphtheria. Being still very weak and sick, she began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which restored her to vigorous health."

Millions In It.

Mark Twain's "Golden Age, or There's Millions in it," was produced by the Baird Company at Bradburn's opera house on Friday night. Col. Mulberry Seller's found a rollicking representative in Robt. H. Baird. His enthusiasm in the various and varied speculations carried off the audience in uncontrollable laughter. Miss Georgie Gardner was quite true to her part—Laura Hawkins. The other characters were effectually taken. To-night the humurous play "Uncle Josh" will be presented.

The Burk's Falls Arrow of Oct. 1st says: "Mr. Percy Strickland, of Lakefield, accompanied by Mr. Sol. Barrett, passed through Burk's Falls this week on their way to Paxton township to select timber limits. They represent R. & G. Strickland, who intend cutting and shipping at Burk's Falls."

A Heavy Colt.

Mr. Robert Mahood, of Smith, had a two year old colt owned by him weighed on the market scales on Friday. It weighed 1,701 pounds.

Peterboro' Institute at the University.

Mr. Robert Knowles, who for the last 12 months has been a pupil of our Institute, but who was unluckily seized with illness during the July matriculation examination did not at the time take the high place that was looked for from him. On entering on his college work, however, at the first of last month Mr. Knowles' standing in Latin and Greek classics was found to be such that he was at once promoted to the senior classes amongst students of second and third years. This is the first time since the foundation of the University that such a position has been granted to a student. Mr. Knowles attributes his success to the thorough training he received from Dr. Tassie—one, moreover, which he got during over hours.

Markets.

From what a contemporary says it appears that the Lindsay market is cultivating the sedate airs of a respectable grave yard. The Lindsay Post comes out this week with a leading article on the question. It says:—"The plain truth is that the Lindsay market is one of the poorest in the district, instead of one of the best. Our merchants are complaining, and if a remedy is not found the consequences will be serious to general business," and then it concludes with, "but what to do and how to do it is a problem." In its market column it gives the buyers a drubbing and then demands an explanation why higher prices are not paid. It casts a hungry look at the tempting prices paid in Peterborough. The Lindsay Town Council seem to think that a new grist mill would help the market, a meeting having been called mainly at the expense of the town to discuss that question; but the Post thinks that if there is anything in the project it should pay its own way from the start.

SIR JOHN AND THE WORKINGMAN.

Important Meeting and Addresses at the Dominion Capital.

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—Sir John Macdonald was escorted by a torchlight procession from his residence, Earncliffe, to attend the Conservative demonstration to-night in the Opera house. There was a large attendance. The meeting was convened under the auspices of the Conservative Workingmen's Association and the Club Cercle la Fontaine, a French Conservative institution in the city. Thomas Stewart, President of the Workingmen's Association, occupied the chair, and after presenting Lady Macdonald and another lady who occupied a private box, with bouquets, introduced Sir John Macdonald.

The PREMIER dealt principally with what he and the Conservatives had accomplished in behalf of the working people. He told the story of the arrest of printers by the then proprietor of the Globe, and how he (Sir John) procured the men their freedom. The Conservative government also did away as far as possible with bringing convict labor into competition with the laborers of the country, and last session passed a measure prohibiting the importation of the product of convict labor from the United States. In the interests of workingmen the Government also put a tax of $50 on the Chinese, and now they were to appoint in a few days a royal commission to organize a bureau of labor and statistics. For all these things, and particularly for the Conservative party carrying our pledges made at the polls, they should be retained in power.

Mr. Meredith, after receiving addresses from the Conservative Workingman's Association and the cercle la Fontaine, made a spirited speech. He accused Mowat of being more guilty than Sir John as regards gerrymandering constituencies, and said that he sympathized with Quebec and the great efforts of their missionaries in the cause of religion. He blamed the Liberal party for trying to climb into power over the Riel cry.

Sir Hector Langevin complained of the interference of Ontario as to the tithes paid by the Roman Catholics in Quebec, which did not in any way affect the Protestants.

Mr. Costigan and Mr. Mackintosh having also addressed the meeting it was brought to a close.

A New Bishop.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 8.—The Rev. Alfred A. Curtis, of the Catholic Cathedral has arrived from Rome with a papal edict making him bishop of Wilmington.

A Deadly Disease.

WABASH, Ind., Oct. 7.—In some places in this vicinity hog cholera, which is ravaging the swine, also attacks human beings. There is much alarm over the matter.

THE COLOR LINE.

Protest Against a Colored Delegate to the Knights of Labor Convention.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 7.—The color line as drawn by Virginian society, and the difficulty it has created owing to the action of the Knights of Labor from New York insisting that the negro delegate in their body shall be accorded equal rights in all public places, has served to draw all eyes from the main business of the convention to the new phase of affairs. Richmond society is indignant. They were prepared to welcome the Knights of Labor as a body, but to be asked to sit down on equal terms in a theatre or other public place with one of an inferior race is something they will not submit to. They will resist any such invasion of the laws of nature as they understand such laws, even by force of arms, and last night were prepared to do so at one theatre. The chief of police and a large force of specials were posted to prevent the entrance of the New York delegates if they were accompanied by the obnoxious colored delegates, and outside a great crowd had assembled, fully armed, to aid the officers of the law in breaking the law of the United States which guarantees the colored man all the rights and privileges as a citizen enjoyed by a white man. The excitement in the city was tremendous, but as the New Yorkers, with their colored associate, did not appear, the feeling had somewhat subsided by midnight, and there is little or no trouble this morning of the upheaval which shook society to its centre last night. Farrell, the colored delegate, had a lengthy interview last night with Mr. Powderly, and it is believed he will not again interfere with those cherished principles of Virginian society which ostracize the negro from such privileges as he is able and willing to pay for, but which are distasteful to a certain element of the white population of Richmond. Though Mr. Powderly may be able to keep Farrell and his associates from committing overt acts against the blue blood and tone of the Viginian metropolis, society will not feel secure until the convention adjourns.

MINING ON LAKE SUPERIOR.

Mineral Wealth to be Developed by British Capalists.

HOUGHTON, Mich., Oct. 5.—A party of prominent English capitalists, among whom are Mr. Alex. McEwen and his three sons, Messrs. G. A. Thompson, A. J. Duffield and Thomas A. Keeler, arrived last evening on their way to meet Sir A. T. Galt and a number of other British capalists and mining experts of Port Arthur, Ont. The object of their visit it to open the old Silver Islet mines and make arrangements for a through exploration and development of the silver and gold mining districts of the North shore of Lake Superior.

Harry Stanwood Dead.

About two weeks ago Harry Stanwood, at one time a well known negro minstrel performer, died on his father-in-law's farm near Port Hope, and was buried in his native town of Cobourg. For two years past he had lived in Hamilton with his wife, and supported himself by giving lessons on the banjo. A year ago he had a paralytic [illegible] Stanwood was his professional name and the one by which he has been known for many years, but his real name was Stevens and he belonged to a family of musicians living in Cobourg. Years ago he was one of the most popular of minstrel performers. He was very versatile, but excelled as a banjoist, and was at one time the highest salaried banjo specialist travelling. Early in his life he was somewhat of a Bohemian in his habits, but of late years he has been a steady church-going citizen.—Hamilton Spectator.

Will Stand by the Old Name.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

The Verdict of the Jury—The Arrest of Daniel Carle at Morristown.

DELTA, Oct. 9.—The jury in the Carr shooting case found Richard H. Daniel and Herbert C. Carle guilty of murder. The prisoners are now in Brockville goal. They will be tried at the assizes on Oct. 19th. Richard Carle when interrogated by coroner Vaux as to making a statement, said: "When the rifle was fired my brother fell. Elfrida Carr drew the rifle out of his hand and in drawing it it went off." This is admission enough that the Carles were the men who were masked. The men are said to be respectable farmers. Officer Young, of the Brockville police force, who happened to be in Morristown during the afternoon, saw Daniel Carle, and acting upon his advice constable Carr arrested him. After some parleying he consented to return and was lodged in gaol in Brockville.

The body of the murdered man lay in the road untouched from about nine o'clock on Wednesday night untill ten o'clock on Thursday morning. The house was also wrecked and the yard filled with bedding, broken chairs, crockery, etc. The supposition among the neighbors is that Richard Carle, being at one time sergeant of No. 3 company, 41st battalion, having a duplicate key of the armory, which has since been found, took the volunteer equipments, and after fitting his brother's out in uniforms, which were turned inside out, started on the raid. Many of the neighbors also blame Stevens, who owned the house. He is an uncle of the Carle boys, and is reported to have offered $10 in cash and a gallon of whiskey to have Mrs. Day put out.

About $14,000 Stolen.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Expert burglars broke open a large safe in the rooms of the Ashland avenue building and loan association, at west Twelfth street, some time yesterday morning, and took money, limited states bonds, city bonds, and valuable papers to the amount of about $14,000. The building association held a meeting on Tuesday evening, and Bruno H. Goll, and one of the proprietors of the drug store on the first floor of the building collected $1,723.24 from the members. The money was in gold, currency, and silver. He placed the amount in the safe about 10 o'clock, just before the meeting adjourned, along with $3,000 in United States Government bonds and papers, consisting of mortgages, abstracts, etc., to the amount of $10,000. The bonds and papers were the property of Mr. Goll. Mr. F. W. E. Henkel, Mr. Goll's partner, also had $1,100 in the city bonds and a number of valuable abstracts in the safe.

Heavy Defalcation.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 9.—Josiah Carter, described as an "easy, kind-hearted and careless, but estimable man," has been town treasurer of Pittefield for over twenty years. That town was thrown into great excitement last evening when, after an all-day session of the selectmen, Carter was before Judge Tucker. It is stated a deficiency of $90,000 exists, but nothing is definitely known. Carter had a private hearing. He is seventy years old.

THE MISSING ANCHORIA.

No News heard of the Steamer — Still Confident of her Safety.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The Morning Journal's Glasgow special says:—"The New York rumor in reference to the desertion of the Anchoria's engineers and firemen on account of the bad condition of the boiler is stated by the Anchor Line officials to be incorrect. It probably arises from the fact of a few stokers leaving her just before sailing, necessitating the hurred hiring of substitutes. Their reasons for leaving are not stated. The admission of even so much foundation for the story have startled all who have learned it. It is learned, however, after a searching enquiry, that the steamer's boilers were not in a good condition during her last voyage to this port. The owners still express confidence in the vessel's safety. Up to this time no news has been heard of her. Public interest in her safety is increasing all through England and Scotland."

STARTLING ANARCHIST PLOT.

Discovery of a Plot to Blow up Vienna and to Assassinate the Emperor.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Chronicle's Paris correspondent says he has just heard from Vienna the details of a startling Anarchist plot to destroy Vienna and assassinate the Emperor Francis Joseph. The conspirators, whose plans were fustrated by the authorities, had intended to carry out the plot on Oct. 4th. Various timber stores were to be set on fire throughout the city. During the confusion the public buildings were to be blown up with dynamite. The police siezed immense quantities of bombs and other explosives in different parts of the city especially near the Imperial Palace at Schonbrunn and beneath the bridge leading to the Palace, which the Emperor crosses daily. A large number of foreigners and Austrians were arrested. The ringleaders escaped to Germany. In consequence of the stringent anti-socialist laws, the news of the discovery of the plot did not leak out for several days.

THE MISSING ANCHORIA.

Seventy Miles off Coast with a Broken Shaft—All Well.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—A dispatch from St Johns, Nfld., states that the steamer Anchoria is seventy miles off shore, with a broken shaft. News from the Anchoria was brought in by a boat which left the steamer on Friday and arrived at port this afternoon. The steamer Miranda has been dispatched to the Anchoria's assistance. It is probable that further news will be received by an early hour to-morrow morning.

BOSTON, Oct. 10.—despatch from St. John's Nfld., says: "The missing steamship Anchoria, with her main shaft broken, lies under canvas about 70 miles off Cape Spear, bearing east-south-east. The passengers and crew are all well. A life boat, under command of the Anchoria's first officer, arrived here at noon, announcing the disaster."

Eight of the crew of the Anchoria were in the life boat, which arrived here this afternoon. The steamer Miranda left at 6. p. m. in search of the Anchoria, and is expected to arrive back to-morrow afternoon.

THE SCOTT ACT.

The Order in Council Disposing of the Fines Collected.

The Canada Gazette of October 9th contains the following Order in Council:—

"Whereas it is provided by the 2nd section of the Act 49 Vic., chap. 48, intituled "An Act respecting the application of certain Fines and Forfeitures," that the Governor in Council may, from time to time, direct that any fine, penalty or forfeiture or any portion thereof, which would otherwise belong to the Crown for the public uses of Canada, be paid to any provincial, municipal or local authority which wholly or in part bears the expensives of administrating the law under which such fine, penalty or forfeiture is imposed, or that the same be applied in any other manner deemed best adapted to attain the objects of such law and to secure its due administration,—

"His Excellency in Council, on the recommendation of the Minister of Justice, and pursuant to the provisions above recited, has been pleased to order and it is hereby ordered that all fines, penalties or forfeitures recovered or enforced under the "Canada Temperance Act, 1878," and amendments thereto, within any city or county, which has adopted the said Act, which would otherwise belong to the Crown for the public uses of Canada, be paid to the Treasurer of the city or county, as the case may be, for the purposes of the Act."

MURDEROUS ITALIANS.

Furious Attack on a C. P. R. Contractor by a Gang of Discharged Labourers.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—There are a large number of Italian labourers employed in the construction of the Canadian Pacific short line between the Caughnawaga Indian reserve and St. Johns. On Tuesday last a portion of the men were about to be discharged, as they had finished the part of the work they were employed on. They were told by the contractor they would have to wait for their wages to the regular pay day on the 15th inst. They were dissatisfied at having to remain out of work, and next morning, armed with knives and revolvers, they went in a body and demanded their wages from Mr Dunn, the contractor. He tried to put them off, but they refused to leave and followed him about. This caused excitement, and one of the Italians rushed at him with a club, whereupon Mr. Dunn's clerk, Ladebouche, seeing the danger, rushed between them. Another Italian then attempted to cut Ladebouche's throat with a razor, but missing his aim cut the man's cheek open from the eye downwards, making a gash about two inches wide. The foreman of the Italians then drew a revolver and covered Mr. Dunn, who called upon his men to get a revolver and shoot. The assailant of Ladebouche in the meantime had fled. The man who pointed the revolver was arrested and a preliminary examination commenced by the magistrate of the district.

The second heat resulted rather unsatisfactorily. The starters were Ten Eyck, Teemer and Goodwin. Ten Eyck had six seconds start and Goodwin fifteen seconds, while Teemer started from the scratch. During the race Teemer and Goodwin fouled. The judge awarded the race to Ten Eyck.

HAMILTON, Oct. 9.—Yesterday as Frank Webber, a young man 30 years of age, son of John Webber of the 12th concession of East Zorra, was helping a neighbor, W. Harwood, to thresh, he fell into the cylinder of the machine when at full speed, causing almost instant death.

"Well, well—the world must turn upon its axis
And all mankind turn with it, heads or tails
And live and die, make love and pay our taxes,"

is the way Byron looks at it; but "it is not all of life to live." A healthy life is the only one "worth living for," and that depends on the liver. If the liver is not in good working order, pimples, blotches, skin disease, scrofula, cattarrh, and a long list of dangerous diseases result. MANHOOD SUFFRAGE.

In a recent public speech Mr. Blake put forth the pretence that he was an old advocate of manhood suffrage, and taunted the Mail with being a new convert to the doctrine. This is a specimen of the deceptive and dishonest special pleading to which Mr. Blake is addicted, showing that he cannot rise to statesmanship from the chicanery of a legal pettifogger. A lawyer of his eminence might at least rise above the level of a petty court practitioner.

To establish the antiquity of his own advocacy of manhood suffrage, Mr. Blake quoted from a public speech of his own a few months ago, in which he argued for the continued use of the Provincial franchises for the Dominion elections, and only suggested manhood suffrage as an alternative, if against his opinion a general Dominion franchise should be adopted. Now instead of this theoretical advocacy of an imaginary franchise which he does not want, Mr. Blake if sincere might forward his views in a very practical manner. He is on such intimate and friendly political terms with Mr. Mowat that they have been stumping the country together, to advocate jointly their common political views. With such relations between them, why could not Mr. Blake urge upon Mr. Mowat to grant manhood suffrage to Ontario instead of voting down the resolution in favor of it? For in truth manhood suffrage is not, as Mr. Blake endeavored to imply, a new idea with Conservatives. Mr. Meredith, the leader of the Conservative party in Ontario, has supported in the House and many Conservative journals advocated manhood suffrage for this Province, but Mr. Mowat and his friends peremptorily refused it. By claiming that Mr. Mowat's franchise should rule the Dominion elections in this Province, Mr. Blake practically chimes in with Mr. Mowat's cry of "no manhood suffrage." We cannot agree with Mr. Mowat and Mr. Blake in this opinion. We believe that the people of Ontario are as a body fit for the exercise of the franchise, we believe in the time being ripe for manhood suffrage in this Province, and do not sympathise with the self-styled Reformers' dread of the popular voice.

Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues were in a somewhat different position. In carrying out the policy laid down by the constitution of Canada of a franchise for the Dominion, the general situation had to be considered. Ontario, by a majority of its Provincial representatives (though, as we believe, not of its electors or people) had just pronounced against manhood suffrage. The representatives of the second Province in rank seemed almost unanimously opposed to such a wholesale extension of the electorate, and many members from other Provinces were equally timid. It is not surprising then that it was considered premature to give every man a vote, so for the present the line was drawn at a very large extension of the franchise with machinery for securing fair voters' lists.

To the Conservatives then the Dominion is indebted for the very large extension of the franchise that has been adopted. To the Conservatives Ontario is indebted to for the very large extension of the franchise forced, after strong resistence on his part, upon Mr. Mowat by the strong advocacy of such a step by Mr. Meredith and his friends in the Provincial Legislature, and by the introduction of a wide franchise measure by Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues in the Canadian Parliament.

We would not, however, stop here. We hold that the people of Ontario, as a body, are already fit for manhood suffrage, and should have it granted at once. We would gladly see the same system adopted throughout the Dominion as soon as it seems prudent under the more complicated conditions to grant this extension of the already greatly widened franchise.

Hon. Mr. Mowat has resolved to take the bull by the horns and will put the Ontario Factory Act into force after 1st December.—Brockville Recorder.

Which shows that the Recorder was wrong when it argued that Mr. Mowat could not put the Act in force unless the Dominion Government first contested its validity, and also shows that Mr. Mowat had no legitimate excuse for his tricky course in holding it back. Mr. Mowat has one good point—which, however, is not largely developed—of learning something from the Conservatives.

A Miraculous Escape.

Ottawa, Oct. 8.—The passengers who came into the city from Aylmer, yesterday morning, had a very narrow escape from a serious, if not fatal, accident. The Montreal freight train had left the union station on time, but in going over the long iron bridge spanning the Ottawa river, one of the connecting pins broke, leaving four cars and a van on the bridge. The brakes were applied, but proved useless, and the remaining cars dashed on through the cut, whistling all the time to warn the approaching train from Aylmer of their danger. At the junction of the Aylmer carriage road, where the Montreal train crosses, the Aylmer line crosses, the Aylmer line joins at an angle of forty-five degrees, and it was at this point that the engine of the Montreal train was stopped, when within two feet of the passenger car of the Alymer train, which at the time was filled with passengers. The escape was most miraculous.

The live stock trade in Montreal this year has been so far the largest on record. A total of 253,000 animals have been received at Point St. Charles up to Sept. 1st, 170,000 more than the corresponding period last year.

CAMPED IN THE ROCKIES.

Trip to a Mine and Hunting for Crystals—Sir John Passes the Camp.

Rogers Pass, Rocky Mts., Sept. 20.

Dear Review,—Once more I take pleasure in dropping a few lines to you. I am happy to say that all the boys from our own town are alive yet, and if any of them do happen to take sick they will have no trouble in getting a pass to their homes. I saw a piece in the Review describing Stoney Lake and the sportsmen who are enjoying themselves there, and I was just thinking that the same description, with a little variation, would answer for our camp very well. We are all rough and reckless looking, and the sight of a stand up collar and a white shirt makes us feel uneasy. It will go against the grain to don them again after going so long with our shirts turned down in front. The work here is going on fast now and there is some talk about getting through by the 1st of November, but we can't be certain about it. The weather here is getting cold, and we have to wear our mits for a while every morning. We had a little snow and hail on the 16th, but it didn't whiten the ground, although every time we have rain in the valley the snow creeps lower down the mountains, and they have been covered several times almost to the base, but it melts off again as soon as the sun comes out, except in places where it has lain all summer. Yesterday morning ten of us got up early and took a lorry for the tunnels ten miles west of our camp. The lorry is just a frame set on four wheels, so we put two planks across and all got on board. We had two valises full of grub and were well prepared for a day's tramp. The road to the tunnels is all down grade and we made the ten miles in about half an hour. We went so fast that the cold morning air chilled us through, and we were so stiff when we got there that we could hardly lift the car off the track. But the scene soon changed. We went down the dump, crossed the valley and the river on a corduroy bridge and made up the mountain at the other side at a good pace. When we got up to the first level place we were all warm enough to rest and take breakfast. Breakfast over we started again up the mountain for the Siver mines. The path we took was zig-zag—just something like a winding stair, only it seemed to us to be an everlasting one and very few landings on it. We were very tired when we go to where the miners were camped and then we were only half way to the mines. We rested there, had a chat and then started to climb again. We reached the mines about noon and got some good specimens of ore. Then we started up further in search of crystals, but got sick of contract and turned back. We came down until we struck a stream, slaked our thirst and had some lunch, then we climbed up to a ledge still in search of crystals. This time we were not disappointed. Some of the boys were very lucky and got crystals well worth looking at. We all got our share of them and, being well satisfied with our day's tramp, started back for the car. Going down was just about as hard as going up, and when we got back to the track our knees were all in a very shaky condition. We threw ourselves down on some timber and all had a good sleep for about an hour. When we got up we found ourselves stiff and sore and hardly able to lift the car onto the track. Then just think what was ahead of us! Ten miles to push that old car up grade and us hardly able to drag our legs after us. But fortune favoured us, for when we got to the siding at Rosses Peak a train overtook us. We tied our car behind her with a rope, and got over the last four miles easier than we expected. When we reached camp the boys had a hearty laugh at us, and no wonder. Our hands and faces were blacker than our boots, for they haven't seen blacking since we left home. Just think what a man would look like who has been roughing it for nearly five months, never shaved or hair cut and badly sunburned, dressed with long boots and cowboy hat, coat hung over his shoulder, sleeves rolled up, a revolver and a knife stuck in his belt, and you have our picture. But never mind; if we are rough-looking we are clean, healthy and well fed, and we will all get home by and by. Then if you could see our camp as I see it now, you would not see many downhearted boys among us. I am sitting tailor fashion in my bunk, with a board on my knees, scratching away with an old pen point tied to a stick. Some of the boys are reading papers and others reading books; one man telling stories and two or three laughing at him until the tears stream down their cheeks; then across the room there are three fellows learning to sing a song, and I must say they are getting it down fine; some are sewing on buttons, some paring their corns and others darning their socks. I have given up darning. I dump them every time, that is when the heel gets worn out, wash them and turn them upside down, wear them out all around and then put on another pair. It is now nine o'clock and some of the boys are snoring already, I am getting sleepy, too, so I think I shall say good night and turn in too.

Sept. 26th.—Well, I guess it is about time for winding up this letter. It has been laying around the bunk for a week and if I don't soon ship it it will get stale, or may go to waste. When Sir John A. Macdonald passed through here the men all got on top of the crib work and gave him a hearty cheer. Sir John wore a white cowboy hat something like our own and he waved it vigorously as he passed us. He rode on the platform at the back of the train. Lady Macdonald and another lady had seats on the pilot in front of the engine so all three had a good chance to view the country. When they were coming back both Sir John and her Ladyship sat on back of the train and they bid us adieu in the same friendly manner that they bid us good day in. Their passage through here woke the boys up a little and we had politics hot and heavy every night for about two weeks, a kind of desert after supper like. Yesterday morning we wakened up to find the ground covered with snow and when we got outside the picture that met our gaze was well worth looking at. On the other side of the valley where the fire had run through the trees the limbs were covered with snow and the black stumps ran up the centre, giving them a peculiar and picturesque appearance. Then there are three open spaces kept clear by the winter snowslides, those are thickly overgrown with alder bushes about 6ft high, to these bushes the snow didn't stick and the shiny green belts ran up between the black and white trees until they reached the snow capped rocks above, adding much to the beauty and strangeness of the scene. The snow made it uncomfortable for us. We had to clean it off the timber before we could do anything, then it started to snow again just after we got to work and came down so thick that we had to get to camp at 11 o'clock and put the rest of the day in the bone. I must say good by now, hoping to see old friends again before Christmas.

Yours as usual,
ROB. SHERLOCK.

An Extraordinary Plot.

New York, Oct. 8.—It is asserted that the existence of a plot to kidnap Mr. Vanderbilt has just been discovered, the scheme having failed through the cowardise of one of the conspirators, who numbered among them several wealthy men and a foreign Count. The intention of the plotters was to bear the stock market and make a fortune; or, in case that plan failed, to make Vanderbilt disgorge a million and a half or do away with him.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from proprietary medicines, no doubt has largely benefitted the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the German Syrup for cough and lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size. d84

BE A MAN.

Steady, brother, do not waver,
Chase despondency away;
Never heed a fool's palaver,
Act a hero's part to-day.

What tho' malice scorn and jeer thee,
Do not sink beneath its ban;
Ne'er let idle nonsense fear thee,
Stand your ground and be a man.

What tho' poverty is pinching,
Ne'er let gloomy thoughts have birth,
But with courage true, unflinching,
Fight the petty cares of earth.

Tho' thy path be clouded over,
Tho' thy life be mixed with gall,
Tho' about thee dangers hover,
Boldly stand and face them all.

Struggle on, nor feel despairing,
Drink of hope's refreshing stream;
Hear the poet's voice declaring—
"Life is not an empty dream."

Free thyself from useless fretting,
While fresh ardour fills your soul,
Onward still, the past forgetting,
Strive to reach a higher goal.

Battle bravely with temptation,
If it chance to bar your way;
Have firm determination
Duty's summons to obey.

Stick to truth, and falter never,
Aye sweet virtue's cause defend,
Wrong must die and sink forever,
Right will triumph in the end.

EXHIBITION.—The Independent says:—The agricultural exhibition was not fortunate in its weather, and the result was not so good as it otherwise might have been. The exhibits show were remarkably good, but the number of exhibits was not so great as they ought to have been. Those who exhibited did well and deserve all praise, but that the number of exhibitors was under forty, is not creditable to the farmers of the neighborhood. Absurd as it may seem for an agricultural fair, the main feature of the show was the ladies' department, which was a marvel of their handicraft. The music of the band enlivened the evening. The young horses were good, the cattle were fine animals, and Mr. Fairbairn showed a good flock of Leicester sheep. The roots were well developed specimens, and there was a few samples of good grain. The work of the judges appears to have given satisfaction.

SOCIAL.—Mr. T. T. Norgate, who for some time has so acceptably assisted the Rev. Mr. Farncomb, being about to take his divinity course at Trinity College, Toronto, the members of Christ Church assembled in Taylor's Hall on Monday night to wish him farewell till Christmas. The arrangements made by Mrs. Minns, Mrs. W Thurston, and others were, as a matter of course, most happily conceived and cleverly executed. The room was prettily decorated, and throughout the evening there was an atmosphere of cosy comfort and genial sociability. Mr. Knight, chanting to be in the village, acted as chairman, and memory's recollections of scenes that were brightest, were agreeably renewed by the musical contributions of several of the ladies. The participants broke bread together over a cup of coffee, and then Miss Bonnell with ease and grace presented Mr. Norgate with a purse, which concealed within its folds over forty symbols of good wishes. Mr. Norgate was very much taken aback, not to say overwhelmed.

ENNISMORE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

WEATHER NOTES.—During the first week of September nothing of note occurred. There were two mornings of white frost, and at 3 p.m. of the 6th and 7th the thermometer stood at 90 deg. in the shade, but on the 9th we had a small thunder storm, and from the 8th to the 20th inclusive we had rain on 19 days, to the depth of 4 6-100th inches. Although not having storms as severe as we had in August, still raining almost daily made it rather disagreeable. We had three thunder storms during the month, with only a small amount of rain on each occasion. We had fog on three mornings, and white frost on three mornings in all. Our first ice was on the 15th, with the the thermometer at the freezing point, leaving the average temperature of the month at 56 23-30 deg. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise respectively, namely:—North-east, 2 days; east, 4 days; south-east, 5 days; south-west, 9 days; south, 4 days; north-west, 3 days; and west, 3 days.

A Manifesto.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Social Democratic Federation has issued a manifesto in which it says:—"The unemployed are certain to experience distress still more severe than that experienced in 1885. Honest workmen and their families are doomed to a hopeless struggle with starvation during the coming winter. The wealthy classes are responsible for awful neglect of the poor. Our rulers could not but fear for themselves if they could see the agony which selfish apathy inflicts upon the producers of wealth." The manifesto continues:—"Show them your despair and their danger. Leave your slums and follow the Lord Mayor's show on November 9, silently and solemnly, in order to convince the rich as they are driven to their banquet, that the most munificent charity on their part can never plaster over the cancer which their mad greed of wealth has planted in the heart of our civilization."

Charleston Again Shaken.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 9.—The indications yesterday all pointed to renewal of the seismic disturbances. Last night the atmosphere was oppressive, and excited considerable alarm. The first shock was felt at 12.35 a. m., and was but slight. At 1.50 there was a sharp and very distinct shock. At 3.40 a. m. there was a third shake, sufficiently sharp to throw down loose bricks from unrepaired walls and shake the plaster from shattered ceilings all over the city. Many persons ran into the streets.

Why is "X" the most unfortunate of letters? Because it is always in a fix, and never out of perplexity.

It is not what we say of ourselves so much as what others say of us that gives us our standing in the world.

Cleanly to a fault.—Master:—"Kate, have you taken leave of your senses? Here I found this oil can on my desk stuck right in the middle of my papers!" Servant:—"Well, really, I didn't know where to put it. It makes so much dirt in the kitchen."

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Abbey's Double Uncle Tom's Cabin Company opened their week's engagement last evening to an overflowing house, standing room not being available after eight o'clock. The larger portion of the audience was composed of ladies and children, who, as usual, cried over the death of Eva. But the comicalities of the two Topseys, and the eccentricities of the two lawyers, Marks Sr. and Jr., brought forth screams of delight The remarkable sagacity exhibited by the trained Russian bloodhounds was a complete surprise, and elicited a perfect storm of applause.—Boston Globe, April 13th.

INDIAN BOYS AND GIRLS

WHAT THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND IS DOING TO EDUCATE THEM.

Homes at Sault St. Marie—Branch Homes to be Established in Ontario, Manitoba and the Northwest.

On Sunday morning at St. Luke's Church 11 o'clock service, the Rev. E. F. Wilson, of Sault St. Marie, preached the sermon. He took for his text Romans XIV, 7:—

"For none of us liveth to himself and no man dieth to himself."

He said that people were not placed in this world to seek their own good alone. Almighty God did not place us here for such a purpose. Christ had commanded his followers to love their neighbors as themselves; to be to each other as brothers and sisters; to live as one family. There was an interdependence existing among Christians—one brother bore the burdens of another, sympathised with him in grief and trouble, consoled him in sorrow, and so fulfilled the law of Christ. It was a beautiful thing to see this manifestation of universal brotherhood at the partaking of the sacrament. Though the person next to you might be a perfect stranger, yet you know him to be a member of the great family. How inconsistent would a Christian life be with the laws by which he is bound if he did not bear a kindly feeling towards his brother ond extend a helping hand to him in his needs and distresses.

Every man's life exercised an influence for good or for ill. Mankind was like an ocean. Whatever agitated one atom was sure to affect the one next and so extend to infinity. So with a good or a bad influence—a careless word dropped, a kind deed done, might do untold evil or untold good. Every man was responsible for the effect of his life as well as for his own deeds. Every act tended either to build up or break down the Christain religion. Each should then see that their lives are formed after the pattern of the Saviour. If such were done each would be a living example to mankind and every act would send out a secret, silent degree of good influence. If our lives be not after Christ's teaching they would be as bad leaven in society.

In conclusion he stated that his special object in coming here was in behalf of the education of the Indian boys and girls of Sault St. Marie and other places. The work in which he was engaged was first organized forty years ago. He and an Indian chief had gone to England for the purpose of raising means to build a school. The result of that visit was the donation of sufficient funds to erect what was called a big teaching wigwam. Only six days after it was finished it was burned. Nevertheless in God's good time another one was built, and now there was a fine home for boys and one for girls as well; also a stone chapel built by the Bishop of Algoma. The support of the boys and girls attending these schools came from voluntary contributions of the Sunday schools throughout Canada. The cost of the maintenance of each child was $75 per annum. There were now 59 boys and 23 girls attending the schools. The pupils were principally Sioux and Objibways, coming from Manitoba and the North-West. The results of Christian teaching in these boys and girls being so encouraging, it was their purpose to establish several branch homes, the boys and girls at Sault St. Marie to form a nucleus for each. They contemplated building four branch homes at the cost of $5,000 each; one in Manitoba, one in Assinaboine, one near Lake St. Clair and one in the neighborhood of Lake Simcoe. Already some money had been subscribed toward the Northwest homes. A perfect stranger to him had sent a check for $1,000 towards building these. It was not his intention to take up collections for the support of this work. He would do now as he had done in the past. He would rely on God to put it into the hearts of his people to give toward it. It was not his work; it was God's work. He believed that God would provide for these schools. If he considered it his own work he knew that he would fail; but when he acknowledged it to be God's work then he knew it would stand. They had now two homes costing each $5,000, and there was no mortgage on either of them. They intended to build a hospital in connection with these homes. If they were to have it he knew that means would be forthcoming; if they were to have the branch homes he knew that God would provide sufficnt to build them.

In the afternoon two Indian boys, one an Objibway and the other a Sioux, attended Sunday school.

Tragedy Behind the Scenes.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 10.—Shortly before the performance was to begin this evening at the Alhambra Theatre, a variety hall, Josie Marcelli, a rather pretty "specialty" woman, was stabbed and instantly killed by Frank Handmyer, who immediately ended his own existence. The victims of the tragedy are said to have been husband and wife. Jealousy was the cause.

FOOTBALL.

The Peterboroughs Defeated by the Torontos.

The draw for the Ontario cup was played between the Toronto and Peterborough football clubs in the P. A. A. A. grounds on Saturday afternoon. The weather was bright and warm. There were not many people present. At 3 o'clock the teams appeared on the field, the Torontos in their veteran looking suits and the Peterboroughs in Association colors.

The following are the names of those who composed the teams:—

TORONTOS.—Back, Cameron; half-backs, Sanders, Bethune, Muntz (Captain); quarter-back, McDonald; forwards, Robertson, Vankoughnet, Smith, Craig, Richardson, Carey, Hume, Cartwright, Auld, Torrance.

PETERBOROUGHS.—Back, Lawford, (Captain); half-backs, Smith, Kirby; quarter-backs, Morris, Brennan, Moore; forwards, Haliday, Smith, Kincaid, Bucke, Beck, Forbes, Hallett, Palmer, Cooper.

Messrs. Boyd and Budden umpired for Toronto and Peterborough respectively. Mr. Max Hamilton acted as Referee.

Peterborough won the toss and chose the western goal. Saunders kicked off for Toronto and the play began. Before three minutes play a rouge was counted against Peterborough. Then succeeded several touchdowns and rouges in favor of Toronto. It was quite plain that Toronto had altogether the best of it, the ball rarely passing centre field, and most of the time being dangerously near the Peterborough goal line. The only points scored by Peterborough during the match was during this half The home team rushed the ball down field to within about thirty yards from the Toronto goal line, where a scrimmage ensued. Morris got it and passed it to Smith, who kicked a goal for Peterborough. The score now stood 30 to 6 in favor of Toronto.

In the second half the Peterboroughs played better than in the first. Time after time the ball was forced almost over the Toronto goal line, but by luck or adroit play by Toronto it never seemed to cross it. During most of the second half the ball was kept on the Peterborough side of the field, and the rouges and touchdowns in favor of Toronto were as frequent as in the first half At the end of the match the score stood 68 to eight.

FLED TO CANADA.

Ruin of a Chicago Packing-House by a Rascal.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—N. M. Neelde, a partner in the well-known Chicago packing-house of J. C. Ferguson & Co., is in Canada. He has issued bogus warehouse receipts aggregating $400,000, and has practically busted his firm. The loss will fall altogether on the banks, $100,000 being on one New York bank. Among the banks which have suffered by Ferguson's failure are the Bank of Montreal, Chicago, and the Bank of British North America.

A banker who is familiar with the facts says the Bank of British North America will suffer to the extent of $75,000. The same banker said there was a great lot of receipts in the hands of Board of Trade capitalists, so that while the loss of the banks is only about $295,000, there will be at least one million on the outside The firm's capital was $200,000. The banks will probably take out no attachments, for the reason that all that was found in the warehouse, where there should half a million dollars worth of property, was 300 bags of salt. The actual amount of the embezzlement cannot be told until a thorough investigation has been made.

RIOTS IN INDIA.

Trouble Between the Hindoos and Mohammedans Increasing.

DELHI, Oct. 10.—The situation which has grown out of religious rioting between Hindoos and Mohammedans is extremely critical. Reinforcements have been sent here from Meerut to help preserve order. The Mohammedans last evening attacked a small Hindoo temple. The Hindoos defended it and a desperate fight ensued, in which the Mohammedans triumphed. The victors besmeared the temple with blood, smashing the idols and destroying the building. Twenty Hindoos were so badly wounded that they had to be removed to hospitals, where they lie in a critical condition. Troops are sustaining order to-day. Serious riots prevaled thorought the districts of Jeypoor and Cattywar. The Bengal Government has declined to interfere with native religious customs by initiating reforms looking towards abolishing infant marriages and enforced widowhood. The Government insist that the question of reform in these matters must for the present be left with the Hindoos themselves.

Another Schooner Seized.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 9.—The Gloucester schooner Marion Grimes, Captain Landry, eleven days on the Georges banks without getting any fish, put into Shelbourn last midnight for shelter. The weather moderated during the morning, and at 6 o'clock Captain Landry hove anchor and proceeded to sea. He was overtaken by a boat's crew from the cutter Terror and detained for reporting at the Customs. The place where he anchored was eight miles from the Custom House. The facts were telegraphed to Ottawa, and this evening instructions were received to formally seize the Marion Grimes and inflicting a $400 fine. Captain Landry says he did not imagine he would have to report unless he was in port twenty-four hours. The Grimes is 81 tons, owned by Edward Morris, of Gloucester, and was bound to the Western banks.

The Chicago Strike.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—On the subject of the strike, P. D. Armour says: "The Chicago packers are unable to compete with Cincinnati or Kansas City people. The Chicago packing house property has greatly depreciated in value. I stand ready to dispose of my Chicago stockyard property at 20 per cent less than cost. I work fourteen hours myself every day, and ten hours daily toil is certainly not a great hardship for my employees. There are plenty of men who are willing to work ten hours each day and take the place of the strikers if they are assured of protection, and this will positively be offered to the fullest extent. I trust the old hands, however, will take proper views of the situation, and reconsider their action, which is certainly ill-advised."

PORT HAWKESBURY, N. S., Oct. 9.—The Government steamer Elert, Lieut. A. R. Gordon, R. N., commander, has just returned from the Hudson Bay and has brought the several parties of observers back, all well. They had one bad case of scurvy on board, but he is much better now. AN ESQUIMAUX MURDER.

The Story Told by a Returned Member of the Hudson Bay Expedition.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 11.—Mr. Shyner of the Hudson Bay expedition staff, tells the story of a novel murder of an Esquimaux at Cape Chudleigh. One of the leading inhabitants known as "Old Wicked" became very unpopular. He aimed to the chieftainship, attempted to monopolize the female portion of his subjects, and was in the habit of flourishing knives in the faces of his rivals when they gently remonstrated against his despotic proceedings. A secret council was held, and it was determined to remove him. This was accordingly done, but in a very cowardly manner. He was shot in the back by an Esquimaux, and finally dispatched by other weapons. The murderer then took possession of his wives, and now supports both them and their families. It is one of the unwritten laws of the Esquimaux that he who takes the life of the bread-winner shall support the families thus deprived of their means of subsistence.

DEATH BEFORE DISHONOUR.

Two Sisters Drown Themselves to Escape Temptation.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Yesterday afternoon the bodies of two girls fastened together by a piece of cord round their waists were fished out of the Thames, and it was at first supposed to be another case of murder to be added to the long list of those known to the police, but which present no clue as to the perpetrators of the deeds of blood. Evidence in this case shows that the girls, who are sisters named Jane and Eliza Taylor, seventeen and nineteen years of age, committed suicide. A slip of paper in the pocket of the elder girl gave their address in a tenement house in the East End, and in searching the apartment that had been occupied by them, a letter was found announcing their intended suicide. The girls formerly managed to subsist by making paper match-boxes, but of late this work failed. The sisters, having sold every spare article of clothing, were reduced to the verge of starvation. While suffering the pangs of hunger, they were tempted to take to a life of shame, "and knowing," the letter says, "hunger is stronger than virtue and that if we live we must yield, we have decided to die." The composition of the letter and the writing would indicate that the girls were better educated than those who are usually found working at the sadly non-remuneratide trade of match-box-making.

Improved Trade in Nova Scotia.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 11.—There is a general improvement in trade in Nova Scotia The prices of nearly all kinds of stocks are advancing. Halifax cotton stock having doubled in value since the annual meeting three months ago. Many mills and factories are now working over time, and one of our leading manufacturing establishments has orders for six months ahead.

The Railway Commission will hold its first meeting in Ottawa on Oct. 14th.

THE PLOT TO BURN VIENNA.

A Most Infamous Conspiracy by Anarchists and Dynamiters

VIENNA, Oct. 11.—The Vienna police have furnished the press with an account of the recently discovered Anarchist plot to burn Vienna. Although many details are obviously suppressed, the plot is shown to have surpassed in extent and diabolical ingenuity any dynamite plot hitherto concocted. Seventeen conspirators were arrested. The examination of the prisoners shows the plot was hatched in and directed from America and London, and was to have been carried out by Viennese anarchists who recently returned from America. The plot was cleverly organized. The conspirators were divided into groups, one of which was detailed to set fire to the town, another to take charge of dynamite operations, another to forge the necessary official documents and to coin money for expenses. The parties were detailed to set fire to Persing, Untermeidling, Hetzendorf, Meidling and Favoriten. The police got wind of the plot and watched until it was almost mature. They receive universal praise for their zeal and circumspection. An Anarchist of Prague gave the first information to the authorities concerning the conspirators. The plotters were mostly Czechs and Germans. They held secret meetings in a tavern at Penzing where the operators were instructed in the use of and manufacture of bombs. The seizures include numerous daggers and bombs, dynamite, fire bottles for firing buildings, printing and forging implements, and a variety of disguises, all of the most ingenious character. Another plan to obtain money was by means of a forged document to frighten old ladies at whose houses the plotters would make a domiciliary visit under the pretence of searching for counterfeit money, when they would seize all good money upon which they could lay their hands. A recent fire in a private house was the result of the experiment with a fire bottle.

JUVENILE SAVAGERY.

A Young Girl Cruelly Murders Three Children Committed to Her Charge.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—A terrible case of juvenile depravity is reported from the neighborhood of Rochelle. A nurse girl named Lise Artus, about fifteen years of age, was employed as a nurse in the family of a farmer named Bartel, and a few days ago was punished severely by her mistress for some misdemeanor. The following day M. and Mme. Bartel left early in the morning for the city, and the girl, taking advantage of their absence, carried out a devilish revenge on the three children—girls of the age of three, seven and nine. The children were found hanging to a beam in the cellar, quite dead, and on the breast of each was a sheet of paper on which the word revanche was written. The nurse girl has disappeared, but the police are confident of finding and arresting her.

PORT HOPE.

DEATH BY DROWNING.—Another of Port Hope's well-known citizens has gone to that bourn from which no traveller ever returns. Joseph Scrivin was the son of an officer in the British Army, born in the city of Dublin, in 1820; spent eight years of his youth in Trinity College, Dublin, where he was educated for the church. He has a brother, Dr. Scrivin, residing at Stevens' Green, Dublin, now. Mr. Scrivin came to Canada some forty years ago, and was a tutor to several families in the vicinity of Rice Lake. For the past twenty-two years he has boarded with Mrs. Gibson, Thomas street. He had been sick for some time past, and Mr. James Sackville, near Bewdley, took him out to his place on Thursday to recruit his health. On Sunday he rose early, it is supposed to come to Port Hope, to attend service with his little church here, and in passing over the mill-dam it is supposed he had slipped and fallen in the sluice-way, a hole six or seven feet deep, where the water falls over the dam. The body was recovered during the day, and Coroner R. A. Corbett notified, but he did not think it necessary to hold an inquest. Mr. Scrivin had not an enemy in the world, he was truly a good man.—Guide.

HASTINGS.

OBITUARY.—Rev. John McCleary, rector of St. George's church, Hastings, Ont., died on Sunday after a short illness. Deceased was 63 years of age, and leaves a wife and six children. He had been rector of St. George's church for the past ten years and was highly respected by all classes of society. The funeral on Monday was largely attended.

BELLEVILLE.

FIRE IN A PRINTING OFFICE.—At about 10 o'clock on Saturday night fire was discovered in the Intelligencer building. The alarm was given and the flames speedily extinguished. The fire was in the press room floor, between the boiler and engine. The damage was about $500, covered by insurance. The Intelligencer came out on Monday, printed on the Ontario press.

After Many Years.

HAMILTON, Oct 9—Forty years ago William Feeney, a brother of Mrs. John McKay, of Bay street north, left Hamilton and went to California to push his fortunes. He wrote occasionally for eight years, and then stopped writing. For 32 years his family did not hear from him nor of him, until one day last week, when he surprised his sister and brother-in-law by quietly walking in upon them and announcing himself. Mr. Feeney has been mining in California and British Columbia all these years, and has amassed a considerable fortune. He will settle here.

Fatal Cave-In.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—The damage to the building of the North Chicago rolling mills company by the cave-in of yesterday will amount to $20,000. Edward Divous was dead when taken out and Michael Hoffman's body is still in the ruins. Of the men rescued three cannot live and one is in a precarious condition. It is feared two more are buried in the debris. Antony Smith, one of the men injured, died this morning.

RESULT THE ELECTIONS.

SOFIA, Oct. 11.—All the members of the Ministry have been elected by immense majorities. The returns thus far received show the election of 400 Ministerialists and 21 Zankovists. A crowd of fully 5,000 met Gen Kaubars upon his arrival at Shumla. The spokesman told him that the people had full confidence in the Government. Afterwards a crowd assembled near a window where Gen. Kaulbers was seated and hooted at him. Twelve Zankovists who were going to pay their respects to the General appealed to the officers to disperse the crowd but they refused to do so.

ARMED SOCIALISTS.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The St. James Gazette says that enthusiastic Socialists declare that thousands of men are regularly drilling in London and they boast that they are able to put 100,000 armed men into the streets. The more moderate Socialists fear that the enthusiasts' sedulous secret drilling is telling dangerously on East End poverty and ruffianism.

DUBLIN, Oct. 11.—The Freeman's Journal describes the alleged Tory Home Rule scheme as a deliberate plan to split the National League organization and minimise the national demand. FOR HOME RULE.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—About two weeks ago, I had published in the columns of your paper a letter asking Mr. J. B. McWilliams, the chairman at the Loyalist meeting, to openly state whether he was a "Home Ruler" or a Loyalist. He has not as yet mustered up sufficient courage to reply and state what side he is really on. The following statement published in the Roman Catholic Tribune, of Toronto, of the 8th inst., clearly shows that the Roman Catholics and Home Rulers consider him their faithful partizan and sympathiser and a Home Ruler of the most prominent kind, notwithstanding his being the Orange County Master This is what the Tribune says: "At Peterborough, those who made the arrangements for the reception of the Ulster Orange delegates, found it impossible to induce any respectable man who is not an Orangeman to take the chair. They at last appealed to the Orange Court Grand Master and he consented out of respect for the Orangemen who had come to represent the brotherhood in Ulster, although he is himself in favor of Home Rule, and he told the deligates this pretty plainly when he took the chair. The Examiner says:" here follows Mr. McWilliams' speech, copied from the Examiner, which has so pleased the Roman Catholics and Home Rulers. Now Mr. Editor, I would not consider Mr. McWilliams' position or opinion on this Home Rule struggle worthy noticing where it not that he paid money into the Gladstone (Home Ruler) fund and afterwards acted as chairman at the Loyalist meeting and there played into the hands of the enemy. Home Rulers think him a grand man and it is a great honor to have the Orange Court Master on their side, but Loyalists of Peterborough, I ask what do you think of such a comrad? Should he not be boycotted out of our ranks?

MR. BLAKE ON RAILWAY AID.

THE Globe reports, at considerable length, a public speech recently made by Mr. Blake, apparently at Parry Sound, though the date and place are not given by our contemporary. The subject of grants in aid of railways seems to have formed the chief topic of this speech. Mr. Blake appears to have made some very extraordinary statements, and we cannot suppose that he was misrepresented in a Globe report.

After condemning the rapidity with which the C. P. R. had been constructed, and expressing his continued belief that it should have been built more slowly, he spoke generally of the importance of opening up the country. He then proceeded to say:—

"I was called upon to assume the responsibilities of office on the defeat of John Sandfield Macdonald's Government. At that time, as you know, $1,500,000 of the public money had been appropriated for the purpose of aiding local railways. I investigated the situation."

This investigation resulted, as he told his audience, in his proposing to add $400,000 to the amount to be given in cash, and $2,000,000 to be appropriated on time, thus considerably more than doubling the grant proposed by J. S. Macdonald.

It will be noticed that Mr. Blake concealed from his hearers that the principal means (aided by his cry for vengeance on Riel as Scott's murderer, and his corrupt bargain with a Minister to betray his colleagues) by which he procured the defeat of the Sandfield Macdonald Administration, was the outcry he raised against it for appropriating for railway grants a sum, which he proceeded, as he boasts, to double, when he gained power through condemning it. He thus establishes by his own words the dirty nature of one of the chief tricks by which he ousted a far honester man than himself.

If Mr. Blake should raise the quibble that his real objection was to a proposal to allow the amount appropriated to be divided among the different railways by order-in-Council, he would still show himself to be guilty of dishonest inconsistency combined with mere chicanery. He carefully kept in his own hands the distribution of the fund, for he made out the list of his pet projects, without any submission of the question to the Legislature, and without even informing them of the beneficiaries he had selected till the very eve of the prorogation, when he was authorised to have his own way, without consideration or discussion. With such insolent arrogance did he carry out this dictation that he actually flatly refused to answer an Opposition member who asked for information as to the railways to be aided, though he then had his list in his desk, and produced it when the time had come for him to cram it down the throats of the legislators without the slightest check upon his imposed will, or even full knowledge of what they were doing. It was a mere false pretence of legislative control, and no more tied his hands than would have been the case with Mr. J. S. Macdonald if the House had authorized him to distribute the sum it had appropriated.

In fact Mr. Blake freed himself from a restraint which Mr. Macdonald had imposed upon himself. The proposition of the Sandfield Macdonald Administration was to appropriate these grants for colonization railways, for opening and developing the back country, where from the paucity of settlers little if any municipal aid could be obtained, the necessity for the improvements and the inability to pay for them being coupled. Mr. Blake discarded this wise and healthy policy. His grants were given not where there were few settlers—and few votes—but in the more populous districts where there were numerous electors to be influenced in his favour. The exceptions to this general rule were in cases where he could aid a supporter by a grant for his locality. Mr. Blake even went so far as to give exceptionally heavy grants to the very county he himself represented. Having ousted his predecessor by opposing his railway fund, Mr. Blake more than doubled it to enable him the better to buy votes for himself with these public moneys.

But there is another aspect of the case which shows the flagrant dishonesty of Mr. Blake. He has been vituperating the present Dominion Administration for granting aid to railways in which Conservative members of Parliament are interested, ignoring, by the way, Reform members similarly situated. Yet in making his autocratic grants from the Ontario railway fund he systematically gave them to companies in which his supporters in the Legislature were interested, in many cases being charter members.

Of course at Parry Sound Mr. Blake was sly of producing the chief cry by which he is hoping to obtain power, that of vengeance for the "murder" of Riel, for he would have awakened awkward reminiscenses of his attempt to gain power by calling for vengeance on the same Riel for the murder of Scott. Nor could he talk as in Nova Scotia of the wisdom of their preferring the United States to Canada. But hard up as he must have been for topics in the absence of any policy suited for Ontario ears, it is astounding that he should have had the effrontery to recall his dishonest and tricky dealings with railway matters.

The Canadian Pacific railway station at Woodstock was burned to the ground early on Sunday morning.

An American schooner has been seized by a Russian cruiser in the Arctic region for illegally trading in Russian ports.

A MOVE TOWARDS INCORPORATION AS A CITY.

The Council Discusses the Scott Act—More Light Wanted—The Creek—Crescent Street—Other Matters.

A regular meeting of the Town Council was held on Monday evening.

PRESENT—His Worship Mayor Stevenson, and Councillors Cahill, Davidson, McNaughton, Yelland, McNeil, Rutherford, Moore, Hartley and Kelly.

The minutes of the last meeting was read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From R. Sheehy, for remission of statute labor tax.—Granted.

From D. W. Dumble, commending the Chief of Police, as follows:—

Jas. Stevenson, Esq., Mayor:

DEAR SIR,—I understand that Chief of Police Cooper is asking an increase of salary. Now, I have carefully watched him during the last six months, and I am constrained to say that he has been a much more zealous and efficient officer than I expected. I am pleased to say that he is a good chief and a credit to the town. You know how hard it is for a man in his position to please everybody. I think your chief has been independent, and of course any one who does fearlessly try to do his duty will incur some hostility—and that especially from those who find him too efficient to serve their purpose. It saves much trouble to have a chief of his aptness and intelligence, and I hope the Council will pay him such a salary as will secure him from the terrible temptations a man in his position is exposed to. I am satisfied that the entire community would be sorry if he cannot be retained. A sense of duty compels me to commend your chief.

Yours most respectfully,
D. W. DUMBLE,
P. M.

From P. C. Pidgeon, asking for a week's holiday.—Granted, with the Chief's consent.

From Jno. Walton and seven others, asking for an electric light on the corner of Murray and Aylmer streets.—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From W. H. Meldrum and others, asking for an electric light on the east end of London street.—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Councillor DAVIDSON read the following report of the Finance Committee:—

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Finance Committee beg leave to report and recommend the payment of the following accounts:—

Otonabee bridge (town share)	$325 40
H. C. Winch	1 00
Kingan & Co.	2 38

All of which is respectfully submitted,
R. S. DAVIDSON,
Chairman.

Oct. 1st, 1886.

The report was adopted.

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT.

Councillor RUTHERFORD read the following report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee:—

The Fire, Water and Light Committee beg to report and recommend that the offer of Fitzgerald & Stanger to build and fully equip a hook and ladder truck be accepted; also the offer of Douglas & Logan to construct a salvage waggon; and also that of Noble & McAndrews to fully complete in every respect the plumbing required for the firemen's bed room, and that the tender of B. Shortly for driving harness be accepted.

In regard to resolutions moved by Councillors Rutherford and McNeil asking for gas lamps and electric light, and referred to your committee for action, we beg to recommend the granting of the same.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
A. RUTHERFORD,
Chairman.

Councillor MOORE remarked that no prices were mentioned.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said they had tenders.

Councillor MOORE called attention to a place on Smithtown hill where a light was required. He moved that a gas lamp be placed on the corner of Edinburgh and Bethune streets.

Councillor HARTLEY said that there was no light on that hill and they should have electric light.

Councillor MCNEIL referred to several gas lamps that could be moved since the electric light had been introduced.

The MAYOR said he thought no new lamps would be required to carry out the recommendations in the report.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON called attention to other lamps that he thought could be moved to the outskirts of the town where there was darkness and mud.

The report was amended by adding "that the lamp at the east end of the bridge and the lamp in front of the Temperance House be removed," and adopted.

MORE LIGHT.

Councillor HARTLEY moved, seconded by Councillor MOORE.—That an electric light be placed at the corner of Edinburgh and Bethune streets.

Councillor CAHILL thought they had done enough in that line, and raised the point of order that the motion required notice.

The motion was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

THE CREEK.

Councillor DAVIDSON moved, seconded by Councillor CAHILL,—That the right of the town to straighten the course of the creek leading to the Bay be referred to the Town Solicitor.

Councillor MOORE said that the creek also required attention at the corner of Stewart and Bethune streets, and work should be done there in digging out the bed and straightening it, in order to prevent floods.

The motion was carried.

RAILWAY GRADE.

Councillor MCNEIL moved, seconded by Councillor KELLY,—That the Town Solicitor be requested to report as to what action he has taken in regard to the grade of the railway on Bethune street.

Councillor CAHILL said that the solicitor had written several times to Mr. Machlin, who had promised to put in gravel and to plank the crossings.

The motion was adopted.

THE CREEK AGAIN.

Councillor MOORE moved, seconded by Councillor YELLAND,—That the Street Inspector be directed to straighten and clean out the bed of the creek at the corner of Stewart and Bethune streets.—Carried.

SCOTT ACT FINES AND DRINKING.

The MAYOR said he wished to bring before the Council the matter of the Scott Act fines. According to the Order-in-Councilit was indefinite so far as this town was concerned. If they were going to the county of course the town would get very little from them. The Council should take some action and have the matter understood. He also wished to call attention to the prevalence of drinking on Sunday. He saw several drunk last Sunday. He thought the Council should not remain idle while such things were going on. A memorial should be sent to the Government, in regard to the Scott Act fines, as, owing to this town's peculiar position, it did not get justice under this Order-in-Council.

Councillor MOORE suggested leaving the matter in the Mayor's hands to communicate with the Government. As to the Sunday liquor selling, the law should be strictly enforced.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that the Council had frowned on the enforcement of the Scott Act, and the police did not enforce it. They had the worst set of police here that there was in the Province. They did nothing towards enforcing the Act. The County had salaried officers to enforce the Act and it was getting its reward now in receiving the fines.

Councillor HARTLEY said it was regretable that they had officers who would not do their duty and who allowed men to roll around drunk on Sunday. An obstacle had been thrown in the way of enforcement at the first. The law could be carried out if they had men to do it. The officers must know that liquor was sold and where it was sold. If the policemen did not do their duty they should be dismissed.

Councillor MCNEIL said that when the Act was agitated the temperance people promised to see it enforced, yet there never had been such drunkeness here.

Councillor YELLAND—I beg your pardon.

Councillor MCNEIL moved, seconded by Councillor KELLY,—That the Mayor be instructed to interview the Dominion Government with reference to the memorial presented by this Council asking the Government to allow the fines collected from Scott Act convictions in town to be placed to the credit of this municipality.

Councillor YELLAND said that the police officers had not tried to enforce the Act. When Reynolds was in town they were loath to touch him, although a warrant was out, and then, when they were urged to do their duty, they had gone and told the parties that certain men had urged them on, or they would not have acted. The fines should go to the parties who enforced the law. There had been about $2,500 collected for that purpose. He delivered a forcible speech on the Act generally.

Councillor DAVIDSON asked who had authority to collect the fines? Warrants had been issued in two cases, and when they were about to be executed the parties produced receipts.

The MAYOR said that when the Act came in force he spoke to Mr. Flavelle about enforcing the Act, and Mr. Flavelle said that the Association would enforce the Act. They would not commit the matter into the town's hands.

The CHIEF OF POLICE explained, in answer to Councillor Yelland, that when he arrested a man he pleaded for time, and he (the Chief) said he could not for certain men (naming one) had seen him. That was the truth of the affair regarding him saying that he was urged to execute warrants.

The MAYOR said that, if the Council would back him, he would instruct the police to arrest any man found drunk on Sunday, and if an officer did not do it he would suspend him. (Hear, hear, from several councillors.)

Councillor McNeil's motion was adopted.

CRESCENT STREET.

Councillor MOORE referred to the washing away on Crescent street by the action of the water. He moved, seconded by Councillor RUTHERFORD,—That the town engineer be requested to make a drawing of Crescent street, showing the work required to be done to protect this street from damage from the water of the Little Lake, and also furnish an estimate of the cost of such work, and that he consult with the Mayor and the Chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee regarding the same.—Carried.

A CITY.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON,—That a special committee be appointed by the Council to consider the advisabily of applying for a charter of incorporation as a city, the committee to consist of Councillors Moore, Davidson, Rutherford, the Mayor and the mover, the first named to be chairman, and that they report to this Council.—Carried.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

Councillor DAVIDSON moved, seconded by Councillor CAHILL,—That an appropriation of $15 be made for fixing the intersection of Rubidge and Rink streets.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

THE SCOTT ACT.

Councillor RUTHERFORD moved, seconded by Councillor YELLAND,—That the Chief and constables under him be and on hereby instructed to enforce the "Canadian Temperance Act of 1878," better known as the Scott Act, and that the Mayor have power to suspend any officer not doing his duty in this respect.

Before Councillor Rutherford had finished reading his motion there was not a quorum in the Chamber and the Council was forced to adjourn.

FORCED APART.

BY W. CLARK RUSSELL.

Author of the "Wreck of the Grosvenor," "A Sailor's Sweetheart," Etc.

She was standing near the door, and he was raising his hand to pull the bell; but she had not done with him yet. The change in his manner from the blandness to hauteur, from a kind of tenderness, at least, to a demeanor of blank indifference to her sorrow, deepened her doubt of his sincerity, and, failing to find in this old man any such sorrowing after his son as should prove him honest to her own mourning heart, a feverish suspicion that he was holding back the truth seized her.

"You can tell me, sir, that he has not left me for good! Say some little word to give me hop For his sake, Dr. Shaw—he loves me truly!" she cried, with her hands clasped.

The doctor was affronted by her doubt of him, for it was plain in her recurrent appeal.

"I have answered that I am as ignorant as you—perhaps more ignorant," he said, frowning at her.

"Last night," she continued, too bitterly yearning after hope to be abashed by his manner, or even to heed the cruel suggestiveness of his words, "he was to have seen father. This he promised, and I was to watch for him at my window. Oh, sir, he would not have bid me wait for him had he meant to deceive me; for, indeed, he loves me fondly. A gentleman from this school, who called on mother this morning, said that he had seen him leave your house in the evening; and to father he was coming—oh, be sure! Who stopped him, then? Was he followed and set upon? If he had died, or by an accident been killed, his body would have been found. Do you know where he is? Tell me, sir! The Lord God, who hears me declare it, judges me; and before Him I swear thy son was my husband!"

Now, but for the continued and affronting suspicion informing the girl's words, this piteous appeal, taking tragic pathos from wild dry eyes and outstretched hands and shrill intensity of tone, must have roused the doctor though his heart of flesh had been as hard as a pet preju lice. But he was so extremely mortified to find his word—his word, too!—doubted by this wench, that anger came down on all kindly stirrings with a weight of lead, and false perceptions pricked him. For who was this woman but pigheaded Strangfie'd's daughter! And might not all this bother be a mere trick of the enemy—a plot speedily hatched out of Cuthbert's strange disappearance, to mortify the dignified cultured, well-bred foe of dissent, and champion of orthodoxy and divine right?

He kept the helf.

"A direct answer has been given you," he said, "and you must excuse me for declining to continue this conversation. I trust, madam, for your own sake, that you will be able to establish the fact of your honorable connection with my son."

And, with dislike and contempt on his face, he made her a short bow. Without another word she passed through the door, which the servant held open, and left the house.

CHAPTER XVII.

HOME AGAIN.

She walked slowly down the hot and dusty road toward the town. Now, far more keenly than before her visit to the schoolhouse, did she feel the bitterness of her trouble.

Along the dusty road she went—the high crops motionless on either hand, the land around (in sheen of silver barley and yellow wheat, and the lustrous green of meadow grass) trembling in the steam of the sweltering earth—and felt a homeless woman, unloved, and sinful, too.

She came at last to the shadow of the wayside trees under which she had met Cuthbert; and here, with no eye to see her, and passionate memories crowding piteous misery into her aching heart, she stopped and flung herself upon the grass, and tried to relieve her burning eyes with tears.

A long while she lingered here, dreading to return home.

Time passed rapidly and unheeded, and the shadows of the trees had grown well into the road when she rose to her feet, disturbed by the town clock striking the half-hour after three. The thought of meeting her father was almost unbearable; yet home she must go, for where was other shelter for her?

Before this time her fear of the deacon was in his anger, when he should learn that she had deceived him by her secret marriage. Nothing more had her innocence then to dread; though enough had been here to furnish her with dismal contemplation and trembling apprehension, and an insupportab'e yearning for the permanent companionship of her husband, that discovery might never catch her without the prop of his love and presence at hand for her weakness. But now her husband was gone, and, by going, had left her exposed to dreadful suspicion. He was gone, and she was left alone to justify her purity, to encounter the wrath of her father, stirred to his deepest heart by infamous doubt.

What, then, was she to do? for when she fell to consider how she should prove her marriage, she found another blank as maddeningly perplexing as Cuthbert's disappearance.

She well remembered the marriage morn; how, with a faint voice and pale face, she told aunt Rachel she was going for a walk, and bade her not be surprised if she delayed her return, for she loved the pretty scenery around, and to linger among the trees.

She well remembered the beating of her heart when, at the bottom of the deep and shady lane, she beheld Cuthbert waiting for her, and how she had nearly swooned when he hailed the passing coach to Southwark, and handed her into it.

Likewise she well remembered how they had emerged into a crowded street, along which he had hurried her into another street, where he called a hackney carriage, and they were driven down interminable streets at which she never glanced, for her white face was hidden on Cuthbert's shoulder, and she had needed all the cordial of his constant, passionate, reassuring whispers to save her from fainting.

And how at last the carriage stopped before a church—a gloomy, heavy, city edifice—so that it seemed to her that they had to grope their way along the avenue of high pews to the altar railing, where speedily a thin voice read the service that made her the wife of the man at her side.

FENELON FALLS.

THE LOCK GATES.—Work on the lock gates progresses steadily, and the first pair are now being put together. A few days ago a planing machine and a portable engine to drive it were set up on the south side of the canal, which will greatly expedite the dressing of the timber.

A FIRE ON BOND STREET.—About 12 o'clock on Thursday night a one and a half story frame house on Bond street west, owned and occupied by Mrs. Richard Jackson, was destroyed by fire, which originated, it is supposed, from the stovepipe, in a loft over the back kitchen. Mrs. Jackson, who slept in a room off the kitchen, was awakened by her baby, and heard the flames roaring overhead. She immediately ran up-stairs to arouse her son, who was the only person sleeping in the upper story, and if she had been a minute or two later they would have had to escape through a window, as the stairs were on fire when they descended them. Mrs. Bray, who occupied the ground floor of the house, had time to put on everything but her boots; but Mrs. Jackson and her children were forced to flee for their lives with very little on but their nightclothes. Two fire engines and a number of villagers were soon on the spot, and there was a fair supply of water in wells close at hand; but the fire had made such head-way that it could not be checked. Almost every article on the ground floor was got out uninjured; but Mrs. Jackson lost nearly all her clothes and bedding, and a trunk containing deeds, insurance papers and $27 in money. The house was insured for $350.—Gazette.

SOUTH MONAGHAN.

BURGLARY.—On the night of Thursday, Oct. 7th, burglars entered the store of Mr. E. Ball, Centreville, South Monaghan, by the front door, and stole therefrom postage stamps to the value of about five dollars and a quantity of silk handkerchiefs, kid gloves, under clothing, woollen socks, &c., to the value of about $30, and attempted to blow open the iron safe, but failed in the attempt, and left again by the same way, locking the door behind them. They went towards the west, as two of the mits were found on the road next day. They drilled the safe and tried to blow it open with powder, but some how the door became tighter than ever, and it took the proprietor over twelve hours to open it, which he did on Saturday, with a great deal of trouble, and found all right within, with about $26.00 of postage stamps. The money was all taken from the store the night previous, only the coppers being left, which amounted to about $3.00. These they did not take, it is supposed on account of the weight. It is probable they were disturbed in their work by Mr. Ball, as he was up and about the stable about four o'clock in the morning, and it was after two they visited Mr. Isbister's blacksmith shop, from which they borrowed a sledge hammer, tongs and sundry other tools, which they did not return, as they were found in the store the next morning. No clue has yet been found to the perpetrators of the daring act.

Evidence of a Disaster.

COLLINGWOOD, Oct. 9.—A few days ago it was reported that the captain of the steamer Owen Sound, whose vessel was anchored at Pie Island for shelter, had seen a vessel go down with all hands. This story, it appears, was incorrect, the following being the true one: The steamer ran into Port Caldwell, and when there the captain was told that a wheel of a vessel, a butter tub and cook house sundries had been washed ashore. The steamer then proceeded to Jackfish bay, where the captain learned that a life boat off some vessel had come ashore, as well as two bodies. No clue to the vessel's name was discovered.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Possesses the greatest possible power to heal and control affections of the throat and lungs, with absolute safety for children or adults. The experience of years has proven it to be of inestimable value as a household medicine, and for professional use. Thousands of physicians and families testify to its great worth. Jas. E. Moling, Hilliard, Ohio, writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for twelve years, and have found that, as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, or Sore Throats, it

Is Unequaled.

J. I. Miller, editor of the "Lutheran Home," Luray, Va., writes: "I advertise nothing that I do not know to be good. I was saved from the grave, I am sure, by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and have recommended it to others with the happiest results." L. J. Addison, M. D., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have never found, in thirty-five years of continuous study and practice in medicine, any preparation of so great value as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, for treatment of diseases of the throat and lungs; and I constantly recommend it to my patients. It not only breaks up colds and cures severe coughs, but is effective in relieving the most serious bronchial and pulmonary affections."

John J. Uhlman, Brooklyn, N.S., writes: "Twelve years ago, I was afflicted with a severe bronchial trouble, pronounced by a skilful physician to be very dangerous, and liable to terminate in Pneumonia. After using one bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I found great relief, and an occasional use of it since that time has, I think, extended my life ten years at least." Mrs. V. M. Thebaud, Montreal, Canada, writes: "Last spring my daughter was attacked by membraneous croup, or diphtheria. The doctor prescribed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which cured her of the diphtheria. Being still very weak and sick, she began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which restored her to vigorous health."

The frost that bites, the winds that blow,

But round the human form divine

The rounding form, the curving line.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

The Rifle.

The County of Peterborough Rifle Association annual matches commenced on Monday morning and have been in progress to-day.

A New Paper.

The News is the name of a new weekly paper published at Tamworth, Addington County, by Messrs. Orr & Little. It is an eight page paper, very neatly printed and interesting. It starts with a liberal advertising patronage, and with the appearance of good prospects for success.

Personal.

R. Elliott, High Chief Ranger of the Canadian Order of Foresters, and A. E. Gammage, the High Secretary, were in town on Monday night, arriving at 11 o'clock. They were on the way to Perth to visit the local Court. They will be hear next Tuesday when they will receive a suitable reception.

The Steamer Cruiser.

Owing to the change of time in the running of trains on the Lakefield branch, the steamer Cruiser will not, of course, make her usual connections. The steamer is, however, still in commission, and parties who may desire to pass over the lakes, can drive up, and by giving one day's notice, a party of from 10 to 12 up can secure the boat for the day desired.

Critical.

The public will be sorry to hear that Mrs. C. W. Sawers' case is not so hopeful to-day as it was some time ago. Up till last night her progress toward recovery was satisfactory, and if her strength holds out against the intense strain she may yet get well again. Yesterday evening the pain which she has borne with fortitude these many weeks told on her so much that her strength collapsed, and to-day she still lies in an exhausted state.

A Mica Mine.

The following paragraph is taken from an exchange:—"A rich mica mine has been discovered in the township of Methuen, County of Peterborough, and has been acquired by Mr. William Martin, of Kingston, and Mr. Seth Welch, of Wollaston. About two tons have been blasted, and one piece of pure mica weighing thirty pounds, has been obtained. This has been sent to New York for examination. It is pure and white, and the promise is very good. Six feet of depth has been explored, and the mica is found to be better as the workmen go down. The mine is believed to be ten acres in extent."

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

On Monday night the Opera House was packed to the doors—every available foot of space being taken up—on the occasion of the presentation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" by the Abby Uncle Tom Company. On the arrival of the company in town they formed procession and marched through the principal streets of the town and Ashburnham, headed by a brass band composed of white men, with Eva next, who was followed by four ferocious looking bloodhounds, while another brass band of negroes brought up the rear. This parade was, doubtless, the cause of the house being so densely packed, as it was quite an imposing scene, and must have deeply impressed those who viewed it with the magnitude and efficiency of the company. The play of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" has been written up so often by the press, and the people have had so many opportunities of seeing it that there is nothing more to be said in this case other than that Abbey's Uncle Tom's Cabin Company are fully up to the average of all such organizations.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

St. John's Church annual Mission Meeting—Work among the Indians.

The annual mission meeting of St. John's Church was held in the school house on Monday evening, there being a large attendance.

The REV. J. W. R. BECK, took the chair and after the singing of an appropriate hymn, asked his hearers to put to themselves the question as to what was the secret of success in mission work. He showed from our Lord's own words that it was prayer. He pointed out that the first missionaries of the Church, the twelve Apostles, went forth to convert the world and to lay the foundations of the Church with little means and with the greatest obstacles to contend against. Yet in the face of the opposition of the Jews and heathen, of people and rulers they "turned the world upside down." But the Spirit of God was with them, and hence the result. They were to pray for this Spirit, to pray to the Lord of the Harvest; and so should we pray and the rest would follow.

The Rector and his hearers then prayed for the blessing and aid of God in mission work.

The Rev. E. F. WILSON, of Sault Ste Marie, then addressed the meeting. He gave an account of the mission work among the Indians at the Shingwauk and Wawanosh Homes, and of the intended branches in the North-West, Manitoba and North-Western Ontario. He said that he did not in his tours ask for collections or canvass from house to house, but he explained the work and what was required for it, and the Lord put it into the hearts of some to supply what was needed. He introduced the two little Indian boys with him, one being an Ojibway and the other a Sioux, thus of two widely different tribes with quite dissimilar languages, so that they could only communicate with each other by means of the English they were learning. He gave specimens of their languages to show the difference. Twenty years ago he had come out as a settler, but immediately felt called to be a missionary to the Indians. He returned to England, was ordained and had been working among the Indians for eighteen years. He described how an Indian chief had come to him pressing to be taken to Toronto to the Bishop to beg that a "big teaching wigwam" might be built and teachers sent so as to educate their young ones. Giving up his work at Sarnia to an Indian, the Rev. Mr. Jacobs, he went with another chief to England, raised funds, and built their first home. This building lasted only six days and then was burned down. But this apparent disaster had done more than they could have anticipated to forward their work, and had taught him to rely upon God for their needs. Now they had the Shingwauk Home, a fine stone building with accommodation for 60 boys, and there was also the Wawanosh Home with room for 24 girls. He vividly described their early difficulties and successes. Most of the children, as he explained, were maintained by the Sunday Schools of Ontario, Peterborough having been among the contributers. A yearly $75 would support one of these Indian children. A church, an hospital and other buildings had been erected. He gave several instances of the success of the old pupils.

The INDIAN PUPILS then sang some hymns, one in English, very sweetly and with a correctness of enunciation that might be well imitated, and the other in Sioux.

The Rev. Mr. WILSON then resumed, and showed from the Government Inspector's report how thoroughly their work had been done. One of their pupils was at Trinity College School, where Dr. Bethune said he was doing very well. Some letters from the children, which he read, were very interesting.

While "From Greenland's Icy Mountains" was being sung one of the Indian boys dressed in his native costume, showing the difference from his civilized garb.

Mr. WILSON gave further particulars of the greatness of the field, and the efforts being made to partly occupy it with branches from their central home at Shingwauk. Each branch would cost $5,000, and they contemplated four. He told how he had been advised to send out his "Red Hot Shots" (one has been republished in the REVIEW), and of the satisfactory results from them. He did not canvass for subscriptions, but he had faith that this work being of God would be supported by Him in His own good time.

The RECTOR pointed out how especially the duty was imposed upon our people of carrying the Gospel among our Indian population, of work among whom they had just heard such an interesting account. This was doubly our duty because of the evil brought to these Indians by their first contact with civilization. He reminded his hearers that this was their annual missionary meeting, and that it was not held only with reference to this work among the Indians. He closed the meeting with prayer for a blessing upon missionary enterprise.

After the meeting some photographs of the homes and of the Indian boys were offered for sale.

There was a collection during the evening for the Synod mission fund.

ANOTHER FIELD DAY.

Three Scott Act Cases Tried at the Police Court.

To-day was another Scott Act "field day" at the Police Court. The interest in the cases did not appear to be so lively as on similar former occasions, the attendance without the pale being remarkably small.

The first case on the docket was Queen vs. Halpin, Michael Halpin, of the American Hotel, being charged by Inspector Cochrane with having committed an infraction of the Act. He pleaded guilty, and was given a bill of $50 and costs payable to the Clerk within ten days.

Wm. Snowden, of the Snowden House, was the next called up to the bar. He was charged with having committed an infraction of the Act between August 7th and October 9th. Mr. E. B. Stone, his lawyer, pleaded not guilty. Mr. W. A. Stratton acted for the prosecution.

Several witnesses swore that they succeeded in getting soft drinks only, although they tried to persuade the bartender to furnish them with something more exhilarating.

One witness was quite amusing. He was called up from below and was sworn. He then assumed a posture of easy defiance with his arms folded and his back against the wall. He announced that he worked for the King of Douro and had travelled three miles this morning. He denounced an Act that would call him away from his work. He was into Snowden's hotel during August, and he proceeded to give elaborate reasons why he went there. He had business to transact, etc., etc.

The MAGISTRATE—(Impatiently)—We don't care anything about that.

The witness contended that now that the question was asked he was at liberty to make a full explanation of the whole affair. When the Counsel for the prosecution attempted to bring him back to the question he stoutly declared that he had as good a right to talk as anyone else.

The MAGISTRATE came to the conclusion that the witness was a little off.

When the Magistrate and Counsel began to discuss the advisability of locking up the witness until he sobered off the latter grew a little serious and without hesitation answered the questions. He got a horn of "sasparella" and that was all.

A witness named Stinson gave evidence that he got what was called "ginger ale" at Snowden's. It was like the ordinary malt beer. It was intoxicating.

The case was adjourned till Thursday.

This afternoon the case of the Queen vs. Daly is being heard, Mr. J. J. Daly of the Hub restaurant being the defendant.

The Chicago Anarchists.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—To protest against the verdict in the Anarchist trial, two hundred men and twenty-three women assembled in Schall's hall last evening. The speakers were Julius H. Kraft, Justice Fred Engelhard, Dr. Klein and others. Justice Engelhard said his position would indicate that he was a servant of the law, but he disavowed any connection with that sort of law under which these eight men were condemned. It was a judicial murder, and the working class would not stand by and see their patron saints murdered. He closed with an attack on monopolies. A man named Presselman, in a speech, advised his hearers to organize, not for the coming election, but as a body of avengers in case the sentence was executed. "There was once an Inspector of Police, named Rump," he concluded; "there may be an Inspector Rumpf in Chicago."

Hauled Down the Flag.

HALIFAX, N. S, Oct. 11.—The seized schooner, Marion Grimes, had the American flag flying. Capt. Quigley of the Terror ordered it down. The order was obeyed, but the flag was run up again, and Capt. Laudry refused to haul it down. Capt. Quigley with an armed crew boarded the Grimes and lowered the flag himself.

Strike at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 11.—The cutters of Sharpe & Mackinnon, felt boot and shoe manufacturers, went out on strike to-day because their foreman had been dismissed. Mr. Mackinnon told them that unless they returned to work to-morrow their places would be filled. The men are in favor of holding out.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from proprietary medicines, no doubt has largely benefitt the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the German Syrup for cough and lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size. d84

SCOTT ACT FINE.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—Seeing a remark made by Councillor Yelland at their last meeting with regard to the arrest of myself, stating that the policemen were loath to arrest me, allow me to inform you that I was promptly arrested at sight, and had it not been for the kindness of Chief Cooper I would now, to use a slang term, "be rubbing my nose against the bars at Hotel de Nugent."

When I went away Roddy agreed to pay the fine for me. When I returned to town I found that he had not done so, though holding a check for the amount in his possession. The Chief and myself went to Roddy who informed us that the gentleman who gave his check requested that it be held as long as possible, and in the meantime try and get money enough to pay the fine rather than use the check. Upon hearing this Chief Cooper says: "Give me security and you can have a few days." It was given. The above, Mr. Yelland, is why the force allowed me to run around. Now, as to the efficiency of our police force there are none better in any city in Canada and I have seen them all or nearly all. If Councillor Yelland would put in a say as to the inefficiency of a few members of the Council it would be in order. However, Jan. 1st, 1887, will perhaps see to that.

W. REYNOLDS.

Attempt to Assassinate a Priest.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 12.—Intense excitement prevails in the Polack settlement over an attempt to assassinate the Polish priest. His congregation had been divided into fractions for some time, and the antis are evidently determined to get rid of him by some means. He was shot at through a window while preaching from the altar after mass on Sunday.

"Well, well—the world must turn upon its axis
And all mankind turn with it, heads or tails
And live and die, make love and pay our taxes,"

is the way Byron looks at it; but "it is not all of life to live." A healthy life is the only one "worth living for," and that depends on the liver. If the liver is not in good working order, pimples, blotches, skin disease, scrofula, cattarrh, and a long list of dangerous diseases result. "Make love; pay taxes," but above all get Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," and free your system of all impurities of the of the blood by restoring your liver to healthy action. By druggists.

WAR FEELING IN FRANCE.

The Boulanger Party Fostering an offensive Policy.

PARIS, Oct. 12.—There is a marked growth of war feeling in France. The Boulanger party have begun the issue of two new journals, La Revanche and Le Soldat Laboureur, to advocate an offensive policy in vindication of the old military prestige of France. Gen. Boulanger disowns any connection with the papers. M. Lavedon, military critic writes to Figaro that Gen. Boulanger has prepared a well-conceived plan, in conjunction with a staff officer of high rank, for a continental campaign. The military organ says Gen. Boulanger desires war, not for the purpose of recovering Alsace, not to gratify personal ambition, but as a step leading to the solution of social questions. The strictest taboo of everything German is being observed. M. Lockroy, Minister of Commerce, has ordered the police to prosecute all persons selling boxes of toys imported from Germany and containing a map of France without Alsace.

STRANGE PUNISHMENTS.

Gleanings From Old Bay State Papers Arranged by Henry M. Brooks.

A Boston paper of 1819 describes the execution of sentence pronounced by the Russian Courts against an author who had published some book on the liberties of the people. A scaffold was erected in the public square; the Czar and great magistrate attended. The leaves of the condemned book were then rolled up in separate pieces, and the prisoner forced to swallow them, or literally to eat his own words. The attending physicians agreeing when he had enough for one meal, he was led beak to prison' Three unpleasant meals finished the last remnants of the book.

In Salem the wearing of long hair was some time a criminal offense, but always an abomination for men. When Endicott was magistrate there he caused this order to be passed: "John Gatshel is fyened ten shillings for building upon the town's ground without leave, and in case he shall cut off his long hair of his head into sevill frame (sewell frame) in the meantime, shall have abated five shillings of his fine, to be paid into the town meeting within two months from this time, and have leave to go into his building in the meantime."

In Boston, 1786.—For kissing a woman in the street, though in a way of civil salute whipping or a fine. Scolds they gag and set them at their own doors for certain hours together, for all comers and goers to gaze at. When an unfortunate woman was accused of witchcraft she was tied neck and heels and thrown into a pond of water; if she drowned, it was agreed that she was no witch; if she swam, she was immediately tied to a stake and burned alive.

An Elizabethtown paper of 1786 gives the following: The Dutch have a mode of execution which is well calculated to inspire terror, without putting the sufferer to extraordinary pain. The criminal is placed on the scaffold, opposite to the gigantic figure of a woman, with arms extended, filled with spikes or long sharpened nails, and a dagger pointed from her breast. She is gradually moved toward him by machinery for the purpose till he gets within her embrace, when her arms encircle him, and the dagger is pressed through his heart. This is vulgarly called among them kissing the yfrow, or woman, and excites more terror in the breasts of the populace than any other mode of punishment.

LIFE IN HIGH LATITUDES.

How the Hudson Bay Observers Spent the Long, Cold Winter.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 12.—Captain Gordon, in an account of the voyage of the Alert to Hudson Bay, says that Churchill was reached at the end of July. The harbour there was found to be excellent. At York Factory the estuary of the Nelson river was surveyed and found to be a villainous place for ships, the water being shoal for many miles out to sea. At Marble Mountain, on the west side of the bay, which was reached about the middle of August, a letter was found from two American whaling vessels, the Wave and the George and Mary, which had wintered there. The Wave lost one man from scurvy and all the crew had been terrible ill. The attempt to go further north was frustrated by heavy weather, and a return was made to Diggs. Here a new channel into the bay was discovered, which might be useful when the straits are blocked with ice. At Prince of Wales Island Observer Payne found four old cannon, so old and rusty that their date of their manufacture, which must have been very ancient had been completely effaced. After remaining at Stupart's bay through several severe storms the steamers left there the middle of September for Port Burwell, where one of the observers, a son of Captain Shaw, of the Cunard steamer Beta, was found to be suffering very badily with scurvy, but he has since entirely recovered. The observers at Nachvac were then taken off and the Alert started for home.

The returned observers who spent the last year in Hudson's Bay and Strait are all in excellent health, and fared excellently during their exile. At most places game of various kinds was so plentiful that the men rarely tasted the salted or preserved beef with which they were provided. The only case of illness to speak of was that of young Shaw. Several suffered from colds, but of a trival nature. Birds and fish abounded, and some of the men frequently killed more than they required. During the voyage the men on the Alert killed nine polar bears, four of them being shot one morning before breakfast when the steamer was on her way home.

Respecting the navigability of Hudson Strait, Commander Gordon expresses the same opinion held by him on his return from last year's expedition. He regards the strait as navigable under certain risks early in the season, from the beginning of July to the end of October, and the period may be extended half a month more. The risks to be encountered are at the beginning of the season, when ice is to be encountered, but these risks are not grave ones, and the strait may be reasonably considered as navigable for the full four months as stated.

The real struggle will take place, not on Home Rule, but on the question of land."

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 12.—Four leaders of the party who were engaged in the kidnapping of Prince Alexander, of Bulgaria, have arrived here. They are M. Demetrioff, M. Pakoff, M. Tyankoff and M. MR. MEREDITH'S POLICY.

WHILE giving Mr. Meredith credit for speaking the truth when he twitted the Dominion Opposition with having no policy, the Toronto News accuses Mr. Meredith of not being successful as a policy framer, and says that he is hardly the man to use this argument advantageously. The "democratic" organ has surely spoken without giving due consideration to the differences which have arisen in the Provincial Legislature between the Ministry and the Opposition. It should be remembered, as the News observes, that the field in Provincial politics is limited in comparison with the wide range of Dominion politics; yet even in the limited range of Ontario politics there are wide differences of opinion between the Reformers and Conservatives, and differences, too, on important matters that deserve the thoughtful consideration of the people of this Province.

The policies of the two parties are widely divergent on the question of municipal home rule. The Reform Government has steadily maintained its policy of centralizing power and patronage at Toronto, while the Conservative Opposition has fought for the principle of municipal home rule—for giving into the more immediate control of the people such matters as the municipal councils could deal with and control advantageously.

The Conservatives, led by Mr. Meredith, have persistently endeavored to keep our educational interests from being mixed up with or effected by party politics, but the Mowat Administration, having taken control of the Education Department and given it a political head, have continued to use it as a political machine, even going so far as to use it as a taxing machine for rewarding supporters, to the detriment of the educational interests.

The Conservatives have also opposed voting a large sum of money from the Provincial Treasury for immigration purposes, but the Reform majority in the Legislature carried the appropriation through.

On the question of the extension of the franchise there has been for years a struggle between the parties, the Opposition fighting to have the right to vote given to all who are capable of exercising it intelligently, and they have forced the Government to make repeated extensions, without, however, going as far in that direction as the Conservatives believed to be right. The Opposition have placed on record their policy of removing the property basis as the basis on which a man's right to vote for members of the Legislature should rest, but the Government opposed this reform with all its strength.

The Opposition have also urged the recognition of the principle that Ontario is a part of the Dominion, and that the interests of each Province are united with those of the other Provinces in the country. The Government has acted as though it considered each Province the enemy of the others, and has striven to stir up ill-feeling in Canada in order to make political gain, while the Conservatives have acted on the broad national principles of unity and patriotism, without in any way losing sight of or ceasing to foster the interests of their own Province. The Conservatives may have lost support in the past by taking this stand, but the sound sense of the people now recognizes the judiciousness of their policy. No patriotic citizen of Ontario can view with complacency the efforts of the Reformers and Provincial Government to stir up inter-Provincial strife, and they will no longer be deluded into following such a lead.

The Opposition holds more advanced views than their opponents as to the right of workmen to protection, and, indeed, have shown that they recognize more clearly than the Ministerialists the claims and rights of workingmen. The debates and votes on the franchise, and on the Compensation Act last session, were examples of this divergence of opinion.

Here we have a marked difference of opinion between the Conservatives and the Government on the following important subjects:—

Municipal home rule as opposed to centralization.

Education free from party politics.

Immigration.

The rights of workingmen.

Extension of the franchise.

Unity of the Dominion.

The Conservatives have also urged the importance of strict economy, and of husbanding the resources of the Province, in order to avoid debt and direct taxation. If the present course is pursued in regard to the financial affairs of the Province direct taxation must come, as the timber and property being sold to meet current expenses once gone is no longer available.

In many particular cases they have advocated economy, as in the colonization road expenditure, immigration and the Agricultural College. The Opposition is not opposed to the expenditure of money for building colonization roads, but they do strongly object to having money taken for this purpose, without any appropriation by the House, and diverted into an electioneering fund. They do not wish to abolish or impair the usefulness of the Agricultural College, but they do wish to have it economically managed and made as beneficial as the money appropriated for that purpose can make it.

The views of the Conservative Opposition in the Ontario Legislature are such as demand the most careful consideration, and, receiving that consideration, must be endorsed. The News will probably admit that Mr. Meredith has a policy.

A BABY KNIGHT OF LABOR.

Little Elizabeth Rogers Wears Badge 809 at the Convention.

RICHMOND, Oct. 11.—A baby girl hardly old enough to coo has just been enrolled among the hard-working hosts of the Knights of Labor. The little one is by all odds the most popular delegate in the convention, not excepting the general master workman. Amid all the strife and dissensions engendered by the disputes over credentials, throughout all the din and discussion about the policy of the Home Club and the jealousy of its enemies, every Knight carries a sunny smile for the baby from Chicago. It is touching, sometimes, to see the strong men fondle the little girl in their arms, and bestow their rough but warm-hearted attentions on the hard-working widow who is the mother of it.

Elizabeth Rogers is a delegate to the convention from Chicago. Her husband died six months ago, two months before the baby was born. The widow is an earnest Labor Knight, and when she was elected a delegate to the convention she had to bring the child or stay at home. In order to get the little one into the convention its name must be placed on the roll. This was all arranged and the youngster was admitted to the assembly with "No. 809" on a badge pinned to its best bib and tucker. It is enrolled by the same name as its mother—Elizabeth Rogers. The child is one of the most regular attendants at the daily sessions. It made 400 men roar with laughter the other day when on an important vote it held up both its tiny hands when its mother's name was reached on the roll.

Richmond is given up to the Knights of Labor demonstration to-day. Many factories and shops are closed so that the employees may enjoy the occasion. Thousands of strangers are in the city. About 5,000 knights are in the line of procession. Very few of the white members of the local assemblies responded to the order of the Master Workmen to participate in the parade. It is reported that a fine of $2 will be imposed upon each contrary member. The refusal of the whites is due to the presence of colored knights in the procession. There is not a colored knight in the city who is not in line.

CROPS IN THE STATES.

October Report of the Department of Agriculture—An Increase.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The report of the Department of Agriculture for October gives local estimates of the yield per acre of small grains, with the condition of corn, potatoes and other late crops. The results corroborate the previous returns of wheat, confirming the expectation of a slight increase from the first records of threshing without making any very material addition to the crop aggregate. The average yield upon an area of fully thirty-seven million acres appears to be close to 12¾ bushels per acre, making the crop an average of a series of years. The area actually harvested is now the principal object of exact determination, and the result will vary little from an increase of 100,000,000 bushels over the crop of last year. Of oats the average yield per acre is 26.6 bushels, making a crop of over 600,000,000 bushels. Of barley the crop averages 22.4 bushels per acre, and the product will come nearly up to 60,000,000 bushels. Of the rye crop the the average yield is 11.8 bushels per acre, and the product over 26,000,000 bushels. The high temperature of September and the absence of frosts have improved the corn crop prospects and made the expectation 22 bushels per acre, and rendered certain a crop of at least 1,650,000,000 bushels. The general average is 80 against 95.10 last year, when the yield was 26.5 bushels. The general average of the October condition of potatoes is 81 against 82 last year. The tobacco average conditaon is 87. Cigar tobacco averages high, except in Wisconsin. The promises of buckwheat are for a crop slightly under the average.

CANADIAN FRUIT IN ENGLAND

Prof. Wm. Saunders has sent a report to the Hon. John Carling, Minister of Agriculture, regarding the display of fruits, field roots and vegetables at the Colonial Exhibition, from which we take the following:—

"SIR,—Acting under instructions from your Department, I have applied myself almost incessantly during the past two months in gathering together and forwarding to London, for the Colonial Exhibition, select specimens of Horticultural and Agricultural products. A systematic organization has been devised and put in operation, by means of which representative collections have been obtained and sent forward from nearly all parts of the Dominion."

ARRANGEMENTS FOR SHIPMENT.

"The mail steamer Sardinian, of the Allan Line, and Vancouver of the Dominion Line, were both fitted with cold storage compartments, which will, we believe, provide the conditions necessary for the successful transport of the softer and more perishable fruits. About 60 cases were forwarded in the Sardinian, which left Montreal on the 24th September, and about 300 in the Vancouver, which left on the 28th. The Allan steamer, which sailed on the 5th of Oct, took the finnl shipment of about 50 cases."

ARRANGEMENTS IN ENGLAND.

"Arrangements have been made in London by which ample space has been secured for the display of these products in the Hall of the Royal Agriduitural Society, a building located within the exhibition enclosure, and quiet near the Canadian courts. The attention of the visitors and of the British public generally will also be called to this exhibit through the press and otherwise, so that all interested in the subject will be informed of the nature and extent of this new feature of attraction in connection with the Canadian department. It is expected that the greater portion of the fruit will reach London in good time to admit selections being made to be shown in competition with English fruit at an exhibition to be held from the 12th to the 14th of October.

"When the many fine collections referred to, gathered over the vast area embraced within the Dominion of Canada, are all brought together, they will form a display of fruits, field roots and vegetables, far exceeding in beauty and variety any previous Canadian collection, while the perfection, size and quality of the specimens shown will afford further convincing proof of the desirable character of the climate of this country and the fertility of the soil, and form a fitting climax to a most successful undertaking."

The Chicago Strike.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—A committee from the General Assembly of the Knights of Labor is having consultations with individual owners of packing houses, not finding it possible to deal with a committee representing the entire packing house interest. The beef men continue at work, and the Armour house is running its pork department with a reduced force.

A Fatal Crash.

OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—A shocking accident occurred on the Lievre river near Johnston's mill, about Buckingham, yesterday, resulting in the drowning of a man named Albert Newton. It appears that the deceased with a companion started shortly after 12 o'clock to cross the river in a scow. When about mid-way in the stream their unwieldy craft became unmanageable, and at the same moment the steamboat Agnes, coming from an opposite direction, bore down upon them at full speed. The pilot on the boat turned the helm, but the movement was accomplished too late. The scow was struck with tremendous force, hoisted in the air, and fell back into the water, cut in two. The occupants were hurled into the water, and before the boat came to a stand still Newton had sunk out of sight. His companion was rescued with difficulty. Newton, whose body was recovered, leaves a wife and family.

On One Knee.

A novel and curious case is being tried in the Superior Court before Mr. Justice Johnson and a special jury. The plaintiff, H. Poitras, sues the defendant, D. Lebeau, for damages under the following circumstances: The plaintiff was present at High Mass in the Church of Ste. Anne Bout de l'Isle on the 9th August, at which service Lebeau acted as connetable (beadle). The plaintiff during the service knelt on one knee only, claiming that he was sick and unable to use both knees. For this he was complained of by the defendant and a warrant was issued for his arrest on the charge of having acted in an irreverend manner in not kneeling on both knees. He was made to pay a fine and costs, which he did under protest, and now sues for such damages as the court may award. The jury will determine this and whether the above alleged facts are true or not.—Montreal Star.

FORCED APART.

BY W. CLARK RUSSELL.

Author of the "Wreck of the Grosvenor," "A Sailor's Sweetheart," Etc.

The acted portion of it all was a vague memory; her love for the man who had induced her to secretly wed him was only reality.

Four o'clock was chiming when she reached home. Long before this had Mrs. Strangefield grown weary of watching at the window, and with deep anxiety had gone back to seek the girl in the town. Polly was singing in the kitchen as she scrubbed the floor, so that Mr. Strangefield in the parlor did not hear Jenny enter, nor her light footstep as she went upstairs.

At her bedroom door she haulted, with such a shock of surprise and consternation as the sight of a dead man might have produced on her; for all about the window the floor was littered with her husband's sacred letters, heedlessly tossed and lying open, with their ribbon bindings among them.

She well knew whose hand had done this, and, recovering herself, entered the room, closed the door and removed her hat, moving softly, and all the while looking at the letters.

This done, she knelt down and gathered together the precious missives, pressing them often to her pale lips, and narrowly inspecting the carpets for bits of the dry forget-me-nots and other fragments of flowers which had fallen from the letters under Strangfield's angry handling of them.

Scarcely had she replaced the papers in her desk when she heard her father's steps on the stairs. He entered his bedroom, but speedily emerged, being struck, perhaps, to find Jenny's door closed.

He turned the handle sharply and exclaimed:

"Ah, you be here, then! Your mother has gone to look for you. You are well practised in treading softly. Where have you been?"

"I have been to the schoolhouse to seek my husband," she answered, returning his stern gaze with a look of despairing resolution.

"And you have not found him?"

"No, father, no!" she replied, with a shriek in her voice.

"If he be your husband, why has he left you?" he said, speaking as a judge might in pronouncing a man to death.

She shook her head and locked her twitching fingers, no longer meeting his eyes, for the bitterness in them was insupportable.

He approached the bed and leaned heavily upon the frame of it.

"Woman! in my heart you are condemned for treachery to me and your mother. Yet I have said to myself, in the words of the Preacher, 'Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry!' and now, if you find me so, you shall rebuke me. Jenny, for what you have this day told your mother, I hate my own flesh that you should be a part of it. Yet I will be merciful. You shall prove to me that you sin is not the dishonor of your parent's name, nor the destruction of your soul in the eyes of Almighty God. Do you heed me? You shall prove this."

She made no answer.

"Speak!" he cried. "Show me how this may be done."

She looked at him with terrified eyes, for no courage that she had could combat her instinctive fear of him. He waited for her reply.

"Tell me what I am to do, father! indeed, I will obey you. I am truly his wife. God, who hears me, knows that I am not speaking falsely. With this ring he wedded me, father."

And with trembling hand she sought in her pocket for her purse.

"Nay, nay, I have no wish to see it. Such a matter signifies nothing. Better tricks than such tokens cannot fool old eyes. Tell me where you were married."

"In London, father."

"Ay, in London. At what church?"

"I do not know the name; it has slipped my memory. Or my husband never mentioned it," she replied, with an expression on her face that should have told her father to press her no further.

"By whom were you married?"

"I did not see—I was frightened. The church was dark, and I did not lift my eyes, and we were but a moment signing our names."

A look of savage incredulity—the skepticism of a man stirred to the most hidden and deadly forces of his nature—shot into his face. He gazed at her for some moments in silence, and then, in a voice that, for the hollowness of it, sounded as though it rose from under his feet, said:

"It is as I before said—you remember nothing. But their wedding is a thing all women remember; and it is strange you should so soon forget yours, when your mother will tell you everything that befell on her wedding day, twenty-three years ago. Would you know the church if you saw it?"

"Yes, father, I—I think so—I do not know, father."

"To-morrow you and I will go to London," said he. "Make up a little box of things, for this business may keep us. In the morning, at seven, we start. Be in readiness!"

Without another word he left the room.

She leaned against the wall near the window, and her heavy eyelashes drooped over the sorrowful beauty of her eyes. So standing, and with her graceful profile taking a delicate transparency from the light shining through the window, and the soft fulness of her perfect form ripely figured on the white ground of paper that supported her, never more lovely had she looked; and the shimmer of her yellow hair was the trembling of evening sunshine on the water.

Deep grief is always quiescent, and the deepest grief was shrined in this gentle woman. That she was not guiltless only made her sorrow the more moving. She had erred in deceiving father and mother, in privily, without home's blessing, undertaking the sacred obligation of marriage. Yet how hardly was she dealt with! how cruel the interpretation of a deed of faithful love! And why had Cuthbert left her? How bitterly hard that any act of his should be beyond the skill of her heart to construe! Yet her glorious fidelity could not hold him faithless.

In this wise thinking, with an impulsive movement she drew forth her purse and slipped her wedding ring on, kissed it wildly, and, with a quick toss of her hands, fell with face upon the bed, weeping bitterly.

This picture was she in when her mother entered the room. The poor woman ran to her outstretched

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from proprietary medicines, no doubt has largely benefitted the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the German Syrup for cough and lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size. d84

FACTS

Concerning Dr. Dorenwend's

It is the only prepration in the world that will do what is claimed for it. It has produced luxuriant growths of hair on bald heads where baldness has existed for years. It has restored the color and vigor to numerous crops of gray and faded hair. It has relieved hundreds of persons of disagreeable Dandruff and has saved many when hair was falling, from becoming bald.

Remember these facts and if your hair is falling out and becoming thin, get a bottle at once and save the growth, or you may lose it for ever. Ask your druggist for HAIR MAGIC and take nothing else.

BEWARE

OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS

As there are many fabulous goods, coated with paste, hemp, etc., offered and sold as Coraline by some unprincipled merchants trading on the reputation of our genuine Coraline, we warn the ladies against such imposition by directing their attention to the necessity of seeing that the name is stamped on inner side of all Coraline goods, Without which none are genuine.

'CROMPTON CORSET CO.'

GO!

It is remarkable how our Ulsters, Mantles and Dolmans go. Our success this Season has been unparalleled, (considering the fine warm weather) in making up Ulsters, Mantles and Dolmans from our very complete stock.

The Autumn chill, the Winter Snow,
The heavy dew, the pattering rain,
The frost that bites, the winds that blow,
Invade our Ulsters all in vain.

No careless folds our Ulsters show,
But round the human form divine
The perfect fit will still disclose
The rounding form, the curving line.

Faultless fit, correct styles, good variety, excellent work, and a great saving in price will be found in Alexander's Mantles, Ulsters and Dolmans made to order.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

Lakefield Train Service.

The Grand Trunk Railway connection to Lakefield changed on Monday. From this until further notice the train will leave Peterborough at 12.30 and return at four, staying about two hours at Lakefield.

Scott Act.

The case of Queen vs. Daly was heard at the court on Tuesday afternoon. The defendant pleaded not guilty at first, but after the examination of some witnesses he acknowledged the offence, and was fined $50 and costs.

Fire.

On Tuesday night at a quarter after ten o'clock a fire was discovered in the rear of Mr. Harry Martin's grocery store, Charlotte street. The brigade was called out, but their services were not needed, a few pails of water sufficing to extinguish the flames. There was no loss.

Recovering.

The young man, Alex. Cooper, who was injured in Hilliard's saw mill a short time ago, is recovering satisfactorily at the Nicholls Hospital. He has lost his right arm, it having been amputated close to his shoulder shortly after the accident happened.

Accident.

A distressing accident happened to Mrs. Hamilton, Auburn, on Monday evening. While driving along the road leading north from Ashburnham, a dog ran out and frightened the horse. Mrs. Hamilton was thrown out and was bruised severely. The injuries thought painful, are happily not serious.

W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held in the Y.M.C.A. Hall Monday afternoon, the attendance being much larger than during the summer months. After the reading of the minutes, treasurer's report, and reports from the various committees were received, the subject of gospel temperance meetings was taken up and it was decided that the Union hold one of such meetings every month, the first of which will be held one week from next Sunday, of which further particulars will be given later.

Also Ambitious.

The Peterborough Fire Brigade Band is as ambitious as Peterborough itself. It also wants to take highest rank, and be a credit to the new city. Mr. Finch Millar, the master, is at present in need of three clarionet players. He can furnish the instruments, uniforms, and can readily get the men if the business men of the town will get them something to do. Three situations should be easily found in such a place as Peterborough. The band would like to see the citizens interest themselves in its welfare in this way, and by doing so they will give it the most substantial sort of help.

Autumn.

Beautiful Autumn, with its richly tinted falling leaves, its decaying shrubs and flowers, with a complete transformation of the not long since emerald-green forest and shady dells, is almost gone for another year. The steady old pendulem of Time has kept ceaselessly on plying its avocation to and fro until the long hand of the clock of Time is pointing directly to stern Winter. With the ever-changing seasons comes the necessity of obeying the laws of Nature in a greater or less degree. People who have enjoyed the pleasant and warm sunshine of the Summer, will now hastily prepare for the advent of Jack Frost. After the coal stoves have been put in running order once more, the sensible individual will invariably look to his own personal comfort, and betake himself off to some reliable clothing house and purchase a stock of comfortable wearing apparel for the Winter months. A. McNEIL, at Habilliment Hall, is prepared to furnish you with everything in the clothing line. The best and most carefully selected goods to be found in Peterborough. You will do well to call and examine.

CRACK COUNTY SHOTS.

A DOUBLY DIURNAL MEETING OF LOCAL MARKSMEN.

The Shooting—Who Did It—What They Shot for and What They Won—History of Four Cups.

During the past two days the red and black coated worshippers at the shrines of Mars and Minerva, "Association" men, sportsmen, and even "maidens," have been acting like children—they have all been hankering after "bullseyes."

The annual rifle matches under the auspices of the County of Peterborough Rifle Association opened at the range on Monday morning at nine o'clock, with fair weather and a good number of entries. There were about $300 worth of prizes offered, donated by citizens and the Association.

HIGHEST AGGREGATE.

Dr. Bell made the highest aggregate in the County and Association matches, winning a barrel of apples; Mr. F. Hall made the second highest, winning a prize presented by Capt. Langford. Each made 123, the latter being counted out on ranges.

HISTORY OF THE CUPS.

There are four cups now in the hands of the Association, the Bankers' Cup of 1877, presented by the bankers of Peterborough; the Bankers' Cup of 1881, presented by the same; the Cox Cup, presented by Mr. Geo. A. Cox, and the Rogers Challenge Cup, presented by Lieut.-Col. Harry Rogers.

The first, to become the property of a competitor, must be won twice in succession. None of them have yet succeeded in capturing the trophy, though it has been won 3 times by one marksman, and 3 by another. In 1877 Jas. Stothard won it; in 1878, W. A. Bell; in 1879, R.H. Smith; in 1880, A. Sanderson; in 1881, E. Sanderson; in 1882, W. A. Bell; in 1883, Jas. Stothard; in 1884, F. W. Mount; in 1885, A Blade; and this year Mr. Geo. Fitzgerald has won it. In 1884 Stothard came within less than one of bearing it off in triumph. Mount's score stood 49 and his own score stood 49. Mount, however counted him out on the ranges.

The second cup named becomes the property of any competitor winning it twice. The list of those who won it since its presentation in 1881 is as follows: W. H. Hill, J. Scollie, A. Blade, Geo. Fitzgerald, F. Hall and R. M. Dennistown.

The Cox cup must not only be won three times in succession, but it must be won by a resident of the county. It was given in 1882 and since then it has been handed over successfully by Jas. Stothard to J. Foley, by J. Foley to R. M. Dennistown, and by R. M. Denniston to Dr. Bell.

The Rogers challenge cup was presented three years ago, for corps competition, to be won three times in succession. The Cavalry troup have sent a team into the field which carried off two cups given under similar regulation and this one they have won twice in succession. It appears that they were not able to get a team together this year.

POLICE COURT.

D & D.

TUESDAY, Oct. 13.—Mathew McDonald, Wm. Marks and T. W. Eastland were charged by P. C. Piddeon with being drunk and disorderly on Sunday night. The two latter pleaded guilty and were fined $2 and $2.35 cost. The first named pleaded not guilty stating that he was perfectly sober. His case was adjourned till Friday.

DRUNK.

Jas. Farrell appeared in the Court this morning for the tenth time to tell how it was that he fell under the "influence." He gave the same old explanation—he took a drop too much.

The MAGISTRATE wondered how it was that a man could get drunk in a Scott Act town. He also imposed a fine of $2 and $3.50 costs, the prisoner to go to gaol till it was paid.

The PRISONER thought the Court might be lenient to an old man.

The COURT thought that it should not be lenient in this case as an old man should know better than to get drunk.

The Bon Marche.

Is still in full swing. Bargains unprecedented are its daily contribution to the benefit of the public. It is competing vigorously and successfully with the great Central Fair. Its attractions are quite as great and its benefits financially bear no comparison.

The Robson-Elliott Race.

Owing to the illness of the referee and stakeholder the race between Robson and Elliott has been postponed until Nov. 2nd at 3.30 in the afternoon. An additional $100 has been posted by the parties, making the total stakes $200. A close and exciting race may be looked for, as both contestants have gone into active training.

How it Stands.

A day or two ago A. P. Morgan issued a challenge to F. J. Daly to match his grey horse Little Ned against the latter's grey mare Fannie B. for $100 a side and upwards, race to be trotted on November 2nd (good track and good day.) Mr. Daly has accepted the challenge, agreeing to the time, but accepts it subject to play or pay. If the two trotters come together a red hot race may be looked for.

Autumn.

Beautiful Autumn, with its richly tinted falling leaves, its decaying shrubs and flowers, with a complete transformation of the not long since emerald-green forest and shady dells, is almost gone for another year. The steady old pendulem of Time has kept ceaselessly on plying its avocation to and fro until the long hand of the clock of Time is pointing directly to stern Winter. With the ever-changing seasons comes the necessity of obeying the laws of Nature in a greater or less degree. People who have enjoyed the pleasant and warm sunshine of the Summer, will now hastily prepare for the advent of Jack Frost. After the coal stoves have been put in running order once more, the sensible individual will invariably look to his own personal comfort, and betake himself off to some reliable clothing house and purchase a stock of comfortable wearing apparel for the Winter months. A. McNEIL, at Habilliment Hall, is prepared to furnish you with everything in the clothing line. The best and most carefully selected goods to be found in Peterborough. A "Silver" Surprise.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Daly returned home from their wedding tour through New York State a few days ago to find that their friends had prepared for them a "silver" surprise. Owing to the marriage being celebrated early in the morning, no opportunity was presented for sending in these substantial well wishes, so that Mrs. Daly's friends conceived this happy plan to surprise her. On her return she found among other things a very pretty silver butter cooler, an elegantly chased silver sugar bowl and spoonholder combined, a silver framed pickle stand, a tall silver cake dish and a beautifully finished hall lamp, made of beaten brass, shaded with hand painted porcelain, fringed with prisms and hung with fine chains of brass, and a number of other useful articles.

Inland Navigation.

KINGSTON, October 13.—The Dominion Government have granted $20,000 for the purpose of making the waters navigable from Morton to Gananoque, the Gananoque Water Power Company having promised to pay for all land damages caused by raising the depth of water and giving the Government a deed of all the land so secured. The sum of $14,000 is being asked to remove obstructions between Lyndhurst and Marble Rock.

THE ISLAND OF GOTTLAND.

PARIS, Oct. 13.—The Soir's Berlin correspondent learns that England is renewing her efforts to induce Sweden to allow her to establish a coaling station on the Island of Gottland or on a neighboring island. RUSSIA AND THE ELECTIONS.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 12.—Newspapers are unanimously of the opinion that decisive action by Russia in regard to Bulgaria is imperative. The Journal de St. Petersburg says:—"Events justified Russia in urging the postponement of the elections in Bulgaria until the passion of the people had cooled from the late excitement. It can be readily understood why Russia refuses to recognize or sanction the assembly elected under such a condition of affairs as now exists in Bulgaria.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

MR. MOWAT'S LITTLE TRICK.

The game for the workingman's vote stakes which the Mowat Government have been playing for the past two years with the Factory act passed two years ago by the Ontario Legislature, having been spoiled by Hon Mr. Thompson's exposure of the methods of the operators, and further delay in the hope of injuring the Government being useless, a proclamation has been issued putting the measure in force from the 1st December next. It will be interesting to see the attempt made by the Liberals to claim credit for a law which they have deliberately held in abeyance for two years, and would have continued to keep back had it not been that their underhand proceedings were brought to light.—Montreal Gazette.

THE INFLUENCE OF PROTECTION.

The history of the steel industry in this country furnishes an unanswerable argument in favour of the protective tariff. Mr. Blaine used the facts to good advantage in the recent canvass in Maine. A number of free trade advocates have sought to destroy the effect of his argument, but they have failed. The growth of this industry under the fostering care of a protective tariff has been so great that, instead of being wholly dependent on English for steel, the United States now fairly outrivals her in its products, and the President of the Iron and Steel Institute in London yesterday warned his countrymen that blind belief in English supremacy in this regard would result in disaster.—N. Y Tribune.

THAYENDANEGEA.

Unveiling the Statue of Our Great Indian Ally.

BRADFORD, Oct. 13.—The memorial statue of Thayendanega, better known as Joseph Brant, the great Mohawk chief, was unveiled to-day by Lieut.-Governor J. B. Robinson with appropriate ceremonials, before a great concourse of people. Among those present was General Sir F. Middleton and othe prominent men of the Dominion, the Province and the Municipality, the Indian chiefs from the Northwest, chiefs of the Six Nations and the Chippewas, with delegates from the Indians of the United States. The fine statue, by Mr. Percy Wood, was greatly admired, and was delivered to the care of the corporation of Brantford.

"Well, well—the world must turn upon its axis
And all mankind turn with it, heads or tails
And live and die, make love and pay our taxes,"

is the way Byron looks at it; but "it is not all of life to live." A healthy life is the only one "worth living for," and that depends on the liver. If the liver is not in good working order, pimples, blotches, skin disease, scrofula, catarrh, and a long list of dangerous diseases result. "Make love; pay taxes," but above all get Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," and free your system of all impurities of the of the blood by restoring your liver to healthy action. By druggists.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1886.

A CITY.

It cannot be said that our Town Council is premature in referring to the consideration of a committee the question of the advisability of taking steps for raising Peterborough to the status of a city. The progress our good town has made, its increase in population, trade, wealth and prosperity; its adoption of the latest improvements of advancing civilization, all warrant it in looking forward to this promotion as well-deserved and appropriate.

There are two advantages to be derived from the change, that are obviously apparent. The rank of a city certainly gives prestige to a municipality and brings it more favorably before the eyes of the world while without it Peterborough appears at a disadvantage as compared with other places, some of which are even less worthy of city rank than our flourishing town. Then, with a few other towns, we are at present in the position of being neither fish nor flesh, neither bat nor bird; not like Lindsay, for example, a part of the county, nor like Belleville, an altogether independent corporation. This ambiguous standing entails certain inconveniences, and from there being few towns thus situated their fair claims are very likely to be overlooked and prejudiced in a general measure of legislation. These inconveniences would be obviated if we became a city.

There may be other advantages, and it will be one duty of the well-selected and efficient committee that has the matter in hand, to ascertain these. It will also be their duty to ascertain and weigh the cost at which we would purchase these advantages. That is really the important question to be determined, whether city rank would impose upon us any burdens that would be more than commensurate with what we would gain by the change.

We hope that a careful examination of of the circumstances will show that we would not have to pay too high a price for the promotion, and that we will continue to make even more rapid strides in advance as the City of Peterborough.

A "LIBERAL" MOUTHPIECE.

Mr. J. D. Edgar has again been interviewed in the Quebec Provincial elections, this time by means of a letter of encouragement to a Rielite candidate, which is paraded in the Rielite organs. In this epistle Mr. Edgar impudently pretends that the Conservatives "have lighted the fires of a war of race and religion." This he does in the teeth of his mission to the Province of Quebec, to the advocates of rebellion and murder and of vengeance for the punishment of such crimes, a mission which resulted in his forming an alliance with the Rielites, which, if not authorized beforehand by Mr. Blake, was subsequently sanctioned by him. He does it in the teeth of his message of congratulation to a successful Rielite candidate, whose sole cry was vengeance on the "murderers" who hanged Riel, the message being sent in the name of the Liberals of Toronto, a description which includes Mr. Mowat and Mr. Blake, without any repudiation from those gentlemen Mr. Edgar, his friends and leaders, stirred up the "war of race and religion," and now he accuses those who condemn such conduct and repel such an attack, of thereby being guilty of his own crime.

Mr. Edgar concludes his letter as follows:—

"Rest assured that the Ontario Liberals look with deepest interest for the success of Mr. Mercier on 14th October. We hope that the English electors of your Province will give their votes to secure the downfall of the corrupt and incapable Administration at Quebec, which is merely a donkey-engine for the large machine at Ottawa. To judge from the feeling in Ontario the days of Sir John Macdonald's Ministry are numbered, but his friends still cling to the hope of carrying Quebec for the Local, in order to strengthen his position at the Dominion elections. The defeat of the Ross Government will be the beginning of the end, and will herald the early advent to power of the Liberal party of the Dominion, under its great leader, Edward Blake.

"With every wish for your own election by a large majority,

"Believe me, very truly yours,

"J. D. EDGAR."

It will be seen that Mr. Edgar continues to speak in the name of "the Ontario Liberals," which no doubt as the hireling and personal representative of Mr. Mowat and Mr. Blake he has a certain right to do, at least for the Rielite wing of the Reform party. He is under the especial patronage of its leaders. Mr. Mowat made him one of the chief beneficiaries of the property of which he robbed Mr. Mercer under forms of law. Mr. Mowat bought for him a vacancy when he sought a seat in the House of Commons. Mr. Blake seated him him for the pocket constituency of which, contrary to the spirit of our constitution he had acquired control. Mr. Blake employs him regularly as his agent and messenger. Mr. Edgar, no doubt, has a right to speak for the Rielite-Reform combination.

And now again Mr. Edgar betrays the complicity of the Rielite-Reformers with the attempt to punish with dismissal from office Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues for daring to allow justice to be done to the murderous and venal rebel Riel. The contest in Quebec, as he shows, is not a mere Provincial matter, since as is avowed the attack upon the Ross Administration is for the purpose of punishing it for refusing to conspire against the Dominion Administration, and for the further purpose of making the hoped for defeat of he Provincial Administration a step towards the defeat of Sir John Macdonald and is colleagues at Ottawa.

This is the avowed object of the conspiracy, and Mr. Edgar as the mouthpiece of "the Ontario Liberals" admits their complicity in it. There are, however, happily many loyal Liberals, many honest Reformers, who disclaim any sympathy with this plot of Mr. Edgar and his leaders, and who, therefore, will no longer follow a party which is thus officially disgraced and mislead.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

BY W. CLUXTON.

The San Francisco Commercial Herald of Sept. 30th says:—"The receipts of wheat continue to be quite large; they are getting to be the largest in the history of the State. To September 25th inclusive they equalled, wheat and flour together, the equivalent of five million centals. This is 72½ per cent. more than a year ago, while the export is about three fold. There is a large quantity of wheat arriving and being shipped, but much of it was purchased prior to the reduction. Sales on call Tuesday were 3,000 tons. The market is full of grapes selling at almost any price. Raspberries are in fair supply. Strawberries and blackberries in favor. Apples a drug. Dried fruit arrives more freely. * * * Thread has recently been made from the bells of milkweed which is said to have had the consistency and tenacity of flax or linen thread. The fibre is long, easily carded, and can be adapted to spinning on an ordinary flax spinner. Easily grown, the plant, hitherto a worthless weed, may prove a rival to the cotton of the South." * * * Wheat is sadly demoralized in Chicago. With the large increase in the visible supply, and with some heavy failures in the produce business in Chicago, the price has ran down lower than it has been for the last 25 years. In my next I will give some explanation as to the way business is managed in Chicago. Barley continues dull with not much doing. This is a difficult year to handle barley. With such low prices the poorer qualities will be used by farmers for feed, and there may be some export demand for the English markets. The price of barley, at present, is low enough. The rapid advance in the price of cheese has come to a halt. Liverpool remains steady at 56s. and London at 60s., New York 12 cents, and holders in Montreal ask 12¼ cents. A large sale of selected factories—September and October cheese—was made here last week at 12 cents. Cheese is dear enough. It would be safer, I think, to sell than to buy at present prices. The crop of oats is very large and the price must continue moderate. The price of oats in Peterborough appears, comparatively speaking, too low.

FLOODS IN MUSKOKA.

Briges Swept Away by a Bursting Mill-dam—Railway Bridge Damaged.

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 10.—Four bridges in the township of Chaffey have been swept away by the bursting of Osborne's milldam on the Little East Muskoka river. The dam contained a body of water sixteen feet deep and a mile in length which, when suddenly released, swept down the river bed carrying all before it. The iron bridge of the Northern and Pacific Junction railway which crosses the Little East river about six miles from that place was considerable damaged. The flood carried away four of the stone abutments on which the bridge rested, besides destroying the foundation of others. The upper part of the bridge was left hanging over the stream with no support. The damage will amount to fully $2,000. Traffic is not suspended, but passengers and freight are transhipped across the river. Workmen were immediately sent to erect a temporary structure to permit of the passage of trains. A large amount of debris and flood wood had collected around the foundation of the bridge. A gang of seventy-five men was employed all last night making a clearance. In a few days it is expected trains will be able to get across. It will take about a month to repair the damage.

HASTINGS.

A GOOD JOB.—The Star says:—The coffer dam was removed on Wednesday of last week and our beautiful river once more resumed its normal appearance. The repairs to the dam are now completed, and the vast quantity of work performed within such a short time, and the thoroughness of the job speaks volumes for the executive abilities of the engineer Mr. R. B. Rogers, of Peterborough, and the foreman in charge, Mr. Wm. Kennedy, of Bobcaygeon, on whom the burden of the mechanical work rested, and which was intelligently economically and efficiently carried out to the minutest details.

For the Coming Winter Evenings.

The evenings are lengthening with the coming of cold weather, says a writer in the Toledo Blade, and we beg to remind the young people—and the old ones, too—that a good book, a nice fire and a quiet room are most precious things when taken in combination. Society is good in its way, but one gets talked out and needs to refresh the mind. We recall the following concerning the habits of reading from a letter written by Lord Macaulay to his niece. It is worth perusing and obeying:—

"I am always glad to make my little girl happy, and nothing pleases me so much as to see that she likes books. For when she is as old as I am she will find that they are better than all the tarts, and cakes and cakes and toys and plays in the world. If any one would make me the greatest king who ever lived, with palaces and gardens, and fine dinners, and wines, and coaches, and beautiful clothes, and hundreds of servants, on condition that I would not read books, I would not be a king. I would rather be a poor man in a garret, with plenty of books, than a king who did not love reading."

A young woman named Blyth has been arrested in Glasgow on a charge of wounding a laborer named Cairns by throwing vitrol on him.

The fishing boat "Kingfisher," of Dungarvan, was run down and sunk by the schooner "Engenie" off Helveck Head near Dungarvan, yesterday, and two of her crew were drowned.

The Marquis of Huntly, on behalf of the Gordon family, has handed over to the community of Aberdeen a statue of the late General Gordon, which is to be erected in front of the School of Art.

A boy named Hannah, 16, a native of Glasgow, fell from a lifting scaffold while employed at the Forth Bridge Works, a distance of 70ft., and was killed. The accident occurred on the north side of the river.

At a recent monthly meeting of Glasgow School Board, it was stated that 67 schools, giving accommodation for 54,276 scholars, were now open. As compared with last year the present session shows a large increase both in the number enrolled and in attendance. There is also an advance in the number enrolled in the evening classes.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from proprietary medicines, no doubt has largely benefitted the consumers, as well as relieving the ourden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the German Syrup for cough and lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size. d84

FORCED APART.

BY W. CLARK RUSSELL.

Author of the "Wreck of the Grosvenor," "A Sailor's Sweetheart," Etc.

"You have come back, my darling! Where hast thou been all this long time? Jenny, do not cry so—my heart will break if you grieve in this way. Has father been saying unkind things to thee, my pretty? Come, come, it is not all hopeless yet. Truly I believe that Mr. Shaw is thy husband; and be sure, be sure he will return, for no man with his beauty is heartless, and he would not have married thee, Jenny, to leave thee in this way!"

She raised the girl from the bed and led her to a chair, and, kneeling by her, pillowed her head in her bosom.

"Oh, mother, is it not too cruel that I should lose my husband and be doubted by father? To-morrow he means to take me to London to show him the church; for he will not believe me without dragging me a weary journey. And God knows what I shall do when we reach London, for I do not remember the name of the church, nor the street where it stands, and I have told him I was too scared to take notice. And would not a young girl like me be frightened, mother, in that great place, and acting wrongly, although I was with my darling?"

"To-morrow does he take you to London! Oh, what a strange, hard man! Why, all day you will be traveling; and cannot he see that you have no strength?" cried Mrs. Strangfield, rising from her knees, and, with a hot, indignant look, she swept out of the room, and went to her husband, whom she found in the act of quitting the house.

"Michael, I must speak to thee. What are you going to do with Jenny? If you break her heart you will kill us both, and that indeed you are doing!" she cried, shrilly.

With his hand on the latch of the house door he stared at her with a contemptuous sternness, then with a stride made for the parlor, and closed the door upon them both.

"Jane, subdue your voice, and speak to me respectfully. You are the girl's mother, and I will listen to you; but I am her father, and mine is the name she has blasted. Do you heed that? It is Michael Strangfield's daughter whom the people are talking about. Remember this, and now say your mind."

"For shame! for shame! to speak of her as having blasted your name!" replied Mrs. Strangfield, quite unable to control her voice. "Hath she not told you that Mr. Shaw is her husband? The wedding ring is now on her finger—as good a ring as this—and if she be not an honorable wife, then my name is my father's. What! you would take the poor heart to London, when she declares that in her fright she took no notice of the street and church! Would not a stout spirit be scared by what she did, with thee, as her father, to terrify her conscience? Why, myself, when you are hazing me with your strong voice, lose my head and know not what I am about. And shall our little wench have stronger brains than her mother—at a time, too, which makes the best of women tremble and keep their eyes down in modesty and awe, though their parents are with them and kind friends to give them heart for the journey! For shame! to doubt her! What think you is her sin?"

"Understand this!" he shouted with fury, and his eyes in a blaze; "if she says she knows not the church wherein she was married, nor can show it me, nor the book wherein their names should be written, nor the man that married them, and hath no more evidence than a ring which a crown piece would buy for any harlot, I'll know her for what she is—and no tears from her, nor insolence from thee, shall change me!"

She held out her hands in the attitude of one fending off an attack.

"Never could I have believed it of thee, Michael!" she said, in a voice of indescribable reproach, and turned to leave him.

"Stay!" he commanded. "Before you go, give me your reason for opposing me."

Too insulted by his words about her child to confront him, she replied:

"She has not the strength to travel to London; and why would you take her there? She tells thee plainly she will not know the church, though she see it, and its name was never mentioned to her by Mr. Shaw."

"You believe her!" he said, with deep-toned sarcasm.

"As I believe in the Lord!" cried the mother, eagerly, turning her swimming eyes upon him.

"You shall credit her if you please, but your faith in her innocence does not purify her. Give me proof of her honesty, and, though I scorn her for her deceit, yet you shall see me use her gently. Am I to stand still under this shame that has come upon me and mine, and make no effort to clear it away, that our light may shine again before men? She does not lack strength to seek her husband, and since noon has she been wandering in the heat. Though we had to travel a thousand miles for proof of her honor, would the journey be too long? Let God forgive her for sending me in my old age from my home, to clear her name of foul suspicion—if it can be done! Go now and repeat my words to her, and let her be in readiness to start with me at the hour I named. No more!" he cried, with a stamp of the foot, holding up his hand. "Too much have you already said. Bid her keep to her room, for I'll not meet her this day."

And passing his wife, he flung open the door and left the house.

"The Lord have mercy upon him, and forgive him his sins," moaned poor Mrs. Strangfield to herself.

Not immediately could she return to Jenny. She had bargained on controlling her husband, by her appeal, from taking the girl to London, and, being defeated, wanted time to recover her heart to meet the poor child.

She must have a good cry before she went to her; and cry she did, heartily thinking all the while of the proud position she might hold as Cuthbert's mother-in-law—the envy of all tattlers—if Michael would only take things quietly and leave her to manage a bit.

DANGEROUS POLITICIANS.

The screaming harrangues of the Mercier men on the stump had disturbed the mental balance of thousands of good citizens and set them effigy burning, stone throwing, window smashing and hating their English speaking fellow citizens. The seeds of a plentiful crop of mutual discord were sown. Confederation was endangered for the sake of a chance that this Province might enjoy the inestimable blessing of being ruled by Mr. Mercier.—Montreal Star. (Ind.)

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Possesses the greatest possible power to heal and control affections of the throat and lungs, with absolute safety for children or adults. The experience of years has proven it to be of inestimable value as a household medicine, and for professional use. Thousands of physicians and families testify to its great worth. Jas. E. Moling, Hilliard, Ohio, writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for twelve years, and have found that, as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, or Sore Throats, it

Is Unequaled.

J. I. Miller, editor of the "Lutheran Home," Luray, Va., writes: "I advertise nothing that I do not know to be good. I was saved from the grave, I am sure, by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and have recommended it to others with the happiest results." L. J. Addison, M. D., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have never found, in thirty-five years of continuous study and practice in medicine, any preparation of so great value as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, for treatment of diseases of the throat and lungs; and I constantly recommend it to my patients. It not only breaks up colds and cures severe coughs, but is effective in relieving the most serious bronchial and pulmonary affections."

John J. Uhlman, Brooklyn, N.S., writes: "Twelve years ago, I was afflicted with a severe bronchial trouble, pronounced by a skilful physician to be very dangerous, and liable to terminate in Pneumonia. After using one bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I found great relief, and an occasional use of it since that time has, I think, extended my life ten years at least." Mrs. V. M. Thebaud, Montreal, Canada, writes: "Last spring my daughter was attacked by membraneous croup, or diphtheria. The doctor prescribed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which cured her of the diphtheria. Being still very weak and sick, she began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which restored her to vigorous health."

THE FAIR AT NORWOOD

THE ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF THE EAST RIDING SOCIETY.

A Large Increase in the Number of Entries—A Fine Display—Unfavorable Weather, But Good Attendance.

The Annual exhibition of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society, was held at Norwood on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. On the evening of the first day there was a good attendance at the drill shed, where the exhibits in the inside department were shown, about two hundred persons having passed through the door. The Norwood Brass band was in attendance and furnished good music, as they also did on the afternoon of the second day.

The second day of the fair opened cloudy and threatening, and during the day rain fell, yet the exhibitors were not deterred from showing their stock. The attendance was large, especially considering the weather, and the receipts amounted to about $300.

The display of roots and vegetables was one that the members of the Society and the East Riding should be proud of. There was a comprehensive list, and the specimens shown were excellent ones. There was a good display of fruit, the ladies' work and home manufacturers showed up well, and the exhibit of grain was a good one.

Of horses there was some very fine animals, and in some classes the competition was keen. The number of thoroughbred cattle showed testified to the attention being paid by the farmers in this part of the country to the raising of good stock. There was a larger number of both cattle and horses shown that there was last year. The sheep were a fine lot of animals, and there was some fine porkers on exhibition. Of poultry there was a very good display.

The manufacturers made a large display of machines of different kinds.

Mr. Peter Hamilton, of Peterborough, showed a number of agricultural implements made at his works. Messrs. J. Whyte & Co., of Peterborough and Campbellford, also had a display of agricultural implements and showed ornamental house cresting made by them. Mr. Wm. Forsyth, Peterborough, showed the I. X. L. and Champion fanning mills. Mr. H. Owens, Peterborough, had a display of pumps, as did also Mr W. H. Stacey, of Norwood. Mr. Stephenson, of Norwood, showed the Wisner agricultural machines, and Mr. J. Slater Knox the Noxon Bros. machines. Mr. M. Curtis, Peterboroug, had a display of tiles and bricks, and Mr. J. S. Patterson exhibited specimens of turned wood. Mr. J. W. Crosby, of Peterborough, showed an Uxbridge organ and a Lansdowne piano, upon which musicians performed during the day. Mr. Foley, of Norwood, had a display of different kinds of Singer sewing machines, and Messrs. J. Finlay & Son an exhibit of hubs.

The number of entries was 1244, an increase of 412 over last year. The Directors and the Society have reason to feel gratified with the success of the exhibition.
